Nixon Lifts Red China Lid; Chou Predicts 'New Page'

Peking Welcomes U.S. Team

Chou said that "more Americans will come in the future," including correspondents "in batches." U.S. journalists were allowed to accompany the 15-member team into China.

Today's meeting with Chou was the first such audience granted Americans since the Peoples' Republic was established 22 years ago.

The Chinese premier asked the American players "to return home with regards of the Chinese people to the American people" during his nearly two hour meeting with table tennis players from the United States, Canada, Colombia, Nigeria and Britain.

Nearly half of his talk was with the Americans.

To the Americans, the largest organized group of U.S. citizens ever to meet with Chou since he and Communist party chairman Mao Tse-tung established the Peoples' Republic of China in 1949, the premier said:

"In the past, there were lots of American friends in China, and you have made a new start. Americans will come in the future, including correspondents in batches.

"In the past there were many Sino-American exchanges. These have been cut off for a long time but with the accepting by you of China's invitation to visit our country, a new page has been opened in relations between our two peoples."

While Chinese and American television crews clustered around him with cameras and lights, Chou said "this renewal of friendship will meet with approval and support of our peoples. Do you agree?"

His reply was a burst of applause from the American players with the Canadians, Colombians, Nigerians and British joining in.

By way of emphasing China's position on American correspondents, the Chinese premier turned to one of the U.S. journalists present and observed that he had been in China before 1949 and that another American journalist also present during that period would arrive in Peking shortly.

Chou said, "Many American reporters want to come here but they cannot do so at the same time. However, they will come in batches."

Pointing up China's new look in seeking relations with foreign countries, the premier said to the Nigerian table tennis team, "China is interested in friendly relations with countries that do not recognize us. There is an old Chinese saying, 'When people travel to foreign coun-

Mansfield For Total Pullout

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today the United States ought to pull out of Indochina completely and revert to "the island chain concept of defense" in the Far Pacific.

Reporters asked Mansfield about Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's news conference statement Tuesday that U.S. naval and air power would have to remain in Southeast Asia after the Vietnam war ends.

"I'm against it," said Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a former university professor of Far Eastern affairs.

"We ought to pull out entirely from Indochina and Thailand as well," Mansfield said.

He was asked about Laird's assertion that U.S. naval and air strength would be required as a "realistic deterrent" to Communist aggression.

"The sooner we get back to the island chain concept of defense, the better for all concerned," Mansfield replied.

He was asked which islands he referred to.

"Japan, the Philippines and maybe Okinawa," he said.

Mansfield said this defense did not include Taiwan (Nationalist China) or the Chinese offshore islands —Quemoy, Matsu and the Pescadores. He said the islands are "in the province of the President under the Formosa Resolution."

The resolution gave the President congressional approval to protect the Chinese offshore islands with U.S. armed forces. Sens. Charles Mathias, R-Md., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, have introduced a bill to repeal the resolution.

Mansfield would not comment on a differing interpretation of what President Nixon meant in his speech last week when he said his aim was to end U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war but declined to fix a date.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott and Senate Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd said they got the impression at a private briefing that Nixon had a definite date in mind.

Mansfield was given a separate private briefing by Nixon, but he declined to comment on it because it was "confidential."

Five-Step Travel And Trade Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon announced today a five-step program easing travel and trade restrictions with Communist China.

Nixon said that after a review he had decided on the following steps —none of which would require new legislation or diplomatic negotiations with the Red Chinese government.

—The United States is prepared to expedite visas for visitors or groups from the Chinese mainland.

—U.S. currency controls are to be relaxed to permit the use of dollars by the Chinese communists. Previously, a Treasury license had to be ontained in order to send dollars into China.

—Restrictions are to be ended on American oil companies providing fuel to ships or aircraft proceeding to and from China except on Chinese-owned or Chinese-chartered carriers bound to or from North Vietnam, North Korea, or Cuba.

—U.S. ships or aircraft may now carry Chinese cargoes between non-Communist ports. U.S. owned foreign flag carriers may call at Chinese ports.

—Nixon has asked that a list be prepared of non-strategic items which can be generally licensed for direct export to China. Following review and his approval of specific items on this list, direct imports of designated items from China also will be allowed.

The President said in a statement he will consider additional steps that might be taken to improve relations with Red China.

His announcement came less than a week after a U.S. table tennis team was invited to visit Red China along with a group of American newsmen.

Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai had a friendly meeting with the American group earlier today.

However Nixon's actions went far beyond the symbolic gesture involved in the ping pong breakthrough.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon's actions were taken without any contacts with the Red regime but he added "we would hope there would be a positive response in practical terms."

Ziegler said the President made his decision before the U.S. team was invited to China.

He said that the question of loosening up on the trade and travel barriers had been under discussion in the administration as far back as December.

But White House officials acknowledged that the fact the American table tennis team was invited made this an appropriate time to announce the actions.

Asked whether the moves today would lead to diplomatic recognition of Red China, Ziegler said: "This does not relate to the United Nations —

Living Through War En Route To Work

BOSTON (UPI)—A group of Vietnam veterans, dressed in old combat fatigues, firing toy guns and hurling make-believe handgrenades, staged a mock search and destroy mission today in City Hall Plaza to protest the war in Indochina.

The nearly 30 bearded, long-haired ex-soldiers divided into platoons and fanned out through the plaza to converge on a subway station exit where they handed out antiwar literature to an early-morning rush-hour crowd of commuters.

Other antiwar veterans captured some of their non-uniformed colleagues who pretended to be Viet Cong.

"We wanted to give people some idea of what it's like when a U.S. infantry platoon sweeps through a village in Southeast Asia," said Beston Cram, a former Marine lieutenant. "Had this been a town in Vietnam, the dogs would be shot, the women raped, the men hauled off and interrogated and maybe shot, the crops destroyed, the town burned down and the community displaced."

Cram, a coordinator of Vietnam Veterans Against the War, said the search and destroy mission was held as "one of the first reconnaissance patrols" of the nationwide spring offensive against the Indochina war.

A brief April shower threatened to disrupt the demonstration, but to guard against the rain the veterans ran through the planning stage of the mission protected by umbrellas.

"What are they doing, playing soldier?" asked one onlooker.

Later in the day the veterans planned to conduct a mock war crimes trial and surrender their armed services medals at the John F. Kennedy federal building.

Bagley Rejects Plea By Water District On Funds

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin Municipal Water District's plea for legislation to bypass the voters in raising money was rejected yesterday by Assemblyvan William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

His refusal to carry the legislation, however, left the district with the option of approaching another legislator. The district board was expected to consider this at its meeting this afternoon.

Bagley scored the water board's plea as "a case history in how not to propose and have passed legislation."

He especially criticized the board for proposing the legislation only one week before the deadline to draft legislation for this season, and said they should have discussed it informally with him first.

The assemblyman was irked by complaints last week from the district board that he had been the victim of "rigged questions" from the Independent-Journal about the board's plea. The board complained that because of the "rigged questions," Bagley was not prepared to answer them. Bagley said he did not appreciate the board "hoisting me on a petard in the press."

He said he had "to question their judgement" also for abandoning their previous pledge last November that an $11.5 million bond issue approved then was one of a series of fund-raising issues to be presented to the voters.

Bagley noted that "considerable opposition" to the proposed legislation had hit his office. Asked if he had received support for the legislation, he said, "I haven't heard of any."

He stressed that he was not "blaming this" on the district's

Gargiulo To Mayor Post In Novato

Gargiulo, a three-year council member and mayor pro tem for the past year, was elected by fellow councilmen moments after Merrill stepped down.

Councilmen bypassed naming a new council member from a field of seven applicants to complete Merrill's term, which ends next April.

When the matter of appointing a councilman came up on the agenda, Councilman J. Wayne Womack moved that it be continued two weeks, and fellow councilmen agreed.

Womack said later the appointment was delayed because the council hadn't been able to reach agreement.

Councilmen will interview each person interested in being appointed to the council, keeping the names of applicants secret, Gargiulo said.

The names of four candidates are known, but three are undisclosed, leading to rumor and speculation about their identity.

Merrill, who served on the council for seven years, left with commendation from fellow council members, the San Marin Improvement Association and the Marin County Board of Supervisors for his service.

As a gift from the council, he was presented with a plaque and his nameplate.

Councilman Wayne Sartain was named mayor pro tem.

Viet Counterattack Breaks Reds' Seige

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese troops fought their way onto Fire Base 6 today, lifting a 15-day Communist siege in a 16-hour battle that killed 96 Communists. Two American advisers with the attack group were officially listed as missing and the fate of a third was not known.

Within hours a fleet of Allied helicopters carried tons of fresh supplies to the blackened hill near the borders of Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam and a fresh force of 1,200 reinforcements landed on the fire base where another unit was still fighting.

Unconfirmed reports said four of the five U.S. advisers who had remained on the hill throughout the battle were evacuated today by helicopter but official sources said they had no such reports. They said one adviser came out under normal rotation plans.

The South Vietnamese counter offensive began Tuesday when helicopters dropped a total of 6,000 South Vietnamese north and south of the fire base. The northern pincer fought its way to the base by Tuesday night and fought through a Communist force early today in a 16-hour fight. South Vietnamese losses in the fight were put at four dead, 37 wounded and six missing.

The Communists overran the base on March 31 but the South Vietnamese took it back the next day and held it against a siege during which the Communists shelled it incessantly with rockets and mortars and zeroed in on helicopters trying to supply it.

The huge resupply effort today met little opposition but U.S. and South Vietnamese commanders expressed doubt the Communists had ended their Central Highlands offensive 300 miles north of Saigon.

Baar Declares Albrecht, Bruce Clash 'Is Over'

The clash between County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht and County Administrator Alan Bruce "is over," Marin County Board of Supervisors Chairman Louis H. Baar declared yesterday.

The board emerged from an hour-long closed-door huddle with Bruce and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to announce that "we discussed with Bruce our thoughts" about the way the administrator made public his demands Dr. Albrecht and two of her aides be fired.

"No conclusions were resolved," Baar said. "It's over."

Bruce may have lost the battle and won the war; the board of supervisors will consider on May 18 his proposal to reorganize all county health and medical delivery services under the direction of Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, presently coroner, public guardian, county medical director and chief of mental health services.

The closed session with Bruce followed yesterday's two-hour public session at which a full-house audience heard the board unanimously reject Bruce's demand that Dr. Albrecht be fired as inept.

Mideast Warning On Imminent War

By United Press International

Israel's counterproposal for reopening the Suez Canal ran into a snag today and there were warnings in Israel and Egypt that the Middle East war might break out again unless Israel comes up with a plan acceptable to Egypt.

The latest warning came from Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev, commanding general of the Israeli army, who said Israel should not underestimate the strength of the Egyptian and Syrian armies in a new round of combat. He added his men were confident of victory with the help of new U.S. arms shipments.

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and Maj. Gen. Aharon Yariv, chief of Israeli intelligence, speaking on an American television interview (CBS-TV's "60 minutes)", also held out the possibility of war should the impasse not be solved.

In Egypt, Dia Eddin Dawood, a ranking member of Egypt's political leadership, said Tuesday night the Middle East was "approaching the moment of an inevitable military confrontation" and that peace efforts had reached a dead end.

The apparent urgency of the situation was underscored by Bar-Lev's statement in the army magazine Monthly Review in which he said, "The Egyptians will have to open fire unless a political solution which will seem reasonable to them is reached."

"It is quite possible that the coming year will be a year of war," Bar-Lev said.

"For seven months they have held their fire, but they cannot carry on without a time limit.

Polite Trio Stages $250,000 Bank Job; 14 Hostages Held

NEW YORK (UPI)—Charles Disogra, manager of a bank on Brooklyn's Ft. Hamilton military reservation, had just started helping a family friend with her income tax Monday night when the doorbell rang.

The ring launched a night of crime in which Disogra and 13 friends and relatives were held hostage. The ordeal ended with the robbery of an estimated $250,000 from the Ft. Hamilton bank Tuesday morning.

Police today searched for the three gunmen who held up the bank. A 13-state bulletin was issued for their arrest. Police said it would be some time until the exact amount stolen would be determined but it was believed it would be close to the $250,000 figure.

The gunmen held the hostages Monday night and Tuesday morning, then tied them up in the basement and took Disogra to the bank where they forced him to give them the payroll for a nearby Veterans Administration hospital. It was a short, well organized robbery.

Disogra answered the doorbell at his Staten Island home about 8:30 p.m. Monday and found three men outside. They identified themselves with badges as plainclothes detectives and said their car had broken down.

After being admitted, the men told Disogra to send the woman with the income tax problem home. They asked Disogra where his family was and he told them they had gone to spend the night at the home of Mrs. Disogra's sister, Mrs. Margaret Baratta.

The men then pulled guns and put on ski masks and gloves. They forced Disogra to drive to the Baratta home where they took 14 persons hostage, including the Disogra family, the Barattas and relatives of the Barattas. The hostages included five children.

"In the morning we'll be happy and you'll be happy," said one of the gunmen.

The hostages were allowed limited freedom, some of them watching television, the others sleeping. Mrs. Baratta's sister, Mrs. Michael Castellano, said the intruders were "very polite men who soon put the whole family at ease."

Shortly after dawn, the hostages were tied to pipes in the basement. Disogra was taken by two men in his car and the third man stayed at the house.

An Army sticker on Disogra's car got them by the gate at Ft. Hamilton. At the bank Disogra and the assistant manager were forced to open the vault. Police said the gunmen tied up Disogra and four women employes in a women's restroom and were so thorough that they even sprayed black paint on the lens of the bank's closed circuit television camera.

After the 15-minute robbery, the men called the Baratta home and told the third man, "We're leaving now." The hostages were released a short time later by police.

Police said they did not know how the gunmen escaped but Disogra's car was found in Brooklyn about two hours later.

Congress Not Bugged, Says Agnew

DETROIT (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, declaring he thinks J. Edgar Hoover should remain on the job as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said Tuesday he was "convinced" that no congressmen had their telephones tapped by the FBI.

"I am very convinced by conversations with the attorney general and with the director of the FBI and other people who have been close to this in prior administrations that it just hasn't happened," Agnew said.

The vice president was in Detroit to address a national pollution conference today and made the comments on Hoover and the FBI at an airport news conference following his arrival Tuesday.

The eavesdropping controversy developed last week when House Democratic leader Hale Boggs charged that FBI agents had kept congressmen under survillance and bugged their telephones. Hoover, Attorney General John Mitchell and the White House have denied the charge.

Asked if he thought Hoover should retire, Agnew said, "as long as he is sound physically and mentally I think he should continue."

The vice president said he thought Hoover had "done an excellent job" in his years with the FBI and had given the agency "its reputation for integrity and professionalism."

Agnew's appearance was regarded as non-political and none of Michigan's Republican leaders was on hand to meet him at the airport or was scheduled to attend the pollution conference today.

Muskie On Spying

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Edmund S. Muskie said today the FBI spied on last year's Earth Day rallies, including one he was involved in. He said this kind of thing threatens to smother freedom with fear, and suggested the FBI's activities be made subject to review by an independent board.

The Maine Democrat, in a speech prepared for the Senate, released a document on official FBI stationery which detailed Earth Day activities in Washington April 22. He said there were 40 to 60 similar intelligence reports filed on other Earth Day observances across the nation.

"If antipollution rallies are a subject of intelligence concern, is anything immune?" Muskie asked. "Is there any citizen involved in politics who is not a potential subject for an FBI dossier?"

Muskie did not say where he obtained the FBI document, but said it was not among those stolen recently from the FBI office in Media, Pa.

Meat Date Code

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Most processed meats produced by major packers soon will carry a simplified new date code. It will tell consumers when the meats were packaged or when they should be taken off sale, a meat industry spokesman reports.

The new coding system was recommended several weeks ago by the American Meat Institute, trade association for much of the meat packing industry.

The new uniform dating code uses four digits. The first two indicate the month; the second two indicate the day of the month. The code 0101, for example, stands for January 1; 0414 means April 14; 1225 translates as December 25.

Dacca Fighting

NEW DELHI (UPI)—East Pakistani rebel forces today were reported engaged in heavy fighting with government troops just outside the East Pakistan capital of Dacca. The premier of the self-proclaimed rebel government called on his people to fight "until the enemy is routed from the sacred soil of our country."

Indian press reports said the East Pakistani forces "are locked in battle 12 miles from Dacca." At the same time, Pakistani federal forces were advancing in Kushtia district where the rebel capital of Chadanga is.

Both sides claimed victories. The rebels said they had recaptured the northeastern town of Sylhet which federal troops controled last weekend. Radio Pakistan said government troops had cleared the town of Dinajpur of "all miscreants, antistate elements and armed infiltrators from across the (Indian) border. Dinajpur is in the northwest corner of East Pakistan, 170 miles northeast of Dacca.

Under 21 Voters

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI)—Marylanders under 21 voted for the first time Tuesday in a special congressional primary, and their effect was hardly revolutionary. Both favorites won easily.

A Democratic state senator and a former congressional aide of Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton won the right to oppose each other for Morton's old seat in the House of Representatives. State Sen. Elroy G. Boyer, 50, beat five Democratic rivals, and William O. Mills, 46, defeated two other Republicans. Both had the backing of their party organizations.

Only 17 per cent of the district electorate went to the polls, and as far as could be determined, a smaller percentage of under 21 voters turned out.

The 1970 voting rights act made an estimated 47,000 persons under 21 and over 18 eligible to vote in the district. But only 2,915 registered for the primary. Full figures on how many voted would not be available for a week.

Seven Fire Deaths

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Seven persons died and eight were injured when fire raced through a downtown hotel Tuesday night.

The dead included the wives and infant daughters of two performers in the road company of the rock musical "Hair."

Damage to the 52-year-old Pick Carter Hotel, which underwent a $1 million remodeling two years ago, was estimated at well over $100,000 by fire officials.

Russell F. Carlson is stage manager of the show and Jonathon Johnson is a member of the cast. A performance of the musical was being given when the fire broke out.

Polite Trio Stages $250,000 Bank Job; 14 Hostages Held

NEW YORK (UPI)—Charles Disogra, manager of a bank on Brooklyn's Ft. Hamilton military reservation, had just started helping a family friend with her income tax Monday night when the doorbell rang.

The ring launched a night of crime in which Disogra and 13 friends and relatives were held hostage. The ordeal ended with the robbery of an estimated $250,000 from the Ft. Hamilton bank Tuesday morning.

Police today searched for the three gunmen who held up the bank. A 13-state bulletin was issued for their arrest. Police said it would be some time until the exact amount stolen would be determined but it was believed it would be close to the $250,000 figure.

The gunmen held the hostages Monday night and Tuesday morning, then tied them up in the basement and took Disogra to the bank where they forced him to give them the payroll for a nearby Veterans Administration hospital. It was a short, well organized robbery.

Disogra answered the doorbell at his Staten Island home about 8:30 p.m. Monday and found three men outside. They identified themselves with badges as plainclothes detectives and said their car had broken down.

After being admitted, the men told Disogra to send the woman with the income tax problem home. They asked Disogra where his family was and he told them they had gone to spend the night at the home of Mrs. Disogra's sister, Mrs. Margaret Baratta.

The men then pulled guns and put on ski masks and gloves. They forced Disogra to drive to the Baratta home where they took 14 persons hostage, including the Disogra family, the Barattas and relatives of the Barattas. The hostages included five children.

"In the morning we'll be happy and you'll be happy," said one of the gunmen.

The hostages were allowed limited freedom, some of them watching television, the others sleeping. Mrs. Baratta's sister, Mrs. Michael Castellano, said the intruders were "very polite men who soon put the whole family at ease."

Shortly after dawn, the hostages were tied to pipes in the basement. Disogra was taken by two men in his car and the third man stayed at the house.

An Army sticker on Disogra's car got them by the gate at Ft. Hamilton. At the bank Disogra and the assistant manager were forced to open the vault. Police said the gunmen tied up Disogra and four women employes in a women's restroom and were so thorough that they even sprayed black paint on the lens of the bank's closed circuit television camera.

After the 15-minute robbery, the men called the Baratta home and told the third man, "We're leaving now." The hostages were released a short time later by police.

Police said they did not know how the gunmen escaped but Disogra's car was found in Brooklyn about two hours later.

Orders Probe

Soviet Union Gears For A Space Feat

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI)—A spectacular series of manned space vehicles will be launched within the next few days to inaugurate the second decade of Soviet cosmic exploration, scientific sources said today.

At least two space ships and two or more cosmonauts will be involved in an attempt to establish an orbital space station in accordance with the long-range program for permanent orbital platforms and unmanned robot explorers on the moon and other planets, the sources said.

April is considered a good month for the launching and landing of space vehicles from the Soviet Union, the sources said.

There have been reports in the past few weeks that specially equipped Soviet ships have been sighted in Pacific Ocean waters, presumably ready to track and communicate with the forthcoming manned space vehicles.

Writing in Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper on the 10th anniversary of Yuri Gagarin's and man's first flight into space, Petrov said orbital stations and robot vehicles were the major goals of Soviet space science in the 1970s.

Since the Soviets, for the time being, have yielded to the Americans in human exploration of the moon, they have concentrated on landing unmanned instruments on the moon and Venus. They are trying to set up manned intermediate orbital stations.

The first effort was made Jan. 14-15, 1969, when Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5 were linked. They were followed by the group experiments of Soyuz 6-7-8, April 11-13, 1969, which practiced space welding but did not link up.

With the successful Soyuz 9 flight of Maj. Gen. Andrian Nikolayev and Col. Vitaly Sevastianov, who starting June 1, 1970, established a space endurance record of almost 18 days, the Soviets now appear ready to assemble a durable space platform.

"Space exploration would go along the way of gradually setting up simple —in the beginning —orbital stations which would be followed by more complicated and bigger platforms for exploration, scientific and technical experiments," Petrov said.

Brief Storm Brings Inch Of Rain

A brief storm washed Marin and Southern Sonoma counties yesterday with almost an inch of rain in some places.

Hardest hit was Tamalpais Valley which reported .96 of an inch during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today. San Rafael was pelted with .72 of an inch in the 24 hours ending at noon.

Little storm damage was reported, although Pacific Gas and Electric Co. said a broken tree limb across power lines in San Rafael yesterday caused a 90-minute blackout to about 25 homes.

Mgr. Leonard O. Robertson said the limb fell on power lines at San Rafael Avenue and C Street at about 2:30 p.m.

Rainfall figures for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today in other areas are: Bolinas, .64; Mill Valley, .70; Novato, .42; Petaluma, .52; Sausalito, .70; Terra Linda, .86, and Woodacre, .60 of an inch.

general manager, William R. Seeger. "Bill's a first-class administrator," Bagley said. "I simply don't want to be put in the middle of a hornet's nest. There are many more social problems in the world I have to worry about."

Bagley added, however, that he rejected as "extremist" arguments by some persons writing him that population growth should be controlled by limiting water supplies.

He acknowledged that he probably would have introduced the legislation for the district as a courtesy if it had handled the matter better, but he still would have reserved judgement on whether to help pass the legislation.

The legislation would raise money to finance the district's $21.6 million share of the roughly $47.7 million Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct. It would have allowed the district to borrow $18 million from the Sonoma County Water Agency, or to create a master two-county agency to handle the project.

District consultants said the project may be delayed a year or more if the legislation failed.

District director Ray W. Foreaker told the I-J that he did not know what the district would do now. "Maybe we won't do it (the project)."

They said the Communists apparently pulled back to regroup and that new attacks could be expected on Fire Base 6 or nearby allied bases.

South Vietnamese military sources said that before the major ground campaign began sweeping from the north and south about 2,700 Communists were killed at a government loss of 172 dead and 292 wounded. Most of the Communist dead were attributed to some of the heaviest B52 strikes of the war and the use of 7.5 ton "Daisy Cutter" bombs.

Father Kills Son Over Long Hair, Sheriff Reports

CASTRO VALLEY (UPI) —A security guard shot his son to death in a dispute over the youth's long hair and "negative attitude toward society," the Alameda County sheriff's office said Tuesday.

Deputies arrested Warren Freitas, 53, for a homicide investigation in the death of his son, Roger, 20.

The long-standing dispute resulted in the gunfire Monday while Mrs. Freitas was shopping and five younger children were in school, deputies added.

The slain son had been arrested for drinking and disturbing the peace but both times was reprimanded and released in custody of his parents.

tries they find friends everywhere'."

Chou asked the 15 American players to convey on their return home "the regards of the Chinese people to the American people."

The sports teams from the five nations, upon arriving for the meeting were ushered into a meeting room on the first floor of the Great Hall of the People.

The premier talked with the head of each delegation in alphabetical order, reaching the U.S. delegation last but spending more time with them than with others.

After his chats, through an interpreter, Chou said there was still time to answer some questions.

Long-haired Glenn Cowen, 19, a table tennis player from Santa Monica, Calif., who was wearing a jacket and purple trousers, said he was curious about what the premier thought about the hippie movement in the United States today.

Without changing expression, Chou said, "I am not very clear about it. Second, I can only give you a superficial opinion.

"The youth of the world are dissatisfied with the present situation and are looking for the truth. In the course of changes in the ideology of your people, various things occur before the changes take form," the premier said.

"In seeking the truth you always go through various experiences and this should be allowed.

"When we were young, we wanted to try various things. Therefore we understand the thinking of the youth. And we have seen this from all the young people who have visited China."

Chou, ending what may be the longest public conversation on the subject of hippies ever held in Peking, said "we agree, young people should try new things. But there is one thing, we should always find one thing in common with the majority of people. This is how that great majority of people can make progress and achieve happiness."

"If through one's own doing things, one discovers it is not correct, then one should change. This is our opinion and only a suggestion," the premier added.

"We must get the agreement of the majority of the people. There is even philosophy in table tennis. I see you are not playing badly. I wish you progress," Chou said.

The Americans played their only scheduled series of "friendly" matches against the Chinese at an indoor gymnasium Tuesday with a crowd of 18,000 enthusiastic spectators cheering both sides. The Chinese defeated the U.S. team 10 matches to 7, with the Americans losing the men's competition 3-5 and the women's matches 4-5.

Satellite Launch

MOSCOW (UPI) —The Soviet Union today launched Cosmos 406, an artificial earth satellite, the official news agency Tass said.

3 Marinites Arrested In LSD Case

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Two Mill Valley residents were arrested today in a San Francisco motel, after police said the pair arranged for sale of 36,000 tablets of what appeared to be LSD to undercover agents. A Sausalitan later was arrested in connection with the case.

Charged with suspicion of sale of dangerous drugs were Roger G. Leibowitz, who gave his address as 40 Hillside Lane, Mill Valley, and said he was self-employed, and Charles A. Wismer, 21. Wismer said he was a musician and lived at 342 Live Oak Drive, police reported.

Officers said they raided the pair's Lombard Street motel room at 12:05 a.m. today after watching Wismer remove the suspected contraband from beneath the rear seat of a car. Undercover agents had made arrangements to buy the 9 grams of suspected LSD for $8,000, police reported. They estimated its value on the street as $40,000.

The narcotics agents said they also arrested John R. Goodwin, 25, of 113 Second Street, Sausalito, at 3:30 a.m. at California and Presidio Street. He was charged with suspicion of furnishing LSD and marijuana samples to agents as a preliminary to the Lombard Street purchase.

No bail had been set for the three suspects; all were to appear in San Francisco Municipal Court tomorrow.

San Francisco Police Inspector Charles Wettstein said Leibowitz had been arrested by federal narcotics agents in Marin County last month and accused of selling 80,000 LSD tablets.

that is a long way down the road."

Nixon recalled that in his State of the World report Feb. 25, he said "in the coming year, I will carefully examine what further steps we might take to create broader opportunities for contacts between the Chinese and American peoples, and how we might remove needless obstacles to the realization of these opportunities."

The President said that a subcommittee of the National Security Council would make recommendations to bring about even better relations in the future.

Ziegler said that an interagency committee already is working on a list of nonstrategic items such as pharmaceutical products and consumer goods which might be approved for export to China. He said Nixon would make a decision in the fairly near future.

Regulations to carry out the new policy will be announced by the State Department and other interested agencies, he added.

CLASH

"Over the years," McInnis continued, "I've often supported Bruce" and valued highly his work in evaluating budget needs and priorities, but, "I've often said I've thought he had the most impossible personality to cope with his job."

McInnis declared that in the Albrecht matter "the board had a right to expect conduct less detrimental to the persons involved." He said that he would rather have been criticized for handling the quarrel in closed session — like "the trouble in mental health land" than see it in the limelight it received.

The board's adoption of McInnis's motion rejecting Bruce's demand mentioned only Dr. Albrecht, not Philippa G. Denning-Kemp nor Natalie K. Posner, whose firings Bruce also recommended.

However, Baar declared, the entire case was closed so far as the board was concerned.

During the sometimes stormy hearing, Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. revealed that Bruce had made new charges against Dr. Albrecht in a confidential memo dated April 9. It alleged that health department caseload figures were "padded" to support 1971-72 budget requests, that supplies for the health department's recent countywide anti-rubella campaign were purchased in violation of county ordinances, and that donations collected during the rubella campaign went not to reimburse campaign costs but rather to pay Mrs. Posner's daughter for publicity, and other charges.

Bruce's memo also criticized "the mishandling of Hank the cat," excluded from a Fairfax market. The audience giggled. Bruce charged Dr. Albrecht with "delays and vagueness" in handling the Bolinas Lagoon and hepatitis scare, and with "mishandling" a case involving contaminated milk's distribution.

Arrigoni and Supervisor Arnold Baptiste joined in voting to uphold Dr. Albrecht, but refused to accept an amendment to the motion specifically naming the two aides.

Dr. Albrecht's counsel, former Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., accused Bruce of "reign of terror" tactics against the health department, comparing Bruce to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

"If he (Bruce) were a man, he'd stand up and say he's wrong," chimed in attorney Leonard A. Bjorklund Jr., counsel for Mrs. Posner. Miss Denning-Kemp was represented by attorney William O. Weissich, who said he and a group in the audience were "here to assist Dr. Albrecht as witnesses."

A parade of witnesses, all officials of medical organizations in the county, region or state, spoke up for Dr. Albrecht. The lone exception was Dr. Patricia Hallinan, who said she had supplied Bruce with data on caseload "padding" and other charges.

Throughout the hearing, the supervisors were leafing through stacks of reports on the charges and defenses. Each stack weighed more than three pounds.

Soviet Union Gears For A Space Feat

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI)—A spectacular series of manned space vehicles will be launched within the next few days to inaugurate the second decade of Soviet cosmic exploration, scientific sources said today.

At least two space ships and two or more cosmonauts will be involved in an attempt to establish an orbital space station in accordance with the long-range program for permanent orbital platforms and unmanned robot explorers on the moon and other planets, the sources said.

April is considered a good month for the launching and landing of space vehicles from the Soviet Union, the sources said.

There have been reports in the past few weeks that specially equipped Soviet ships have been sighted in Pacific Ocean waters, presumably ready to track and communicate with the forthcoming manned space vehicles.

Writing in Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper on the 10th anniversary of Yuri Gagarin's and man's first flight into space, Petrov said orbital stations and robot vehicles were the major goals of Soviet space science in the 1970s.

Since the Soviets, for the time being, have yielded to the Americans in human exploration of the moon, they have concentrated on landing unmanned instruments on the moon and Venus. They are trying to set up manned intermediate orbital stations.

The first effort was made Jan. 14-15, 1969, when Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5 were linked. They were followed by the group experiments of Soyuz 6-7-8, April 11-13, 1969, which practiced space welding but did not link up.

With the successful Soyuz 9 flight of Maj. Gen. Andrian Nikolayev and Col. Vitaly Sevastianov, who starting June 1, 1970, established a space endurance record of almost 18 days, the Soviets now appear ready to assemble a durable space platform.

"Space exploration would go along the way of gradually setting up simple —in the beginning —orbital stations which would be followed by more complicated and bigger platforms for exploration, scientific and technical experiments," Petrov said.

general manager, William R. Seeger. "Bill's a first-class administrator," Bagley said. "I simply don't want to be put in the middle of a hornet's nest. There are many more social problems in the world I have to worry about."

Bagley added, however, that he rejected as "extremist" arguments by some persons writing him that population growth should be controlled by limiting water supplies.

He acknowledged that he probably would have introduced the legislation for the district as a courtesy if it had handled the matter better, but he still would have reserved judgement on whether to help pass the legislation.

The legislation would raise money to finance the district's $21.6 million share of the roughly $47.7 million Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct. It would have allowed the district to borrow $18 million from the Sonoma County Water Agency, or to create a master two-county agency to handle the project.

District consultants said the project may be delayed a year or more if the legislation failed.

District director Ray W. Foreaker told the I-J that he did not know what the district would do now. "Maybe we won't do it (the project)."

Father Kills Son Over Long Hair, Sheriff Reports

CASTRO VALLEY (UPI) —A security guard shot his son to death in a dispute over the youth's long hair and "negative attitude toward society," the Alameda County sheriff's office said Tuesday.

Deputies arrested Warren Freitas, 53, for a homicide investigation in the death of his son, Roger, 20.

The long-standing dispute resulted in the gunfire Monday while Mrs. Freitas was shopping and five younger children were in school, deputies added.

The slain son had been arrested for drinking and disturbing the peace but both times was reprimanded and released in custody of his parents.

tries they find friends everywhere'."

Chou asked the 15 American players to convey on their return home "the regards of the Chinese people to the American people."

The sports teams from the five nations, upon arriving for the meeting were ushered into a meeting room on the first floor of the Great Hall of the People.

The premier talked with the head of each delegation in alphabetical order, reaching the U.S. delegation last but spending more time with them than with others.

After his chats, through an interpreter, Chou said there was still time to answer some questions.

Long-haired Glenn Cowen, 19, a table tennis player from Santa Monica, Calif., who was wearing a jacket and purple trousers, said he was curious about what the premier thought about the hippie movement in the United States today.

Without changing expression, Chou said, "I am not very clear about it. Second, I can only give you a superficial opinion.

"The youth of the world are dissatisfied with the present situation and are looking for the truth. In the course of changes in the ideology of your people, various things occur before the changes take form," the premier said.

"In seeking the truth you always go through various experiences and this should be allowed.

"When we were young, we wanted to try various things. Therefore we understand the thinking of the youth. And we have seen this from all the young people who have visited China."

Chou, ending what may be the longest public conversation on the subject of hippies ever held in Peking, said "we agree, young people should try new things. But there is one thing, we should always find one thing in common with the majority of people. This is how that great majority of people can make progress and achieve happiness."

"If through one's own doing things, one discovers it is not correct, then one should change. This is our opinion and only a suggestion," the premier added.

"We must get the agreement of the majority of the people. There is even philosophy in table tennis. I see you are not playing badly. I wish you progress," Chou said.

The Americans played their only scheduled series of "friendly" matches against the Chinese at an indoor gymnasium Tuesday with a crowd of 18,000 enthusiastic spectators cheering both sides. The Chinese defeated the U.S. team 10 matches to 7, with the Americans losing the men's competition 3-5 and the women's matches 4-5.

3 Marinites Arrested In LSD Case

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Two Mill Valley residents were arrested today in a San Francisco motel, after police said the pair arranged for sale of 36,000 tablets of what appeared to be LSD to undercover agents. A Sausalitan later was arrested in connection with the case.

Charged with suspicion of sale of dangerous drugs were Roger G. Leibowitz, who gave his address as 40 Hillside Lane, Mill Valley, and said he was self-employed, and Charles A. Wismer, 21. Wismer said he was a musician and lived at 342 Live Oak Drive, police reported.

Officers said they raided the pair's Lombard Street motel room at 12:05 a.m. today after watching Wismer remove the suspected contraband from beneath the rear seat of a car. Undercover agents had made arrangements to buy the 9 grams of suspected LSD for $8,000, police reported. They estimated its value on the street as $40,000.

The narcotics agents said they also arrested John R. Goodwin, 25, of 113 Second Street, Sausalito, at 3:30 a.m. at California and Presidio Street. He was charged with suspicion of furnishing LSD and marijuana samples to agents as a preliminary to the Lombard Street purchase.

No bail had been set for the three suspects; all were to appear in San Francisco Municipal Court tomorrow.

San Francisco Police Inspector Charles Wettstein said Leibowitz had been arrested by federal narcotics agents in Marin County last month and accused of selling 80,000 LSD tablets.

that is a long way down the road."

Nixon recalled that in his State of the World report Feb. 25, he said "in the coming year, I will carefully examine what further steps we might take to create broader opportunities for contacts between the Chinese and American peoples, and how we might remove needless obstacles to the realization of these opportunities."

The President said that a subcommittee of the National Security Council would make recommendations to bring about even better relations in the future.

Ziegler said that an interagency committee already is working on a list of nonstrategic items such as pharmaceutical products and consumer goods which might be approved for export to China. He said Nixon would make a decision in the fairly near future.

Regulations to carry out the new policy will be announced by the State Department and other interested agencies, he added.

ministrative handling of the matter . . .

"Over the years," McInnis continued, "I've often supported Bruce" and valued highly his work in evaluating budget needs and priorities, but, "I've often said I've thought he had the most impossible personality to cope with his job."

McInnis declared that in the Albrecht matter "the board had a right to expect conduct less detrimental to the persons involved." He said that he would rather have been criticized for handling the quarrel in closed session — like "the trouble in mental health land" than see it in the limelight it received.

The board's adoption of McInnis's motion rejecting Bruce's demand mentioned only Dr. Albrecht, not Philippa G. Denning-Kemp nor Natalie K. Posner, whose firings Bruce also recommended.

However, Baar declared, the entire case was closed so far as the board was concerned.

During the sometimes stormy hearing, Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. revealed that Bruce had made new charges against Dr. Albrecht in a confidential memo dated April 9. It alleged that health department caseload figures were "padded" to support 1971-72 budget requests, that supplies for the health department's recent countywide anti-rubella campaign were purchased in violation of county ordinances, and that donations collected during the rubella campaign went not to reimburse campaign costs but rather to pay Mrs. Posner's daughter for publicity, and other charges.

Bruce's memo also criticized "the mishandling of Hank the cat," excluded from a Fairfax market. The audience giggled. Bruce charged Dr. Albrecht with "delays and vagueness" in handling the Bolinas Lagoon and hepatitis scare, and with "mishandling" a case involving contaminated milk's distribution.

Arrigoni and Supervisor Arnold Baptiste joined in voting to uphold Dr. Albrecht, but refused to accept an amendment to the motion specifically naming the two aides.

Dr. Albrecht's counsel, former Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., accused Bruce of "reign of terror" tactics against the health department, comparing Bruce to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

"If he (Bruce) were a man, he'd stand up and say he's wrong," chimed in attorney Leonard A. Bjorklund Jr., counsel for Mrs. Posner. Miss Denning-Kemp was represented by attorney William O. Weissich, who said he and a group in the audience were "here to assist Dr. Albrecht as witnesses."

A parade of witnesses, all officials of medical organizations in the county, region or state, spoke up for Dr. Albrecht. The lone exception was Dr. Patricia Hallinan, who said she had supplied Bruce with data on caseload "padding" and other charges.

Throughout the hearing, the supervisors were leafing through stacks of reports on the charges and defenses. Each stack weighed more than three pounds.

Novato Council Blasts Prison Security Policy

Novato City Council, stung by the kidnapping of four residents by a San Quentin Prison escapee in February, called last night for beefed up security at the prison to prevent further escapes. (Another Novato City Council story, page 1)

In recent months nine inmates have escaped from the minimum security area "due to the lack of adequate security and the fact that prison policy is not to require (minimum security) inmates to wear distinguishable clothing," the council said.

Inmates escaping or attempting to escape are "desperate and highly dangerous, as evidenced by the murder of a judge, the shooting of a district attorney and the kidnapping of two women and two children, all within the past few months," the council stated.

Councilmen also demanded that prison officials review their policy on clothing worn by prisoners in minimum security area and consider requiring "special garb which will identify prisoners as prisoners."

Marin County pays a disproportionate share of the court, crowd control and security costs involved in handling prison cases, the council said. It urged legislation to share the financial burden with the state.

The Novato City Council also:

CABLE TV — Received a request from G'Tec Cable TV of Novato, cable television franchise holder, to boost the monthly rate from $4.50 to $5.50, and the FM service from no charge to $1.50 a month, and postponed action until April 27.

VEHICLE REMOVAL — Introduced an ordinance providing for the removal of wrecked, abandoned, inoperative or dismantled cars from private property as public nuisances.

CREEK PARK — Appropriated $2,135 toward development of a play area for small children at Novato Creek Park fronting on San Miguel Way, after notice that the San Marin Improvement Association agreed to contribute $2,000 to the project.

ZONING REVISION — Authorized negotiation with Sedway and Cooke, San Francisco planning consultants, on a contract to revise the city's zoning ordinance, a job estimated to cost from $10,000 to $12,000.

LEGISLATION — Supported Assembly Bill 813, which would streamline annexation procedures, and opposed Senate Bill 489 and Assembly Bill 52, which would prohibit cities from attaching conditions on use permits involving land dedication, without paying compensation for such property.

LANDSCAPING — Approved an agreement with Marin County for landscaping along Novato Boulevard between San Marin Drive and San Miguel Way, at a cost of up to $10,000 to be borne by the county.

STREET WORK — Awarded Valley Slurry Seal Co. of Sacramento, the lone bidder a contract for street sealing at a cost of $28,800.

CYCLE TRAILS — Referred to the parks and recreation commission for study the problem of providing trails for mini-bikes and motorcycles in the Novato area.

BAHIA PARKS — Accepted three mini-parks developed at Bahia Unit 1-B by the developer, the Hofmann Co. of Concord, with the city to take over maintenance.

RETAIL SALES — Received a report from City Mgr. Charles A. Brown that taxable retail sales last year were 5.4 per cent higher than 1969, bolstered by the sale of mobile homes, but the rate of increase was down from previous years.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of F. James Picchi from the plan review committee and downtown implementation committee.

CLAIM DENIED — Denied a claim filed on behalf of Floyd Brian III, a minor, for $75,000 for injuries suffered when he fell from his bicycle at Pioneer Memorial Park on March 26.

Novato Council Blasts Prison Security Policy

Novato City Council, stung by the kidnapping of four residents by a San Quentin Prison escapee in February, called last night for beefed up security at the prison to prevent further escapes. (Another Novato City Council story, page 1)

In recent months nine inmates have escaped from the minimum security area "due to the lack of adequate security and the fact that prison policy is not to require (minimum security) inmates to wear distinguishable clothing," the council said.

Inmates escaping or attempting to escape are "desperate and highly dangerous, as evidenced by the murder of a judge, the shooting of a district attorney and the kidnapping of two women and two children, all within the past few months," the council stated.

Councilmen also demanded that prison officials review their policy on clothing worn by prisoners in minimum security area and consider requiring "special garb which will identify prisoners as prisoners."

Marin County pays a disproportionate share of the court, crowd control and security costs involved in handling prison cases, the council said. It urged legislation to share the financial burden with the state.

The Novato City Council also:

CABLE TV — Received a request from G'Tec Cable TV of Novato, cable television franchise holder, to boost the monthly rate from $4.50 to $5.50, and the FM service from no charge to $1.50 a month, and postponed action until April 27.

VEHICLE REMOVAL — Introduced an ordinance providing for the removal of wrecked, abandoned, inoperative or dismantled cars from private property as public nuisances.

CREEK PARK — Appropriated $2,135 toward development of a play area for small children at Novato Creek Park fronting on San Miguel Way, after notice that the San Marin Improvement Association agreed to contribute $2,000 to the project.

ZONING REVISION — Authorized negotiation with Sedway and Cooke, San Francisco planning consultants, on a contract to revise the city's zoning ordinance, a job estimated to cost from $10,000 to $12,000.

LEGISLATION — Supported Assembly Bill 813, which would streamline annexation procedures, and opposed Senate Bill 489 and Assembly Bill 52, which would prohibit cities from attaching conditions on use permits involving land dedication, without paying compensation for such property.

LANDSCAPING — Approved an agreement with Marin County for landscaping along Novato Boulevard between San Marin Drive and San Miguel Way, at a cost of up to $10,000 to be borne by the county.

STREET WORK — Awarded Valley Slurry Seal Co. of Sacramento, the lone bidder a contract for street sealing at a cost of $28,800.

CYCLE TRAILS — Referred to the parks and recreation commission for study the problem of providing trails for mini-bikes and motorcycles in the Novato area.

BAHIA PARKS — Accepted three mini-parks developed at Bahia Unit 1-B by the developer, the Hofmann Co. of Concord, with the city to take over maintenance.

RETAIL SALES — Received a report from City Mgr. Charles A. Brown that taxable retail sales last year were 5.4 per cent higher than 1969, bolstered by the sale of mobile homes, but the rate of increase was down from previous years.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of F. James Picchi from the plan review committee and downtown implementation committee.

CLAIM DENIED — Denied a claim filed on behalf of Floyd Brian III, a minor, for $75,000 for injuries suffered when he fell from his bicycle at Pioneer Memorial Park on March 26.

Charges From Motel Drug Raid Booted

Charges against four men arrested in connection with a drug raid at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael have been dismissed in Marin Superior Court because narcotics agents failed to carry out a legal nicety.

Also freed were Charles C. Garcia, 33, of Kentfield; Roe A. Newbill, 43, of Novato, and Peter Simon Kaufman, 29, of San Anselmo.

The four had been charged with a variety of counts ranging from being under the influence of narcotics and possessing drugs including marijuana, mescaline, cocaine and heroin.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson ruled Monday that narcotics agents failed to knock at the door of a motel room and identify themselves properly before the arrests were made on June 30.

The district attorney's office plans to appeal Judge Wilson's decision to the District Court of Appeals.

Garcia, Samuels and Newbill were arrested at the motel after drug agents followed Garcia's car there and saw him sharing a suspected marijuana cigarette.

The agents said they found large quantities of drugs and $15,000 in cash in a motel room. Kaufman was arrested later at his home.

Charges against two other operators of Pepperland also arrested in the raid, Benjamin I. Blatt, and Nathan Shind both 25-year-old Sebastopol residents, were dismissed earlier. A municipal court judge ruled that a search of Shind's briefcase was illegal and Blatt was freed at the request of the district attorney's occe.

The owner of the hall in which Pepperland was operated Irving (Whitey) Litchfield, has said that the operators moved out on April 1, leaving behind about $50,000 in bills.

DUNCAN MISSIMER
Merit scholar

Senior At Drake Wins Scholarship

Duncan B. Missimer, a 17-year-old senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, has been awarded a four-year National Merit scholarship, it was announced today.

Missimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale J. Missimer of 27 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow, was awarded one of the scholarships granted by Gulf and Western Industries to children of its employees.

Missimer's father is employed by Koch Luggage in Corte Madera, a Gulf and Western subsidiary.

Of the 24 semifinalists from Marin and two from Southern Sonoma, young Missimer was the lone winner.

Missimer, who hopes to attend the University of California at Irvine and major in mathematics, ranks first in his class scholastically.

He was a semifinalist in the Bank of America mathematics and science competition and a semifinalist in the California State Scholarship competition, and last year won an American Chemical Society High School award.

Missimer is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation. He has earned letters in varsity water polo and swimming and junior varsity cross country, and is a sailing enthusiast.

This year, Missimer is editor of the Drake High yearbook. He has been a resident of Marin for almost two years, after living in Glendale, Los Angeles County.

National Merit scholarships range from $400 to $6,000 for four years, with the amount based on needs of the individual.

Hub Candidates Due At Meeting

Three candidates for two San Anselmo School District board seats up for election April 20 will speak today at 8 p.m. during a candidates night at Isabel Cook School.

The debate, to be held in the school's multi-purpose room, will be cosponsored by the district's parent-teacher associations, parents groups and the San Anselmo Elementary Teachers Association.

Credit Due Berman In 'The Tenth Man'

In the review of Paddy Chayefsky's play, "The Tenth Man," published April 5 in the Independent-Journal, the strong supporting performance of Mel Berman as the atheist, Schlissel, was incorrectly attributed to another actor.

The comedy-drama will be repeated at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing arts at 8:30 p.m. next Friday and Saturday and April 23 and 24.

A Challenge For Healthy California

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Conservationists "are no longer content to spend their lives only fighting well-publicized but desperate, disconnected, losing little battles," the president of California Tomorrow asserts.

"The question is whether we will manage and direct change or be engulfed by it," the organization's conference chairman said.

Both president Alfred Heller and chairman William Roth were speaking Tuesday at a planning conference attended by 600 persons.

Heller said California could face a future of urban sprawl, environmental ravage, crime, corrupt politics and too many residents.

Or it could have economic plenty, responsive political institutions, open space, a proper-sized population and adequate housing, he added.

The more rosy future, Heller declared, can result only from "comprehensive planning," on a larger scale than this country has ever seen.

California Tomorrow has prepared a preliminary recommendation for forming an 11-member state planning council to be made up of the governor, three of his cabinet members and seven public members.

The council would be charged with preparing an annual state plan concerning land, structures and people.

Heller noted that in 1959 the Legislature authorized the state government to spend $4 million to "prepare and maintain a comprehensive plan for the future development of the state."

The money was spent but no plan resulted, he continued.

Assemblyman Willie Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, said he would introduce legislation which would make a start on the organization's proposals. But he noted, "People in government, especially elected official types, live for yesterday."

Among the California Tomorrow recommendations are public subsidies for political campaigns, shorter campaigns and "other measures to prevent elections from being taken over completely by special, powerful, economic interests."

Chinese Nationalists maintain a 600,000-man army on the island of Taiwan, just off the coast of China.

A Challenge For Healthy California

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Conservationists "are no longer content to spend their lives only fighting well-publicized but desperate, disconnected, losing little battles," the president of California Tomorrow asserts.

"The question is whether we will manage and direct change or be engulfed by it," the organization's conference chairman said.

Both president Alfred Heller and chairman William Roth were speaking Tuesday at a planning conference attended by 600 persons.

Heller said California could face a future of urban sprawl, environmental ravage, crime, corrupt politics and too many residents.

Or it could have economic plenty, responsive political institutions, open space, a proper-sized population and adequate housing, he added.

The more rosy future, Heller declared, can result only from "comprehensive planning," on a larger scale than this country has ever seen.

California Tomorrow has prepared a preliminary recommendation for forming an 11-member state planning council to be made up of the governor, three of his cabinet members and seven public members.

The council would be charged with preparing an annual state plan concerning land, structures and people.

Heller noted that in 1959 the Legislature authorized the state government to spend $4 million to "prepare and maintain a comprehensive plan for the future development of the state."

The money was spent but no plan resulted, he continued.

Assemblyman Willie Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, said he would introduce legislation which would make a start on the organization's proposals. But he noted, "People in government, especially elected official types, live for yesterday."

Among the California Tomorrow recommendations are public subsidies for political campaigns, shorter campaigns and "other measures to prevent elections from being taken over completely by special, powerful, economic interests."

DUNCAN MISSIMER

Senior At Drake Wins Scholarship

Duncan B. Missimer, a 17-year-old senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, has been awarded a four-year National Merit scholarship, it was announced today.

Missimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale J. Missimer of 27 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow, was awarded one of the scholarships granted by Gulf and Western Industries to children of its employees.

Missimer's father is employed by Koch Luggage in Corte Madera, a Gulf and Western subsidiary.

Of the 24 semifinalists from Marin and two from Southern Sonoma, young Missimer was the lone winner.

Missimer, who hopes to attend the University of California at Irvine and major in mathematics, ranks first in his class scholastically.

He was a semifinalist in the Bank of America mathematics and science competition and a semifinalist in the California State Scholarship competition, and last year won an American Chemical Society High School award.

Missimer is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation. He has earned letters in varsity water polo and swimming and junior varsity cross country, and is a sailing enthusiast.

This year, Missimer is editor of the Drake High yearbook. He has been a resident of Marin for almost two years, after living in Glendale, Los Angeles County.

National Merit scholarships range from $400 to $6,000 for four years, with the amount based on needs of the individual.

Hub Candidates Due At Meeting

Three candidates for two San Anselmo School District board seats up for election April 20 will speak today at 8 p.m. during a candidates night at Isabel Cook School.

The debate, to be held in the school's multi-purpose room, will be cosponsored by the district's parent-teacher associations, parents groups and the San Anselmo Elementary Teachers Association.

Credit Due Berman In 'The Tenth Man'

In the review of Paddy Chayefsky's play, "The Tenth Man," published April 5 in the Independent-Journal, the strong supporting performance of Mel Berman as the atheist, Schlissel, was incorrectly attributed to another actor.

The comedy-drama will be repeated at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing arts at 8:30 p.m. next Friday and Saturday and April 23 and 24.

Verbal Dueling Between Reed Pair

Verbal dueling between the two candidates involved in the Reed School District recall election sparked an otherwise placid evening of candidates' remarks last night.

Several of the more than 600 persons in the audience hissed loudly when the recall target, trustee chairman Gordon C. Wright, declared that his opponent, Dr. John J. Osborn, was "not an independent, but part of a recall faction" that used "highly irregular tactics in gaining signatures" on the recall election petitions.

The audience also heard five candidates seeking the other two seats up for election on the April 20 ballot: incumbent Leo Souza, Margaret Jones, Marie L. McLeod, Mark Noble and Clayton D. Calender.

Osborn, who hopes to replace Wright via the recall, borrowed a statement from Calendar that the school board trustee must serve as a bridge between the community and educators.

"In the last two years the bridge has broken down in deep hostility," Osborn declared. He said Wright has called parents' expressions of concern "fun and games" and relegated the public's opportunity to speak up at board meetings to the tail end of the board's agenda.

"At the other end of the bridge, the teachers voted 99 to 1 for sanctions against the district," Osborn charged.

He argued that during Wright's term, nearly all special programs had been cut back, that teachers were seeking jobs elsewhere despite a highly competitive job market and cited music instructor Leland Lincoln's letter of resignation that decried "polarization" in the district.

"You have 100 unhappy teachers," Osborn said.

Osborn said he wanted Reed pupils "to enjoy their schooling as one important phase of a satisfying and creative life."

Wright argued that recall elections normally are used against incompetent or corrupt officials, but "neither incompetency nor corruption have been charged in my recall."

Pointing out that his votes have agreed with the board majority on 99 per cent of all motions, Wright challenged, "if you recall me you should recall all the board."

He charged that a minority faction of Reed district residents who lost control of the board in 1969 aligned themselves with "a small group of militant teachers ... and ... created a climate of hostility." To regain a majority on the board, the group not only must win the two seats regularly up for election, but had to attempt his own recall, Wright charged.

The recall group "has not contributed one constructive suggestion in two years," Wright claimed.

He urged the audience to call the district offices to check his voting record and his assertion that the teacher turnover rate had dropped below 6 per cent. Osborn said he had a list indicating 16 of the 100 teachers in the district "last year were not here this year ... that's more than 6 per cent."

During their carefully timed speeches earlier in the candidates' night at Del Mar School, the five regular candidates said, in brief:

Calender — The trustees are a bridge between community and educators, responsible for deciding economic feasibility of educational goals sought by parents or recommended by the professional faculty and administrators. He called for trustees to "listen to teachers, not ignore their talent." Pupils should play only an indirect role in policy making, he said.

Mrs. McLeod — The school district is like a family, with the trustees in the role of a decision-making father, the superintendent as an administering mother. "If the father is completely authoritarian, you have an unhappy family." She called for accountability in terms of educating children, care with taxpayers' money. She stressed she would be available every day to the community, rather than a trustee away on business all day.

Souza — Pupils should not have a direct role in district policy; teachers should help formulate policy but not control it; principals are like "branch managers" helping interpret policy, and a superintendent is the "educational leader," initiating programs, setting priorities and acting as liasion between faculty and trustees. The board's "biggest job is to keep the community aware at all times" of district actions. Trustees' key responsibility is selection of a good administrator he said.

Noble — Basically geeing with the earlier speakers on policy roles, he stressed "10 years of inflation ahead," but warned against cutting any programs. "I want an education for the children to enable them to hold their heads high going on to the next step, socially as well as educationally."

Mrs. Jones — Stressed the board's need for long-range decisions rather than day-to-day administrative worries. She said the district had suffered from "a hole" in administration, and called for the superintendent to set up a year-round schedule for policy matters needing board review. Noting that "teachers are paid over $1 million, we should get $1 million worth of advice" from them. She also urged "putting dollars into evaluation" of the district's program, "perhaps up to $5 per child."

2 Forged Names Reported Found On Reed Petition

Opponents of the recall of a Reed School District trustee said yesterday they have sworn evidence that two of the 1,629 signatures on the recall petition were forged.

Jean F. Wellinger, member of the Committee for Quality Education, which is backing board chairman Gordon C. Wright in the recall, said a handwriting expert, Sister Jeanette Berube of Marin Catholic High School, discovered the forgeries.

Wellinger said the evidence "will be turned over to the authorities for whatever action they deem proper."

Opposing Wright in Tuesday's recall election is Dr. John J. Osborn of Belvedere.

Ladies; Gents; Collectors of American Artifacts and Memorabilia:

Here is positively your first and last chance to win a genuine pewter ice cream mold [never before available to the public] from Foremost, makers of fine ice creams and other fresh dairy products.

REMEMBER coming down to our creamery and ordering molded ice cream desserts? They were considered works of art, being hand-made and decorated, and you could request a certain mold for almost any occasion.

For some three decades they were the highlight of innumerable formal dinner parties (remember our beautiful fruit basket?), a favorite at birthday parties, and a family tradition during the Holidays.

But progress caught up with these attractive and delicious desserts. We could no longer offer them for sale, and the molds have now rested in storage for several years.

Recently, antique dealers tendered offers for the purchase of the molds. But, after considerable discussion at high levels, it was decided that the molds belonged to those who would treasure them the most...our customers.

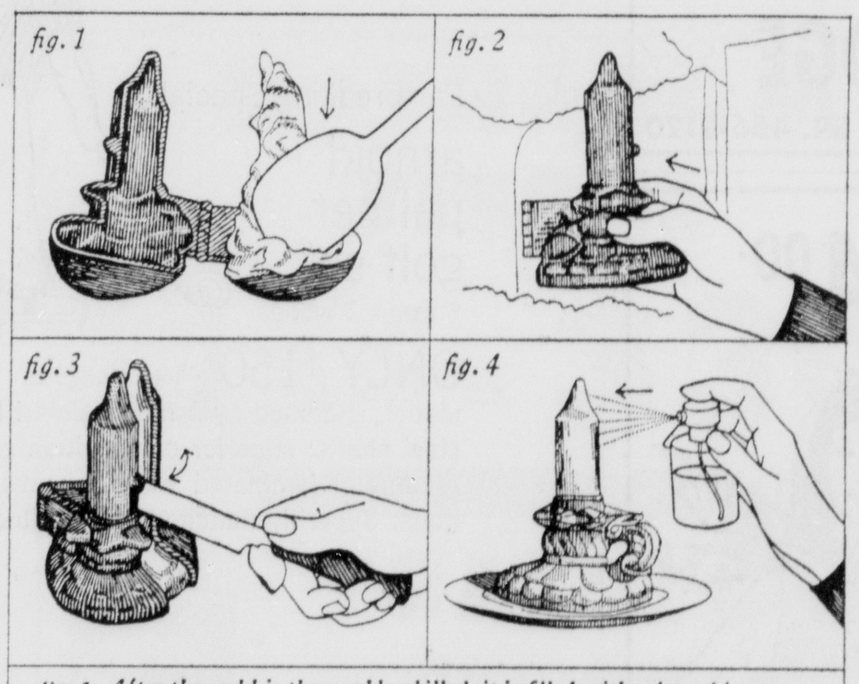

fig. 1 After the mold is thoroughly chilled, it is filled with softened ice cream of the desired flavor and color. fig. 2 When the mold is closed, it is placed directly into an ice-and-salt mixture (if speed is desired), or it may be hardened in a freezer set about 0°F. fig. 3 Once the ice cream is frozen again, the mold is dipped into cold water, and the two halves are pried apart. fig. 4 To produce the desired finished appearance, the molded ice cream is colored by brushing on liquid food colors which have been previously chilled. Spraying the dye on with a small atomizer is another satisfactory method.

These molds were cast in pewter and sold to creameries expressly for commercial usage. Therefore, they are of the finest quality, in terms of material and casting, and produce the greatest detail in the finished product.

Unfortunately the variety of molds we will qive away is too long to list in this advertisement, but they include, among many others: banana molds; Uncle Sam molds; chicken-in-egg molds; Zeppelin molds; Santa Claus molds; corn-on-the-cob molds; fire engine molds; strawberry molds; lily molds. One thousand, one hundred and eleven in all!

By entering our Contest you may win one of these genuine pewter ice cream molds... truly a collector's item. Please be advised that each is in working condition and may actually be used to mold ice cream. (Instructions will be included with every Prize!!)

How to enter our contest

Stop by your favorite store that sells Foremost ice cream, or other fresh Foremost dairy foods. There you will find an official entry blank, complete with detailed contest rules. Verbal Dueling Between Reed Pair

Verbal dueling between the two candidates involved in the Reed School District recall election sparked an otherwise placid evening of candidates' remarks last night.

Several of the more than 600 persons in the audience hissed loudly when the recall target, trustee chairman Gordon C. Wright, declared that his opponent, Dr. John J. Osborn, was "not an independent, but part of a recall faction" that used "highly irregular tactics in gaining signatures" on the recall election petitions.

The audience also heard five candidates seeking the other two seats up for election on the April 20 ballot: incumbent Leo Souza, Margaret Jones, Marie L. McLeod, Mark Noble and Clayton D. Calender.

Osborn, who hopes to replace Wright via the recall, borrowed a statement from Calendar that the school board trustee must serve as a bridge between the community and educators.

"In the last two years the bridge has broken down in deep hostility," Osborn declared. He said Wright has called parents' expressions of concern "fun and games" and relegated the public's opportunity to speak up at board meetings to the tail end of the board's agenda.

"At the other end of the bridge, the teachers voted 99 to 1 for sanctions against the district," Osborn charged.

He argued that during Wright's term, nearly all special programs had been cut back, that teachers were seeking jobs elsewhere despite a highly competitive job market and cited music instructor Leland Lincoln's letter of resignation that decried "polarization" in the district.

"You have 100 unhappy teachers," Osborn said.

Osborn said he wanted Reed pupils "to enjoy their schooling as one important phase of a satisfying and creative life."

Wright argued that recall elections normally are used against incompetent or corrupt officials, but "neither incompetency nor corruption have been charged in my recall."

Pointing out that his votes have agreed with the board majority on 99 per cent of all motions, Wright challenged, "if you recall me you should recall all the board."

He charged that a minority faction of Reed district residents who lost control of the board in 1969 aligned themselves with "a small group of militant teachers ... and ... created a climate of hostility." To regain a majority on the board, the group not only must win the two seats regularly up for election, but had to attempt his own recall, Wright charged.

The recall group "has not contributed one constructive suggestion in two years," Wright claimed.

He urged the audience to call the district offices to check his voting record and his assertion that the teacher turnover rate had dropped below 6 per cent. Osborn said he had a list indicating 16 of the 100 teachers in the district "last year were not here this year . . . that's more than 6 per cent."

During their carefully timed speeches earlier in the candidates' night at Del Mar School, the five regular candidates said, in brief:

Calender — The trustees are a bridge between community and educators, responsible for deciding economic feasibility of educational goals sought by parents or recommended by the professional faculty and administrators. He called for trustees to "listen to teachers, not ignore their talent.'' Pupils should play only an indirect role in policy making, he said.

Mrs. McLeod — The school district is like a family, with the trustees in the role of a decision-making father, the superintendent as an administering mother. "If the father is completely authoritarian, you have an unhappy family." She called for accountability in terms of educating children, care with taxpayers' money. She stressed she would be available every day to the community, rather than a trustee away on business all day.

Souza — Pupils should not have a direct role in district policy; teachers should help formulate policy but not control it; principals are like "branch managers" helping interpret policy, and a superintendent is the "educational leader," initiating programs, setting priorities and acting as liasion between faculty and trustees. The board's "biggest job is to keep the community aware at all times" of district actions. Trustees' key responsibility is selection of a good administrator he said.

Noble — Basically geeing with the earlier speakers on policy roles, he stressed "10 years of inflation ahead," but warned against cutting any programs. "I want an education for the children to enable them to hold their heads high going on to the next step, socially as well as educationally."

Mrs. Jones — Stressed the board's need for long-range decisions rather than day-to-day administrative worries. Green Light Given Middle School Plan

The San Rafael Board of Education last night authorized Supt. John F. Plank to go ahead on plans with an architect for additions and alterations at Santa Venetia Middle School, estimated to cost $165,372.

Eliminated from preliminary plans at the suggestion of the district staff were a girls' locker room for the gymnasium and an administration building, which cut $40,900 from estimates.

Included in the additions and improvements authorized were conversion of classrooms to make possible team teaching at a cost of $92,580 as well as gymnasium additions and a music multi-use room.

In other action last night, the board heard a report from teachers and administrators involved in a pilot project for "more able learners," children with high intelligence levels.

Alyce Quiros, president of the Marin Chapter of Parents of Gifted Children, expressed concern that proposed half-day programs for such children had not materialized.

She also asked that programs be instituted for under-achieving junior and senior high school students.

Board Chairman Herman L. Childress asked if possibly "we are cheating the rest of the children," with such programs aimed at providing enrichment and stimulus for highly intelligent youngsters.

Lee Heise, director of the program, said that within the next six weeks, she will present to the board plans for next year's program.

The board also authorized spending $1,100 for fencing a parking lot for bicycles at San Rafael High School to cut down the rate of bike stealing at the school.

It was laughingly suggested that the area be named the "Carl J. Brown Memorial Bicycle Park" in honor of trustee Brown, who attended his last meeting last night.

He and the other retiring board member, John C. Pfeiffer, opened the meeting by reminiscing about their terms on the board. Neither is seeking reelection in the election next Tuesday.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

LUNCHES — Learned that a pilot school lunch program will start next week at Oliver Hartzell and Laurel Dell Schools.

LOTS — Authorized asking for bids for the sale of five lots owned by the school district across the street from Glenwood School, setting a minimum price of $10,000 for each lot.

CUSTODIAN — Hired John O'Shaughnessy as a high school custodian for the rest of the school year at a salary of $6,468 a year.

LEAVES — Granted leaves to Kathryn Coleman, Francis Lum and Arlene Morris, all high school teachers.

GIFTS — Accepted gifts of a hand-hooked rug from Charles Condrotte to Laurel Dell Primary School and three amplifiers to the district from Stan Yates.

Austerity Seen In New Budget At Stanford

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An austerity budget which will reduce operating deficits by 23 per cent was adopted Tuesday by the Stanford University board of trustees.

Operating expenditures were set at $63,052,000.

The directors said austerity spending will continue in the coming years with hopes of having a completely balanced budget by 1974-75.

Until then deficits will be met from reserve funds, which have been drawn down from $5,665,000 at the end of 1969-70 to about $2,013,000 at the end of 1973-74.

Despite the cutback, faculty and other instructional salaries will be raised an average of five per cent next year.

The principal source of income in 1971-72 will be higher tuition and fee rates, directors said.

British Royal Yacht Visits Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The British royal yacht Britannia steamed through the Golden Gate Tuesday for an informal visit which will end Saturday.

The 413-foot luxury ship with a crew of 259 will sail Saturday for British Columbia to pick up Queen Elizabeth II, who is attending the province's centennial celebration.

Candidates Quizzed On Plans To Correct Teaching Failings

The four candidates for two Kentfield School District board seats, in the April 20 election were quizzed last night on how they would handle alleged failures of the district to teach mathematics and report to the parents.

Mabel Heinen of 170 Via La Paz, Greenbrae, asked the candidates what they would do about Kentfield students who enter Redwood High School with only a fifth grade capability in mathematics.

Dr. Royce J. Truex, 41, a pediatrician, said that if that were true, it should be the first concern of the district, but he had not heard of it.

Dr. Tom R. Walker, 45, an anesthetist, said he had heard that the Kentfield district was below the state average in mathematics. He said the district should do something to correct it.

Michael P. Hansen, 34, a teacher at the College of Marin, said, "Half of the high school valedictorians that enter University of California fail in their first year." He said some average learners go on to better achievements than the high grade students in school.

Stanley T. Smith, 33, research analyst, said that the citizens should set goals for the school. "If these goals were properly set, I'm sure that correction of the low mathematics standard would be high on the list," he said.

Milton Bromberg of 130 South Ridgewood Drive, Kentfield, asked the candidates what they would do about report cards. When they did not answer immediately, Bromberg said that 95 per cent of districts still issued report cards so parents could know how their students were doing in school.

Mrs. Heinen then said that the district did not push the students to study.

The candidates all said that they felt that the district was doing a good job and the results among students going on to high school proved it.

One woman in the audience asked what the board would do if the state levied a statewide tax under which the Kentfield district would lose money and the voters refused to vote in additional taxes.

Truex said he felt that the voters would stand behind the district with additional taxes to maintain the program as it is now.

Smith said that was more of a reason to have a set of goals, so the board could determine what would have to go.

Hansen said that the district did not have busing and food programs which it could cut. So it would have to cut enrichment programs such as the ecology or outdoor program, and fine arts.

Another parent asked how far a parent should go in 'bugging the board" about complaints against teachers.

Walker said it was essential to the board to get the information so it could evaluate the programs in the school.

The meeting, which was sponsored by the Greenbrae Property Owners Association, drew 22 persons to the Adaline E. Kent school.

Coffees Slated For Wellington

Donald R. Wellington, candidate for the San Rafael Board of Education, will speak at two coffee hours this week.

Tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lauro R. Quiros, 205 Locust Avenue, and at 8 p.m. Friday in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Reiss, 645 Barberry Lane, all San Rafael.

Guilty Plea To Auto Theft

Richard Martin Dalhover, 20, of Mill Valley, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced misdemeanor count of stealing an auto.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed Dalhover on probation for six months and fined him $75. He also ordered Dalhover to make restitution.

The charge stemmed from 1969 when Dalhover purchased a car by trading in another for which he hadn't paid.

Waston Plea Is Postponed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Entering of a plea for Charles (Tex) Watson in the Tate slayings was put off again yesterday to allow for more psychiatric tests of the former high school football player.

Watson's attorney, Sam Bubrick, said doctors at the UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute had examined Watson for 25 hours and had requested more information about Watson's background from his family in Copeville, Texas, before offering an opinion.

Superior Court Judge Malcolm Lucas ordered Watson back to court on May 10.

The four candidates for two Kentfield School District board seats, in the April 20 election were quizzed last night on how they would handle alleged failures of the district to teach mathematics and report to the parents.

Mabel Heinen of 170 Via La Paz, Greenbrae, asked the candidates what they would do about Kentfield students who enter Redwood High School with only a fifth grade capability in mathematics.

Dr. Royce J. Truex, 41, a pediatrician, said that if that were true, it should be the first concern of the district, but he had not heard of it.

Dr. Tom R. Walker, 45, an anesthetist, said he had heard that the Kentfield district was below the state average in mathematics. He said the district should do something to correct it.

Michael P. Hansen, 34, a teacher at the College of Marin, said, "Half of the high school valedictorians that enter University of California fail in their first year." He said some average learners go on to better achievements than the high grade students in school.

Stanley T. Smith, 33, research analyst, said that the citizens should set goals for the school. "If these goals were properly set, I'm sure that correction of the low mathematics standard would be high on the list," he said.

Milton Bromberg of 130 South Ridgewood Drive, Kentfield, asked the candidates what they would do about report cards. When they did not answer immediately, Bromberg said that 95 per cent of districts still issued report cards so parents could know how their students were doing in school.

Mrs. Heinen then said that the district did not push the students to study.

The candidates all said that they felt that the district was doing a good job and the results among students going on to high school proved it.

One woman in the audience asked what the board would do if the state levied a statewide tax under which the Kentfield district would lose money and the voters refused to vote in additional taxes.

Truex said he felt that the voters would stand behind the district with additional taxes to maintain the program as it is now.

Smith said that was more of a reason to have a set of goals, so the board could determine what would have to go.

Hansen said that the district did not have busing and food programs which it could cut. So it would have to cut enrichment programs such as the ecology or outdoor program, and fine arts.

Another parent asked how far a parent should go in 'bugging the board" about complaints against teachers.

Walker said it was essential to the board to get the information so it could evaluate the programs in the school.

The meeting, which was sponsored by the Greenbrae Property Owners Association, drew 22 persons to the Adaline E. Kent school.

Guilty Plea To Auto Theft

Richard Martin Dalhover, 20, of Mill Valley, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced misdemeanor count of stealing an auto.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed Dalhover on probation for six months and fined him $75. He also ordered Dalhover to make restitution.

The charge stemmed from 1969 when Dalhover purchased a car by trading in another for which he hadn't paid.

Marin To Enter Chicken Ranch Beach Public Property Fight

Marin County will jump into the legal fight to get Chicken Ranch Beach north of Inverness declared public property.

This was the 3-to-2 decision of the Marin County Board of Supervisors late yesterday.

On a motion by Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and support from Michael Wornum and Arnold M. Baptiste, the supervisors asked the county counsel to join the Inverness Waterfront Committee in the legal fight for public access on the property of Larry Marks Jr.

Chairman Louis H. Baar and John F. McInnis dissented all the way. Baar contended that Marks was offering an acre and a half for public dedication if he can develop the remaining 9.2 acres, and the county could lose everything if it gambled for more through a lawsuit.

McInnis based his objection on the fact that Marks and prior owners of the beach had paid taxes to the county for 85 years.

"I cannot understand how we as supervisors can bring suit against one of our county property owners when this county has accepted taxes from that owner for 85 years," said McInnis.

But the three-man majority stood by the statement of Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino that past tax payment has no bearing on the public's right of access to beach property that has been historically used by the public.

From the famous Thomas Gion case in Santa Cruz and the Lester J. Dietz vs. Robert B. King case in Mendocino County, Godino said it is his opinion that the county would win about seven acres of the 10.7-acre Marks property, just north of Golden Hinde Boatel.

A group of citizens in Inverness filed suit against Marks, and in 1967, the county of Marin joined as plaintiff in the suit. However, the county remained a "nominal party," not an active participant, said Godino.

Robert M. Brown, Castro Valley attorney representing the Inverness Waterfront Committee, said his group will not settle for one and one-half acres because it is convinced that the public has acquired a permanent easement over the entire beach.

Brown said the case is ready to come to trial in Marin Superior Court, and the county should take an active interest and not remain a passive bystander.

Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

PARKS MEETING — Cancelled a joint meeting with the county parks and recreation commission, which was scheduled for 11 a.m. yesterday. The agenda was too tight to permit an hour of informal discussion.

TRAFFIC ADVISORY — Created a traffic advisory committee composed of the public works director, local commander of the California Highway Patrol, district engineer from the state Division of Highways, and a representative of an automobile club in Marin. The committee will advise the supervisors on all problems dealing with traffic safety.

SETTLEMENT — Approved a $6,395 settlement as payment to Dr. and Mrs. Sam E. Hanzel of 100 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, for a portion of their back yard taken to culvert Tamalpais Creek in Kent Woodlands. Marin County Flood Control District will pay that amount.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS — Set April 27 as the date for public hearing on the County Administrator's recommendation for the county's capital improvement program for the next five years.

AGING — Nominated Vera Schultz, Edward T. Ryken and Lucille Hodgen to be named as delegates to the White House Conference on Aging to be held in November. The Governor will pick the delegates.

COURT REPORTING — Withheld action on state legislation that would allow use of electronic equipment to record court proceedings instead of stenographic reporters. Marin County judges asked for time to study the legislation before the county takes an official stand.

TO WASHINGTON — Announced that a proposed trip to Washington, D.C., to discuss the joint use of Hamilton Air Force Base, is not likely until the middle of May.

ABATEMENT — Ordered abatement of John Marcley's barge moored at D. J. Arques' Gate 6 in Richardson Bay. It has a badly damaged fourplex on top. Supervisors gave the owner two weeks to submit plans for conversion into a one-family structure, or the barge will be abated.

SEPTIC FAILURE — Gave Frank Novak 30 days to repair his failing septic tank at 508 Wilson Avenue, Novato.

TOMALES BAY — Gave Tony Morris the right to build a home 200 feet away from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on a long parcel of property that juts 390 feet into Tomales Bay between Inverness and Inverness Park. Morris wanted to build at the tip of the property, but the county planning commission had ordered him to build within 170 feet of Drake Boulevard.

BONDS — Sold $650,000 worth of Novato Unified School District bonds to Wells Fargo Bank at 3.4987 per cent interest, said by County Auditor Michael Mitchell to be the lowest rate in more than five years.

MOTORCYCLES — Appointed a committee to study needs of motorcycle riders in Marin and what regulation of such riding is needed. Appointed were Birdie Schneider and Jerry Greenblatt and Gerald Diaz of the Marin Motorcycle Club and citizens Randy Roan of Corte Madera, Roger Panek of Mill Valley, James Harding of Marinwood, Dorothy Everett of Woodacre and Joseph Kearns of San Marin. Two appointments remain to be made.

NOVATO LIBRARY — Approved 3-to-2 adding at a cost of $1,251 horizontal cedar boards to conceal mechanical equipment on the roof of the new county library in Novato. Supervisors Baar and Baptiste favored a $3,520 slanted tile structure.

GNOSS FIELD — Served notice on Marin Aviation Inc. that it has failed to comply with insurance coverage promised in its agreement with county as fixed base operators at Gnoss Field.

Priest With Son, Wife Suspended

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken has suspended a 49-year-old priest after it was revealed he had been married for seven years and had a 5-year-old son named after Pope Paul.

The Rev. Robert Duryea, a priest for a quarter of a century, was removed from St. Peter's Church at nearby Pacifica and his assistant, Father Larry Purcell, 26, was named "temporary administrator."

His marriage was known only to a few close friends until another priest reported it recently to Archbishop McGucken, who formally suspended Father Duryea as a priest Monday.

Drive On To Solve Land Issue

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, yesterday launched his annual legislative attempt to end the long dispute over property lines in San Rafael Canal.

Property owners along the canal and the State Lands Commission have been at odds for years over unsuccessful attempts to solve the dispute over property lines. The issue arose because the original alignment of the canal was changed.

Bagley last year won passage of a bill authorizing the lands commission to settle the dispute, but the commission's staff subsequently decided that the bill was not broad enough.

Yesterday's measure, drafted by the attorney general's office, broadened the authorization specifically to abandon the public trust for navigation, commerce and fisheries of San Rafael, which was not done in last year's bill.

The assemblyman also introduced a bill updating the use tax fees imposed on private party sales of used vehicles. Schedules would increase by 20 per cent for private cars and 80 per cent for commercial vehicles.

Town Meeting Slated For Hub

The San Anselmo Town Meeting, scheduled for May 8, will offer 14 "action groups" for discussion of problems ranging from traffic to animal control, chairman Martin G. Binder has announced.

The meeting will open at 1 p.m. at the Sir Francis Drake High School little theater with a brief film titled 'Is It Always Right To Be Right?"

The audience will then break down into 14 discussion sections after which it will reassemble to hear brief progress reports from each group, he said.

The groups will then be asked to set separate meeting dates and places for further discussion.

Bridge Transit Plan Hit On Federal Funding Idea

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — The Golden Gate Bridge District assumed too much when it based its transit plan on heavy federal funding, an Assembly subcommittee said yesterday.

Members and staff of the special transportation subcommittee reviewing the plan also questioned whether the district's ferry and bus systems would be justified.

Assemblyman Leo T. McCarthy, D-San Francisco, said that the maximum share of federal transit grants in the next five years for all of California would be only $279 million, while the district expected to get $220 million in the same period. He suggested that other transit agencies would compete successfully for the grants, and that the district would not get nearly as much as it expected.

McCarthy also questioned how the district would raise some $100 million — needed even if it got the $220 million grant.

The bridge district's atorney, Thomas M. Jenkins, conceded the district "doesn't know where the other money is going to come from. We assume that this Legislature will have to look at this question as it applies statewide."

The plan calls for spending $331 million in the next decade on an interim bus and ferry system, with a start on a bus rapid transit system using its own right-of-way via tunnels and a second deck on the bridge.

But questions about the interim system were raised in a staff report to the committee.

Noting that without weekend service the ferry system would be "financially unfeasible," the report asked if spending $20 million for ferries, and subsidizing them at $1.3 million a year, would be justified "when the service primarily serves a recreational function?"

The report also questioned the efficiency of an interim bus system operating on existing streets and highways. The district has advertised for bids on the $10 million fleets of 152 buses, but the report asked "how long could the bus system operate with any degree of efficiency" without a second deck or tunnels in San Francisco.

The staff report also said the best route in San Francisco for the busway would be as part of the proposed freeway linking the bridge with downtown. San Francisco's planning department favors routing the system along the Geary Boulevard corridor, but the subcommittee staff said a system serving both the corridor and Marin would not work.

Yesterday's hearing was taken up largely by a presentation of the plan, but a second hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the Capitol.

Marin To Enter Chicken Ranch Beach Public Property Fight

Marin County will jump into the legal fight to get Chicken Ranch Beach north of Inverness declared public property.

This was the 3-to-2 decision of the Marin County Board of Supervisors late yesterday.

On a motion by Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and support from Michael Wornum and Arnold M. Baptiste, the supervisors asked the county counsel to join the Inverness Waterfront Committee in the legal fight for public access on the property of Larry Marks Jr.

Chairman Louis H. Baar and John F. McInnis dissented all the way. Baar contended that Marks was offering an acre and a half for public dedication if he can develop the remaining 9.2 acres, and the county could lose everything if it gambled for more through a lawsuit.

McInnis based his objection on the fact that Marks and prior owners of the beach had paid taxes to the county for 85 years.

"I cannot understand how we as supervisors can bring suit against one of our county property owners when this county has accepted taxes from that owner for 85 years,'' said McInnis.

But the three-man majority stood by the statement of Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino that past tax payment has no bearing on the public's right of access to beach property that has been historically used by the public.

From the famous Thomas Gion case in Santa Cruz and the Lester J. Dietz vs. Robert B. King case in Mendocino County, Godino said it is his opinion that the county would win about seven acres of the 10.7-acre Marks property, just north of Golden Hinde Boatel.

A group of citizens in Inverness filed suit against Marks, and in 1967, the county of Marin joined as plaintiff in the suit. However, the county remained a "nominal party,'' not an active participant, said Godino.

Robert M. Brown, Castro Valley attorney representing the Inverness Waterfront Committee, said his group will not settle for one and one-half acres because it is convinced that the public has acquired a permanent easement over the entire beach.

Brown said the case is ready to come to trial in Marin Superior Court, and the county should take an active interest and not remain a passive bystander.

Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

PARKS MEETING — Cancelled a joint meeting with the county parks and recreation commission, which was scheduled for 11 a.m. yesterday. The agenda was too tight to permit an hour of informal discussion.

TRAFFIC ADVISORY — Created a traffic advisory committee composed of the public works director, local commander of the California Highway Patrol, district engineer from the state Division of Highways, and a representative of an automobile club in Marin. The committee will advise the supervisors on all problems dealing with traffic safety.

SETTLEMENT — Approved a $6,395 settlement as payment to Dr. and Mrs. Sam E. Hanzel of 100 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, for a portion of their back yard taken to culvert Tamalpais Creek in Kent Woodlands. Marin County Flood Control District will pay that amount.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS — Set April 27 as the date for public hearing on the County Administrator's recommendation for the county's capital improvement program for the next five years.

AGING — Nominated Vera Schultz, Edward T. Ryken and Lucille Hodgen to be named as delegates to the White House Conference on Aging to be held in November. The Governor will pick the delegates.

COURT REPORTING — Withheld action on state legislation that would allow use of electronic equipment to record court proceedings instead of stenographic reporters. Marin County judges asked for time to study the legislation before the county takes an official stand.

TO WASHINGTON — Announced that a proposed trip to Washington, D.C., to discuss the joint use of Hamilton Air Force Base, is not likely until the middle of May.

ABATEMENT — Ordered abatement of John Marcley's barge moored at D. J. Arques' Gate 6 in Richardson Bay. It has a badly damaged fourplex on top. Supervisors gave the owner two weeks to submit plans for conversion into a one-family structure, or the barge will be abated.

SEPTIC FAILURE — Gave Frank Novak 30 days to repair his failing septic tank at 508 Wilson Avenue, Novato.

TOMALES BAY — Gave Tony Morris the right to build a home 200 feet away from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on a long parcel of property that juts 390 feet into Tomales Bay between Inverness and Inverness Park. Morris wanted to build at the tip of the property, but the county planning commission had ordered him to build within 170 feet of Drake Boulevard.

BONDS — Sold $650,000 worth of Novato Unified School District bonds to Wells Fargo Bank at 3.4987 per cent interest, said by County Auditor Michael Mitchell to be the lowest rate in more than five years.

MOTORCYCLES — Appointed a committee to study needs of motorcycle riders in Marin and what regulation of such riding is needed. Appointed were Birdie Schneider and Jerry Greenblatt and Gerald Diaz of the Marin Motorcycle Club and citizens Randy Roan of Corte Madera, Roger Panek of Mill Valley, James Harding of Marinwood, Dorothy Everett of Woodacre and Joseph Kearns of San Marin. Two appointments remain to be made.

NOVATO LIBRARY — Approved 3-to-2 adding at a cost of $1,251 horizontal cedar boards to conceal mechanical equipment on the roof of the new county library in Novato. Supervisors Baar and Baptiste favored a $3,520 slanted tile structure.

GNOSS FIELD — Served notice on Marin Aviation Inc. that it has failed to comply with insurance coverage promised in its agreement with county as fixed base operators at Gnoss Field.

Priest With Son, Wife Suspended

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken has suspended a 49-year-old priest after it was revealed he had been married for seven years and had a 5-year-old son named after Pope Paul.

The Rev. Robert Duryea, a priest for a quarter of a century, was removed from St. Peter's Church at nearby Pacifica and his assistant, Father Larry Purcell, 26, was named "temporary administrator.''

His marriage was known only to a few close friends until another priest reported it recently to Archbishop McGucken, who formally suspended Father Duryea as a priest Monday.

Drive On To Solve Land Issue

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, yesterday launched his annual legislative attempt to end the long dispute over property lines in San Rafael Canal.

Property owners along the canal and the State Lands Commission have been at odds for years over unsuccessful attempts to solve the dispute over property lines. The issue arose because the original alignment of the canal was changed.

Bagley last year won passage of a bill authorizing the lands commission to settle the dispute, but the commission's staff subsequently decided that the bill was not broad enough.

Yesterday's measure, drafted by the attorney general's office, broadened the authorization specifically to abandon the public trust for navigation, commerce and fisheries of San Rafael, which was not done in last year's bill.

The assemblyman also introduced a bill updating the use tax fees imposed on private party sales of used vehicles. Schedules would increase by 20 per cent for private cars and 80 per cent for commercial vehicles.

Town Meeting Slated For Hub

The San Anselmo Town Meeting, scheduled for May 8, will offer 14 "action groups'' for discussion of problems ranging from traffic to animal control, chairman Martin G. Binder has announced.

The meeting will open at 1 p.m. at the Sir Francis Drake High School little theater with a brief film titled 'Is It Always Right To Be Right?''

The audience will then break down into 14 discussion sections after which it will reassemble to hear brief progress reports from each group, he said.

The groups will then be asked to set separate meeting dates and places for further discussion.

Bridge Transit Plan Hit On Federal Funding Idea

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — The Golden Gate Bridge District assumed too much when it based its transit plan on heavy federal funding, an Assembly subcommittee said yesterday.

Members and staff of the special transportation subcommittee reviewing the plan also questioned whether the district's ferry and bus systems would be justified.

Assemblyman Leo T. McCarthy, D-San Francisco, said that the maximum share of federal transit grants in the next five years for all of California would be only $279 million, while the district expected to get $220 million in the same period. He suggested that other transit agencies would compete successfully for the grants, and that the district would not get nearly as much as it expected.

McCarthy also questioned how the district would raise some $100 million — needed even if it got the $220 million grant.

The bridge district's atorney, Thomas M. Jenkins, conceded the district "doesn't know where the other money is going to come from. We assume that this Legislature will have to look at this question as it applies statewide.''

The plan calls for spending $331 million in the next decade on an interim bus and ferry system, with a start on a bus rapid transit system using its own right-of-way via tunnels and a second deck on the bridge.

But questions about the interim system were raised in a staff report to the committee.

Noting that without weekend service the ferry system would be "financially unfeasible,'' the report asked if spending $20 million for ferries, and subsidizing them at $1.3 million a year, would be justified "when the service primarily serves a recreational function?''

The report also questioned the efficiency of an interim bus system operating on existing streets and highways. The district has advertised for bids on the $10 million fleets of 152 buses, but the report asked "how long could the bus system operate with any degree of efficiency'' without a second deck or tunnels in San Francisco.

The staff report also said the best route in San Francisco for the busway would be as part of the proposed freeway linking the bridge with downtown. San Francisco's planning department favors routing the system along the Geary Boulevard corridor, but the subcommittee staff said a system serving both the corridor and Marin would not work.

Yesterday's hearing was taken up largely by a presentation of the plan, but a second hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the Capitol.

Petaluma Board Eyes A Reduced Budget As Teachers Ask Hikes

Reduced operating budgets totaling nearly $7.5 million for the 1971-72 school year were reviewed last night by the Petaluma Board of Education as teachers made a request for an 11 per cent salary increase.

Asst. Supt. George W. Castleberry presented a preliminary budget of $5,064,628 for the high school district reflecting a decrease of $48,753 from this year's expenditures of $5,113,371.

The preliminary elementary district budget of $2,390,221 showed a decrease of $143,184 from this year's estimated expenditures of $2,533,405.

Castleberry said tax rates will probably remain the same, although the elementary district tax rate may drop by 10 cents because state school building payments will be decreased.

After Castleberry and the board completed discussion of staff and operating reductions that may be necessary to conform to the restricted budget, they heard Paul Lyon, chairman of the negotiation council of the Association of Petaluma Area Teachers, submit his group's request for the salary increase effective July 1.

Lyon said the requested salary schedule is based on achieving the 90th percentile of the average salary of teachers in the Novato and Santa Rosa School districts as well as a 6 per cent cost of living increase.

The average pay for Novato teachers was set at $11,696 and $11,927 for Santa Rosa teachers while those in the Petaluma district receive an average of $10,430.

The association request also included pay increases for substitute teachers, driver education teachers and extra pay for supervisory work at school dances, athletic events and other programs held outside school hours.

Schools Supt. Lesly H. Meyer asked Lyon to make a formal presentation to the board next month as a preliminary to the negotiations.

In the preliminary budgets, only normal advancement on the salary schedule was included rather than salary increases.

In the reduced budgets, administration salaries would be reduced with the elimination of an administrative assistant in each district. Supplies in both districts would be cut by one-third.

Plant operations also suffered cutbacks with three custodians cut in the elementary district and five in the high school. Other custodial positions may be reduced to 10-month jobs to save money.

In the high school district, bus transportation would be eliminated for nearly all students living within the city limits of Petaluma, Rohnert Park and Cotati with rural routes shortened to follow only main roads. Transportation for field trips would be eliminated in both districts.

Complete lunches would be eliminated in the high schools with a la carte and snacks sold at increased prices to put the program on a self-supporting basis. The board asked Castleberry to find a way to maintain free lunches for needy students.

Castleberry said the state average spending per high school student is $942 while Petaluma now spends $831 and will drop to $797 under next year's proposed budget. The statewide average is $705 per child and $683 in Petaluma, which would drop to $659 next year.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

CONTRACT — Awarded the contract for grading work at the future Casa Grande High School to Blasi Construction Co. of Healdsburg at a low bid of $55,400. The project had been estimated to cost $100,000.

TWO ROCK — Passed a resolution approving the intention of the Coast Guard to acquire the Two Rock Ranch Army station for a training school.

VOTE — Urged a yes vote on the April 20 ballot proposition to continue Sonoma County's moratorium on mobile home parks until tax inequities have been solved.

BONDS — Heard a report that Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco was the apparent low bidder with an interest rate of 4.86 per cent on $400,000 in elementary district bonds approved by voters in 1968.

MEETING — Set a meeting with the Rohnert Park City Council for April 22 at 6:30 p.m. at Chesney's Carriage House, Rohnert Park.

ADVISER — Welcomed Richard King of Rancho Cotate High School as the new student adviser to the board.

Urge March

NEW YORK (UPI)—An advertisement signed by 49 members of the Army's First Air Cavalry Division was printed in today's edition of the New York Times urging people to join antiwar marches in Washington and San Francisco April 24.

Cosmetic Accord Struck By FDA

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Cosmetics manufacturers have agreed to register with the Food and Drug Administration and tell the FDA what ingredients go into their products, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Virginia H. Knauer, President Nixon's consumer affairs adviser. She praised the industry for both steps but called also for elimination of possibly hazardous cosmetics ingredients and said all ingredients should be listed on the label of cosmetics products.

Both Mrs. Knauer and FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards had urged the cosmetics industry voluntarily to help the FDA police possibly hazardous cosmetics ingredients. Under the law, the FDA cannot demand ingredient information on cosmetics although it can seize products judged hazardous or contaminated.

A $1 Hike In Dog License

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Board of Supervisors voted Monday to increase the cost of dog licenses in San Francisco by $1 on July 1. The new price will be $5.

Board members also voted to add $1.4 million to funds needed for construction of a new $33 million medical center to replace San Francisco General Hospital.

Petaluma Board Eyes A Reduced Budget As Teachers Ask Hikes

Reduced operating budgets totaling nearly $7.5 million for the 1971-72 school year were reviewed last night by the Petaluma Board of Education as teachers made a request for an 11 per cent salary increase.

Asst. Supt. George W. Castleberry presented a preliminary budget of $5,064,628 for the high school district reflecting a decrease of $48,753 from this year's expenditures of $5,113,371.

Castleberry said tax rates will probably remain the same, although the elementary district tax rate may drop by 10 cents because state school building payments will be decreased.

After Castleberry and the board completed discussion of staff and operating reductions that may be necessary to conform to the restricted budget, they heard Paul Lyon, chairman of the negotiation council of the Association of Petaluma Area Teachers, submit his group's request for the salary increase effective July 1.

Lyon said the requested salary schedule is based on achieving the 90th percentile of the average salary of teachers in the Novato and Santa Rosa School districts as well as a 6 per cent cost of living increase.

The average pay for Novato teachers was set at $11,696 and $11,927 for Santa Rosa teachers while those in the Petaluma district receive an average of $10,430.

The association request also included pay increases for substitute teachers, driver education teachers and extra pay for supervisory work at school dances, athletic events and other programs held outside school hours.

Schools Supt. Lesly H. Meyer asked Lyon to make a formal presentation to the board next month as a preliminary to the negotiations.

In the preliminary budgets, only normal advancement on the salary schedule was included rather than salary increases.

In the reduced budgets, administration salaries would be reduced with the elimination of an administrative assistant in each district. Supplies in both districts would be cut by one-third.

Plant operations also suffered cutbacks with three custodians cut in the elementary district and five in the high school. Other custodial positions may be reduced to 10-month jobs to save money.

In the high school district, bus transportation would be eliminated for nearly all students living within the city limits of Petaluma, Rohnert Park and Cotati with rural routes shortened to follow only main roads. Transportation for field trips would be eliminated in both districts.

Complete lunches would be eliminated in the high schools with a la carte and snacks sold at increased prices to put the program on a self-supporting basis. The board asked Castleberry to find a way to maintain free lunches for needy students.

Castleberry said the state average spending per high school student is $942 while Petaluma now spends $831 and will drop to $797 under next year's proposed budget. The statewide average is $705 per child and $683 in Petaluma, which would drop to $659 next year.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

CONTRACT — Awarded the contract for grading work at the future Casa Grande High School to Blasi Construction Co. of Healdsburg at a low bid of $55,400. The project had been estimated to cost $100,000.

TWO ROCK — Passed a resolution approving the intention of the Coast Guard to acquire the Two Rock Ranch Army station for a training school.

VOTE — Urged a yes vote on the April 20 ballot proposition to continue Sonoma County's moratorium on mobile home parks until tax inequities have been solved.

BONDS — Heard a report that Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco was the apparent low bidder with an interest rate of 4.86 per cent on $400,000 in elementary district bonds approved by voters in 1968.

MEETING — Set a meeting with the Rohnert Park City Council for April 22 at 6:30 p.m. at Chesney's Carriage House, Rohnert Park.

ADVISER — Welcomed Richard King of Rancho Cotate High School as the new student adviser to the board.

Urge March

NEW YORK (UPI)—An advertisement signed by 49 members of the Army's First Air Cavalry Division was printed in today's edition of the New York Times urging people to join antiwar marches in Washington and San Francisco April 24.

Cosmetic Accord Struck By FDA

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Cosmetics manufacturers have agreed to register with the Food and Drug Administration and tell the FDA what ingredients go into their products, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Virginia H. Knauer, President Nixon's consumer affairs adviser. She praised the industry for both steps but called also for elimination of possibly hazardous cosmetics ingredients and said all ingredients should be listed on the label of cosmetics products.

Both Mrs. Knauer and FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards had urged the cosmetics industry voluntarily to help the FDA police possibly hazardous cosmetics ingredients. Under the law, the FDA cannot demand ingredient information on cosmetics although it can seize products judged hazardous or contaminated.

A $1 Hike In Dog License

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Board of Supervisors voted Monday to increase the cost of dog licenses in San Francisco by $1 on July 1. The new price will be $5.

Board members also voted to add $1.4 million to funds needed for construction of a new $33 million medical center to replace San Francisco General Hospital.

THE TANGY flavor of apple is the key to this new idea for a pork chop dinner — created easily with pancakes from a mix and a mouth-watering apple beet relish mold.

Potato Pancakes Go Well With Pork And Applesauce

Pork chops and apple sauce are good all year around and they move right into spring when they're served with fluffy potato pancakes and a refreshing jellied beet relish.

To turn the tables a bit, serve the apple sauce over the pancakes. But also have a large bowl of hot apple sauce nearby so everyone can have more to spoon onto the meat, too.

It's hard to think of a more versatile food than apple sauce. It can be served plain for breakfast, lunch, dinner or snacks. It's a perfect appetizer, salad, dessert. Heat it, chill it. Or even stir in cinnamon or nuts.

The potato pancakes are made from a packaged mix — easy and flavorful. Another convenience food, lemon flavored gelatin, is used for the relish. Apple juice substituted for part of the water gives richness to the gelatin; then vinegar, horseradish and drained canned beets are stirred in. It's quick to make and a tart accompaniment for the meal.

POTATO PANCAKES

1 package (6 oz.) potato pancake mix
Egg
Cold water
Butter
2 cups canned apple sauce

Prepare potato pancake mix with egg and water as directed on package. Drop batter by tablespoons onto hot buttered skillet. Brown on both sides. Meanwhile, heat apple sauce. For each person, serve 3 pancakes topped with a large spoonful of hot apple sauce. Serve with baked boneless pork chops. Makes 8 servings.

APPLE BEET RELISH MOLDS

1 package (3 oz.) lemon flavored gelatin
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup boiling water
1 cup cold apple juice
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons horseradish
1 can (8 oz.) julienne beets, drained

Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Stir in apple juice, vinegar and horseradish. Chill until slightly thickened. Mix in beets. Spoon into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold onto crisp greens. Makes 2⅔ cups or 8 relish servings.

A Tasty Loaf From The Oven

Memories of baking are warm, nostalgic memories. The fragrant kitchen, the homemade bread, the companionship are all heartwarming. A wonderful lift for even the simplest meal, Apricot Nut Bread continues the fine tradition of quick breads.

Simple and speedy, quick breads are a treat for dinner, dessert, breakfast, tea time or anytime. Apricot Nut Bread has a special attraction — it's made with pancake mix. Versatile pancake mix becomes a convenient base for this quick bread while apricots, prized for their tart-sweet taste, combine with pecans, cinnamon and a hint of orange for especially pleasing flavor.

As your family tastes this mouthwatering Apricot Nut Bread, they'll want it to be a regular part of the baking repertory.

APRICOT NUT BREAD

A Shrimp Dish With Accents Of Quebec

Almost everyone is aware of the traditional French cooking of Louisiana, particularly with seafood such as shrimp; but not many of us realize that there's another place on our continent where shrimp also gets a Gallic touch — the province of Quebec in Canada.

This is what the editors of "French Cooking in the New World" tell us in their new cookbook, which traces the gastronomic traditions of the French in North America. Here's an intriguing recipe from the book which gives shrimp a French-Canadian accent.

SHRIMP MONTREALAISE

2 tablespoons minced heart of celery
1 teaspoon anchovy paste
1 clove garlic, minced fine
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon minced scallions
1 tablespoon minced parsley
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
7 tablespoons olive oil
¼ tablespoon salt
¼ tablespoon pepper
1 tablespoon horseradish
½ teaspoon Dijon mustard
2 dozen chilled, cooked, shelled and deveined shrimp
4 large or 8 small lettuce leaves

In a bowl, combine celery, anchovy paste, garlic, paprika, scallions, parsley, vinegar, olive oil, salt and pepper. Combine horseradish and mustard. Add to mixture. Whip well with a wire whisk or fork until well blended. Pour mixture over shrimp and chill until ready to serve. Serve on lettuce leaves. Four servings.

More Fat

Dairy cream contains far more fat than milk, as well as vitamin A. It is a good energy food and, because it is easily digested, it is very nutritious for invalids.

Lettuce

Trim sparingly all varieties of lettuce. Discard as little of the outer leaves of lettuce as possible to get the most vitamin A, vitamin C and minerals for your money.

Some Tips For Those Who Eat Out Most Of The Time

The bachelor who won't cook and the traveling salesman who eats most of his meals on the road may be headed for heart trouble, says the Marin County Heart Association.

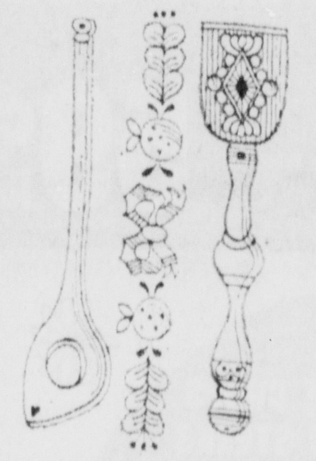
A diet emphasizing foods rich in saturated fats and cholesterol — the bacon-and-eggs, hamburger-and-French fries, meat-with-gravy and coffee-with-cream route followed by so many who constantly eat out, can speed the development of hardening of the arteries.

Usually, says the Heart Association, the items mentioned are loaded with animal (saturated) fats and/or cholesterol which influence coronary artery disease. Clearly, the person who eats out is on a spot. However, moderate changes in eating habits may get him or her off it.

The Marin County Heart Association offers this advice, which applies to anyone who eats out often:

1. Go easy on the roll and biscuit basket. Commercial types usually are made with butter, eggs, whole milk, cream or other saturated fats.

2. Ask for margarine instead of butter. Margarine and most vegetable oils contain poly-unsaturated fats, which help lower cholesterol blood levels.



3. Ask your waitress to load up the appetizer tray. You'll relish nibbling all you want on celery, carrots, radishes, scallions and pickles.

4. You also can have your fill of salads, providing you use oil and vinegar dressing. It's tasty and your salad will have neither saturated fat nor cholesterol.

5. For the main course, concentrate on lean meats, fish and poultry, baked, broiled or roasted. If a sauce is served on your meat, scrape it off. Remove the skin from the turkey and chicken, to avoid most of the fat.

6. If you like milk, try skim milk, or buttermilk and yogurt made from skim milk. You can have cocoa made with low-fat milk.

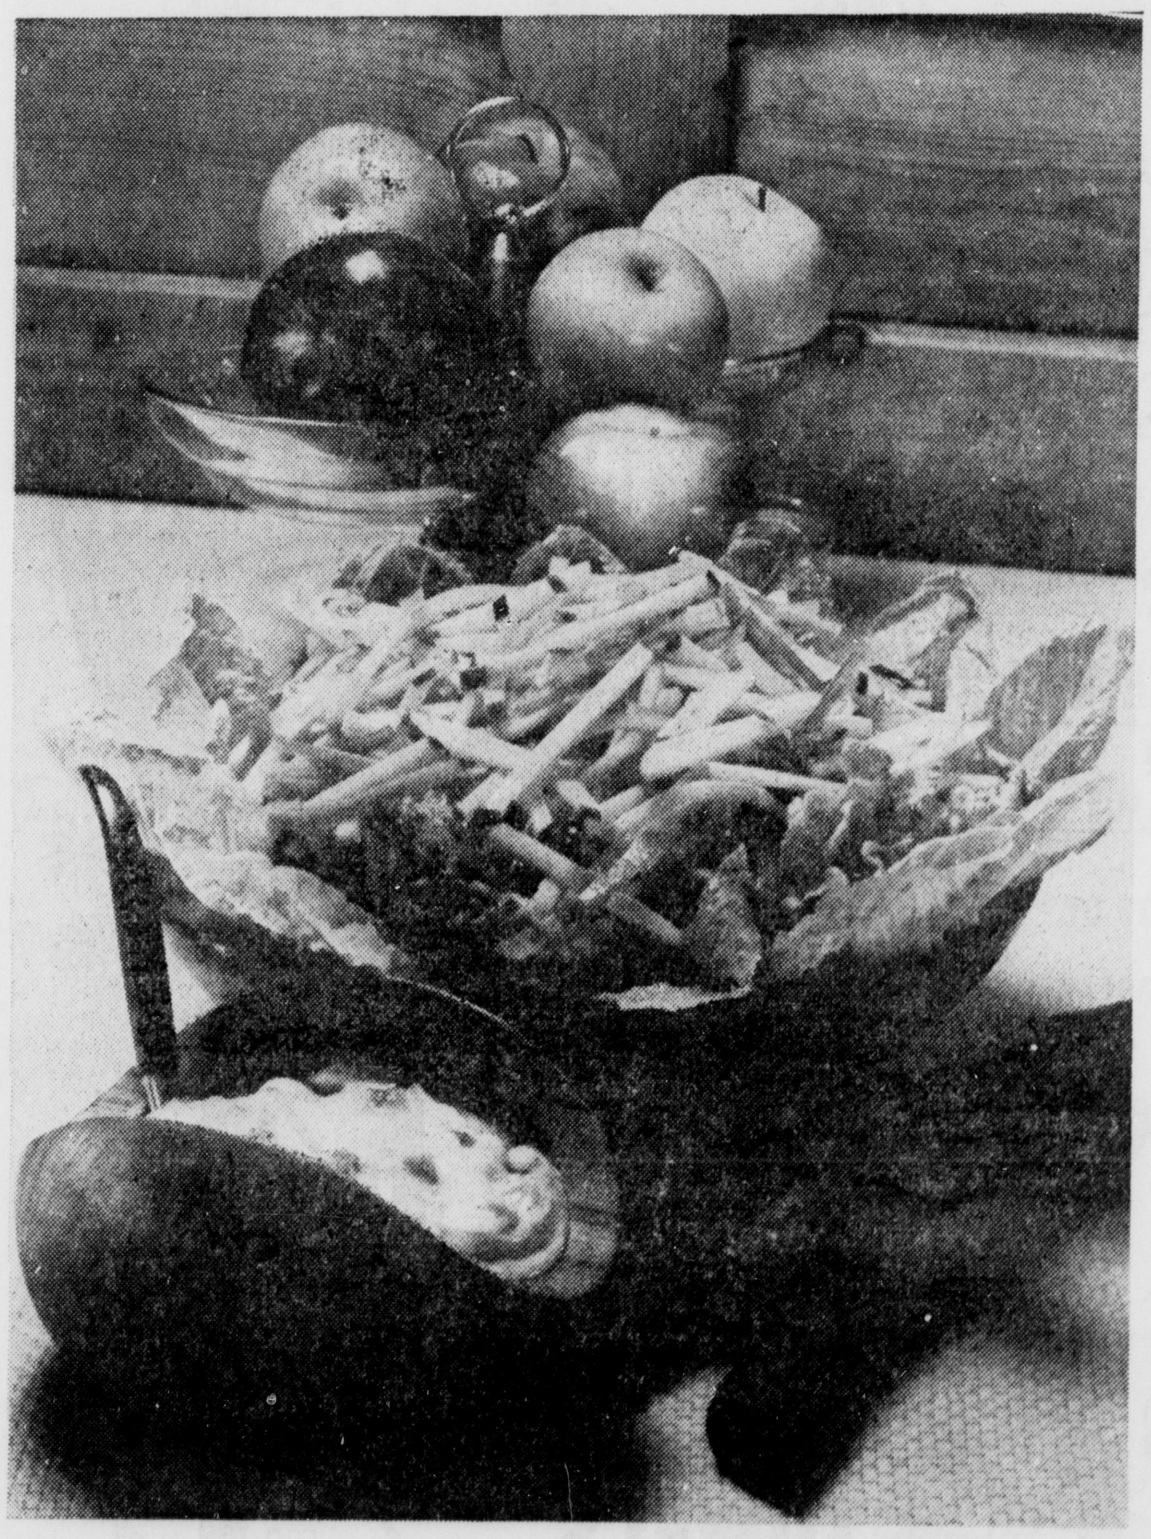
7. Naturally, you should avoid or eat sparingly of rich desserts. What's left? Fresh fruit, or canned fruit without added sugar, gelatin fruit whip, puddings if made with low-fat milk, ice milk and sherbet in moderation.

Tender Dough

To keep cookie dough tender, roll out on a light dusting of powdered sugar instead of flour and cut to reduce rerolling of scraps. One way is to cut the rolled dough into strips of desired width, then into diamonds.

Sweet Pie

Sprinkling 3 tablespoons of sugar on the bottom of an unbaked pastry shell before filling it with cut fresh fruit does more than sweeten the underside of the fruit. By absorbing the fruit juice, the sugar helps prevent the crust from becoming soggy.



Play A Game Of Jackstraws With Apples, Green Peppers, Celery

Remember the game of jackstraws that once was so popular with children? It was such a memory that inspired the idea for this interesting new salad, with all the main ingredients cut into thin sticks.

Red-tipped apple sticks, bright green sticks of sweet peppers, ribbed white sticks of celery and a scattering of slivered blanched almonds heaped on crisp salad greens make a handsome display and a delightful combination of flavors — especially when served with creamy Chutney Dressing.

JACKSTRAW SALAD

3 red apples
2 medium green peppers
2 cups celery sticks
½ cup slivered blanched almonds
Salad greens

Do not peel apples. Cut into very thin sticks with red peel at either end. Drop at once into water to which lemon juice or ascorbic-citric acid powder has been added. Cut green peppers and celery into very thin sticks. Drain apples thoroughly; combine with green pepper sticks, celery sticks and almonds; toss to mix. Place in a salad bowl lined with crisp salad greens.

Serve with Chutney Dressing. Makes 8 servings.

CHUTNEY DRESSING

Combine 1 cup mayonnaise, ½ cup dairy sour cream and ½ cup drained, chopped chutney. Mix well.

'DELICIOUS, SPANISH STYLE....
that's what I like about LAMB'

LAMB LOIN CHOPS with Spanish Olive Relish (makes 6 servings)

3 tablespoons olive or salad oil
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 medium red pepper, chopped
2 medium ripe tomatoes, peeled, seeded and cubed
3/4 teaspoon paprika
Salt and pepper
3/4 cup small pimiento-stuffed Spanish green olives
6 lamb loin chops, 1 to 1-1/4 inches thick

Heat 2 tablespoons of the oil in large skillet over medium heat; add garlic, vegetables, paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper and olives. Cook uncovered, stirring frequently until vegetables are tender. Spoon olive relish in center of heated platter and keep warm. Pour drippings from skillet. Season chops with salt and pepper. Heat remaining oil in skillet; add chops and sauté 5 to 6 minutes per side, or until lamb is as done as you like it. Arrange chops around olive relish.

A Shrimp Dish With Accents Of Quebec

Almost everyone is aware of the traditional French cooking of Louisiana, particularly with seafood such as shrimp; but not many of us realize that there's another place on our continent where shrimp also gets a Gallic touch — the province of Quebec in Canada.

This is what the editors of "French Cooking in the New World" tell us in their new cookbook, which traces the gastronomic traditions of the French in North America. Here's an intriguing recipe from the book which gives shrimp a French-Canadian accent.

SHRIMP MONTREALAISE

2 tablespoons minced heart of celery
1 teaspoon anchovy paste
1 clove garlic, minced fine
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon minced scallions
1 tablespoon minced parsley
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
7 tablespoons olive oil
¼ tablespoon salt
¼ tablespoon pepper
1 tablespoon horseradish
½ teaspoon Dijon mustard
2 dozen chilled, cooked, shelled and deveined shrimp
4 large or 8 small lettuce leaves

In a bowl, combine celery, anchovy paste, garlic, paprika, scallions, parsley, vinegar, olive oil, salt and pepper. Combine horseradish and mustard. Add to mixture. Whip well with a wire whisk or fork until well blended. Pour mixture over shrimp and chill until ready to serve. Serve on lettuce leaves. Four servings.

More Fat

Dairy cream contains far more fat than milk, as well as vitamin A. It is a good energy food and, because it is easily digested, it is very nutritious for invalids.

Lettuce

Trim sparingly all varieties of lettuce. Discard as little of the outer leaves of lettuce as possible to get the most vitamin A, vitamin C and minerals for your money.

Some Tips For Those Who Eat Out Most Of The Time

The bachelor who won't cook and the traveling salesman who eats most of his meals on the road may be headed for heart trouble, says the Marin County Heart Association.

A diet emphasizing foods rich in saturated fats and cholesterol — the bacon-and-eggs, hamburger-and-French fries, meat-with-gravy and coffee-with-cream route followed by so many who constantly eat out, can speed the development of hardening of the arteries.

Usually, says the Heart Association, the items mentioned are loaded with animal (saturated) fats and/or cholesterol which influence coronary artery disease. Clearly, the person who eats out is on a spot. However, moderate changes in eating habits may get him or her off it.

The Marin County Heart Association offers this advice, which applies to anyone who eats out often:

1. Go easy on the roll and biscuit basket. Commercial types usually are made with butter, eggs, whole milk, cream or other saturated fats.

2. Ask for margarine instead of butter. Margarine and most vegetable oils contain poly-unsaturated fats, which help lower cholesterol blood levels.

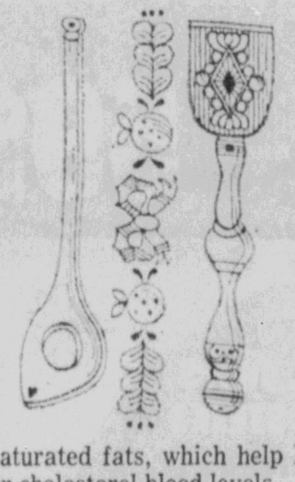
3. Ask your waitress to load up the appetizer tray. You'll relish nibbling all you want on celery, carrots, radishes, scallions and pickles.

4. You also can have your fill of salads, providing you use oil and vinegar dressing. It's tasty and your salad will have neither saturated fat nor cholesterol.

5. For the main course, concentrate on lean meats, fish and poultry, baked, broiled or roasted. If a sauce is served on your meat, scrape it off. Remove the skin from the turkey and chicken, to avoid most of the fat.

6. If you like milk, try skim milk, or buttermilk and yogurt made from skim milk. You can have cocoa made with low-fat milk.

7. Naturally, you should avoid or eat sparingly of rich desserts. What's left? Fresh fruit, or canned fruit without added sugar, gelatin fruit whip, puddings if made with low-fat milk, ice milk and sherbet in moderation.

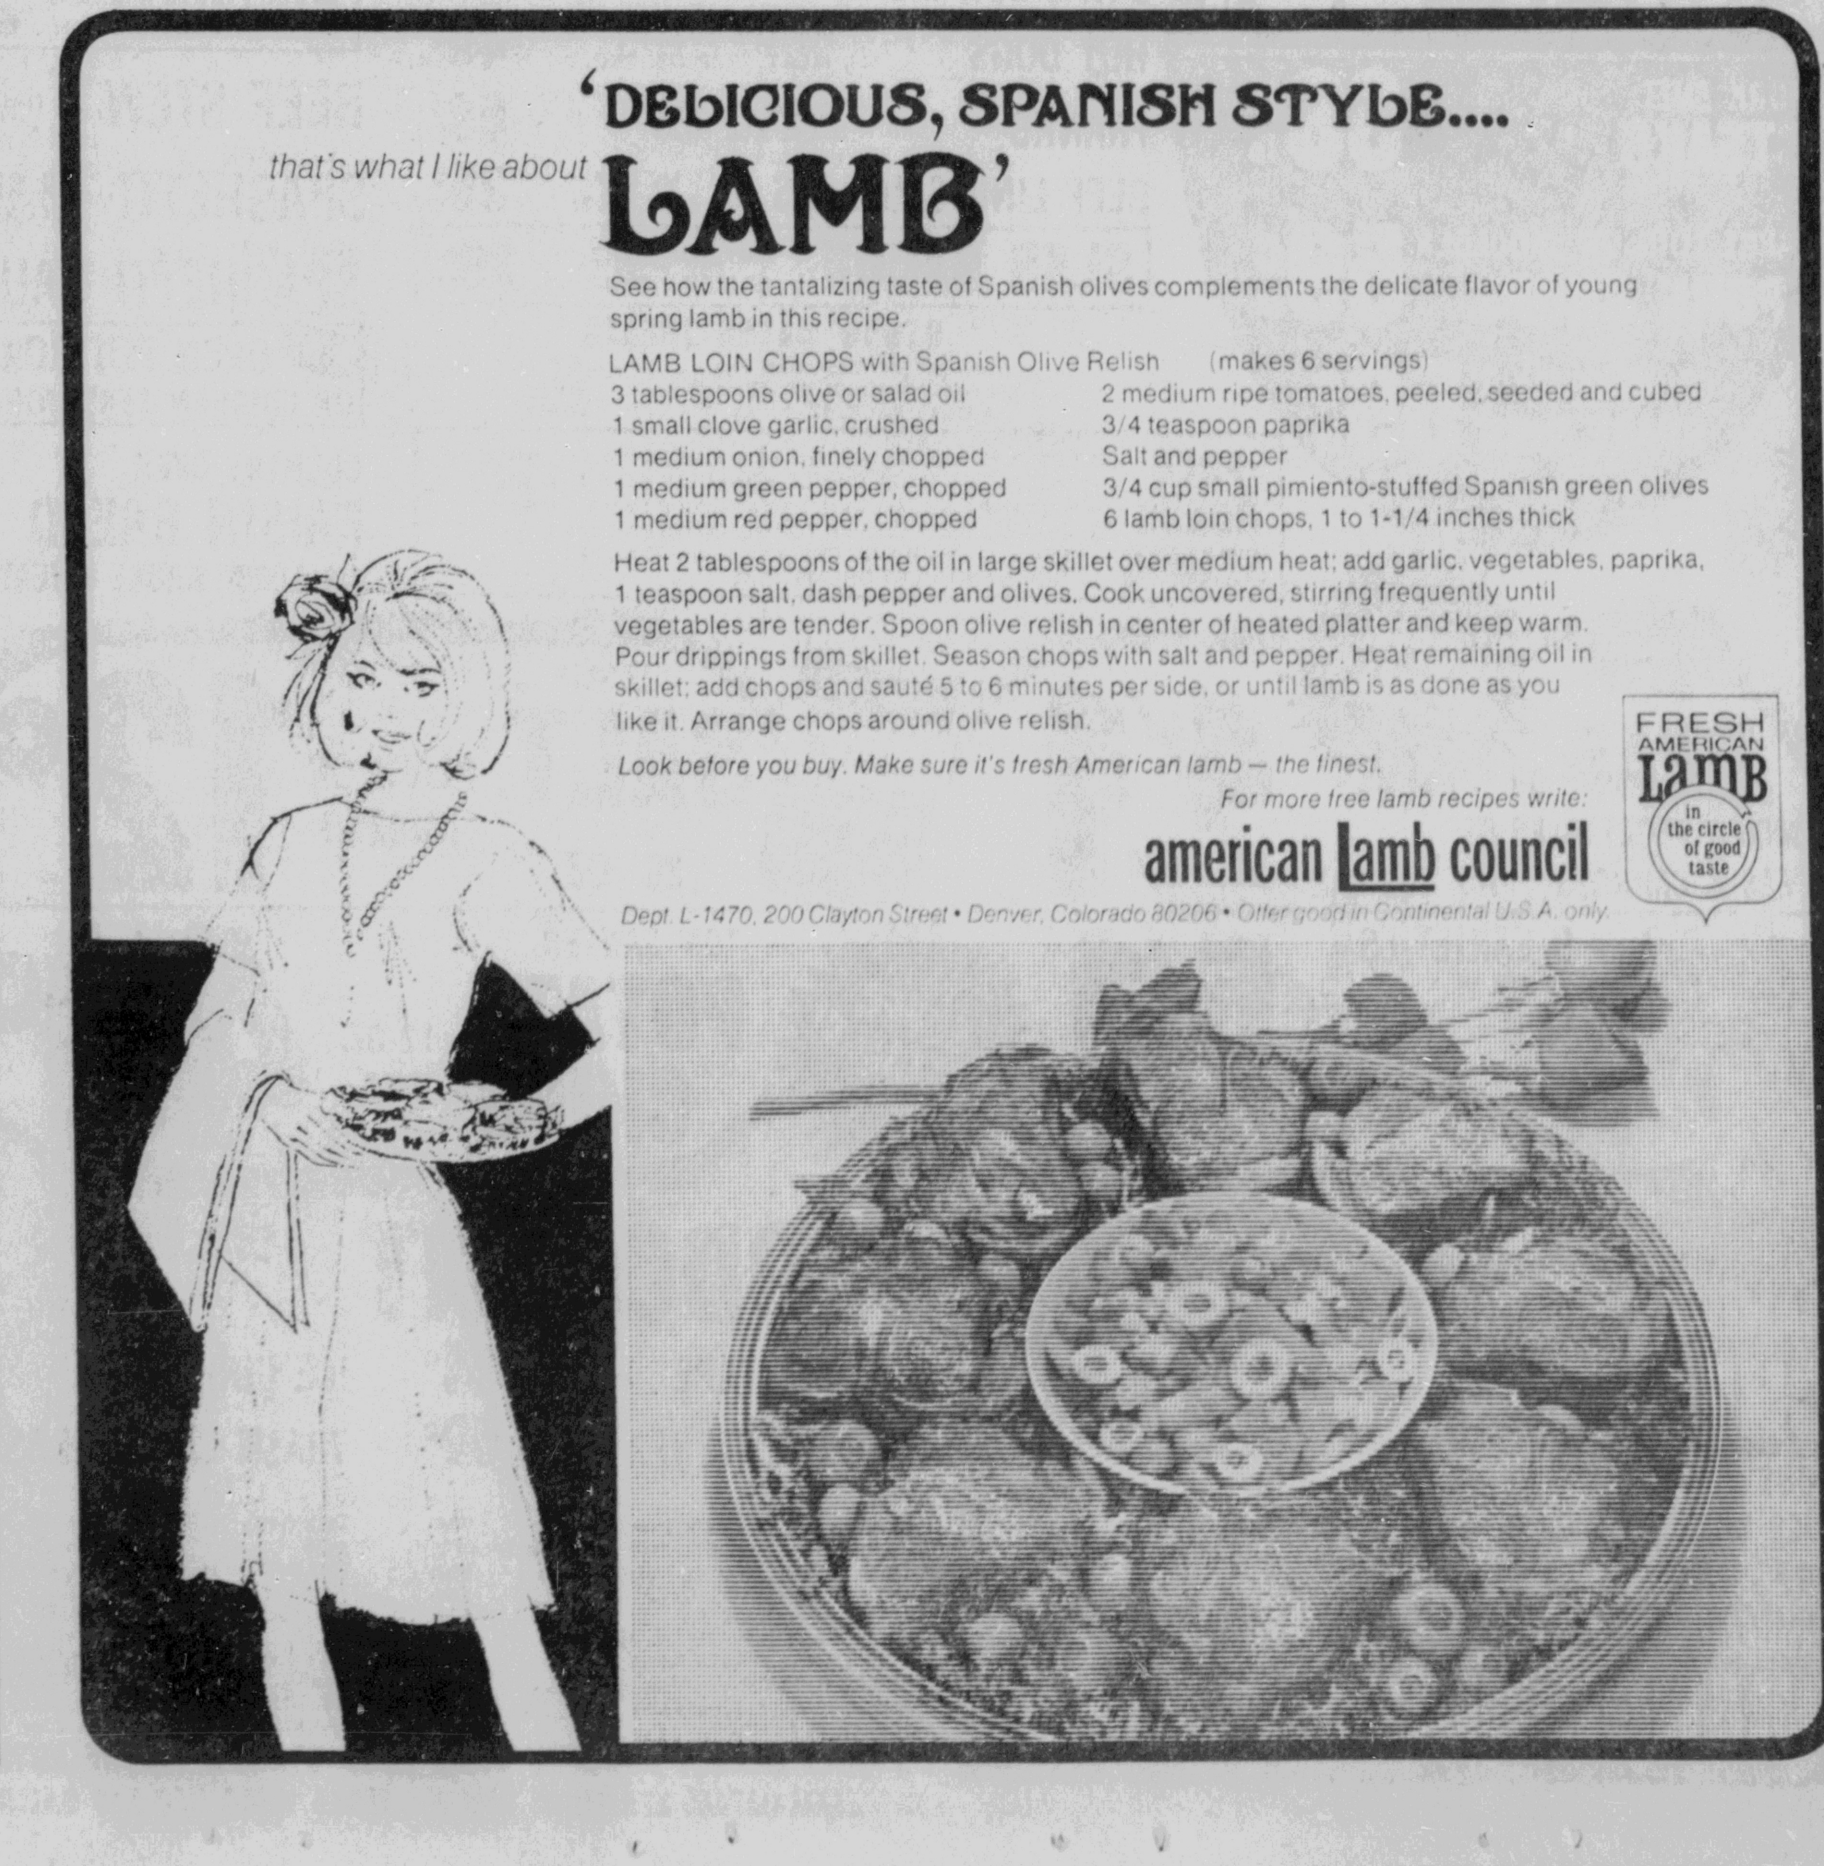


Tender Dough

To keep cookie dough tender, roll out on a light dusting of powdered sugar instead of flour and cut to reduce rerolling of scraps. One way is to cut the rolled dough into strips of desired width, then into diamonds.

Sweet Pie

Sprinkling 3 tablespoons of sugar on the bottom of an unbaked pastry shell before filling it with cut fresh fruit does more than sweeten the underside of the fruit. By absorbing the fruit juice, the sugar helps prevent the crust from becoming soggy.



'DELICIOUS, SPANISH STYLE....
that's what I like about LAMB'

LAMB LOIN CHOPS with Spanish Olive Relish (makes 6 servings)

3 tablespoons olive or salad oil
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 medium red pepper, chopped
2 medium ripe tomatoes, peeled, seeded and cubed
3/4 teaspoon paprika
Salt and pepper
3/4 cup small pimiento-stuffed Spanish green olives
6 lamb loin chops, 1 to 1-1/4 inches thick

Heat 2 tablespoons of the oil in large skillet over medium heat; add garlic, vegetables, paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper and olives. Cook uncovered, stirring frequently until vegetables are tender. Spoon olive relish in center of heated platter and keep warm. Pour drippings from skillet. Season chops with salt and pepper. Heat remaining oil in skillet; add chops and sauté 5 to 6 minutes per side, or until lamb is as done as you like it. Arrange chops around olive relish.

Vivid Memories Of 50 Wedded Years

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Makinson of Rohnert Park, formerly Marin County residents for 40 years, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday.

On Saturday the Makinsons will be feted at a champagne reception at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

Both natives of San Francisco, Irma and Paul Makinson were married in 1921 at the Congregational Church in San Rafael, then situated on E Street. After the ceremony the immediate family enjoyed a breadfast reception at the church. "To this day I still don't have our marriage certificate," grins Mrs. Makinson.

MRS. MAKINSON, the former Irma Von Oesen vividly recalled the 1906 earthquake in San Francisco and remembers being evacuated from her Mission District home. Her family spent the following three days camping at the foot of Twin Peaks. Paul Makinson's immediate concern was to report to relief headquarters at Golden Gate Park where he was assigned to drive supplies for several days.

Prior to this Mr. Makinson had spent many years at sea mostly on whaling ships and three masted schooners traveling between San Francisco and Alaska. This love of the sea has greatly influenced Paul Makinson's life, and his employers include Pacific Steamship American Smelters and Mare Island Naval shipyard from which he retired in 1954 after 17 years of service.

ONE OF his proudest possessions is a framed license awarded by the United States Coast Guard for 50 years service as a registered chief engineer. This certificate indicates Mr. Makinson is able to handle motor vessels of any horsepower. Another favorite display in the Makinson home is a handsome replica of a three-masted schooner which one of their sons created especially for his father.

The Makinsons have lived in the Las Casitas Mobile Home Park in Rohnert Park the past six years. Their two living sons are Harold Makinson of San Rafael and Stanley Makinson of Novato. There are five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Saturday's reception is being planned by their children and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Doyle, close family friends. A member of their wedding party who is expected to attend is Mrs. Irene Kohler of Oakland. Two older brothers of Mrs. Makinson's, George A. Makinson of Sacramento and William J. Makinson of San Francisco, will also be present.

Ira Makinson noted that the guest list also includes a group of former high school classmates, who with Mrs. Makinson have met regularly for the past 58 years.

A special talent of Paul Makinson's that is proudly appreciated by his wife is a beautiful bass voice. For 14 years he studied at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and sang solo and with the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church for seven years. Several of Makinson's favorite ballads and hymns have been recorded and constitute a record collection which is a family treasure.

Presently both Mr. and Mrs. Makinson are deeply involved in community activities. Irma Makinson is chairman of the Thursday morning koffee klatches for the "park" while her husband enjoys the position of unofficial photographer at most functions they attend. Another pleasure of the pair is their rose garden.

BOTH IRMA and Paul Makinson have a sense of humor and warmth that easily captures those nearby. They admit to difficult times and struggles in the past yet offer no regrets. Today both are deeply concerned and aware of society's needs and conflicts and youth but do not condemn them.

Mr. Makinson strongly emphasized an ability on the part of both husband and wife to admit "I'm sorry" as a secret of their successful marriage.

"I never started the day without saying I'm sorry if it was necessary" he said with a nod to his smiling wife.

AT THEIR mailbox receiving congratulatory cards and notes on their 50th wedding anniversary are Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Makinson of Rohnert Park. Marin County residents for many years, they are now residents of Las Casitas Mobile Home Park and participate in most of the park's activities. . . including bicycling.

NOT SO ELUSIVE

One of the butterflies adorning a wide-brimmed sailor hat from the spring and summer collection of milliner Simone Mirman got free and landed on the shorts worn by model Penny Carter. None made it to the see-through blouse, a "little something extra" from the chapeau designer.

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL

Wave after wave of applause greeted the gray knit jodhpurs and weskits, the man-tailored black pantsuits and the widecut gray polo coats and broad brimmed felt hats of caumont.

THE ERA between the world wars was recalled by pleated skirts with long belted jackets and girls' silk shorts and masculine ties. Shoes had ankle straps.

Black caumont evening suits with skirts or pants had bolero jackets and blouses of white crepe or glitter beading. The look ranged from the pampas of Argentina to the deserts of North Africa.

Tendresse did baggy paratrooper pants and knit tops in dull red. Skirts, always to the knee bottom, had inverted box pleats.

A STRONG oriental influence showed in a pair of collections by Americans, both just back from junkets in that part of the world.

La Mendola liked acid green, pinks and deep blue-purples in peacock print silk gowns that swirled about the knee or fell to the ankle for evening in a slinky gown laced up the front of the bodice and unlaced down one leg. Shoes were thick Chinese clogs.

Ken Scott of Milan and Indiana loved kimonos in all colors all at once, and in all lengths for all hours. His Chinese clog shoes were so high the models barely could move. One fell down the runway steps into an usher's arms.

Gray flannel suits, blazer jackets, cardigan sweaters and polo coats marked the classic look of men's clothes shown Monday night, the first of three days of shows by 81 houses.

The opening women's shows of high fashion ready-to-wear stressed tailored suits, shirtwaist blouses and a return to the suit for cocktail and evening wear. Every house showed hemlines at the bottom of the kneecap, even when a few microskirts were tucked into collections, or when a rare pair of shorts peeped out from a slit skirt.

THE BIGGEST men's applause-getter was Ugo Coccoli's line of classic gray flannel suits with one or two buttons. He also drew praise with pale gray trousers and medium gray blazers, worn with regimental striped ties and shirts of so pale a blue they seemed nearly white.

Baratta was big on polo coats, plain or with thick beaver collars. There was a cape look to his flared dracula coat in dark green. It had a very high collar into which the wearer could sink his chin.

Miguel Cruz for Litrico liked all gray knits in cardigans and matching slacks. Some sweater tops were sashed or had geometric insets in rust color. Shoes were in matching shades of gray suede.

PALE BEIGES and muted, pale plaids were popular, as at Sir Bonser, the shirt maker, where many shirt jackets had patches sewn on the elbows.

Women's evening gowns were romantic again. A long red coat with knife pleats falling from an empire waist topped a white empire gown of pleats with a narrow embroidered band for a top, from the Fontana Sisters. It was strictly for the flat of chest.

Blazers came into their own for evening. Ognibene-Zendman did them in horizontal striped satin with long satin skirts. Barocco's blazers were of black sequins and Renato Balestra's of black and gold glitter threads.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A guide for press chairmen of organizations interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The guide explains policies of coverage, how to prepare news stories and meeting notices, and the special stories and features emphasized by the section.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

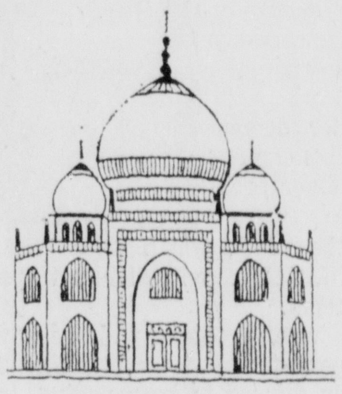
THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Family To Live In India Village

By MOLLY MARIN



A Tiburon family will live among the Indian people in the small Southern India village of Vellore for the next three to six months. Dr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Woodward and their five children, ages 8 to 13, depart tomorrow.

Traveling extensively from their house in Vellore, Dr. Woodward will visit hospitals in Southern India in connection with his fellowship at Mt. Zion Hospital's Claire Zellerbach Tumor Institute.

"We have been having study sessions every night for the children on India," says Betty Woodward, who decided to accompany her husband to India because of the educational opportunity for their children.

Each Woodward plans to keep a private journal about India and only compare them upon homecoming, probably late August.

THE JACK Youngers of Mill Valley have received word of the plans of their son, John G. Younger, and his wife Karen.

Both in their fourth year of graduate study at the University of Cincinnati, they are working respectively on master's degrees in classic and English literature. They will be leaving this summer for a two-year stay in Greece, where they spent some time during 1969-70.

Mr. Younger is a Bronze Age archaeologist associated with the American School of Classical Study in Athens and the British School of Archaeology and will be excavating in Crete and the Cyclades. Mrs. Younger will be doing research on the contemporary French and English novel.

Both plan several months of study at Oxford, England, next year and expect to receive their Ph.D. degrees from the University of Cincinnati in 1973.

FORMER NOVATO Mayor and Mrs. Babe Silva have returned home following an eight-day trip to the Northwest. It was the first visit there for Marian since she and Babe went on their wedding trip there in 1934, and Babe's first visit since 1940.

In Portland they visited Benjamin Gilmore, who was best man at their wedding. They also visited friends in Bellevue, Wash., and toured the former world's fair site in Seattle.

A RECEPTION will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Clark in San Rafael following the concert of the Marin Symphony on Sunday evening at the College of Marin.

Guests will include Conductor Sandor Salgo and his wife, guest soloist Marni Nixon, Youth Orchestra conductor Hugo Rinaldi and his wife. Also Symphony Guild board members and officers of the guild auxiliary, guild patrons and Workshop for Strings director Robert L. Jacobson and his wife.

Honored guests will be orchestra members.

Mrs. Marguerite Terzich To Lead Business Women

Mrs. Marguerite R. Terzich of Mill Valley is the new president of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County. She has served as both second and first vice president and chairman of the club's cotton candy booth at the Marin Art and Garden Fair on three occasions, and as legislation and finance committee chairman.

Mrs. Terzich was born in Merced and has lived in Marin County 32 years. She has been employed by an insurance company in San Francisco for 24 years. She is a graduate of Merced High School and attended San Jose State College and Armstrong Business College in Berkeley.

MRS. MARGUERITE TERZICH

Mrs. Terzich is interested in the early history of California and is descended from one of the pioneer families of the San Joaquin Valley. She serves as a director of the Smith Mine and Ditch Company of Jamestown, a family enterprise that produced considerable quantity of gold ore in the early days of mining in the Mother Lode. The mine is no longer active. She enjoys light opera, photography and collecting historical articles of early California.

She is the mother of Mrs. Lawrence J. Adams, Mrs. Richard L. Wills and Loren E. Terzich.

Other officers to be installed are Mmes. Dale Hostrup, vice president; Douglas Melton second vice president; G. N. Gunderson, recording secretary; Olan W. McNutt, corresponding secretary, Miss Glenna C. Shelby, treasurer; and Mrs. R. E. Feuerborn, financial secretary.

Products Festival

The more than 1,000 members of Sunny Hills Guilds have been invited to attend a products festival Friday from 10 a.m. to noon on the grounds of the Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo.

According to Mrs. Gibson Crawford of San Rafael, president of the Sunny Hills Guilds' Governing Council, the festival's purpose is to demonstrate with craft materials new ideas for products to sell at the Grape Festival which will be held in October.

"We want to upgrade the products and stay within our usual low price range" she explains.

Demonstrating craft methods will be Mrs. John Novak of Novato, Mrs. James D. Fletcher of San Rafael and Kay Crawford, and Leslie Clark will demonstrate free form non-loom weaving.

Mrs. Anthony Cameron, chairman of the products festival as well as this year's Grape Festival, wants to keep the tradition of the Grape Festival while giving it a new look. Some changes for 1971 will be an outdoor cafe selling beer and wine, which will be operated by the guilds that previously sold antiques and milk shakes.

Vivid Memories Of 50 Wedded Years

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Makinson of Rohnert Park, formerly Marin County residents for 40 years, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday.

On Saturday the Makinsons will be feted at a champagne reception at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

Both natives of San Francisco, Irma and Paul Makinson were married in 1921 at the Congregational Church in San Rafael, then situated on E Street. After the ceremony the immediate family enjoyed a breadfast reception at the church. "To this day I still don't have our marriage certificate," grins Mrs. Makinson.

MRS. MAKINSON, the former Irma Von Oesen vividly recalled the 1906 earthquake in San Francisco and remembers being evacuated from her Mission District home. Her family spent the following three days camping at the foot of Twin Peaks. Paul Makinson's immediate concern was to report to relief headquarters at Golden Gate Park where he was assigned to drive supplies for several days.

Prior to this Mr. Makinson had spent many years at sea mostly on whaling ships and three masted schooners traveling between San Francisco and Alaska. This love of the sea has greatly influenced Paul Makinson's life, and his employers include Pacific Steamship American Smelters and Mare Island Naval shipyard from which he retired in 1954 after 17 years of service.

ONE OF his proudest possessions is a framed license awarded by the United States Coast Guard for 50 years service as a registered chief engineer. This certificate indicates Mr. Makinson is able to handle motor vessels of any horsepower. Another favorite display in the Makinson home is a handsome replica of a three-masted schooner which one of their sons created especially for his father.

The Makinsons have lived in the Las Casitas Mobile Home Park in Rohnert Park the past six years. Their two living sons are Harold Makinson of San Rafael and Stanley Makinson of Novato. There are five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Saturday's reception is being planned by their children and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Doyle, close family friends. A member of their wedding party who is expected to attend is Mrs. Irene Kohler of Oakland. Two older brothers of Mrs. Makinson's, George A. Makinson of Sacramento and William J. Makinson of San Francisco, will also be present.

Ira Makinson noted that the guest list also includes a group of former high school classmates, who with Mrs. Makinson have met regularly for the past 58 years.

A special talent of Paul Makinson's that is proudly appreciated by his wife is a beautiful bass voice. For 14 years he studied at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and sang solo and with the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church for seven years. Several of Makinson's favorite ballads and hymns have been recorded and constitute a record collection which is a family treasure.

Presently both Mr. and Mrs. Makinson are deeply involved in community activities. Irma Makinson is chairman of the Thursday morning koffee klatches for the "park" while her husband enjoys the position of unofficial photographer at most functions they attend. Another pleasure of the pair is their rose garden.

BOTH IRMA and Paul Makinson have a sense of humor and warmth that easily captures those nearby. They admit to difficult times and struggles in the past yet offer no regrets. Today both are deeply concerned and aware of society's needs and conflicts and youth but do not condemn them.

Mr. Makinson strongly emphasized an ability on the part of both husband and wife to admit "I'm sorry" as a secret of their successful marriage.

"I never started the day without saying I'm sorry if it was necessary" he said with a nod to his smiling wife.

AT THEIR mailbox receiving congratulatory cards and notes on their 50th wedding anniversary are Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Makinson of Rohnert Park. Marin County residents for many years, they are now residents of Las Casitas Mobile Home Park and participate in most of the park's activities. . . including bicycling.

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL

Wave after wave of applause greeted the gray knit jodhpurs and weskits, the man-tailored black pantsuits and the widecut gray polo coats and broad brimmed felt hats of caumont.

THE ERA between the world wars was recalled by pleated skirts with long belted jackets and girls' silk shorts and masculine ties. Shoes had ankle straps.

Black caumont evening suits with skirts or pants had bolero jackets and blouses of white crepe or glitter beading. The look ranged from the pampas of Argentina to the deserts of North Africa.

Tendresse did baggy paratrooper pants and knit tops in dull red. Skirts, always to the knee bottom, had inverted box pleats.

A STRONG oriental influence showed in a pair of collections by Americans, both just back from junkets in that part of the world.

La Mendola liked acid green, pinks and deep blue-purples in peacock print silk gowns that swirled about the knee or fell to the ankle for evening in a slinky gown laced up the front of the bodice and unlaced down one leg. Shoes were thick Chinese clogs.

Ken Scott of Milan and Indiana loved kimonos in all colors all at once, and in all lengths for all hours. His Chinese clog shoes were so high the models barely could move. One fell down the runway steps into an usher's arms.

Gray flannel suits, blazer jackets, cardigan sweaters and polo coats marked the classic look of men's clothes shown Monday night, the first of three days of shows by 81 houses.

The opening women's shows of high fashion ready-to-wear stressed tailored suits, shirtwaist blouses and a return to the suit for cocktail and evening wear. Every house showed hemlines at the bottom of the kneecap, even when a few microskirts were tucked into collections, or when a rare pair of shorts peeped out from a slit skirt.

THE BIGGEST men's applause-getter was Ugo Coccoli's line of classic gray flannel suits with one or two buttons. He also drew praise with pale gray trousers and medium gray blazers, worn with regimental striped ties and shirts of so pale a blue they seemed nearly white.

Baratta was big on polo coats, plain or with thick beaver collars. There was a cape look to his flared dracula coat in dark green. It had a very high collar into which the wearer could sink his chin.

Miguel Cruz for Litrico liked all gray knits in cardigans and matching slacks. Some sweater tops were sashed or had geometric insets in rust color. Shoes were in matching shades of gray suede.

PALE BEIGES and muted, pale plaids were popular, as at Sir Bonser, the shirt maker, where many shirt jackets had patches sewn on the elbows.

Women's evening gowns were romantic again. A long red coat with knife pleats falling from an empire waist topped a white empire gown of pleats with a narrow embroidered band for a top, from the Fontana Sisters. It was strictly for the flat of chest.

Blazers came into their own for evening. Ognibene-Zendman did them in horizontal striped satin with long satin skirts. Barocco's blazers were of black sequins and Renato Balestra's of black and gold glitter threads.

"We have been having study sessions every night for the children on India," says Betty Woodward, who decided to accompany her husband to India because of the educational opportunity for their children.

Each Woodward plans to keep a private journal about India and only compare them upon homecoming, probably late August.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Admitting Failure Is A First Step Toward A New, Better Life

DEAR HELEN:

My husband and I have separated 14 times in the past two years. Before that, it wasn't quite so bad, though 10 years of marriage hasn't been exactly heaven.

Two of our biggest problems are: his drinking, and his father. The booze problem got so bad that my husband lost his job, but his 97-year-old father (who lives with us and hasn't taken a bath in 12 years) gives him $200 a week, and he lushes up most of it.

We have a 10-room house, but "Papa" insists on sleeping till noon every day on the living room sofa. His aversion to water makes things very bad. Between a drunk husband and an over-ripe father-in-law, my life is not smooth.

I moved out against last week. I don't think I am even missed. If I went back, do you think I have any chance of changing things? — CAN'T STAND FAILURE

DEAR C.S.F.:

If you haven't "changed things" in 14 tries. . . well, let's put it this way: admitting failure is sometimes the first step toward a new and better life. (I'd rate your last one pretty "rank.") — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A State Legislator has said that VD is the biggest epidemic to hit the suburbs since crabgrass.

Isn't it time we had mass examinations at school — or, at the least, insist that every student present a certificate from a doctor before he or she gets report cards each semester?

If small pox and polio can be all but eliminated, why not VD? — TERRIBLY WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

Venereal disease won't be eradicated until someone discovers a fool proof immunization, and it becomes as routine as smallpox vaccinations.

It's sad that in these enlightened times so many teenagers must write to columnists for information they should be receiving at home or at school. A typical example:

DEAR HELEN:

It happened just once, and he's my ex-boyfriend now. I found out too late I was just another notch on his belt. Helen, I'm scared to death I might have VD, and I can't tell my folks. They'd never get over the shame. I don't have money for treatments and, besides, our doctor would contact Mom, as I'm under age. — HELP!

DEAR HELP:

There's a County Venereal Disease Clinic in your town. Examination and treatment are free, and your parents are not contacted. VD is completely curable if caught early. — H.

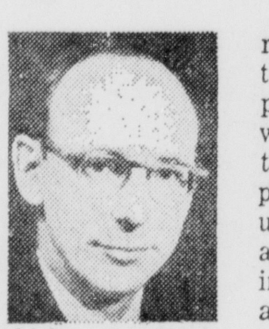
Makers Hear Complaints

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE



WASHINGTON — Should a manufacturer be obligated to supply free parts to a stove or replace a stove after the one-year warranty period has expired if the problems originated during the warranty period?

Should he also be obligated for defects noticed after the warranty period has expired for a stove that was plagued by other problems during the warranty period?

These are two of the thorny questions discussed at the latest monthly meeting of the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel, a panel of eight consumer experts set up a year ago to resolve customer problems with appliances when satisfaction cannot be obtained elsewhere.

MACAP INVITED representatives of the press, Federal Trade Commission and Ralph Nader's study groups to observe and comment on the way it tackles the job of settling disputes between consumers and producers, retailers and repairmen in the appliance field.

MACAP's industry sponsors are the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers, Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association and the American Retail Federation. It deals with almost all appliances except electrical ones.

The case involving the stove was typical of ones referred to MACAP panelists by its Chicago clearinghouse. Approximately 60 per cent of cases are settled within a month and never reach the MACAP panel. MACAP's address is 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill., 60606.

The stove case involved a number of complaints by a Texas housewife. The most important problem was a tendency of the stove to heat up even when the gas dials were turned off. After this defect was finally corrected following numerous repair calls, the oven doors fell off.

BY THE time the over-heating problem was corrected, it was three months beyond the warranty period, and the small manufacturer refused to pay the costs, which were $50.82. MACAP convinced him to pay them.

When problems with the stove persisted, and the manufacturer refused to keep paying, the case bounced back to MACAP. Obviously, the stove was a defective one, but also quite clearly, terms of the warranty did not require replacement of the stove or parts after one year.

Until recent years, that would be the end of it; the buyer would simply have no recourse but to pay through the nose for the "lemon" he got. But the outlook has changed because of new industry attitudes, exemplified by the creation of MACAP, and a series of court decisions and legislative efforts.

MACAP has adopted a policy that says a warranty is still in effect for problems that originate during the warranty period but extend afterward. Its members are also inclined to extend the warranty to cover new problems that arise after the period is over for an appliance that showed earlier defects.

RECENT COURT decisions have supported this concept with the phrase "implied warranty." They have ruled that the simple act of placing a product on public sale carries with it an implied warranty that the product is fit for the purpose intended and safe for use regardless of time limits and other restrictions specified in a written warranty or guarantee.

But MACAP has no power to enforce its decisions; it must rely on the goodwill and business sense of member organizations and others in the industry. Judging from results of the first year's operations, it is making progress. In fact, it has stirred the interest of other industries in adopting similar procedures in order to stem the rising tide of consumer complaints.

According to its own figures, it has satisfactorily settled a total of 1,855 cases out of 2,889 referred to it. These figures include several hundred received and processed by sponsoring industry associations before MACAP was formally organized in March of 1970.

Most of the complaints involved refrigerators and ranges. The proportions were 41 per cent for refrigerators, 24 per cent for ranges, 14 per cent for washers, 8 per cent for dishwashers, 5 per cent for air conditioners and 8 per cent for all other appliances under MACAP jurisdiction.

The most frequent cause for complaint was dissatisfaction with service or charges, which accounted for 22 per cent of all cases. Next most frequent complaint involved defects or poor performance, 19 per cent, followed by problems of getting parts or defective parts, 18 per cent.

EXCESSIVE REPAIRS were the subject of 7 per cent of complaints, while warranty and temperature problems each accounted for 7 per cent more. Other less frequent causes of trouble were non-responsiveness of dealers or manufacturers, excessive noise, food spoilage, safety problems, sales misrepresentation, improper installation and inadequate buying information.

Although MACAP expenses are paid by the industry associations sponsoring it, its members are not paid and are anxious to demonstrate their independence in handling individual cases and setting policies.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Admitting Failure Is A First Step Toward A New, Better Life

DEAR HELEN:

My husband and I have separated 14 times in the past two years. Before that, it wasn't quite so bad, though 10 years of marriage hasn't been exactly heaven.

Two of our biggest problems are: his drinking, and his father. The booze problem got so bad that my husband lost his job, but his 97-year-old father (who lives with us and hasn't taken a bath in 12 years) gives him $200 a week, and he lushes up most of it.

We have a 10-room house, but "Papa" insists on sleeping till noon every day on the living room sofa. His aversion to water makes things very bad. Between a drunk husband and an over-ripe father-in-law, my life is not smooth.

I moved out against last week. I don't think I am even missed. If I went back, do you think I have any chance of changing things? — CAN'T STAND FAILURE

DEAR C.S.F.:

If you haven't "changed things" in 14 tries. . . well, let's put it this way: admitting failure is sometimes the first step toward a new and better life. (I'd rate your last one pretty "rank.") — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A State Legislator has said that VD is the biggest epidemic to hit the suburbs since crabgrass.

Isn't it time we had mass examinations at school — or, at the least, insist that every student present a certificate from a doctor before he or she gets report cards each semester?

If small pox and polio can be all but eliminated, why not VD? — TERRIBLY WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

Venereal disease won't be eradicated until someone discovers a fool proof immunization, and it becomes as routine as smallpox vaccinations.

It's sad that in these enlightened times so many teenagers must write to columnists for information they should be receiving at home or at school. A typical example:

DEAR HELEN:

It happened just once, and he's my ex-boyfriend now. I found out too late I was just another notch on his belt. Helen, I'm scared to death I might have VD, and I can't tell my folks. They'd never get over the shame. I don't have money for treatments and, besides, our doctor would contact Mom, as I'm under age. — HELP!

DEAR HELP:

There's a County Venereal Disease Clinic in your town. Examination and treatment are free, and your parents are not contacted. VD is completely curable if caught early. — H.

Makers Hear Complaints

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Should a manufacturer be obligated to supply free parts to a stove or replace a stove after the one-year warranty period has expired if the problems originated during the warranty period?

Should he also be obligated for defects noticed after the warranty period has expired for a stove that was plagued by other problems during the warranty period?

These are two of the thorny questions discussed at the latest monthly meeting of the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel, a panel of eight consumer experts set up a year ago to resolve customer problems with appliances when satisfaction cannot be obtained elsewhere.

MACAP INVITED representatives of the press, Federal Trade Commission and Ralph Nader's study groups to observe and comment on the way it tackles the job of settling disputes between consumers and producers, retailers and repairmen in the appliance field.

MACAP's industry sponsors are the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers, Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association and the American Retail Federation. It deals with almost all appliances except electrical ones.

The case involving the stove was typical of ones referred to MACAP panelists by its Chicago clearinghouse. Approximately 60 per cent of cases are settled within a month and never reach the MACAP panel. MACAP's address is 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill., 60606.

The stove case involved a number of complaints by a Texas housewife. The most important problem was a tendency of the stove to heat up even when the gas dials were turned off. After this defect was finally corrected following numerous repair calls, the oven doors fell off.

BY THE time the over-heating problem was corrected, it was three months beyond the warranty period, and the small manufacturer refused to pay the costs, which were $50.82. MACAP convinced him to pay them.

When problems with the stove persisted, and the manufacturer refused to keep paying, the case bounced back to MACAP. Obviously, the stove was a defective one, but also quite clearly, terms of the warranty did not require replacement of the stove or parts after one year.

Until recent years, that would be the end of it; the buyer would simply have no recourse but to pay through the nose for the "lemon" he got. But the outlook has changed because of new industry attitudes, exemplified by the creation of MACAP, and a series of court decisions and legislative efforts.

MACAP has adopted a policy that says a warranty is still in effect for problems that originate during the warranty period but extend afterward. Its members are also inclined to extend the warranty to cover new problems that arise after the period is over for an appliance that showed earlier defects.

RECENT COURT decisions have supported this concept with the phrase "implied warranty." They have ruled that the simple act of placing a product on public sale carries with it an implied warranty that the product is fit for the purpose intended and safe for use regardless of time limits and other restrictions specified in a written warranty or guarantee.

But MACAP has no power to enforce its decisions; it must rely on the goodwill and business sense of member organizations and others in the industry. Judging from results of the first year's operations, it is making progress. In fact, it has stirred the interest of other industries in adopting similar procedures in order to stem the rising tide of consumer complaints.

According to its own figures, it has satisfactorily settled a total of 1,855 cases out of 2,889 referred to it. These figures include several hundred received and processed by sponsoring industry associations before MACAP was formally organized in March of 1970.

Most of the complaints involved refrigerators and ranges. The proportions were 41 per cent for refrigerators, 24 per cent for ranges, 14 per cent for washers, 8 per cent for dishwashers, 5 per cent for air conditioners and 8 per cent for all other appliances under MACAP jurisdiction.

The most frequent cause for complaint was dissatisfaction with service or charges, which accounted for 22 per cent of all cases. Next most frequent complaint involved defects or poor performance, 19 per cent, followed by problems of getting parts or defective parts, 18 per cent.

EXCESSIVE REPAIRS were the subject of 7 per cent of complaints, while warranty and temperature problems each accounted for 7 per cent more. Other less frequent causes of trouble were non-responsiveness of dealers or manufacturers, excessive noise, food spoilage, safety problems, sales misrepresentation, improper installation and inadequate buying information.

Although MACAP expenses are paid by the industry associations sponsoring it, its members are not paid and are anxious to demonstrate their independence in handling individual cases and setting policies.

Chairman is Virginia Cutler, a professor of home economics at Brigham Young University. Members represent other universities, the YWCA, the Michigan Consumers Council and Credit Counselling Centers, Inc.

They have already demonstrated some courage in supporting Congressional efforts to strengthen product warranties through legislation opposed by MACAP sponsoring associations.

In a number of cases, MACAP recommendations have gone against dealers and manufacturers. In one case, it suggested a settlement that turned out to be twice what the customer agreed to accept later.

The program will consist of an exploration of the essentials of jazz inprovisation by a five-piece San Rafael High School jazz band, with audience participation; excerpts, with narration by piano teacher Wanda Baer, from William Walton's "Facade" to be performed Sunday by the Marin Symphony Orchestra; an aria from the third act of Von Weber's "Der Freischutz" sung by Soprano Lou-Ann Fischer, accompanied by 15 members of the Marin Symphony Orchestra; and Tchaikovsky's variations on a Roccoco theme performed by cellist Jed Barahal of the Marin Youth Orchestra.

Youngsters 14 and under may compete for cash prizes. The rules are available from the fire stations or the library, according to Mrs. Raymond Gargus, contest chairman. Theme for the posters is "our brave firemen."

The posters, a parade and other events will be the highlights of "a day of civic pride" and rededication of the firehouse May 8, according to Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, general chairman for the celebration.

Top Britten Opera Slated At Sonoma

Benjamin Britten's Gothic-Victorian opera, "The Turn of the Screw," will be presented by the Sonoma State College Opera Workshop on April 22, 23 and 24 at the Fred Warren Memorial Auditorium on campus.

There will be 8:30 p.m. performances on all dates with a special 2:30 p.m. matinee on April 23.

Dr. Peggy Donovan-Jeffrey, workshop director, says that the opera has the power of an Ibsen play and is one of the best chamber operas in the 20th century repertoire as well as one of Britten's best works. Based on the story by Henry James, the opera is set in the 1850's and has only six characters.

David Sloss, a member of the Sonoma State College of Music faculty, will conduct the chamber orchestra composed of 18 members of the college's philharmonic orchestra. Gerd Mairamdres, a member of the faculty of the department of theater arts at the college, is the guest stage director, and Floyd Ross is the designer of sets and costumes.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the Office of Educational Services and Summer Sessions at the college.

Sculpture On Display

The exhibit will continue until May 1. Scher, a native of Odessa on the Black Sea, has lived in Turkey, Brazil, and Mexico, and since 1930 in the United States.

Warning On Stolen Plants

A San Anselmo woman has warned the person who took 16 digitalis plants from the side of her home Saturday night that the plants could be poisonous if eaten by humans.

Mrs. Ralph Boyer of 35 Lansdale Avenue said she feared the plants, also known as foxglove, may be sold and wind up within a child's reach.

Mrs. Boyer said the plants, about two inches high, were taken from planter bands on a shelf alongside her home. When mature, the oval-shaped plants sprout bell-shaped flowers.

William Blackwell, county agricultural inspector, quoted a book on poisonous plants as saying digitalis was known to have poisoned animals but no case of human poisoning was reported.

Concert To Be Given At Stinson

The second free chamber music concert sponsored by the Stinson Beach Allied Arts will be presented by the San Francisco Wind Quintet Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the Stinson Beach Community Center.

They will play Quintetto Concertante in F Major, Hans George Lickl; Partita for Wind Quintet, Irving Fine; Eight Studies for Wind Quintet, Hugh Aitken; Variations on a Folk Song, Jan Sweelinck; and Duex Pieces Pour Flute, Hautbois, Clarinette, Bassoon Et Cor, J. Guy Ropartz.

Refreshments will be served.

The concert is made possible through the cooperation of the American Federation of Musicians Local 6, ALF-CIO.

The third concert in the series will be presented on Aug. 15 by a group of performers of Renaissance and baroque music under the directions of Donald Pippin.

Talk On Education

Virla Crotz of Orinda, vice president of the National Association of State Boards of Education, will speak about "Education in California Today" at a meeting of the Novato Republican Women at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Alvarado Inn, Ignacio.

The posters, a parade and other events will be the highlights of "a day of civic pride" and rededication of the firehouse May 8, according to Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, general chairman for the celebration.

Top Britten Opera Slated At Sonoma

Benjamin Britten's Gothic-Victorian opera, "The Turn of the Screw," will be presented by the Sonoma State College Opera Workshop on April 22, 23 and 24 at the Fred Warren Memorial Auditorium on campus.

There will be 8:30 p.m. performances on all dates with a special 2:30 p.m. matinee on April 23.

Dr. Peggy Donovan-Jeffrey, workshop director, says that the opera has the power of an Ibsen play and is one of the best chamber operas in the 20th century repertoire as well as one of Britten's best works. Based on the story by Henry James, the opera is set in the 1850's and has only six characters.

David Sloss, a member of the Sonoma State College of Music faculty, will conduct the chamber orchestra composed of 18 members of the college's philharmonic orchestra. Gerd Mairamdres, a member of the faculty of the department of theater arts at the college, is the guest stage director, and Floyd Ross is the designer of sets and costumes.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the Office of Educational Services and Summer Sessions at the college.

Sculpture On Display

The exhibit will continue until May 1. Scher, a native of Odessa on the Black Sea, has lived in Turkey, Brazil, and Mexico, and since 1930 in the United States.

Warning On Stolen Plants

A San Anselmo woman has warned the person who took 16 digitalis plants from the side of her home Saturday night that the plants could be poisonous if eaten by humans.

Mrs. Ralph Boyer of 35 Lansdale Avenue said she feared the plants, also known as foxglove, may be sold and wind up within a child's reach.

Mrs. Boyer said the plants, about two inches high, were taken from planter bands on a shelf alongside her home. When mature, the oval-shaped plants sprout bell-shaped flowers.

William Blackwell, county agricultural inspector, quoted a book on poisonous plants as saying digitalis was known to have poisoned animals but no case of human poisoning was reported.

Concert To Be Given At Stinson

The second free chamber music concert sponsored by the Stinson Beach Allied Arts will be presented by the San Francisco Wind Quintet Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the Stinson Beach Community Center.

They will play Quintetto Concertante in F Major, Hans George Lickl; Partita for Wind Quintet, Irving Fine; Eight Studies for Wind Quintet, Hugh Aitken; Variations on a Folk Song, Jan Sweelinck; and Duex Pieces Pour Flute, Hautbois, Clarinette, Bassoon Et Cor, J. Guy Ropartz.

Refreshments will be served.

The concert is made possible through the cooperation of the American Federation of Musicians Local 6, ALF-CIO.

The third concert in the series will be presented on Aug. 15 by a group of performers of Renaissance and baroque music under the directions of Donald Pippin.

MARIN OPEN HOUSE

An Addict Stands Alone

By SANDRA YOUNG
(Second of two articles)

Whose fault is it when a person becomes a drug addict?

At Marin Open House, the addict learns that he alone is responsible. Not his parents. Not society. Not any of the scapegoats usually sought by the addict: his friends, his affluence or poverty, his draft status. None of these. Nothing but himself.

That lesson the addict must learn if he is ever to kick the habit, according to Tom Pinkson, Open House treatment director.

"We don't deny there are external influences," Pinkson said, "but his parents aren't putting that needle in his arm and neither is the draft board."

Parents, however, do have a role to play in the addict's rehabilitation, and it calls for strength and determination.

At Open House, part of the treatment consists of involving parents in the therapy and in training them for their tough role.

Parents, according to Pinkson, must be shown that they do not help their child when they post bail, cover bad checks, provide money and a roof overhead.

With all that going for him, Pinkson said, there's no incentive for the addict to quit.

"But if you take all that away, if you force the kid to hit the bottom of the cycle, then he is in a position to make a decision about which direction he will go," Pinkson said.

Yet parents, arriving at the discreet, home-like building at 1327 Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael, are apt to blame themselves for their child's addiction and balk at forcing him to "hit the bottom of the cycle."

When an addict decides to quit drugs, an Open House staff member meets with him and his parents to draw up a contract. Basically, the parents agree to continue giving Johnny room and board if he stays "clean."

The penalty if he doesn't is the loss of Johnny's security blanket: his easy home.

This is when parents need all the strength they can muster. Johnny now will try to make his parents feel guilty for their action by insisting, "You don't love me. How can you throw me out in the cold if you love me?"

In order to help parents remain strong, Open House offers them support through a weekly parents discussion group similar to the "rap" sessions in which addicts participate.

Couples listen to each other's problems and offer encouragement and sympathy when needed. Often, parents blame each other for Johnny's addiction and soon marital troubles may present another kind of crisis.

Besides the helping hand Open House extends to the addict and his family, it also reaches out into the community.

Dyan Howell, education director at Open House, is trying to eliminate the problem of drug abuse before it exists.

"We want to help a person 'turn on' to himself and 'get high' on life. We want to show him that he doesn't need drugs to do that," she said.

Miss Howell has initiated a six-weeks series for teachers, parents and sixth grade students at Glenwood Elementary School in San Rafael, scheduled to begin this week.

Open House staff members, teaching the three groups separately, will deal with communication problems between the child and parent and teacher and child, Miss Howell said.

"We want to help people learn how to listen — to hear beyond the words," she said.

Miss Howell believes that by establishing direct and open lines of communication between a child and his parents early, the problem of drug abuse will dwindle in the future.

When Open House started in November, it consisted of a paid staff of four and about 50 volunteers. Now, more than 100 volunteers and 10 paid staff members keep the house open virtually around the clock.

Cynthia Elliot, volunteer coordinator, said the force of volunteers includes three physicians, 25 nurses and 20 case aids who have completed 12 weeks of training in group therapy techniques.

"Volunteering answers another need. For many, they are receiving as much as they are giving," she said.

Is Marin Open House a success? The answer depends on how success is measured. It is impossible to determine how many addicts have "successfully" quit drugs because of their experience at Open House.

Many have been "clean" since the doors opened, but five months off drugs does not tell the tale.

Perhaps the number of addicts and parents who look to Open House for help could be used as a measure of success. After a relatively slow start in November, the caseloads have doubled and tripled each month as word of the center spread.

Then, too, neighborhood fears of an influx of menacing addicts appear to have subsided as the quiet comings and going at the ordinary looking house on Lincoln Avenue take their place in the ordinary neighborhood scene.

CANDIDATES' FORUM IS ON TONIGHT

Candidates for mayor and city council will be presented in a forum at 8 p.m. today in the council chamber of the San Rafael City Hall.

The event, to give residents a chance to hear and pose questions to the two candidates for mayor and six aspirants for two openings on the city council, is being sponsored jointly by the Central Marin League of Women Voters and San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

The Independent-Journal reported incorrectly in an editorial last Saturday that the program would be at San Rafael High School. It will be in the city hall.

Misdemeanor Driving Count

Only a misdemeanor drunken driving charge has been filed in Marin Municipal Court against Frank Javier Lopez, 23-year-old soldier arrested on suspicion of felony drunken driving Sunday.

Lopez was involved in a head-on crash in San Rafael in which he and two other persons were injured.

He is to return to court next Monday to enter a plea.

Critical Stage In Marin City Future

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency must convince the federal government within two weeks that it is capable of completing development of Marin City land, or the governemnt may dissolve the agency and take over the land.

"We are in trouble," agency executive director Wallace K. Shepherd told the board. "If the agency is shut down, the government will take the land away from Marin City, leaving the community and the county with no local control over what kind of development takes place."

Shepherd said the ultimatum and deadline came from an auditor from the Department of Housing and Urban Development checking the agency's books and records at the request of the redevelopment board.

The agency, he said, must prepare applications seeking a five-year extension on a $1,556,297 loan which the government granted to it in 1958 to pay for streets, sidewalks and sewers needed to ready Marin City for development. The agency must also apply for an additional $900,000 to operate and pay interest on the existing loan for that period.

Shepherd, who became head of the redevelopment agency in December, said the problems have arisen because his predecessor, Donald O. Stutsman, did not seek an extension from the federal government when development in the community was not completed by a 1969 deadline.

Also, he said, the agency has not submitted a budget to HUD since 1969 and consequently that $105,000 the agency has spent to operate for the last two years has been money not authorized by the government.

The board called a meeting for today at 8 p.m. in the redevelopment office, 429 Drake Avenue, Marin City, to begin formulating a development plan to convince HUD the agency is heading in the right direction.

Behr Plan On Traffic In Sausalito

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to close traffic-choked Sausalito streets to all but residents has been introduced by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

The bill, asked by the Sausalito City Council, would empower the council to close certain streets if it were found that traffic on them was too congested. Only residents of that street would be allowed access, as well as emergency vehicles.

The senator's staff said that there was ample precedent in tha law to allow such closings at least temporarily — as on a weekend, for example. Closing streets for parades was one precedent they cited.

The measure, however, would not permit permanent closing of streets to general public use. It would give the power to close streets to all local governmental agencies with jurisdiction over streets.

Hub Cuts Flood Project Funds, Protesting 'We've Been Had'

San Anselmo city councilmen voted last night to withdraw from a 1965 agreement which they claim unfairly saddles them with maintenance bills for the multimillion-dollar Corte Madera Creek Project. (Another San Anselmo City Council story, page 1)

The city council had been scheduled to vote on an amendment to the joint Powers agreement which would establish a reserve fund for accumulation of maintenance monies, but went in the opposite direction when it decided against any further contributions to the project.

San Anselmo never joined the Corte Madera Flood Control District which is financing the project, but contributes heavily toward its maintenance. The project, controversial from the start, is slated to be completed by this fall as far as the Ross Post Office. It begins at the mouth of the Corte Madera Creek in Larkspur and will ultimately stretch to Fairfax, relieving flooding in the Ross Valley.

The Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District supervises the project and Councilman James F. Reed indicated he is not happy with the way it is run.

"They don't maintain our portion of the creek and they don't give us a say on the downstream portion," Reed said. "I think we've been had all the way."

The San Anselmo City Council also:

RECREATION — Scheduled a special meeting for 8 o'clock tonight with the parks and recreation department to discuss filing for federal Housing and Urban Development funds for recreation programs for the coming fiscal year.

SPRAYING — Postponed for two weeks the awarding of a contract for spraying of adult Elm leaf Beetle and larvae to investigate the claim of Benjamin Blades of the Marin Ecology Center and San Anselmo Ecology Commission that Sevin, the proposed spray, is harmful to plants and other insects.

SIGNALS — Passed a resolution requesting allocation of $37,443 from the State Highway Commission for traffic signal improvement along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The project will cost the city $33,157.

PROMOTION — Approved the promotion of Richard Schmidt to the position of Police Sergeant. Schmidt scored the highest of three candidates on a written examination.

Syphilis Count

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — The American Social Health Association reported today more than 500,000 persons in the United States were suffering from undetected syphilis.

Belveron Plan Told For Landscaping

Belveron Homeowners Association members have made plans for additional landscaping of the subdivision entrances, and voted to support efforts for extension of bicycle trails along the Tiburon Peninsula.

Homeowners president Donald Batten said the association was told Monday night that the property where the Northwestern Pacific Railroad trestle formerly stood has been designated as a neighborhood mini-park. Neighborhood volunteers already have installed a sprinkler system and have begun landscaping there, Batten said.

Agreement To Need Of Consultant

The Larkspur City Council and the city planning commission agreed in joint session last night that a consultant should be hired to revise the city's six-year-old master plan.

However, the groups failed to agree on how much the city should pay for outside services and how long the master plan should take, deferring those questions until next fiscal year's spending needs are spelled out.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst recommended to the panels at the outset that $15,000 be budgeted over the next two years for a consultant, but at least two commissioners thought more money was necessary and another said the issue was moot in view of the fact the city didn't know how much it could spend in 1971-72.

Bathurst felt costs would be minimized by city staff help and fresh data gathered from the 1970 census and housing studies.

Under the agreement reached, the commission will interview several prospective consultants and make a recommendation for appointment at another joint meeting. Planning priorities for a consultant to consider also will be weighed by the commission.

School Offers Free Concert

Five young pianists and a violinist and the combined choirs of the San Domenico School will be featured in a free public concert to be presented Sunday by the Orchestra Da Camera. It will take place at 3 p.m. in Alumnae Hall on the campus of the school in Sleepy Hollow.

Organized by the San Domenico Music Department headed by Faith France and guest conducted by Hugo Rinaldi, the orchestra this year is composed of faculty members, the Orchestra Piccola, a select group of the Marin Youth Orchestra, and professional Musicians Local 6 AFL-CIO.

Opening the concert will be the Ernest Bloch Concerto Grosso for string orchestra with piano obbligato featuring pianist Eliane Lust, Carol Grigau, Barbara Theiss and Deborah Lohse. All are pupils of Faith France.

Carma Romano will be the soloist in the adagio of the J.S. Bach Concerto in E Major for Violin, and Carol Ann Miller will be the soloist in the Allegro Con Brio of the Beethoven Concerto No. 1 in C Major for Piano.

Performing "Folk Songs of the Four Seasons," a cantata for women's voices and orchestra by Vaughan Williams will be members of the school's San Domenico Singers, Schola Cantorum and Freshman Chorus under the direction of Gary Walker, who was assisted with preparation by Joseph Liebling, director of the Oakland Symphony Chorus.

Age Limit For Firemen Is Set

Age limits and requirements for volunteer firemen have been set for the first time by the Marinwood Fire Commission.

No one may join who is more than 45 years old. All volunteers must retire at 50, except the assistant chief who can stay on until 55, said Fire Chief Gaylord E. Bonfield.

Bonfield was directed Monday night to prepare a statement to be signed by a doctor that a man is physically able to fight fires before he can join.

The Marinwood Community Services District Board must approve fire commission action before it is official, Bonfield said.

Whose fault is it when a person becomes a drug addict?

At Marin Open House, the addict learns that he alone is responsible. Not his parents. Not society. Not any of the scapegoats usually sought by the addict: his friends, his affluence or poverty, his draft status. None of these. Nothing but himself.

That lesson the addict must learn if he is ever to kick the habit, according to Tom Pinkson, Open House treatment director.

"We don't deny there are external influences," Pinkson said, "but his parents aren't putting that needle in his arm and neither is the draft board."

Parents, however, do have a role to play in the addict's rehabilitation, and it calls for strength and determination.

At Open House, part of the treatment consists of involving parents in the therapy and in training them for their tough role.

Parents, according to Pinkson, must be shown that they do not help their child when they post bail, cover bad checks, provide money and a roof overhead.

With all that going for him, Pinkson said, there's no incentive for the addict to quit.

"But if you take all that away, if you force the kid to hit the bottom of the cycle, then he is in a position to make a decision about which direction he will go," Pinkson said.

Yet parents, arriving at the discreet, home-like building at 1327 Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael, are apt to blame themselves for their child's addiction and balk at forcing him to "hit the bottom of the cycle."

When an addict decides to quit drugs, an Open House staff member meets with him and his parents to draw up a contract. Basically, the parents agree to continue giving Johnny room and board if he stays "clean."

The penalty if he doesn't is the loss of Johnny's security blanket: his easy home.

This is when parents need all the strength they can muster. Johnny now will try to make his parents feel guilty for their action by insisting, "You don't love me. How can you throw me out in the cold if you love me?"

In order to help parents remain strong, Open House offers them support through a weekly parents discussion group similar to the "rap" sessions in which addicts participate.

Couples listen to each other's problems and offer encouragement and sympathy when needed. Often, parents blame each other for Johnny's addiction and soon marital troubles may present another kind of crisis.

Besides the helping hand Open House extends to the addict and his family, it also reaches out into the community.

"We want to help a person 'turn on' to himself and 'get high' on life. We want to show him that he doesn't need drugs to do that," she said.

Miss Howell has initiated a six-weeks series for teachers, parents and sixth grade students at Glenwood Elementary School in San Rafael, scheduled to begin this week.

Open House staff members, teaching the three groups separately, will deal with communication problems between the child and parent and teacher and child, Miss Howell said.

"We want to help people learn how to listen — to hear beyond the words," she said.

Miss Howell believes that by establishing direct and open lines of communication between a child and his parents early, the problem of drug abuse will dwindle in the future.

When Open House started in November, it consisted of a paid staff of four and about 50 volunteers. Now, more than 100 volunteers and 10 paid staff members keep the house open virtually around the clock.

Cynthia Elliot, volunteer coordinator, said the force of volunteers includes three physicians, 25 nurses and 20 case aids who have completed 12 weeks of training in group therapy techniques.

"Volunteering answers another need. For many, they are receiving as much as they are giving," she said.

Is Marin Open House a success? The answer depends on how success is measured. It is impossible to determine how many addicts have "successfully" quit drugs because of their experience at Open House.

Many have been "clean" since the doors opened, but five months off drugs does not tell the tale.

Perhaps the number of addicts and parents who look to Open House for help could be used as a measure of success. After a relatively slow start in November, the caseloads have doubled and tripled each month as word of the center spread.

Then, too, neighborhood fears of an influx of menacing addicts appear to have subsided as the quiet comings and going at the ordinary looking house on Lincoln Avenue take their place in the ordinary neighborhood scene.

CANDIDATES' FORUM IS ON TONIGHT

Candidates for mayor and city council will be presented in a forum at 8 p.m. today in the council chamber of the San Rafael City Hall.

The event, to give residents a chance to hear and pose questions to the two candidates for mayor and six aspirants for two openings on the city council, is being sponsored jointly by the Central Marin League of Women Voters and San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

The Independent-Journal reported incorrectly in an editorial last Saturday that the program would be at San Rafael High School. It will be in the city hall.

Misdemeanor Driving Count

Only a misdemeanor drunken driving charge has been filed in Marin Municipal Court against Frank Javier Lopez, 23-year-old soldier arrested on suspicion of felony drunken driving Sunday.

Lopez was involved in a head-on crash in San Rafael in which he and two other persons were injured.

He is to return to court next Monday to enter a plea.

Critical Stage In Marin City Future

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency must convince the federal government within two weeks that it is capable of completing development of Marin City land, or the governemnt may dissolve the agency and take over the land.

"We are in trouble," agency executive director Wallace K. Shepherd told the board. "If the agency is shut down, the government will take the land away from Marin City, leaving the community and the county with no local control over what kind of development takes place."

Shepherd said the ultimatum and deadline came from an auditor from the Department of Housing and Urban Development checking the agency's books and records at the request of the redevelopment board.

The agency, he said, must prepare applications seeking a five-year extension on a $1,556,297 loan which the government granted to it in 1958 to pay for streets, sidewalks and sewers needed to ready Marin City for development. The agency must also apply for an additional $900,000 to operate and pay interest on the existing loan for that period.

Shepherd, who became head of the redevelopment agency in December, said the problems have arisen because his predecessor, Donald O. Stutsman, did not seek an extension from the federal government when development in the community was not completed by a 1969 deadline.

Also, he said, the agency has not submitted a budget to HUD since 1969 and consequently that $105,000 the agency has spent to operate for the last two years has been money not authorized by the government.

The board called a meeting for today at 8 p.m. in the redevelopment office, 429 Drake Avenue, Marin City, to begin formulating a development plan to convince HUD the agency is heading in the right direction.

Behr Plan On Traffic In Sausalito

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to close traffic-choked Sausalito streets to all but residents has been introduced by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

The bill, asked by the Sausalito City Council, would empower the council to close certain streets if it were found that traffic on them was too congested. Only residents of that street would be allowed access, as well as emergency vehicles.

The senator's staff said that there was ample precedent in tha law to allow such closings at least temporarily — as on a weekend, for example. Closing streets for parades was one precedent they cited.

The measure, however, would not permit permanent closing of streets to general public use. It would give the power to close streets to all local governmental agencies with jurisdiction over streets.

Hub Cuts Flood Project Funds, Protesting 'We've Been Had'

The city council had been scheduled to vote on an amendment to the joint Powers agreement which would establish a reserve fund for accumulation of maintenance monies, but went in the opposite direction when it decided against any further contributions to the project.

San Anselmo never joined the Corte Madera Flood Control District which is financing the project, but contributes heavily toward its maintenance. The project, controversial from the start, is slated to be completed by this fall as far as the Ross Post Office. It begins at the mouth of the Corte Madera Creek in Larkspur and will ultimately stretch to Fairfax, relieving flooding in the Ross Valley.

The Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District supervises the project and Councilman James F. Reed indicated he is not happy with the way it is run.

"They don't maintain our portion of the creek and they don't give us a say on the downstream portion," Reed said. "I think we've been had all the way."

The San Anselmo City Council also:

RECREATION — Scheduled a special meeting for 8 o'clock tonight with the parks and recreation department to discuss filing for federal Housing and Urban Development funds for recreation programs for the coming fiscal year.

SPRAYING — Postponed for two weeks the awarding of a contract for spraying of adult Elm leaf Beetle and larvae to investigate the claim of Benjamin Blades of the Marin Ecology Center and San Anselmo Ecology Commission that Sevin, the proposed spray, is harmful to plants and other insects.

SIGNALS — Passed a resolution requesting allocation of $37,443 from the State Highway Commission for traffic signal improvement along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The project will cost the city $33,157.

PROMOTION — Approved the promotion of Richard Schmidt to the position of Police Sergeant. Schmidt scored the highest of three candidates on a written examination.

Belveron Plan Told For Landscaping

Belveron Homeowners Association members have made plans for additional landscaping of the subdivision entrances, and voted to support efforts for extension of bicycle trails along the Tiburon Peninsula.

Homeowners president Donald Batten said the association was told Monday night that the property where the Northwestern Pacific Railroad trestle formerly stood has been designated as a neighborhood mini-park. Neighborhood volunteers already have installed a sprinkler system and have begun landscaping there, Batten said.

Agreement To Need Of Consultant

The Larkspur City Council and the city planning commission agreed in joint session last night that a consultant should be hired to revise the city's six-year-old master plan.

However, the groups failed to agree on how much the city should pay for outside services and how long the master plan should take, deferring those questions until next fiscal year's spending needs are spelled out.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst recommended to the panels at the outset that $15,000 be budgeted over the next two years for a consultant, but at least two commissioners thought more money was necessary and another said the issue was moot in view of the fact the city didn't know how much it could spend in 1971-72.

Bathurst felt costs would be minimized by city staff help and fresh data gathered from the 1970 census and housing studies.

Under the agreement reached, the commission will interview several prospective consultants and make a recommendation for appointment at another joint meeting. Planning priorities for a consultant to consider also will be weighed by the commission.

School Offers Free Concert

Five young pianists and a violinist and the combined choirs of the San Domenico School will be featured in a free public concert to be presented Sunday by the Orchestra Da Camera. It will take place at 3 p.m. in Alumnae Hall on the campus of the school in Sleepy Hollow.

Organized by the San Domenico Music Department headed by Faith France and guest conducted by Hugo Rinaldi, the orchestra this year is composed of faculty members, the Orchestra Piccola, a select group of the Marin Youth Orchestra, and professional Musicians Local 6 AFL-CIO.

Opening the concert will be the Ernest Bloch Concerto Grosso for string orchestra with piano obbligato featuring pianist Eliane Lust, Carol Grigau, Barbara Theiss and Deborah Lohse. All are pupils of Faith France.

Carma Romano will be the soloist in the adagio of the J.S. Bach Concerto in E Major for Violin, and Carol Ann Miller will be the soloist in the Allegro Con Brio of the Beethoven Concerto No. 1 in C Major for Piano.

Performing "Folk Songs of the Four Seasons," a cantata for women's voices and orchestra by Vaughan Williams will be members of the school's San Domenico Singers, Schola Cantorum and Freshman Chorus under the direction of Gary Walker, who was assisted with preparation by Joseph Liebling, director of the Oakland Symphony Chorus.

Age Limit For Firemen Is Set

Age limits and requirements for volunteer firemen have been set for the first time by the Marinwood Fire Commission.

No one may join who is more than 45 years old. All volunteers must retire at 50, except the assistant chief who can stay on until 55, said Fire Chief Gaylord E. Bonfield.

Bonfield was directed Monday night to prepare a statement to be signed by a doctor that a man is physically able to fight fires before he can join.

The Marinwood Community Services District Board must approve fire commission action before it is official, Bonfield said.

San Rafael Proposition Invites Treasury Raids

Propositions B and C on the San Rafael ballot for next Tuesday deal with residence qualifications for city officials. Proposition D deals with spending tax money for promotion.

Let's look first at Proposition D.

THE SAN RAFAEL city charter contains a section limiting city expenditure for advertising and promotion to $1,000 per year. Proposition D would repeal this section.

The $1,000 limit is regarded by the city council — and especially by the chamber of commerce, which would like more city funds — as unrealistic. We agree that it is.

Recognizing this, the council last June proposed to amend the charter to raise the limit to $10,000 per year. But that was soundly trounced at the polls, 7,962 "no" to 2,797 "yes."

THE CURRENT PROPOSAL would remove the limit entirely. The City of San Rafael's promotional expenditures would then be "controlled under the procedures applicable to general law cities," says Mayor C. Paul Bettini in the ballot argument.

What are these restrictions? They don't even deserve to be called restrictions.

Government Code section 40101 provides that a city may spend up to 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation of its tax rate for promotion and advertising. In San Rafael, this would be about $65,000.

But Government Code section 37110 provides that a city may spend up to 5 per cent of its general fund for such purposes. In San Rafael, this would be about $200,000.

And besides those, Government Code section 43200 provides that a city may levy a special tax not to exceed 15 cents per $100 valuation for advertising purposes. That would be about another $200,000.

THE CONCLUSION is obvious: Although the $1,000 limit is unrealistic, the alternative offered is to open the city's coffers to raiding by special interest promoters, with no limit worthy of the name.

Vote "No" on Proposition D.

PROPOSITION B would amend the charter to reduce the residence requirement for holding city office from three years to one year.

We don't think much of this idea. There is no requirement for holding city office (aside from city attorney) except that of residence. Three years seems short enough time to get well enough acquainted with a city to want to govern it.

However, recent court decisions have held three-year and five-year residency requirements unconstitutional. So the change would merely bring the charter in line with what the courts are enforcing anyhow.

We might as well vote "yes" on Proposition B.

PROPOSITION C is another residency matter, but different. It would add to the charter a provision that residence in an area which is annexed to the city would count as city residence.

We now have a form of discrimination against residents of newly annexed territories. Although they may have lived there all their lives, they are barred from city office until three years after annexation. Proposition C would correct that.

We heartily recommend a "YES" vote on Proposition C.

Wild Onion Flowers

Unexpectedly, this year in a boggy part of our garden, several bunches of long, narrow-leafed plants sprang forth with lovely, delicate, white bell-like blossoms. About half an inch long and with deeply serated bells, the flowers made us think of the wild onion plants we had seen other years in other places, except these were drooping single blossoms rather than the usual rounded clusters.

There are about nine species of wild onion in the Bay Area, according to our books, and this was evidently one of them.

We cut one off close to the ground, just to be sure. The reassuring garlicky-onion aroma told us what we needed to know.

National Forests Need To Be Protected From Mine Blasters

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

To dramatize his program for an expansion of the national park system and general enhancement of recreational land resources, President Nixon is considering a personal tour of the parks, similar to one made by President Kennedy. We'd like to see him do it, and we'd also like to see him undertake a powerful campaign to save what recreational resources the country already has. Surely that is an indispensable first step to any expansion of the park system.

What, for example, is to be done about the federal mining law of 1872, which in effect grants a license to any mining company to despoil the lands of the U.S. Forest Service?

UNDER THIS INCREDIBLE law, mining claims supersede all others in the public forests, even the rights of the government itself. Under this law, the government may wish to preserve a national forest for recreational, grazing and controlled timber uses, but if a mining corporation wishes to destroy its value in these respects all it has to do is stake a mineral claim, and it is then free to slash the woods with highways, cut timber, sink shafts, open up yawning pits, and scar the very face of mountains.

Don't think it can't be done. In the Santa Rita mountains south of Tucson, Ariz., a limestone quarry has already inflicted a permanent wound on the mountainside, and the operator is about to open a second quarry on U.S. Forest Service land.

"That whole mountain will come down if we can sell enough limestone," an official of the quarry company told the Green Valley News.

ANACONDA AND OTHER copper companies have been exploring and staking claims in the same range, and especially if Chilean copper is cut off, are widely expected to launch intensive open-pit operations in coming years. In short the Santa Ritas, most of which comprise the Coronado National Forest, a priceless asset for campers, hikers, bird watchers and plain mountain-viewers, stand to be reduced to slag heaps over the next quarter of a century unless something can be done to protect the public interest.

Any program to expand the national parks must begin with a program to save the parks and national forests the public already owns. If what is left of the West's scenic heritage is to survive, plainly something will have to be done about the mining law of 1872.

Some Footnotes For Calley Review

When President Nixon finally reviews the My Lai verdict, which he has not only the constitutional right but the constitutional duty to do, I suggest a footnote or two from "A Short History of the U.S." by Bassett, sometime professor of history at Smith College, to wit:

"General Custer with a detachment surrounded a sleeping Cheyenne village and killed and captured 300 men, women and children.

"On Jan. 23, 1870, Colonel Baker, under Sheridan's orders, surprised a Piegan encampment not charged with wrongdoing and killed 33 men, 90 women and 50 children."

Highway Signs 'Visual Pollution'

Eternal vigilance is still the price of freedom. This time it is freedom from visual pollution. Marin County has been very fortunate down the years in having far-sighted supervisors and town councils who fought and won the battle against bill boards alongside our main traffic artery, U.S. 101.

For a while we have enjoyed the view of the countryside from the freeway. The view has been impaired somewhat by the newly installed massive directional signs that hang like a series of curtains over the traffic lanes. We are now being treated to the ultimate in visual pollution by the installation before each turn off of large blue signs advertising food, lodging and gas.

It is only natural for a tourist to assume that these commodities are available in a densly inhabited county replete with highly visible shopping areas. Thus these gas tax funded commercially oriented signs are completely needless. The Division of Highways is not one to lightly retract an accomplished action. If we do not want our raods cluttered with unnecessary signs, we should not hesitate to tell our Supervisors that governmental agencies are no exception.

Candidates Called The 'Vomit Squad'

It appears that the voters of Marin have been invited to engage in a mass vomit on April 20. The Vomit Squad, Beban, Campbell, and Sloan, all of Marin Alternative, are seeking election to local school boards. (Richard W.) Beban and (James Kimo) Campbell, veterans of Tamalpais Creek, People's Park and other devilry, are members of the committee to elect (Richard C.) Sloan to the Lagunitas School District board, and Sloan is on the committee to elect the team of Beban and Campbell to the College of Marin board. Vouching for one another is familiar tactics of the leftist cult.

It would be well to remember that it was Beban who . . . turned state evidence . . . in a lurid sex and drugs case involving a young female ward of the court and her Juvenile Hall counselor. Now that Beban has been selected as a candidate for the Marin County Grand Jury it makes me wonder — has Beban changed or have the courts?

This should not be construed as dirty tactics. It is only a brief summary of matters of public record . . . There would be time for an answer from the parties concerned.

Youth Already Has It Both Ways

Thank you for your excellent editorial, March 31, "Legislators Want Youth To 'Have It Both Ways' ". You discuss the projected new bills which will further protect persons under 18 from responsibility for their own criminal acts. It should be pointed out that youth in the 18 to 21 year old category also "has it both ways".

The U.S. Supreme Court has awarded the 18-year-old the right to vote in federal elections. At the same time, the 18-year-old is still shielded from the responsibilities which, in the past, came with this privilege. It is still the duty of his parents to provide him with financial support, to sign his contracts, to assume responsibility for his criminal acts. Any person, under 21, has the legal right to sue his parents if they are not providing him with these protections. At the same time, his parents now must share with him the voting privilege.

Now, our legislators are pushing a bill which, when passed, will allow the 18-year-old to vote for a local bond issue even though he will not be required to pay for it. In pointing out this strange situation to our legislators, we are told that it is best to rush through the voting privilege now and that the rest of the majority package can come "later". "Later" will be a long time in coming. Why displease the new 18-year-old constituents by burdening them with adult responsibilities?

So youth "has it both ways" and parental authority is weakened while, at the same time, there is a demand for increased parental responsibility. This inconsistency is yet another contributing factor to the breakdown of the American family.

Some Comments On Calley Case

Your editorial "Calley Must Bear His Share of Responsibility," while generally sound, calls for additional comment. You say: "Those who would free him feel —at least most of them —that the punishment should go to those higher up who gave the orders." It would be a more accurate assumption that most who protested on this basis were those opposing our participation in the war (having switched from their previous charges of whitewash). However, news coverage gives the impression that the most vigorous and possibly the most numerous protests were probably for different reasons, since they came from individuals and organizations which have favored our winning the war or at least not withdrawing prematurely.

There is conflicting evidence, moreover, as to the orders Calley received. Testimony that he had previously committed similar acts and his failure to question his purported orders — as other soldiers have done and have subsequently been upheld — raise doubts as to whether leniency is appropriate. On the other hand, there are doubts as to whether many of the inhabitants of "Pinksville" qualified as "persons taking no action in hostilities." One might also observe that justice is never served if any law or rule is not equally applied and universally enforced. In short, you cannot command respect for Article 3 of the Geneva Convention if an American lieutenant violates it at My Lai and gets punished while a North Vietnamese lieutenant violates it at Hue and gets commended.

Finally, there have always been American soldiers — in Vietnam, just as in Korea, World War II, the Indian wars, and all other previous conflicts — who have proven to be remarkably adaptable in accommodating their fighting methods to those practiced by the enemy.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon Speech Shows He Is Determined to End Involvement

WASHINGTON — In measuring the impact of President Nixon's Vietnam speech, these are the questions which must be answered and will be answered by the American people in the next few weeks:

Can Mr. Nixon change the shape of the Vietnam debate — change it from national doubt over whether he really means to totally withdraw to an honest argument over whether withdrawal of a slower pace, which could enable South Vietnam to defend itself, is in the national interest?

Will the war-weary public give the President sufficient support to end the American involvement at the pace he believes prudent? Is Mr. Nixon right in contending a quicker pullout at a publicly fixed date, which could mean putting South Vietnam into Hanoi's hands, would plunge the United States "from the anguish of war into a nightmare of recrimination"?

IT SEEMS TO ME the President's speech goes a long way toward demonstrating that his commitment is "to end our involvement," that his goal is "total withdrawal" and that, having made this pledge in the 1968 campaign, he expects to be held accountable in next year's election for keeping it.

Obviously, he will not persuade his extreme dove critics into abandoning their tactic of disbelieving that we are moving steadily to end involvement. They need this tactic because events make it so visible that we are ending our involvement that the only way to get around the record is to claim it doesn't mean anything.

Take the argument of the extreme critics that the United States, far from winding down our role in Vietnam, is turning to the mounting use of airpower to make up for the declining use of ground combat troops.

That would be a powerful argument exposing the disingenuousness of Nixon policy — if it were true. The facts disprove it. The facts are that in comparing the first months of 1970 with the same period this year, U.S. tactical air sorties in all Indochina dropped 50 per cent and B-52 bombing raids decreased 42 per cent.

Even with the recent Laotian campaign, U.S. air operations there are 14 per cent under a year ago. The central fact is that in the first month of 1970 there were 53,000 U.S. air sorties and over the same period this year only 26,000.

Thus while U.S. ground combat is dropping to near zero, U.S. air operations are being cut in half.

IT IS EVIDENT beyond doubt that the President is steadily ending our involvement in Vietnam and is committed to total withdrawal — at least 365,000 men out before the end of this year.

This does not guarantee that public pressure may not again mount to a level which could compel Mr. Nixon to move faster than he really believes wise.

But if the majority accepts that the President is unquestionably acting to end our involvement, then there is some prospect that there can be a useful, clarifying, rational argument for and against the two alternatives of Vietnam withdrawal which are open to us.

One is graduated but steady withdrawal in order to give the South Vietnamese enough time to be ready to take over the whole defense of their country and to keep in our hands some bargaining cards so that Hanoi may have an incentive to reach an earlier political settlement.

The alternative is a faster total withdrawal at a fixed date publicly proclaimed. One of the main arguments for this course is that it is the only way to restore tranquility at home so as to get on with urgent domestic matters.

But would ending our involvement in a way which would consciously turn South Vietnam over to Hanoi's rule unite the American people? The first reaction might be one of relief, but the President holds — and I think rightly — that before long there would be debilitating recriminations far more harmful than anything we are now experiencing.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

It's Same In Tom Biggs As In Watts Or Harlem

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

McROBERTS, Ky. — To get to Tom Biggs, you take a left at Neon Junction, go through Neon and right at the Rexall, then through Fleming and McRoberts. You pass an abandoned school and when you see a burnt-gut house on the left, the next one is Mrs. Katherine Ellis'.

Tom Biggs is a black section of McRoberts — the other side of the tracks. And when you are below even McRoberts on the scale of things, you are across the tracks indeed.

Racial difficulties have come to Tom Biggs and McRoberts and Jenkins, the relative metropolis at Highway 119, as belatedly as paved roads did, and consolidated schools and electricity. Unlike most of the counties in the South and the border states, Letcher County has a tiny black minority, one that until lately never felt numerous enough to stand up and argue.

In this poor, coal-mining county on the Virginia border, last year's census showed only 619 blacks among a population of 23,165. That is less than 3 per cent, which is low even for these inbred hollows along the Appalachian ridge.

MRS. ELLIS is only one black among a few, but she is disproportionately big in both body and spirit. She is a major reason why nobody was sure this Easter week end whether the Jenkins School would reopen after the holidays or not. Her children and most of the 30-odd other black pupils boycotted classes the week before the holidays after repeated suspensions which their parents considered harassment by white school officials.

After rumors of bombs, fights, riots, "outside agitators" and other horrors, the officials decided to close the school until after Easter recess, "so we can get things straightened out." But Mrs. Ellis and the parents of five black students expelled for the rest of the school year say the boycott will end only when their children are readmitted. To that condition, the outspoken Mrs. Ellis adds, "and when they get back, we want them treated like human beings."

She sat overflowing a chair in her living room with its torn linoleum carpet, smoldering coal fire in the grate, and tiny bust of John Kennedy among the knickknacks decorating the shelf.

She is 36, born over the mountains, in Coeburn, Va., and had three fathers for her four children. She is separated from them all, and lives on welfare.

LAST FALL, one of her 13-year-old twin daughters was sent away from school becuase, her teacher alleged, she had mental problems — although she had passed regularly until reaching the seventh grade. Mrs. Ellis tried to have her enrolled in one school, then another. The girl had psychiatric examinations. She seems normal to the nonspecialists. But she remains at home, against her mother's will.

Despite these circumstances, authorities threatened to cut off Mrs. Ellis' food stamps because not all her children were attending school. She complained then and has continued complaining, insisting that she wants her expelled daughter back in class — partly because she might so easily "get herself in trouble" if left alone at home during the day.

An outsider wonders why any black child would be eager to go to a school where children of her race are more severely disciplined than their classmates, where they are suspended for minor infractions, where most school dances and the annual trip to Washington have been discontinued to avoid "race mixing."

But they do want to, and so Mrs. Ellis eventually found support for her objections. When the school bus came to Tom Biggs last week, most of the students did not enter it. Then came the rumors, none of them true. Then came the closing.

WHAT COMES NEXT depends not only on Mrs. Ellis and her friends, but also on the teachers, school officials, and indirectly but importantly on image-conscious Bethlehem Steel, the most dominant fact of community life here.

The outcome may never be reported in the big papers back East, unless one of the rumors fans into flame or one of the police summoned in the minor panic surrounding the boycott uses his shotgun. There are not that many people involved, and so far it has all been bad-tempered but nonviolent.

What sinks in about it is that this kind of trouble clearly awaits this kind of black mother, whether she lives in the black ghettos called Bedford-Stuyvesant or Watts in the nation's biggest cities or in the black hollow named Tom Biggs in Letcher County, Ky. And the trouble we learn about as part of our daily dose of bad news is just the most violent, our most metropolitan. There are millions of Mrs. Ellises who never cry out, of whom we will never hear.

San Rafael Proposition Invites Treasury Raids

Propositions B and C on the San Rafael ballot for next Tuesday deal with residence qualifications for city officials. Proposition D deals with spending tax money for promotion.

Let's look first at Proposition D.

THE SAN RAFAEL city charter contains a section limiting city expenditure for advertising and promotion to $1,000 per year. Proposition D would repeal this section.

The $1,000 limit is regarded by the city council — and especially by the chamber of commerce, which would like more city funds — as unrealistic. We agree that it is.

Recognizing this, the council last June proposed to amend the charter to raise the limit to $10,000 per year. But that was soundly trounced at the polls, 7,962 "no" to 2,797 "yes."

THE CURRENT PROPOSAL would remove the limit entirely. The City of San Rafael's promotional expenditures would then be "controlled under the procedures applicable to general law cities," says Mayor C. Paul Bettini in the ballot argument.

What are these restrictions? They don't even deserve to be called restrictions.

Government Code section 40101 provides that a city may spend up to 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation of its tax rate for promotion and advertising. In San Rafael, this would be about $65,000.

But Government Code section 37110 provides that a city may spend up to 5 per cent of its general fund for such purposes. In San Rafael, this would be about $200,000.

And besides those, Government Code section 43200 provides that a city may levy a special tax not to exceed 15 cents per $100 valuation for advertising purposes. That would be about another $200,000.

THE CONCLUSION is obvious: Although the $1,000 limit is unrealistic, the alternative offered is to open the city's coffers to raiding by special interest promoters, with no limit worthy of the name.

Vote "No" on Proposition D.

PROPOSITION B would amend the charter to reduce the residence requirement for holding city office from three years to one year.

We don't think much of this idea. There is no requirement for holding city office (aside from city attorney) except that of residence. Three years seems short enough time to get well enough acquainted with a city to want to govern it.

However, recent court decisions have held three-year and five-year residency requirements unconstitutional. So the change would merely bring the charter in line with what the courts are enforcing anyhow.

We might as well vote "yes" on Proposition B.

PROPOSITION C is another residency matter, but different. It would add to the charter a provision that residence in an area which is annexed to the city would count as city residence.

We now have a form of discrimination against residents of newly annexed territories. Although they may have lived there all their lives, they are barred from city office until three years after annexation. Proposition C would correct that.

We heartily recommend a "YES" vote on Proposition C.

Wild Onion Flowers

Unexpectedly, this year in a boggy part of our garden, several bunches of long, narrow-leafed plants sprang forth with lovely, delicate, white bell-like blossoms. About half an inch long and with deeply serated bells, the flowers made us think of the wild onion plants we had seen other years in other places, except these were drooping single blossoms rather than the usual rounded clusters.

There are about nine species of wild onion in the Bay Area, according to our books, and this was evidently one of them.

We cut one off close to the ground, just to be sure. The reassuring garlicky-onion aroma told us what we needed to know.

National Forests Need To Be Protected From Mine Blasters

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

To dramatize his program for an expansion of the national park system and general enhancement of recreational land resources, President Nixon is considering a personal tour of the parks, similar to one made by President Kennedy. We'd like to see him do it, and we'd also like to see him undertake a powerful campaign to save what recreational resources the country already has. Surely that is an indispensable first step to any expansion of the park system.

What, for example, is to be done about the federal mining law of 1872, which in effect grants a license to any mining company to despoil the lands of the U.S. Forest Service?

UNDER THIS INCREDIBLE law, mining claims supersede all others in the public forests, even the rights of the government itself. Under this law, the government may wish to preserve a national forest for recreational, grazing and controlled timber uses, but if a mining corporation wishes to destroy its value in these respects all it has to do is stake a mineral claim, and it is then free to slash the woods with highways, cut timber, sink shafts, open up yawning pits, and scar the very face of mountains.

Don't think it can't be done. In the Santa Rita mountains south of Tucson, Ariz., a limestone quarry has already inflicted a permanent wound on the mountainside, and the operator is about to open a second quarry on U.S. Forest Service land.

"That whole mountain will come down if we can sell enough limestone," an official of the quarry company told the Green Valley News.

ANACONDA AND OTHER copper companies have been exploring and staking claims in the same range, and especially if Chilean copper is cut off, are widely expected to launch intensive open-pit operations in coming years. In short the Santa Ritas, most of which comprise the Coronado National Forest, a priceless asset for campers, hikers, bird watchers and plain mountain-viewers, stand to be reduced to slag heaps over the next quarter of a century unless something can be done to protect the public interest.

Any program to expand the national parks must begin with a program to save the parks and national forests the public already owns. If what is left of the West's scenic heritage is to survive, plainly something will have to be done about the mining law of 1872.

Some Footnotes For Calley Review

When President Nixon finally reviews the My Lai verdict, which he has not only the constitutional right but the constitutional duty to do, I suggest a footnote or two from "A Short History of the U.S." by Bassett, sometime professor of history at Smith College, to wit:

"General Custer with a detachment surrounded a sleeping Cheyenne village and killed and captured 300 men, women and children.

"On Jan. 23, 1870, Colonel Baker, under Sheridan's orders, surprised a Piegan encampment not charged with wrongdoing and killed 33 men, 90 women and 50 children."

Highway Signs 'Visual Pollution'

Eternal vigilance is still the price of freedom. This time it is freedom from visual pollution. Marin County has been very fortunate down the years in having far-sighted supervisors and town councils who fought and won the battle against bill boards alongside our main traffic artery, U.S. 101.

For a while we have enjoyed the view of the countryside from the freeway. The view has been impaired somewhat by the newly installed massive directional signs that hang like a series of curtains over the traffic lanes. We are now being treated to the ultimate in visual pollution by the installation before each turn off of large blue signs advertising food, lodging and gas.

It is only natural for a tourist to assume that these commodities are available in a densly inhabited county replete with highly visible shopping areas. Thus these gas tax funded commercially oriented signs are completely needless. The Division of Highways is not one to lightly retract an accomplished action. If we do not want our raods cluttered with unnecessary signs, we should not hesitate to tell our Supervisors that governmental agencies are no exception.

Candidates Called The 'Vomit Squad'

It appears that the voters of Marin have been invited to engage in a mass vomit on April 20. The Vomit Squad, Beban, Campbell, and Sloan, all of Marin Alternative, are seeking election to local school boards. (Richard W.) Beban and (James Kimo) Campbell, veterans of Tamalpais Creek, People's Park and other devilry, are members of the committee to elect (Richard C.) Sloan to the Lagunitas School District board, and Sloan is on the committee to elect the team of Beban and Campbell to the College of Marin board. Vouching for one another is familiar tactics of the leftist cult.

It would be well to remember that it was Beban who . . . turned state evidence . . . in a lurid sex and drugs case involving a young female ward of the court and her Juvenile Hall counselor. Now that Beban has been selected as a candidate for the Marin County Grand Jury it makes me wonder — has Beban changed or have the courts?

This should not be construed as dirty tactics. It is only a brief summary of matters of public record . . . There would be time for an answer from the parties concerned.

Youth Already Has It Both Ways

Thank you for your excellent editorial, March 31, "Legislators Want Youth To 'Have It Both Ways' ". You discuss the projected new bills which will further protect persons under 18 from responsibility for their own criminal acts. It should be pointed out that youth in the 18 to 21 year old category also "has it both ways".

The U.S. Supreme Court has awarded the 18-year-old the right to vote in federal elections. At the same time, the 18-year-old is still shielded from the responsibilities which, in the past, came with this privilege. It is still the duty of his parents to provide him with financial support, to sign his contracts, to assume responsibility for his criminal acts. Any person, under 21, has the legal right to sue his parents if they are not providing him with these protections. At the same time, his parents now must share with him the voting privilege.

Now, our legislators are pushing a bill which, when passed, will allow the 18-year-old to vote for a local bond issue even though he will not be required to pay for it. In pointing out this strange situation to our legislators, we are told that it is best to rush through the voting privilege now and that the rest of the majority package can come "later". "Later" will be a long time in coming. Why displease the new 18-year-old constituents by burdening them with adult responsibilities?

So youth "has it both ways" and parental authority is weakened while, at the same time, there is a demand for increased parental responsibility. This inconsistency is yet another contributing factor to the breakdown of the American family.

Some Comments On Calley Case

Your editorial "Calley Must Bear His Share of Responsibility," while generally sound, calls for additional comment. You say: "Those who would free him feel —at least most of them —that the punishment should go to those higher up who gave the orders." It would be a more accurate assumption that most who protested on this basis were those opposing our participation in the war (having switched from their previous charges of whitewash). However, news coverage gives the impression that the most vigorous and possibly the most numerous protests were probably for different reasons, since they came from individuals and organizations which have favored our winning the war or at least not withdrawing prematurely.

There is conflicting evidence, moreover, as to the orders Calley received. Testimony that he had previously committed similar acts and his failure to question his purported orders — as other soldiers have done and have subsequently been upheld — raise doubts as to whether leniency is appropriate. On the other hand, there are doubts as to whether many of the inhabitants of "Pinksville" qualified as "persons taking no action in hostilities." One might also observe that justice is never served if any law or rule is not equally applied and universally enforced. In short, you cannot command respect for Article 3 of the Geneva Convention if an American lieutenant violates it at My Lai and gets punished while a North Vietnamese lieutenant violates it at Hue and gets commended.

Finally, there have always been American soldiers — in Vietnam, just as in Korea, World War II, the Indian wars, and all other previous conflicts — who have proven to be remarkably adaptable in accommodating their fighting methods to those practiced by the enemy.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon Speech Shows He Is Determined to End Involvement

WASHINGTON — In measuring the impact of President Nixon's Vietnam speech, these are the questions which must be answered and will be answered by the American people in the next few weeks:

Can Mr. Nixon change the shape of the Vietnam debate — change it from national doubt over whether he really means to totally withdraw to an honest argument over whether withdrawal of a slower pace, which could enable South Vietnam to defend itself, is in the national interest?

Will the war-weary public give the President sufficient support to end the American involvement at the pace he believes prudent? Is Mr. Nixon right in contending a quicker pullout at a publicly fixed date, which could mean putting South Vietnam into Hanoi's hands, would plunge the United States "from the anguish of war into a nightmare of recrimination"?

IT SEEMS TO ME the President's speech goes a long way toward demonstrating that his commitment is "to end our involvement," that his goal is "total withdrawal" and that, having made this pledge in the 1968 campaign, he expects to be held accountable in next year's election for keeping it.

Obviously, he will not persuade his extreme dove critics into abandoning their tactic of disbelieving that we are moving steadily to end involvement. They need this tactic because events make it so visible that we are ending our involvement that the only way to get around the record is to claim it doesn't mean anything.

Take the argument of the extreme critics that the United States, far from winding down our role in Vietnam, is turning to the mounting use of airpower to make up for the declining use of ground combat troops.

That would be a powerful argument exposing the disingenuousness of Nixon policy — if it were true. The facts disprove it. The facts are that in comparing the first months of 1970 with the same period this year, U.S. tactical air sorties in all Indochina dropped 50 per cent and B-52 bombing raids decreased 42 per cent.

Even with the recent Laotian campaign, U.S. air operations there are 14 per cent under a year ago. The central fact is that in the first month of 1970 there were 53,000 U.S. air sorties and over the same period this year only 26,000.

Thus while U.S. ground combat is dropping to near zero, U.S. air operations are being cut in half.

IT IS EVIDENT beyond doubt that the President is steadily ending our involvement in Vietnam and is committed to total withdrawal — at least 365,000 men out before the end of this year.

This does not guarantee that public pressure may not again mount to a level which could compel Mr. Nixon to move faster than he really believes wise.

But if the majority accepts that the President is unquestionably acting to end our involvement, then there is some prospect that there can be a useful, clarifying, rational argument for and against the two alternatives of Vietnam withdrawal which are open to us.

One is graduated but steady withdrawal in order to give the South Vietnamese enough time to be ready to take over the whole defense of their country and to keep in our hands some bargaining cards so that Hanoi may have an incentive to reach an earlier political settlement.

The alternative is a faster total withdrawal at a fixed date publicly proclaimed. One of the main arguments for this course is that it is the only way to restore tranquility at home so as to get on with urgent domestic matters.

But would ending our involvement in a way which would consciously turn South Vietnam over to Hanoi's rule unite the American people? The first reaction might be one of relief, but the President holds — and I think rightly — that before long there would be debilitating recriminations far more harmful than anything we are now experiencing.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

It's Same In Tom Biggs As In Watts Or Harlem

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

McROBERTS, Ky. — To get to Tom Biggs, you take a left at Neon Junction, go through Neon and right at the Rexall, then through Fleming and McRoberts. You pass an abandoned school and when you see a burnt-gut house on the left, the next one is Mrs. Katherine Ellis'.

Tom Biggs is a black section of McRoberts — the other side of the tracks. And when you are below even McRoberts on the scale of things, you are across the tracks indeed.

Racial difficulties have come to Tom Biggs and McRoberts and Jenkins, the relative metropolis at Highway 119, as belatedly as paved roads did, and consolidated schools and electricity. Unlike most of the counties in the South and the border states, Letcher County has a tiny black minority, one that until lately never felt numerous enough to stand up and argue.

In this poor, coal-mining county on the Virginia border, last year's census showed only 619 blacks among a population of 23,165. That is less than 3 per cent, which is low even for these inbred hollows along the Appalachian ridge.

MRS. ELLIS is only one black among a few, but she is disproportionately big in both body and spirit. She is a major reason why nobody was sure this Easter week end whether the Jenkins School would reopen after the holidays or not. Her children and most of the 30-odd other black pupils boycotted classes the week before the holidays after repeated suspensions which their parents considered harassment by white school officials.

After rumors of bombs, fights, riots, "outside agitators" and other horrors, the officials decided to close the school until after Easter recess, "so we can get things straightened out." But Mrs. Ellis and the parents of five black students expelled for the rest of the school year say the boycott will end only when their children are readmitted. THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

High School Violence: Causes And Panaceas

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

There was tension in the 14 schools of Grant School District in a Sacramento Suburb when they reopened after Easter vacation. All had been closed for that vacation one day early, because of a series of racial battles at one of them, 1,600-student Highlands High School.

Last month, a high school in Vallejo was closed briefly because of rioting. In January, student uproar and arson closed schools in Pomona.

High schools in Oakland, Berkeley, San Francisco, Fresno and other cities have been disrupted and temporarily closed within the past few years by student rioting. Nor is the trouble confined to California. In New York City, school security patrols were beefed up recently to attempt to halt violence reportedly running ahead of last year, when 287 assaults on school personnel were reported. Every section of the nation has had its student outbreaks.

SCHOOLYARD FIGHTS are nothing new. And it is not new for them to escalate occasionally into gang fights. What are new in recent years are the large numbers of students involved, the extremity of the violence — including attacks with deadly weapons, and the penchant of the rioters for wrecking and burning buildings.

Much of the violence has been laid to racial strife, aggravated by integration of blacks and whites in schools that formerly were all-black, all-white or nearly so. Sometimes, however, there has been no element of racism involved. And in other cases, an alleged racial insult that might havebeen settled between two students has been seized upon as an excuse for a mass uprising.

When Neil Sullivan resigned as Berkeley superintendent of schools in 1968, he gave his idea of the cause of much student violence — of which the Berkeley schools had a large share. He blamed it on the curriculum.

"What we've done is homogenize the curriculum for white America," said Sullivan. It must be made relevant for the blacks, he asserted.

Many high schools rushed to introduce "black studies" programs. And many of those that did so have had outbreaks of violence since.

Other school systems facing student militance turned to involvement of the students themselves in determining curriculum, in the belief this would make it more relevant for all of them. And many of these subsequently had student riots, arson, and increased vandalism.

WHEN PARENTS speak out about violence in the schools, they usually blame it on lack of discipline. School administrators customarily shrug this off, telling the parents that today's young people cannot be subjected to the same kind of regimentation as those of earlier generations.

Some educators, however, are coming around to agreement with this contention of parents. William Howard, associate superintendent of schools in Topeka, Kan., reported last month that a survey had shown increased violence and deterioration of discipline in Kansas schools followed passage of a more lenient suspension and expulsion law by the 1970 Kansas Legislature.

The Associated Press quoted Dorothy L. Burress, a black gym teacher at riot-wracked Washington High School in Milwarkee, Wis., in an interesting observation. Racial violence, said Mrs. Burress, breaks out because white teachers are afraid to apply the same standards to black and white alike — "so the blacks get away with it,"

Some white parents have said the same thing as this black teacher.

While neither "black studies" nor student involvement has curbed violence in the schools, the smallest incidence of outbreaks has been reported from schools where discipline has been even-handed — even though sometimes also heavy-handed.

Angela Davis Angel To Kremlin Rulers

MOSCOW (UPI)—In the eyes of the Kremlin, Angela Davis is an angel of communism who can do no wrong.

The Soviet Union is rooting for dismissal of the kidnaping, murder and conspiracy charges against her.

Seldom has the Kremlin had a better vehicle for anti-American comment. The Soviet propaganda mill has found in the case rich grist for criticism of the United States.

"It is no accident that the baiting and persecution of Angela Davis coincided with a period when... the country is entering a period of political repression," the official Tass News Agency said.

"The Davis case is being staged after the worst models of McCarthyism which flourished in the United States in the fifties."

Miss Davis, a 26-year-old Negro, is an avowed Communist and a former lecturer at UCLA. She is being held in connection with California's Marin County courthouse gun battle last August in which a judge and three of his kidnapers were shot to death.

She is charged with buying all the guns used by the kidnapers and with conspiring with the the slain alleged ringleader of the plot.

Her attorneys have argued the charges should be dismissed because there is no evidence in the grand jury transcript showing she did anything illegal.

Tass leads the "Free Angela Davis" movement in the Soviet Union.

It said the "frameup charge" was made to stage a political trial "directed against the Communist Party of the United States, Negro organizations which fight for civil rights and against the entire progressive and antiwar movement in the country."

The U.S. "ruling circles are combatting public opposition at home all down the line," Tass said.

"The San Rafael trial is part of this onslaught by American reaction. More and more people in the United States and beyond it are coming out in defense of Angela Davis and demanding and end to arbitrary rule and persecution and the release of all political prisoners in the United States."

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, describes Miss Davis as "a well-known Communist and fighter against the oppression of Negroes."

Pravda said America was guilty of "the vicious hounding of Angela Davis." Police "fabricated" her case, it said.

"The case of Angela Davis and the Vietnam War are links of a single chain of crimes in the United States," Tass said in attacking what it called "The prepared trial of the courageous Communist."

Tass said some of the Soviet Union's leading artists wrote President Nixon asking him to "use his enfluence" to release Miss Davis.

The signers included composers Dmitri Shostakovich and Aram Kharchaturian and Bolshoi prima ballerina Maya Plisetskaya, Tass said.

"There is no doubt that they (U.S. authorities) put Angela Davis on trial to silence all those who naively believe that McCarthyism is long gone, Tass quoted the letter to Nixon as saying.

Man Arraigned After Stabbing In Petaluma

Robert J. Rector, 36, of San Francisco, was arraigned yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

He was arrested Sunday at 1:30 a.m. after Icalee Fears, 34, of 217 Petaluma Boulevard South, Petaluma; was found stabbed in the abdomen. She was reported in good condition after surgery at Community Hospital of Sonoma County.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon set bail at $6,125 and scheduled Rector to enter a plea tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Police said Rector had gone to the home and found a small party in progress. Mrs. Fears said Rector started an argument with her and cut the telephone cord when she tried to call police. She said she was stabbed during a scuffle.

High School Violence: Causes And Panaceas

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

There was tension in the 14 schools of Grant School District in a Sacramento Suburb when they reopened after Easter vacation. All had been closed for that vacation one day early, because of a series of racial battles at one of them, 1,600-student Highlands High School.

Last month, a high school in Vallejo was closed briefly because of rioting. In January, student uproar and arson closed schools in Pomona.

High schools in Oakland, Berkeley, San Francisco, Fresno and other cities have been disrupted and temporarily closed within the past few years by student rioting. Nor is the trouble confined to California. In New York City, school security patrols were beefed up recently to attempt to halt violence reportedly running ahead of last year, when 287 assaults on school personnel were reported. Every section of the nation has had its student outbreaks.

SCHOOLYARD FIGHTS are nothing new. And it is not new for them to escalate occasionally into gang fights. What are new in recent years are the large numbers of students involved, the extremity of the violence — including attacks with deadly weapons, and the penchant of the rioters for wrecking and burning buildings.

Much of the violence has been laid to racial strife, aggravated by integration of blacks and whites in schools that formerly were all-black, all-white or nearly so. Sometimes, however, there has been no element of racism involved. And in other cases, an alleged racial insult that might havebeen settled between two students has been seized upon as an excuse for a mass uprising.

When Neil Sullivan resigned as Berkeley superintendent of schools in 1968, he gave his idea of the cause of much student violence — of which the Berkeley schools had a large share. He blamed it on the curriculum.

"What we've done is homogenize the curriculum for white America," said Sullivan. It must be made relevant for the blacks, he asserted.

Many high schools rushed to introduce "black studies" programs. And many of those that did so have had outbreaks of violence since.

Other school systems facing student militance turned to involvement of the students themselves in determining curriculum, in the belief this would make it more relevant for all of them. And many of these subsequently had student riots, arson, and increased vandalism.

WHEN PARENTS speak out about violence in the schools, they usually blame it on lack of discipline. School administrators customarily shrug this off, telling the parents that today's young people cannot be subjected to the same kind of regimentation as those of earlier generations.

Some educators, however, are coming around to agreement with this contention of parents. William Howard, associate superintendent of schools in Topeka, Kan., reported last month that a survey had shown increased violence and deterioration of discipline in Kansas schools followed passage of a more lenient suspension and expulsion law by the 1970 Kansas Legislature.

The Associated Press quoted Dorothy L. Burress, a black gym teacher at riot-wracked Washington High School in Milwarkee, Wis., in an interesting observation. Racial violence, said Mrs. Burress, breaks out because white teachers are afraid to apply the same standards to black and white alike — "so the blacks get away with it,"

Some white parents have said the same thing as this black teacher.

While neither "black studies" nor student involvement has curbed violence in the schools, the smallest incidence of outbreaks has been reported from schools where discipline has been even-handed — even though sometimes also heavy-handed.

Angela Davis Angel To Kremlin Rulers

MOSCOW (UPI)—In the eyes of the Kremlin, Angela Davis is an angel of communism who can do no wrong.

The Soviet Union is rooting for dismissal of the kidnaping, murder and conspiracy charges against her.

Seldom has the Kremlin had a better vehicle for anti-American comment. The Soviet propaganda mill has found in the case rich grist for criticism of the United States.

"It is no accident that the baiting and persecution of Angela Davis coincided with a period when... the country is entering a period of political repression," the official Tass News Agency said.

"The Davis case is being staged after the worst models of McCarthyism which flourished in the United States in the fifties."

Miss Davis, a 26-year-old Negro, is an avowed Communist and a former lecturer at UCLA. She is being held in connection with California's Marin County courthouse gun battle last August in which a judge and three of his kidnapers were shot to death.

She is charged with buying all the guns used by the kidnapers and with conspiring with the the slain alleged ringleader of the plot.

Her attorneys have argued the charges should be dismissed because there is no evidence in the grand jury transcript showing she did anything illegal.

Tass leads the "Free Angela Davis" movement in the Soviet Union.

It said the "frameup charge" was made to stage a political trial "directed against the Communist Party of the United States, Negro organizations which fight for civil rights and against the entire progressive and antiwar movement in the country."

The U.S. "ruling circles are combatting public opposition at home all down the line," Tass said.

"The San Rafael trial is part of this onslaught by American reaction. More and more people in the United States and beyond it are coming out in defense of Angela Davis and demanding and end to arbitrary rule and persecution and the release of all political prisoners in the United States."

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, describes Miss Davis as "a well-known Communist and fighter against the oppression of Negroes."

Pravda said America was guilty of "the vicious hounding of Angela Davis." Police "fabricated" her case, it said.

"The case of Angela Davis and the Vietnam War are links of a single chain of crimes in the United States," Tass said in attacking what it called "The prepared trial of the courageous Communist."

Tass said some of the Soviet Union's leading artists wrote President Nixon asking him to "use his enfluence" to release Miss Davis.

The signers included composers Dmitri Shostakovich and Aram Kharchaturian and Bolshoi prima ballerina Maya Plisetskaya, Tass said.

"There is no doubt that they (U.S. authorities) put Angela Davis on trial to silence all those who naively believe that McCarthyism is long gone, Tass quoted the letter to Nixon as saying.

Man Arraigned After Stabbing In Petaluma

Robert J. Rector, 36, of San Francisco, was arraigned yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

He was arrested Sunday at 1:30 a.m. after Icalee Fears, 34, of 217 Petaluma Boulevard South, Petaluma; was found stabbed in the abdomen. She was reported in good condition after surgery at Community Hospital of Sonoma County.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon set bail at $6,125 and scheduled Rector to enter a plea tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Police said Rector had gone to the home and found a small party in progress. Mrs. Fears said Rector started an argument with her and cut the telephone cord when she tried to call police. She said she was stabbed during a scuffle.

Reagan Proposes A Job Registry

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan says it is "high time" America begins to solve its unemployment problems without going to war—and one way to start might be through a "central job registry."

Such a government-sponsored registry, he says, could maintain a nationwide checklist of employment vacancies and match job openings to job seekers.

He was mildly critical of the federal government Tuesday for not already trying the idea.

"The only thing that we have ever done in this country—certainly in my adult lifetime—to cure unemployment is to get us into a war," the 60-year-old governor told his weekly news conference.

He noted there was high unemployment before World War II, the Korean War and Vietnam. Then the nation went into full employment cycles as defense industries mobilized to fight the wars.

Now, the governor added, the nation again is suffering unemployment as it winds down the Vietnam War and moves toward a peacetime economy.

"We have turned loose about a million military and defense industry personnel onto the labor market, which even without the anti-inflation fight would give us an unemployment problem," Reagan said.

"I think it is high time that this country, with all the ability it has, gets down to solving the unemployment problem without a war. And I think the solving of it is going to include education, it is going to include job training and it is going to include job mobility."

Reagan also touched on these subjects at his news conference:

Berkeley—He said the victory by radical candidates in the Berkeley City Council election should "serve as a kind of warning" to citizens of other communities to "take a greater interest in local elections."

Politics—He disclosed he has pledged to President Nixon that California's delegation to the 1972 Republican National Convention will represent a cross-section of party philosophies.

Welfare—He said his administration will prepare a plan by May 1 to bring California's welfare regulations into conformity with the federal government's, thus eliminating the threat of a $700 million loss in aid from Washington. The plan will involve raising some welfare payments for families with no outside income.

CRLA—He explained he is opposed to public hearing procedures adopted by a special commission investigating California Rural Legal Assistance because they could turn hearings into "a kind of traveling circus" featuring "demonstrators." A three-judge commission is probing CRLA as the result of Reagan's veto of the organization's $1.8 million federal financing grant.

Bound Over On Morals Charge

Michael Lino Paredes, 31, of San Francisco, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of sex perversion stemming from an incident near Kent Lake last summer.

He is to be arraigned Monday.

The discussion is sponsored by the Committee for Quality Education, which is backing Wright in the recall attempt.

Stanley Smith To Appear At Coffees

The schedule: 8 o'clock today at the home of Kaki Jacobs, 284 North Almenar Drive, Greenbrae; 10 a.m. tomorrow, home of Mrs. James Moore, 20 Bridge Road, Kentfield, and 1 p.m. tomorrow, home of Mrs. Paul Cane, 5 Corte Alegre, Greenbrae.

Fort Point Dedicated A Park Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Fort Point, which never fired a shot in anger but still packs in history buffs by the hundreds, was dedicated as a National Historic site today.

The massive fort underneath the southern end of the Golden Gate Bridge is a "classic example of a coastal fortification of the mid-19th Century," according to a National Survey of Historic Sites and Buildings.

The survey said the fort, built between 1854 and 1861 to protect the Gate, was the "greatest" example of such military engineering on the West Coast.

The dedication was the result of 13 years of determined effort by the Fort Point Museum Association. The National Park Service now takes over the lease of the fort from the Army and 29 surrounding acres held by the association.

But, as it is on the weekends when an average of 3,000 persons have visited the fort to peer through gun ports that overseered the bay, most interest centered on men like Phillip Tabby, 26, of San Mateo. One weekend 16,000 persons toured the site.

Tabby, a member of the association,spends a great deal of his time walking around the fort in a Civil War style uniform.

Tabby said his light blue sergeant's uniform was "the kind worn by the first outfit regularly garrisoned at Fort Point." That would be B Company, Third Artillery Regiment.

Tabby's hat, its side turned up Australian fashion, was complete with the unit's insignia and an ostrich plume.

Tabby was reminded that English author Rudyard Kipling said in 1889 on a visit to San Francisco that the fort "could be silenced by two gunboats from Hong Kong with safety, comfort and dispatch."

The structure, long obsolete, is modeled somewhat after the plan used at Fort Sumter, S. C.

The closest Fort Point saw to being in action was during the Civil War. Confederate Captain James L. Waddell of the privateer Shenandoah wanted to enter San Francisco Bay but the war came to an end before he could execute the plan.

Petaluma Businessman Named To College Board

Gene M. Benedetti, manager of the Petaluma Cooperative Creamery, was named yesterday to the state College Board of Trustees.

Gov. Ronald Reagan announced that Benedetti, 51, of Cotati, will succeed Philip V. Sanchez of Fresno, who resigned to accept a federal appointment.

Benedetti is president of Friends of Sonoma State College, an organization of area business and professional leaders formed to advise college administrators on community relations.

As head of the organization, he has expressed concern that the college is not meeting the needs of the local service area and said he hoped to see nursing and paramedical courses offered.

Benedetti served in the Army in World War II and after a brief stint as head football coach at Santa Rosa Junior College joined the creamery staff as a milk buyer 25 years ago. He has served as creamery manager for 10 years.

He and his wife, Evelyn, have six children.

Indictment Being Sought In Cocaine Raid Case

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A federal grand jury was to be asked today to indict Marcia Freet, 27, of Sausalito, for failing to appear in federal district court for trial in two cases involving a $250,000 cocaine ring raid on May 22, 1970.

John Milano, assistant U.S. attorney, said Miss Freet failed to appear fortrial on Feb. 1. She and four other Marin County residents were arrested at San Francisco International Airport when a federal undercover agent purchased two pounds of cocaine for $22,000.

Milano said she also was accused of participation in another sale in Sausalito, for which two more Marinites were arrested.

The Sausalito sale resulted in five years' straight probation for Mitchell J. Howard, 22, of Marin City and Steve Howard, 24, of Sausalito. They were sentenced Feb. 26, Milano reported.

Warrant Out In Drug Sales

Bench Warrant with bail set at $15,000 has been issued by Judge Henry J. Broderick of Marin Superior Court for Gerald John Lipinsky, 23, formerly of Inverness.

Lipinsky is charged with possesing marijuana for sale stemming from a raid on an Inverness house in May 1969.

He was reported in court Monday to be in jail in another county.

A Bus Tragedy

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (UPI)—Eight persons were killed early today and ten others critically injured when a speeding bus smashed into a group of passengers who had just left a bus disabled in a previous accident.

Jail Time For Child Molesting

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court has sentenced Ronald Paul Rowell, 23, of Novato, to jail for one year for child molesting.

He also placed Rowell on three years' probation, ordered him to have counseling and not to associate with children under the age of 14 years.

Rowell had earlier pleaded guilty to molesting several small girls in Novato in the period between December 1969 and March 1970.

Bus Contract Is Extended

The Cotati School District board last night extended its bus contract with North Bay Charter Inc., but grumbled at the 17 per cent cost increase.

Board secretary Marion Horne said the contract extension was passed by a 3-2 vote with Andrew J. Camozzi and Maurice W. Fredericks dissenting. Both said they felt the district should seek bids from other bus companies in hopes of getting a less costly contract.

Mrs. Horne said the three-year contract includes an escape clause which will permit the district to withdraw from it if it cannot financially continue the service.

The board also decided not to continue the lease on its district office at 265 College View Avenue. Mrs. Horne said the office may be moved to a portable classroom unit at Waldo Rohnert School.

Inmate Leaves Security Farm

A San Quentin Prison convict walked away from the minimum security farm area yesterday and was still missing today, according to prison authorities.

The escaper was identified as Freddie G. Cooks, 36. He was sent to the prison in March 1969 for a term of five years to life for robbery. He was discovered to be missing at bedcheck time.

Welfare—He said his administration will prepare a plan by May 1 to bring California's welfare regulations into conformity with the federal government's, thus eliminating the threat of a $700 million loss in aid from Washington. The plan will involve raising some welfare payments for families with no outside income.

CRLA—He explained he is opposed to public hearing procedures adopted by a special commission investigating California Rural Legal Assistance because they could turn hearings into "a kind of traveling circus" featuring "demonstrators." A three-judge commission is probing CRLA as the result of Reagan's veto of the organization's $1.8 million federal financing grant.

Bound Over On Morals Charge

Michael Lino Paredes, 31, of San Francisco, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of sex perversion stemming from an incident near Kent Lake last summer.

He is to be arraigned Monday.

Fort Point Dedicated A Park Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Fort Point, which never fired a shot in anger but still packs in history buffs by the hundreds, was dedicated as a National Historic site today.

The massive fort underneath the southern end of the Golden Gate Bridge is a "classic example of a coastal fortification of the mid-19th Century," according to a National Survey of Historic Sites and Buildings.

The survey said the fort, built between 1854 and 1861 to protect the Gate, was the "greatest" example of such military engineering on the West Coast.

The dedication was the result of 13 years of determined effort by the Fort Point Museum Association. The National Park Service now takes over the lease of the fort from the Army and 29 surrounding acres held by the association.

But, as it is on the weekends when an average of 3,000 persons have visited the fort to peer through gun ports that overseered the bay, most interest centered on men like Phillip Tabby, 26, of San Mateo. One weekend 16,000 persons toured the site.

Tabby, a member of the association,spends a great deal of his time walking around the fort in a Civil War style uniform.

Tabby said his light blue sergeant's uniform was "the kind worn by the first outfit regularly garrisoned at Fort Point." That would be B Company, Third Artillery Regiment.

Tabby's hat, its side turned up Australian fashion, was complete with the unit's insignia and an ostrich plume.

Tabby was reminded that English author Rudyard Kipling said in 1889 on a visit to San Francisco that the fort "could be silenced by two gunboats from Hong Kong with safety, comfort and dispatch."

The structure, long obsolete, is modeled somewhat after the plan used at Fort Sumter, S. C.

The closest Fort Point saw to being in action was during the Civil War. Confederate Captain James L. Waddell of the privateer Shenandoah wanted to enter San Francisco Bay but the war came to an end before he could execute the plan.

Petaluma Businessman Named To College Board

Gene M. Benedetti, manager of the Petaluma Cooperative Creamery, was named yesterday to the state College Board of Trustees.

Gov. Ronald Reagan announced that Benedetti, 51, of Cotati, will succeed Philip V. Sanchez of Fresno, who resigned to accept a federal appointment.

Benedetti is president of Friends of Sonoma State College, an organization of area business and professional leaders formed to advise college administrators on community relations.

As head of the organization, he has expressed concern that the college is not meeting the needs of the local service area and said he hoped to see nursing and paramedical courses offered.

Benedetti served in the Army in World War II and after a brief stint as head football coach at Santa Rosa Junior College joined the creamery staff as a milk buyer 25 years ago. He has served as creamery manager for 10 years.

He and his wife, Evelyn, have six children.

Indictment Being Sought In Cocaine Raid Case

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A federal grand jury was to be asked today to indict Marcia Freet, 27, of Sausalito, for failing to appear in federal district court for trial in two cases involving a $250,000 cocaine ring raid on May 22, 1970.

John Milano, assistant U.S. attorney, said Miss Freet failed to appear fortrial on Feb. 1. She and four other Marin County residents were arrested at San Francisco International Airport when a federal undercover agent purchased two pounds of cocaine for $22,000.

Milano said she also was accused of participation in another sale in Sausalito, for which two more Marinites were arrested.

The Sausalito sale resulted in five years' straight probation for Mitchell J. Howard, 22, of Marin City and Steve Howard, 24, of Sausalito. They were sentenced Feb. 26, Milano reported.

Warrant Out In Drug Sales

Bench Warrant with bail set at $15,000 has been issued by Judge Henry J. Broderick of Marin Superior Court for Gerald John Lipinsky, 23, formerly of Inverness.

Lipinsky is charged with possesing marijuana for sale stemming from a raid on an Inverness house in May 1969.

He was reported in court Monday to be in jail in another county.

A Bus Tragedy

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (UPI)—Eight persons were killed early today and ten others critically injured when a speeding bus smashed into a group of passengers who had just left a bus disabled in a previous accident.

Jail Time For Child Molesting

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court has sentenced Ronald Paul Rowell, 23, of Novato, to jail for one year for child molesting.

He also placed Rowell on three years' probation, ordered him to have counseling and not to associate with children under the age of 14 years.

Rowell had earlier pleaded guilty to molesting several small girls in Novato in the period between December 1969 and March 1970.

Bus Contract Is Extended

The Cotati School District board last night extended its bus contract with North Bay Charter Inc., but grumbled at the 17 per cent cost increase.

Board secretary Marion Horne said the contract extension was passed by a 3-2 vote with Andrew J. Camozzi and Maurice W. Fredericks dissenting. Both said they felt the district should seek bids from other bus companies in hopes of getting a less costly contract.

Mrs. Horne said the three-year contract includes an escape clause which will permit the district to withdraw from it if it cannot financially continue the service.

The board also decided not to continue the lease on its district office at 265 College View Avenue. Mrs. Horne said the office may be moved to a portable classroom unit at Waldo Rohnert School.

Inmate Leaves Security Farm

A San Quentin Prison convict walked away from the minimum security farm area yesterday and was still missing today, according to prison authorities.

The escaper was identified as Freddie G. Cooks, 36. He was sent to the prison in March 1969 for a term of five years to life for robbery. He was discovered to be missing at bedcheck time.

FINANCES IN A MESS?
Don't feel like the Lone Ranger, most people need some help. This ad is unusual, we don't loan money and are not selling business opportunities. It is just that we feel there are times when sitting down with a successful person who is not emotionally involved in your problems, but can study them objectively, can be the answer or at least the start to solving your situation. I have a formula for climbing out of debt and starting to build financial security that might be the answer you have been looking for. If you and I think we can help you there's a small fee based on how much I have to do. No obligation on either person's part. You may not think I can help you or I may not think you're willing to be helped. One interview will tell us and it will take 15 to 30 minutes. Call my executive secretary, Mrs. Marty Conley, for an appointment. 454-8232.

FINANCES IN A MESS?

Don't feel like the Lone Ranger, most people need some help. This ad is unusual, we don't loan money and are not selling business opportunities. It is just that we feel there are times when sitting down with a successful person who is not emotionally involved in your problems, but can study them objectively, can be the answer or at least the start to solving your situation. I have a formula for climbing out of debt and starting to build financial security that might be the answer you have been looking for. If you and I think we can help you there's a small fee based on how much I have to do. No obligation on either person's part. You may not think I can help you or I may not think you're willing to be helped. One interview will tell us and it will take 15 to 30 minutes. Call my executive secretary, Mrs. Marty Conley, for an appointment. 454-8232.

THE WONDER OF BEGINNING LIFE

Lisa Langford and Kathy Flinn are entranced by the newborn kittens in the sixth grade classroom of Thomas Heffron at Lucas Valley School. The black cat wandered into the classroom yesterday and gave birth to three kittens on some pillows in the corner of the classroom. The children who had finished a course on sex education had an unexpected demonstration of how animals give birth. The mother cat cooperated and was undisturbed as the children set up a flood light and took pictures of the birth and first nursing of the kittens, said Principal Patricia Barnes. The class will keep the mother and her babies to continue their study of animal growth, she said.

Judicial Council Gets Angela Judge Case

The California Judicial Council has been handed the job of picking an outside judge to determine whether Judge Alan A. Lindsay is prejudiced against Angela Y. Davis.

Marin County Clerk George Gnoss today reported that he wrote yesterday to the council to say that attorneys in the case could not agree on a judge to hold the hearing.

Attorneys for the 27-year-old former college instructor moved on April 1 to disqualify Lindsay, an Alameda County Superior Court judge, terming him a white racist.

Lindsay, however, refused to step down, and the next step is for another judge to hold a hearing to determine if he is, indeed, prejudiced.

Gnoss said today that he does not know how long it will take the council to name a judge.

It is being rumored, however, that Miss Davis's codefendant, San Quentin inmate Ruchell Magee, will challenge any new judge.

Miss Davis and Magee are charged with conspiracy, murder and kidnapping stemming from the August shoot-out at the Civic Center in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three others were killed.

Judge Lindsay had been slated to hear motions made by Miss Davis's attorneys asking that the case against her be dismissed and that she be released on bail.

No Action On Sewage Plant Work

The Mill Valley City Council and School District board held a 90-minute meeting last night on a plan to build aeration beds at the city's sewage treatment plant but reached no conclusion.

City Mgr. William H. Cunningham said school trustees expressed concern about odors from the beds, which may be built to satisfy new sewage discharge requirements imposed by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control board.

The school district's new middle school is adjacent to the treatment plant. Cunningham said trustees were assured the city would do all it could to prevent odors, including chemicals to deodorize the beds.

Supt. of Public Works Ross J. Benson said the most odors could be expected during the summer months, when school is not in session.

Construction of the aeration beds, estimated to cost $300,000, has been suggested as an interim disposal method to satisfy the regional board, but a permanent solution still must be found.

The beds would be used to trap excess flow from the treatment plant during wet weather, when overloading causes raw sewage to be dumped into Richardson Bay. After aeration and chlorination, the effluent from the beds would be discharged into the bay.

The two groups also discussed building a swimming pool at the middle school site, and Cunningham said trustees generally favored the idea. A $338,000 bond issue to finance the pool will go to the voters June 29.

Budget Of $407,000 Due Study

The Novato Flood Control Zone Advisory board will consider a proposed $407,000 budget for 1971-72, including major improvement to lower Novato Creek, at 8 p.m. Monday at Lu Sutton School, 1800 Center Road, Novato.

Charles E. Murphy, Marin County flood control engineer, said a major expenditure, $325,000, is proposed for improving Novato Creek from Highway 37 to San Pablo Bay.

The planned Army Corps of Engineers project calls for improving the creek channel from Highway 101 to Highway 37, but just dredging beyond there.

The sector between Highway 37 and the bay is subject to flooding and major improvements are needed there, Murphy said.

The proposed budget is $103,800 higher than the current budget and Murphy estimated it would require a tax rate of 23 cents per $100 assessed valuation, up 3.5 cents from the current rate.

There will be carryover funds of $234,100, leaving $172,900 to be raised by taxes, he said.

Age Is 47

Donald R. Wellington, candidate for the San Rafael Board of Education is 47 years old, not 57, and he attended Stanford University and not University of California as reported in the Independent-Journal last Saturday.

Behr Makes Push For Fourth Municipal Judge

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation giving Marin a fourth municipal court judge was among a blizzard of bills introduced this week by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

The senator, joining the rush to beat Friday's deadline to introduce bills this session, had 25 bills either introduced or about to go in the legislative hopper. They ranged from the Bay Conservation and Development Commission to tax relief for home improvements.

Behr's office said the fourth judge had been asked by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, but no such bill appeared on the legislative shopping list adopted by the supervisors.

Municipal court judges are paid $29,270 a year, and their salary cost is shared by the state and county taxpayers.

Behr also introduced a bill increasing the salaries of court clerks, and adding eight clerks to the court.

Other measures in the last-minute blizzard by Behr included:

BCDC — Replaces the representative of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare with one from the Environmental Protection Agency.

RACING — Enables local government to impose a 5 per cent tax on any racing receipts taken within its jurisdiction. The current tax is limited to $100 per racing day.

HOUNDS — Requires sheriffs to maintain dogs for rescue operations.

VEHICLES — Expands the definition of "commercial" vehicle to include those used primarily for trade, business, commerce or industry and which carry a sign, and those vehicles owned or maintained by an employer primarily for the use of his employees. These vehicles would be required to pay an additional $12 minimum fee for their licenses, with the revenue put in the state Environmental Protection Fund.

VD — Appropriates $69,625 to the Department of Public Health for a venereal disease information program aimed at youths.

IMPROVEMENTS — Exempts from taxation for three years the value of improvements to an existing dwelling. Passage by the Legislature and voters of a constitutional amendment would be needed to enact the exemption.

TOMALES BAY — Bans harvesting of herring eggs from Tomales Bay. Behr dropped a previously announced provision to ban all commercial fishing from the West Marin bay because it was found this was not a threat to fish there. He ntoed 2,160 tons of herring were taken from the bay in 1917, but only one ton in 1967 — because of the harvest of herring eggs, a delicacy exported to Japan.

DAMAGE — Provides up to 25 per cent property tax relief for repair of residential improvements which have been damaged.

STRAYS — Postpones to next January enforcement of a 1970 law that would cost Marin $90,000 a year to care for stray cats and dogs, and provides an unspecified state fund to reimburse local government for such costs.

FLOOD CONTROL — Permits preservation and improvement of lands adjacent to flood control district properties for recreation and scenic use, and provides for an election to approve an increase in the maintenance tax of a flood control zone if 10 per cent of the electors protest.

MENTAL HEALTH — Provides that county supervisors may designate an individual not a member of their body to represent them on mental health advisory boards.

CLAIMS — Entitles public entities to 6 per cent per annum interest on claims against the state, the interest to begin on the 31st day after a claim is filed. Similar measures have failed previously, but their introduction has spurred the state to faster payment of claims, according to county officials.

BIRTH CONTROL — Deletes felony provisions for anyone who "willfully writes, composes or publishes any notice or advertisement of any medicine or means for the prevention of conception." The law was written in 1938.

Nod To Apartments Into Condominiums

A plan to convert a once-controversial 40-unit apartment development in Picnic Valley to condominiums was approved last night by the San Rafael Planning Commission.

The change, proposed by Picnic Hill Properties, owner of the development, will not physically alter the apartments, although units will be sold to individuals and the project maintained by a homeowners' group.

The project, at 237 Picnic Avenue, was fought by neighboring residents two years ago. They said the apartments would destroy the arya's character.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

SIGNS — Established criteria for evaluation of readerboard signs.

READING — Approved a use permit to establish a Sullivan Reading Center at 35 Mitchell Boulevard in Northgate Industrial Park.

SCHOOL — Approved a use permit for a self-improvement and modeling school at 926 Irwin Street.

ORDINANCE — Recommended to the city council adoption of an ordinance similar to one adopted by the county board of supervisors that governs tidelands and waterway use.

Promised $1.14 Million Has Sonoma Worried

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County may have to come up with more than $1 million to cover funds that were promised by the state, but have not been received.

Auditor William E. Fulwinder told the board of supervisors yesterday that state-pledged funds totaling $1,140,000 may have to be made up by the county before July 1.

He said the state has not supplied its promised $1,066,000 for the Medi-Cal program, $70,000 for non-medical care for the aged, and $7,000 for the public defender's office.

County Administrator David L. Nichols said the failure of the state to meet its pledged share of programs will put the county in a very difficult financial position. He said none of the costs which the state was to have paid had been included in the 1970-71 county budget because it was assumed the state would keep its promises. There was no explanation of the state's dishonoring its commitment nor did the supervisors comment on the report.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors also:

PETALUMA HALL — Approved plans for the addition of county offices to the Petaluma City Hall and called for construction bids to be opened May 11 at 2:30 p.m.

APPOINTMENT — Named Harold R. Griffith to the board of directors of the Cotati Fire Protection District.

CLAIM — Routinely rejected the $50,000 claim of Russell Henry Strubeck of Petaluma for medical complications suffered after surgery at Community Hospital of Sonoma County.

Water Project On 'Sounding Board'

The Marin Municipal Water District's proposed multimillion-dollar water project, will be discussed tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. on the KTIM "Marin Sounding Board." The panel will include Ray W. Foreaker, member of the water district board; R. A. MacMillan, a San Rafael resident opposed to the proposal; Jerry Kresy, a director of Marin Ecology Center, who also has reservations about the project, and a fourth panelist to be announced.

Questions may be phoned in during the live broadcast tomorrow. The program moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be repeated by tape recording, Sunday at 10:05 a.m.

All District Teachers Rehired

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District have voted to offer contracts for 1971-72 to all of the district's nine teachers, Supt. Lester M. Horning reported.

He said the board agreed on Monday to reemploy the following teachers: Marguerite Harris, Marsha Hensill, Robert Moyer, William Niman, Linda O'Neil, Margaret Plato, Nancy Sullivan, Erika Zettl and Curtis Spurlin.

The superintendent said the teachers were hired on the current salary schedule since — at this time — there is no proposal to change the schedule.

THE WONDER OF BEGINNING LIFE

Lisa Langford and Kathy Flinn are entranced by the newborn kittens in the sixth grade classroom of Thomas Heffron at Lucas Valley School. The black cat wandered into the classroom yesterday and gave birth to three kittens on some pillows in the corner of the classroom. The children who had finished a course on sex education had an unexpected demonstration of how animals give birth. The mother cat cooperated and was undisturbed as the children set up a flood light and took pictures of the birth and first nursing of the kittens, said Principal Patricia Barnes. The class will keep the mother and her babies to continue their study of animal growth, she said.

Judicial Council Gets Angela Judge Case

The California Judicial Council has been handed the job of picking an outside judge to determine whether Judge Alan A. Lindsay is prejudiced against Angela Y. Davis.

Marin County Clerk George Gnoss today reported that he wrote yesterday to the council to say that attorneys in the case could not agree on a judge to hold the hearing.

Attorneys for the 27-year-old former college instructor moved on April 1 to disqualify Lindsay, an Alameda County Superior Court judge, terming him a white racist.

Lindsay, however, refused to step down, and the next step is for another judge to hold a hearing to determine if he is, indeed, prejudiced.

Gnoss said today that he does not know how long it will take the council to name a judge.

It is being rumored, however, that Miss Davis's codefendant, San Quentin inmate Ruchell Magee, will challenge any new judge.

Miss Davis and Magee are charged with conspiracy, murder and kidnapping stemming from the August shoot-out at the Civic Center in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three others were killed.

Judge Lindsay had been slated to hear motions made by Miss Davis's attorneys asking that the case against her be dismissed and that she be released on bail.

No Action On Sewage Plant Work

The Mill Valley City Council and School District board held a 90-minute meeting last night on a plan to build aeration beds at the city's sewage treatment plant but reached no conclusion.

City Mgr. William H. Cunningham said school trustees expressed concern about odors from the beds, which may be built to satisfy new sewage discharge requirements imposed by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control board.

The school district's new middle school is adjacent to the treatment plant. Cunningham said trustees were assured the city would do all it could to prevent odors, including chemicals to deodorize the beds.

Supt. of Public Works Ross J. Benson said the most odors could be expected during the summer months, when school is not in session.

Construction of the aeration beds, estimated to cost $300,000, has been suggested as an interim disposal method to satisfy the regional board, but a permanent solution still must be found.

The beds would be used to trap excess flow from the treatment plant during wet weather, when overloading causes raw sewage to be dumped into Richardson Bay. After aeration and chlorination, the effluent from the beds would be discharged into the bay.

The two groups also discussed building a swimming pool at the middle school site, and Cunningham said trustees generally favored the idea. A $338,000 bond issue to finance the pool will go to the voters June 29.

Budget Of $407,000 Due Study

The Novato Flood Control Zone Advisory board will consider a proposed $407,000 budget for 1971-72, including major improvement to lower Novato Creek, at 8 p.m. Monday at Lu Sutton School, 1800 Center Road, Novato.

Charles E. Murphy, Marin County flood control engineer, said a major expenditure, $325,000, is proposed for improving Novato Creek from Highway 37 to San Pablo Bay.

The planned Army Corps of Engineers project calls for improving the creek channel from Highway 101 to Highway 37, but just dredging beyond there.

The sector between Highway 37 and the bay is subject to flooding and major improvements are needed there, Murphy said.

The proposed budget is $103,800 higher than the current budget and Murphy estimated it would require a tax rate of 23 cents per $100 assessed valuation, up 3.5 cents from the current rate.

There will be carryover funds of $234,100, leaving $172,900 to be raised by taxes, he said.

Age Is 47

Donald R. Wellington, candidate for the San Rafael Board of Education is 47 years old, not 57, and he attended Stanford University and not University of California as reported in the Independent-Journal last Saturday.

Behr Makes Push For Fourth Municipal Judge

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation giving Marin a fourth municipal court judge was among a blizzard of bills introduced this week by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

The senator, joining the rush to beat Friday's deadline to introduce bills this session, had 25 bills either introduced or about to go in the legislative hopper. They ranged from the Bay Conservation and Development Commission to tax relief for home improvements.

Behr's office said the fourth judge had been asked by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, but no such bill appeared on the legislative shopping list adopted by the supervisors.

Municipal court judges are paid $29,270 a year, and their salary cost is shared by the state and county taxpayers.

Behr also introduced a bill increasing the salaries of court clerks, and adding eight clerks to the court.

Other measures in the last-minute blizzard by Behr included:

BCDC — Replaces the representative of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare with one from the Environmental Protection Agency.

RACING — Enables local government to impose a 5 per cent tax on any racing receipts taken within its jurisdiction. The current tax is limited to $100 per racing day.

HOUNDS — Requires sheriffs to maintain dogs for rescue operations.

VEHICLES — Expands the definition of "commercial" vehicle to include those used primarily for trade, business, commerce or industry and which carry a sign, and those vehicles owned or maintained by an employer primarily for the use of his employees. These vehicles would be required to pay an additional $12 minimum fee for their licenses, with the revenue put in the state Environmental Protection Fund.

VD — Appropriates $69,625 to the Department of Public Health for a venereal disease information program aimed at youths.

IMPROVEMENTS — Exempts from taxation for three years the value of improvements to an existing dwelling. Passage by the Legislature and voters of a constitutional amendment would be needed to enact the exemption.

TOMALES BAY — Bans harvesting of herring eggs from Tomales Bay. Behr dropped a previously announced provision to ban all commercial fishing from the West Marin bay because it was found this was not a threat to fish there. He ntoed 2,160 tons of herring were taken from the bay in 1917, but only one ton in 1967 — because of the harvest of herring eggs, a delicacy exported to Japan.

DAMAGE — Provides up to 25 per cent property tax relief for repair of residential improvements which have been damaged.

STRAYS — Postpones to next January enforcement of a 1970 law that would cost Marin $90,000 a year to care for stray cats and dogs, and provides an unspecified state fund to reimburse local government for such costs.

FLOOD CONTROL — Permits preservation and improvement of lands adjacent to flood control district properties for recreation and scenic use, and provides for an election to approve an increase in the maintenance tax of a flood control zone if 10 per cent of the electors protest.

MENTAL HEALTH — Provides that county supervisors may designate an individual not a member of their body to represent them on mental health advisory boards.

CLAIMS — Entitles public entities to 6 per cent per annum interest on claims against the state, the interest to begin on the 31st day after a claim is filed. Similar measures have failed previously, but their introduction has spurred the state to faster payment of claims, according to county officials.

BIRTH CONTROL — Deletes felony provisions for anyone who "willfully writes, composes or publishes any notice or advertisement of any medicine or means for the prevention of conception." The law was written in 1938.

Nod To Apartments Into Condominiums

A plan to convert a once-controversial 40-unit apartment development in Picnic Valley to condominiums was approved last night by the San Rafael Planning Commission.

The change, proposed by Picnic Hill Properties, owner of the development, will not physically alter the apartments, although units will be sold to individuals and the project maintained by a homeowners' group.

The project, at 237 Picnic Avenue, was fought by neighboring residents two years ago. They said the apartments would destroy the arya's character.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

SIGNS — Established criteria for evaluation of readerboard signs.

SCHOOL — Approved a use permit for a self-improvement and modeling school at 926 Irwin Street.

ORDINANCE — Recommended to the city council adoption of an ordinance similar to one adopted by the county board of supervisors that governs tidelands and waterway use.

Promised $1.14 Million Has Sonoma Worried

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County may have to come up with more than $1 million to cover funds that were promised by the state, but have not been received.

Auditor William E. Fulwinder told the board of supervisors yesterday that state-pledged funds totaling $1,140,000 may have to be made up by the county before July 1.

He said the state has not supplied its promised $1,066,000 for the Medi-Cal program, $70,000 for non-medical care for the aged, and $7,000 for the public defender's office.

County Administrator David L. Nichols said the failure of the state to meet its pledged share of programs will put the county in a very difficult financial position. He said none of the costs which the state was to have paid had been included in the 1970-71 county budget because it was assumed the state would keep its promises. There was no explanation of the state's dishonoring its commitment nor did the supervisors comment on the report.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors also:

PETALUMA HALL — Approved plans for the addition of county offices to the Petaluma City Hall and called for construction bids to be opened May 11 at 2:30 p.m.

CLAIM — Routinely rejected the $50,000 claim of Russell Henry Strubeck of Petaluma for medical complications suffered after surgery at Community Hospital of Sonoma County.

Water Project On 'Sounding Board'

The Marin Municipal Water District's proposed multimillion-dollar water project, will be discussed tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. on the KTIM "Marin Sounding Board." The panel will include Ray W. Foreaker, member of the water district board; R. A. MacMillan, a San Rafael resident opposed to the proposal; Jerry Kresy, a director of Marin Ecology Center, who also has reservations about the project, and a fourth panelist to be announced.

Questions may be phoned in during the live broadcast tomorrow. The program moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be repeated by tape recording, Sunday at 10:05 a.m.

All District Teachers Rehired

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District have voted to offer contracts for 1971-72 to all of the district's nine teachers, Supt. Lester M. Horning reported.

He said the board agreed on Monday to reemploy the following teachers: Marguerite Harris, Marsha Hensill, Robert Moyer, William Niman, Linda O'Neil, Margaret Plato, Nancy Sullivan, Erika Zettl and Curtis Spurlin.

The superintendent said the teachers were hired on the current salary schedule since — at this time — there is no proposal to change the schedule.

Hiring Architect Before Trustees

Shoreline Unified School District trustees are scheduled to hire an architect to plan a new Tomales Elementary School at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the district administration office in Tomales.

There are three permanent classrooms and seven portables at the school and trustees hope to build a complete school, possibly using the existing classrooms.

Equipment Taken

A burglar who broke into the Resh house at 267 Shoreline Highway in Tamalpais Valley Friday took musical equipment valued at $675 and $10 in cash, sheriff's deputies reported today.

San Marin Park Space Plan Hit

The Novato Planning Commission Monday night rejected a city council recommendation that would have allocated potential park space in San Marin for residential development.

The council had offered land owner T. V. McGuire of San Rafael $50,000 for the 4.6-acre site on the south side of San Marin Drive, east of San Mateo Way.

When the offer was rejected, councilmen recommended that the commission designate three lots on the parcel along San Marin Drive for apartments or townhouses.

Then, councilmen felt, they could negotiate for purchase of the remainder of the site for park land.

The site is designated on the San Marin master plan for park, and the commission refused to change that designation.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

WESTERN HOSTS — Recommended rezoning from limited agricultural to planned residential 13 acres west of Highway 101 at the south end of Redwood Boulevard as requested by Western Hosts Inc., which is building townhouses on adjacent land.

BOAT SALES — Granted Ladner Cameron a use permit for a boat sales, service and storage facility on a 1.1 acre-site on the east side of Highway 101, north of Novato Creek, and recommended general commercial zoning for the site.

HORSES — Granted Finbar O'Driscoll a use permit to keep six horses on a 12.5-acre site at 1904 Benton Lane.

A Warmer Climate Pictured

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The tons of particles that industrial man is throwing into the atmosphere may be making the world's climate both warmer and dryer, a climatologist said today.

This suggestion is the reverse of some previously widely held views about the effect of manmade air pollution on climate.

It was offered at the American Geophysical Union's annual meeting by Dr. J. Murray Mitchell Jr. of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA).

It has been assumed that aerosols (particulate matter) have a cooling effect on the earth because they scatter and reflect back to space incoming radiation from the sun.

A global cooling trend following major volcanic eruptions in the past quarter of a century has been attributed to increasing levels of atmospheric contamination by both nature and man.

But there have been recent indications, according to an NOAA report of Mitchell's findings, that industrial aerosols containing carbon, iron oxides, and certain other materials absorb about as much solar radiation as they scatter back.

Public Works Deputy Picked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Howard C. Ullrich, city manager of Redwood City, was named chief deputy director of the state Public Works Department today by department Director James A. Moe.

Ullrich, 55, will assume his new duties May 10. He will fill the vacancy created earlier this year when Robert C. Carleson was appointed director of the state Social Welfare Department by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Moe said Ullrich was selected from a large group of candidates for the $28,332-a-year post "because of his superior abilities in the fields of governmental planning and administration."

Castro Visit To Chile Rumored

SANTIAGO (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, who has not visited a Latin American nation in 12 years, may be coming to Chile in two weeks as the personal guest of Marxist President Salvador Allende.

The opposition tabloid newspaper La Tarde said Monday it learned from "palace sources" that the government has invited Castro here April 27 for a five-day stay. The government still is awaiting formal acceptance from Havana, La Tarde said.

Army Sees Censure In Training

A preliminary investigation into alleged mistreatment of Army Reservists at Two Rock Ranch Army Station may result in administrative censure action, an Army spokesman said yesterday.

Col. Lawrence Doyle, information officer for the 351st Civil Affairs Command, said the investigation so far has shown that realistic training was being conducted, but that the interrogation phase may have been more vigorous than was required.

Reservist complained that they had been mentally and physically mistreated during escape and evasion training at the installation west of Petaluma. Doyle said that all statements have not been received, but that corrective action has already been taken to avoid a recurrence.

He said that no court martial could result from the action, but that those involved could be transferred to a non-pay reserve unit or given a reprimand that would hurt their chances for future advancement.

Police reported Sandra Louise Nealon, 30, of 5 Twelveoak Hill Drive was entering north bound traffic on the highway when her vehicle collided with one driven by George Richard Bradley, 28, of Napa. Both were treated by private doctors.

San Marin Park Space Plan Hit

The Novato Planning Commission Monday night rejected a city council recommendation that would have allocated potential park space in San Marin for residential development.

The council had offered land owner T. V. McGuire of San Rafael $50,000 for the 4.6-acre site on the south side of San Marin Drive, east of San Mateo Way.

When the offer was rejected, councilmen recommended that the commission designate three lots on the parcel along San Marin Drive for apartments or townhouses.

Then, councilmen felt, they could negotiate for purchase of the remainder of the site for park land.

The site is designated on the San Marin master plan for park, and the commission refused to change that designation.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

WESTERN HOSTS — Recommended rezoning from limited agricultural to planned residential 13 acres west of Highway 101 at the south end of Redwood Boulevard as requested by Western Hosts Inc., which is building townhouses on adjacent land.

BOAT SALES — Granted Ladner Cameron a use permit for a boat sales, service and storage facility on a 1.1 acre-site on the east side of Highway 101, north of Novato Creek, and recommended general commercial zoning for the site.

HORSES — Granted Finbar O'Driscoll a use permit to keep six horses on a 12.5-acre site at 1904 Benton Lane.

A Warmer Climate Pictured

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The tons of particles that industrial man is throwing into the atmosphere may be making the world's climate both warmer and dryer, a climatologist said today.

This suggestion is the reverse of some previously widely held views about the effect of man-made air pollution on climate.

It was offered at the American Geophysical Union's annual meeting by Dr. J. Murray Mitchell Jr. of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA).

It has been assumed that aerosols (particulate matter) have a cooling effect on the earth because they scatter and reflect back to space incoming radiation from the sun.

A global cooling trend following major volcanic eruptions in the past quarter of a century has been attributed to increasing levels of atmospheric contamination by both nature and man.

But there have been recent indications, according to an NOAA report of Mitchell's findings, that industrial aerosols containing carbon, iron oxides, and certain other materials absorb about as much solar radiation as they scatter back.

Public Works Deputy Picked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Howard C. Ullrich, city manager of Redwood City, was named chief deputy director of the state Public Works Department today by department Director James A. Moe.

Ullrich, 55, will assume his new duties May 10. He will fill the vacancy created earlier this year when Robert C. Carleson was appointed director of the state Social Welfare Department by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Moe said Ullrich was selected from a large group of candidates for the $28,332-a-year post "because of his superior abilities in the fields of governmental planning and administration."

Castro Visit To Chile Rumored

SANTIAGO (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, who has not visited a Latin American nation in 12 years, may be coming to Chile in two weeks as the personal guest of Marxist President Salvador Allende.

The opposition tabloid newspaper La Tarde said Monday it learned from "palace sources" that the government has invited Castro here April 27 for a five-day stay. The government still is awaiting formal acceptance from Havana, La Tarde said.

Army Sees Censure In Training

A preliminary investigation into alleged mistreatment of Army Reservists at Two Rock Ranch Army Station may result in administrative censure action, an Army spokesman said yesterday.

Col. Lawrence Doyle, information officer for the 351st Civil Affairs Command, said the investigation so far has shown that realistic training was being conducted, but that the interrogation phase may have been more vigorous than was required.

Reservist complained that they had been mentally and physically mistreated during escape and evasion training at the installation west of Petaluma. Doyle said that all statements have not been received, but that corrective action has already been taken to avoid a recurrence.

He said that no court martial could result from the action, but that those involved could be transferred to a non-pay reserve unit or given a reprimand that would hurt their chances for future advancement.

Two Hurt In Two-Car Wreck

Bike Lane For Drive Is Shunned

The Corte Madera Planning Commission has shunned a suggestion that widening of Tamalpais Drive include a bicycle lane.

According to David I. Freed, a director of the Marina Village Homeowners Association, the commission Monday told bike enthusiasts they would do nothing to encourage two-wheelers on the town's main street.

Freed said he and others contended bikes are now using the drive and will continue to do so in the future. Thus the town should make safe provision for them during reconstruction.

Several proposals were offered, he said, including extra wide sidewalks to accomodate both bike and pedestrian traffic and restricted parking during daylight hours so bikes could travel along parking lanes.

However, he said, the commission — "with some justification" — balked at any implication that the town sanction bike lanes since to do so would possibly open the town to litigation in case of an accident.

Monday's discussion grew out of commission consideration of landscaping criteria to be used by architects in beautifying the strip.

Town Mgr. Ronald E. Bartels said the commission deferred any action until after landscaping plans have been submitted. The plans are due for town council consideration May 3.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission also:

REZONING — Denied, then recsinded and continued to its next meeting a rezoning request from Earle and Solvason Realty for property at 626 Tamalpais Drive. The site is zoned for residential use but the real estate firm would like it zoned for professional offices.

SIGNS — Approved two free-standing sign applications submitted by Standard Oil Company for stations located at 90 Corte Madera Center and 706 Tamalpais Drive. The signs, originally requested to be 80 and 47 square feet in size, were approved for 47 and 36 square feet.

TOWNHOUSE — Approved an application for design review submitted by San Rafael contractor Horst Hanf for a proposed eight unit townhouse complex at 39 Pixley Avenue.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT — Received a 1971-72 capital improvement plan — as requested by town departments — totaling about $300,000 most of which is gas tax funds. About $125,000 will be used for reconstruction of Tamalpais Drive and $113,000 for paving of Meadowsweet Drive.

Apprentice Chief Picked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — James E. Stratten, former president of the San Francisco Board of Education and a campaign chairman last year for Dr. Max Rafferty, was appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan today as state chief of apprenticeship standards.

The job pays $24,312. He replaces Charles Hanna, whom Reagan's press office said has resigned from the chief's position he has held since 1955 but will continue to serve in the Division of Apprenticeship Standards.

Stratten, a Republican, has been a member of the California Youth Authority Board for the past two years.

Federal Funds Eyed For Park Purchases

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission has urged the city council to apply for federal funding to buy and maintain parks in the city under a new program being considered by Congress.

Parks and Recreation Director Don L. Dimitratos said commissioners voted Monday to make the application before the April 30 deadline.

If approved by Congress, the program would cover half the cost of acquiring and developing open space in established neighborhoods where the most intense use can be expected.

The commission also accepted in principle the design of a park along Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio, which will be developed by Peter C. Heywood in conjunction with 68 condominiums planned for land near La Goma Street and Sycamore Avenue.

Dimitratos said Heywood plans to landscape the creek area, build two small ponds and then deed the park to the city.

Park Opening Hoped In Fall

A park at La Tercera School may be ready for use in the fall, the Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association heard Monday night.

Petaluma City Councilman Fred V. Mattei, also a member of the city's recreation, music and parks commission, said high priority has been given to developing the park.

The homeowners association has offered to donate labor to build the park and told Mattei that one of its members is a landscape architect who would be willing to assist in planning it. Mattei said he hoped a city service club would donate money to buy play equipment.

Cancer Canvass For Marin Planned

Cancer Crusade volunteers will begin canvassing Marin County April 23 in a house-to-house drive to distribute leaflets listing cancer's seven warning signals, the Marin County branch of the American Cancer Society announced.

Slated to end April 23, the drive also is aimed at collecting contributions for support of the society's services to cancer patients and their families.

Bike Lane For Drive Is Shunned

The Corte Madera Planning Commission has shunned a suggestion that widening of Tamalpais Drive include a bicycle lane.

According to David I. Freed, a director of the Marina Village Homeowners Association, the commission Monday told bike enthusiasts they would do nothing to encourage two-wheelers on the town's main street.

Freed said he and others contended bikes are now using the drive and will continue to do so in the future. Thus the town should make safe provision for them during reconstruction.

Several proposals were offered, he said, including extra wide sidewalks to accomodate both bike and pedestrian traffic and restricted parking during daylight hours so bikes could travel along parking lanes.

However, he said, the commission — "with some justification" — balked at any implication that the town sanction bike lanes since to do so would possibly open the town to litigation in case of an accident.

Monday's discussion grew out of commission consideration of landscaping criteria to be used by architects in beautifying the strip.

Town Mgr. Ronald E. Bartels said the commission deferred any action until after landscaping plans have been submitted. The plans are due for town council consideration May 3.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission also:

REZONING — Denied, then recsinded and continued to its next meeting a rezoning request from Earle and Solvason Realty for property at 626 Tamalpais Drive. The site is zoned for residential use but the real estate firm would like it zoned for professional offices.

SIGNS — Approved two free-standing sign applications submitted by Standard Oil Company for stations located at 90 Corte Madera Center and 706 Tamalpais Drive. The signs, originally requested to be 80 and 47 square feet in size, were approved for 47 and 36 square feet.

TOWNHOUSE — Approved an application for design review submitted by San Rafael contractor Horst Hanf for a proposed eight unit townhouse complex at 39 Pixley Avenue.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT — Received a 1971-72 capital improvement plan — as requested by town departments — totaling about $300,000 most of which is gas tax funds. About $125,000 will be used for reconstruction of Tamalpais Drive and $113,000 for paving of Meadowsweet Drive.

Apprentice Chief Picked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — James E. Stratten, former president of the San Francisco Board of Education and a campaign chairman last year for Dr. Max Rafferty, was appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan today as state chief of apprenticeship standards.

The job pays $24,312. He replaces Charles Hanna, whom Reagan's press office said has resigned from the chief's position he has held since 1955 but will continue to serve in the Division of Apprenticeship Standards.

Stratten, a Republican, has been a member of the California Youth Authority Board for the past two years.

Federal Funds Eyed For Park Purchases

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission has urged the city council to apply for federal funding to buy and maintain parks in the city under a new program being considered by Congress.

Parks and Recreation Director Don L. Dimitratos said commissioners voted Monday to make the application before the April 30 deadline.

If approved by Congress, the program would cover half the cost of acquiring and developing open space in established neighborhoods where the most intense use can be expected.

The commission also accepted in principle the design of a park along Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio, which will be developed by Peter C. Heywood in conjunction with 68 condominiums planned for land near La Goma Street and Sycamore Avenue.

Dimitratos said Heywood plans to landscape the creek area, build two small ponds and then deed the park to the city.

Park Opening Hoped In Fall

A park at La Tercera School may be ready for use in the fall, the Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association heard Monday night.

Petaluma City Councilman Fred V. Mattei, also a member of the city's recreation, music and parks commission, said high priority has been given to developing the park.

The homeowners association has offered to donate labor to build the park and told Mattei that one of its members is a landscape architect who would be willing to assist in planning it. Mattei said he hoped a city service club would donate money to buy play equipment.

Cancer Canvass For Marin Planned

Cancer Crusade volunteers will begin canvassing Marin County April 23 in a house-to-house drive to distribute leaflets listing cancer's seven warning signals, the Marin County branch of the American Cancer Society announced.

Slated to end April 23, the drive also is aimed at collecting contributions for support of the society's services to cancer patients and their families.

NEW START AT MARSHALL U.

Prospective members of the Marshall University football team were led onto the field by their new coach, Jack Lengyel (right) for start of spring practice yesterday. Thirty-six Marshall football players and head coach Rick Tolley were among 75 persons killed Nov. 14 when the team's chartered airplane crashed while returning from a game against East Carolina at Greenville, N.C.

Willie McCovey Sidelined Two Days, Maybe More

Dr. E. C. Sailer, team physician of the San Francisco Giants, instructed McCovey Tuesday night to miss games today and Thursday against Houston at Candlestick Park.

Sailer said McCovey is suffering from damage to the medial collateral ligament of the left knee. He added that there could be torn cartilage in the knee, in which case McCovey would be lost to the Giants for several weeks.

"It doesn't look like the cartilage is injured, but it's hard to determine at this time," Sailer said. "We will know more in a few days."

Sailer's announcement came after the Giants' game Tuesday night against the San Diego Padres was rained out. The game has yet to be rescheduled.

McCovey, who has only three hits in 21 at-bats this season, hurt his knee last Sunday while swinging against Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals.

A major factor in the Giants' 1971 pennant hopes, McCovey blasted 39 home runs and added 126 runs batted in last year.

Now in his 13th season with San Francisco, McCovey trails only Willie Mays an Mel Ott on the all-time Giants' home run list. He has smashed 352 career homers and has belted at least 31 roundtrippers in seven of the last eight years.

McCovey led the National League with a .612 slugging percentage last season and gained such respect among opposing pitchers that he also led the league with 137 walks.

During McCovey'slsence, Frank Johnson will start at first base for the Giants. Johnson has compiled a .228 career batting average while seeing spot duty for five years with San Francisco.

The Astros, in town only for a couple of games, moved to within percentage points of the first place Giants Tuesday night by whipping St. Louis 8-4.

The Chicago Cubs will come into Candlestick Park for a four-game weekend series and the Cardinals will wind up San Francisco's current homestand with a three-game set next week.

Another Streak Comes To An End

I don't know if other journals mentioned it, but an almost unbelieveable baseball streak came to an end last week in San Diego.

When Willie Mays of the Giants hit his grand slam home run against the Padres Thursday, semi-retired radio-TV sports announcer Russell Patrick Hodges of Mill Valley did not see it.

This is big news because Mr. Hodges had seen every one of the 630 previous homers hit by Mays during his fabulous career in the major leagues. And Russell Patrick is the only man who can make that statement.

Hold on a minute, you say? Didn't Mr. Mays see all of his own home runs? Nope, Willie admits that on occasions he was running with his head down and did not actually see the ball sailing over the outfield fences.

During a recent gabfest I asked Hodges if at times he wasn't away from the broadcast booth on an emergency run to the biffy when Mays homered and he replied: "Nope! Luckily I was on the job. I missed only seven games out of the 3,350 games played during the Mays era, but Willie didn't hit a homer in any of them."

To make up for the home run he did not see, Hodges will receive a film of the grand slam from the Giants' Boosters Club at its monthly dinner in Fairfax on April 21.

And on the following night, the busy Hodges will be guest speaker at the Radio KTIM Sportsmen's Club Banquet at Sabella's in Mill Valley, honoring the outstanding athletes in Marin high schools.

ONE OF the happiest men at Candlestick Park Tuesday for the Giants' opener was San Rafael's John Taddeucci, the promotions director for the San Francisco Club.

Looking natty in his Giants' orange blazer, Taddeucci was rubbing his hands with glee as Candlestick Park is undergoing a major renovation that will make it a fine major league park and the Giants are off to a great start, Mays is hitting and some fine looking rookies are giving the City probably its best all-around club in more than a decade.

All these things will make Taddeucci's job of promoting the sale of tickets a lot easier.

His next big promotion is "Bat Day" Saturday in which all youngsters aged 14 and under will receive a free, autographed bat. Wiltshire Towers, for one, is carting a load of kids to the game and there are still tickets left, according to Shaun Wiltshire of the San Rafael motel.

HIS LEGION of Marin fans will like to know that former Terra Linda High School hurdles champion Lowell Harris will be in the Bay Area this weekend with Oregon State's track and field team to vie with Stanford at Palo Alto Saturday, 1:15 p.m. Harris won the high boards race against Washington State last weekend.

I KNOW WHY the Giants won their home opener so easily (5-0) over San Diego. The umpires, whose luggage was lost by an airlines, had to borrow togs from the Giants, including caps with big, orange "S.F." emblazoned on them. Imagine how the Padres felt with that staring them in the faces.

Costly Hockey Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) —Emile Francis, coach and general manager of the New York Rangers, was still seething today upon learning that his club and the Toronto Maple Leafs had been fined a record total of $16,550 by National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell.

"A guy gave me an envelope about five minutes before the game started," Francis said Tuesday night after the Rangers had whipped the Leafs 3-1 to take a 3-2 edge in their Stanley Cup quarter-final series.

"I knew what was in it and there's no way I was going to open it up then. Not until I get home, relax and take my shoes off. Heck, I have a lot of friends in Long Beach (where he lives) and maybe I'll start a tag day (community collection). I've been to all the synagogues and churches there, the people all know me."

Each team was fined $5,000 for a pair of brawls near the end of last Thursday's game here and in addition individual Ranger players were fined a total of $3,300 and the Leafs $3,250. Although no one was hurt in the brawling, Campbell termed it one of the most "derogatory spectacles which the league has produced in recent years."

Brad Park of New York and Darryl Sittler of Toronto received the highest individual fines of $450 each, including $200 for leaving the penalty box. Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin was assessed $400 for twice leaving the net to join the free-for-alls and Mike Pelyk of Toronto also was fined $400 for being the first member of his team to leave the bench.

"I can't understand why we were fined the same amount as Toronto," Francis said. "This was only the second time all season we ever left our bench while Toronto has done it four times. The penalties are supposed to build up for this kind of thing.

"There's only one way to stop the players from clearing the bench. Let them suspend the first, or second or even the first three players who do it. Then we'll see how many guys are in a hurry to leave the bench."

Oddly, Vic Hadfield was not fined for picking up Toronto goalie Bernie Parent's face mask and tossing it into the seats. The mask, valued at $150, never was recovered. Hadfield was fined $250, $50 for continuing to fight after being pulled away and $200 for being ejected from the game.

Giacomin also was shocked at the severity of the fines but managed a smile when he said, "I told you Campbell was my friend. I'm going to ask him for an income tax receipt. When I donate to charity I always get a receipt, and I expect one from him.

"All I did was skate down the ice a couple of times. Of course, the second time I managed to get in a little punch. But I thought the fine for something like this was $100, and I can't remember having done it before this season."

A'S FUTURE SUPER STAR

Great Job By Vida Blue

Blue was 14-3 combined in the minors and at Oakland last year. His 2-0 record at Oakland included a no-hitter and onehitter in six games.

Now a ripe old 21 years of age, Blue tossed his second straight shutout Tuesday when he stopped Milwaukee on two hits. It was also the A's second straight blank job over the Brewers, who fell to Rollie Fingers Monday by a 5-0 count.

What punch the A's managed in the 2-0 win was supplied by Joe Rudi and Don Mincher. Rudi scored both runs and Minchar knocked him in both times.

Blue's performance was almost matched by rookie Brewer pitcher Bill Parsons, who tossed a six-hitter in his major league debut.

Blue was knocked out in the opener at Washington and fanned 13 Kansas City Royals in a game last Friday that was halted by rain after six innings.

Blue warmed up in the gusty 38-degree weather Tuesday wearing two sweatshirts, but he said later he managed to get "really loose. I was really perspiring. I threw 99 per cent fast balls."

He fanned five and walked two in fashioning his masterpiece. Bernie Smith and Phil Roof got the Brewer hits.

The A's now move in against the Minnesota Twins, whom they are expected to battle for the American League West title this time around.

Novato Hurler Blanks Tam; Other Games Washed Out

Rain washed out three of four Marin County Athletic League baseball games yesterday and abbreviated the other one, but not before Mike Lamb had hurled a one-hitter through four and one-half innings to give the Novato High School Hornets a 4-0 victory over Tamalpais at Novato.

Games between Redwood and San Marin at Novato, and Marin Catholic and San Rafael at Albert Park were called before their appointed starting times, but Terra Linda and Drake got in two-plus innings at San Anselmo before being halted with Terra Linda ahead, 2-0. All three games will be made up today at 4 p.m.

Lamb, in picking up his second straight MCAL win without a loss, put on a dazzling strikeout show by fanning 12 of the 16 batters he faced, including 10 of the first 11. The only hit off him came in the fourth inning, when Tim Nowell hit a squibber to second base and beat it out.

On the believe-it-or-not side, the stocky lefthander struck out four batters in the second inning. A passed ball by catcher Dennis Stanley allowed a Tam runner to reach first after a third strike.

The Hornets spread six hits among as many batters. Bill Busher was the big man as he clubbed a double and scored a pair of runs.

Novato, in running its record to 3-0, takes a half game lead over also-undefeated Terra Linda.

PREP SWIMMING

Sharks Eat Up Minnows

It was a case of sharks eating minnows yesterday in the Marin County Athletic League swim race as first place Terra Linda, second place Redwood and third place Novato crushed weaker opponents with ease.

Terra Linda High School coach Bob Pollitt did not use his awesome talent to produce double winners as he might have, but the Trojans crushed San Marin High anyway, 81-14 in Novato. Only sprinter Bruce Fromberg swam his specialties, the 50 and 100-yard freestyles, and these he won, to stand with Rick DeMont as the only Trojan double winners.

Redwood High School had three double winners in a 69-26 win over San Rafael, with Brian Hennesy, Paul Cane, and Freshman star Spencer Eldred accounting for six wins between themselves.

The Novato Hornets also had three double winners, as Roger Rechsteiner, Mike Smith, and Gary Ferris nailed down two wins apiece in a 65-24 rout of Drake.

Terra Linda Golfers Win

The Terra Linda High School golf team fought two battles yesterday - one against the weather, and one against the Tamalpais High School golfers, and, in the end, emerged the victors in both.

The Trojan golfers squeezed in the relation nine holes before the skies caved in, and managed to defeat highly regarded Tam, 207-211.

The win gives Terra Linda first place in the Marin County Athletic League with a 3-0 won-lost mark.

Bulls' Dick Motta Gets Last Laugh

NEW YORK (UPI) —Dick Motta has had the last laugh on those who said he would not be able to make the transition from a college basketball coach to a professional one.

The 39-year-old Motta Tuesday was named Coach of the Year in the National Basketball Association for guiding the Chicago Bulls to their first winning season.

Motta, who came to the Bulls three years ago from Weber State College where he coached for eight years, received 30 votes in a balloting of three sports writers from each of the 17 NBA member cities.

Larry Costello, who directed the Milwaukee bucks to the Midwest Division title, finished second with 11 votes and Al Attles of the San Francisco Warriors was third with three votes.

Red Holzman of the New York Knicks, winner of the award a year ago, got two votes and Bob Cousy of Cincinnati, Joe Mullaney of Los Angeles, Jack Ramsay of Philadelphia, Rolland Todd of Portland and Lenny Wilkens of Seattle got one each.

The Bulls, although eliminated in seven games by Los Angeles in the first round of the playoffs, finished second to Milwaukee in the tough Midwest Division during the regular season with a 51-31 record. It marked the first time the Bulls had gone over the .500 mark since the team joined the league in 1966.

"Winning this honor is a great thing, but I'd feel better if we had beaten Los Angeles in the playoffs," said Motta. "It's nice to have a team that would allow this honor to happen. I guess I can look back at it 20 years from now and say how wrong these people were who told me I couldn't make the successful transition from college to pro coach."

"'Dick has two big things going for him. He knows how to communicate with his players and he knos what to communicate. He had made himself a part of the involvement or togetherness any team must create," said the coach.

Powerful Bucks To Go Against Limping Lakers

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—The Big Green Machine from Wisconsin—otherwise known as the Milwaukee Bucks—can put one more nail in the coffin of the injury-depleted Los Angeles Lakers tonight.

The Lakers will be without Keith Erickson in addition to Jerry West and Elgin Baylor in the third game of the teams' best-of-seven semifinal playoff series.

The Bucks won by 21 and 18 points in the first two contests at Milwaukee with Erickson, the Lakers' standout forward-guard, missing Sunday's game with what he thought was stomach cramps. He underwent surgery for removal of his appendix Sunday night.

There doesn't appear much the Lakers can do against the team that lost only 16 NBA regular season games and then took four out of five from San Francisco in its initial playoff series.

Frazier Sets New Date For Tahoe Show

STATELINE (UPI)—Now Joe Frazier's twice-postponed singing appearance at King's Castle in the Lake Tahoe area is set for April 29-30 and May 1.

"This time it's definite," said a spokesman. "He has the okay from doctors and has been working out, musically speaking, with his group."

Bullets, Knicks Vie In Baltimore

Will they be the same Bullets who ran out of gas in the last period of the first two Eastern Confernce losses to New York or will they be the Bullets who ran the Knicks out of the Baltimore Civic Center Sunday afternoon?

The injury-riddled Bullets faltered in the end and lost both games in New York but looked like a different team Sunday in humilialing the Knicks 114-88 in the third game of their best-of seven series.

NEW START AT MARSHALL U.

Prospective members of the Marshall University football team were led onto the field by their new coach, Jack Lengyel (right) for start of spring practice yesterday. Thirty-six Marshall football players and head coach Rick Tolley were among 75 persons killed Nov. 14 when the team's chartered airplane crashed while returning from a game against East Carolina at Greenville, N.C.

Willie McCovey Sidelined Two Days, Maybe More

Dr. E. C. Sailer, team physician of the San Francisco Giants, instructed McCovey Tuesday night to miss games today and Thursday against Houston at Candlestick Park.

Sailer said McCovey is suffering from damage to the medial collateral ligament of the left knee. He added that there could be torn cartilage in the knee, in which case McCovey would be lost to the Giants for several weeks.

"It doesn't look like the cartilage is injured, but it's hard to determine at this time," Sailer said. "We will know more in a few days."

Sailer's announcement came after the Giants' game Tuesday night against the San Diego Padres was rained out. The game has yet to be rescheduled.

McCovey, who has only three hits in 21 at-bats this season, hurt his knee last Sunday while swinging against Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals.

A major factor in the Giants' 1971 pennant hopes, McCovey blasted 39 home runs and added 126 runs batted in last year.

Now in his 13th season with San Francisco, McCovey trails only Willie Mays an Mel Ott on the all-time Giants' home run list. He has smashed 352 career homers and has belted at least 31 roundtrippers in seven of the last eight years.

McCovey led the National League with a .612 slugging percentage last season and gained such respect among opposing pitchers that he also led the league with 137 walks.

During McCovey'slsence, Frank Johnson will start at first base for the Giants. Johnson has compiled a .228 career batting average while seeing spot duty for five years with San Francisco.

The Astros, in town only for a couple of games, moved to within percentage points of the first place Giants Tuesday night by whipping St. Louis 8-4.

The Chicago Cubs will come into Candlestick Park for a four-game weekend series and the Cardinals will wind up San Francisco's current homestand with a three-game set next week.

Another Streak Comes To An End

I don't know if other journals mentioned it, but an almost unbelieveable baseball streak came to an end last week in San Diego.

When Willie Mays of the Giants hit his grand slam home run against the Padres Thursday, semi-retired radio-TV sports announcer Russell Patrick Hodges of Mill Valley did not see it.

This is big news because Mr. Hodges had seen every one of the 630 previous homers hit by Mays during his fabulous career in the major leagues. And Russell Patrick is the only man who can make that statement.

Hold on a minute, you say? Didn't Mr. Mays see all of his own home runs? Nope, Willie admits that on occasions he was running with his head down and did not actually see the ball sailing over the outfield fences.

During a recent gabfest I asked Hodges if at times he wasn't away from the broadcast booth on an emergency run to the biffy when Mays homered and he replied: "Nope! Luckily I was on the job. I missed only seven games out of the 3,350 games played during the Mays era, but Willie didn't hit a homer in any of them."

To make up for the home run he did not see, Hodges will receive a film of the grand slam from the Giants' Boosters Club at its monthly dinner in Fairfax on April 21.

And on the following night, the busy Hodges will be guest speaker at the Radio KTIM Sportsmen's Club Banquet at Sabella's in Mill Valley, honoring the outstanding athletes in Marin high schools.

ONE OF the happiest men at Candlestick Park Tuesday for the Giants' opener was San Rafael's John Taddeucci, the promotions director for the San Francisco Club.

Looking natty in his Giants' orange blazer, Taddeucci was rubbing his hands with glee as Candlestick Park is undergoing a major renovation that will make it a fine major league park and the Giants are off to a great start, Mays is hitting and some fine looking rookies are giving the City probably its best all-around club in more than a decade.

All these things will make Taddeucci's job of promoting the sale of tickets a lot easier.

His next big promotion is "Bat Day" Saturday in which all youngsters aged 14 and under will receive a free, autographed bat. Wiltshire Towers, for one, is carting a load of kids to the game and there are still tickets left, according to Shaun Wiltshire of the San Rafael motel.

HIS LEGION of Marin fans will like to know that former Terra Linda High School hurdles champion Lowell Harris will be in the Bay Area this weekend with Oregon State's track and field team to vie with Stanford at Palo Alto Saturday, 1:15 p.m. Harris won the high boards race against Washington State last weekend.

I KNOW WHY the Giants won their home opener so easily (5-0) over San Diego. The umpires, whose luggage was lost by an airlines, had to borrow togs from the Giants, including caps with big, orange "S.F." emblazoned on them. Imagine how the Padres felt with that staring them in the faces.

Costly Hockey Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) —Emile Francis, coach and general manager of the New York Rangers, was still seething today upon learning that his club and the Toronto Maple Leafs had been fined a record total of $16,550 by National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell.

"A guy gave me an envelope about five minutes before the game started," Francis said Tuesday night after the Rangers had whipped the Leafs 3-1 to take a 3-2 edge in their Stanley Cup quarter-final series.

"I knew what was in it and there's no way I was going to open it up then. Not until I get home, relax and take my shoes off. Heck, I have a lot of friends in Long Beach (where he lives) and maybe I'll start a tag day (community collection). I've been to all the synagogues and churches there, the people all know me."

Each team was fined $5,000 for a pair of brawls near the end of last Thursday's game here and in addition individual Ranger players were fined a total of $3,300 and the Leafs $3,250. Although no one was hurt in the brawling, Campbell termed it one of the most "derogatory spectacles which the league has produced in recent years."

Brad Park of New York and Darryl Sittler of Toronto received the highest individual fines of $450 each, including $200 for leaving the penalty box. Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin was assessed $400 for twice leaving the net to join the free-for-alls and Mike Pelyk of Toronto also was fined $400 for being the first member of his team to leave the bench.

"I can't understand why we were fined the same amount as Toronto," Francis said. "This was only the second time all season we ever left our bench while Toronto has done it four times. The penalties are supposed to build up for this kind of thing.

"There's only one way to stop the players from clearing the bench. Let them suspend the first, or second or even the first three players who do it. Then we'll see how many guys are in a hurry to leave the bench."

Oddly, Vic Hadfield was not fined for picking up Toronto goalie Bernie Parent's face mask and tossing it into the seats. The mask, valued at $150, never was recovered. Hadfield was fined $250, $50 for continuing to fight after being pulled away and $200 for being ejected from the game.

Giacomin also was shocked at the severity of the fines but managed a smile when he said, "I told you Campbell was my friend. I'm going to ask him for an income tax receipt. When I donate to charity I always get a receipt, and I expect one from him.

"All I did was skate down the ice a couple of times. Of course, the second time I managed to get in a little punch. But I thought the fine for something like this was $100, and I can't remember having done it before this season."

A'S FUTURE SUPER STAR

Great Job By Vida Blue

Blue was 14-3 combined in the minors and at Oakland last year. His 2-0 record at Oakland included a no-hitter and onehitter in six games.

Now a ripe old 21 years of age, Blue tossed his second straight shutout Tuesday when he stopped Milwaukee on two hits. It was also the A's second straight blank job over the Brewers, who fell to Rollie Fingers Monday by a 5-0 count.

What punch the A's managed in the 2-0 win was supplied by Joe Rudi and Don Mincher. Rudi scored both runs and Minchar knocked him in both times.

Blue's performance was almost matched by rookie Brewer pitcher Bill Parsons, who tossed a six-hitter in his major league debut.

Blue was knocked out in the opener at Washington and fanned 13 Kansas City Royals in a game last Friday that was halted by rain after six innings.

Blue warmed up in the gusty 38-degree weather Tuesday wearing two sweatshirts, but he said later he managed to get "really loose. I was really perspiring. I threw 99 per cent fast balls."

He fanned five and walked two in fashioning his masterpiece. Bernie Smith and Phil Roof got the Brewer hits.

The A's now move in against the Minnesota Twins, whom they are expected to battle for the American League West title this time around.

Novato Hurler Blanks Tam; Other Games Washed Out

Rain washed out three of four Marin County Athletic League baseball games yesterday and abbreviated the other one, but not before Mike Lamb had hurled a one-hitter through four and one-half innings to give the Novato High School Hornets a 4-0 victory over Tamalpais at Novato.

Games between Redwood and San Marin at Novato, and Marin Catholic and San Rafael at Albert Park were called before their appointed starting times, but Terra Linda and Drake got in two-plus innings at San Anselmo before being halted with Terra Linda ahead, 2-0. All three games will be made up today at 4 p.m.

Lamb, in picking up his second straight MCAL win without a loss, put on a dazzling strikeout show by fanning 12 of the 16 batters he faced, including 10 of the first 11. The only hit off him came in the fourth inning, when Tim Nowell hit a squibber to second base and beat it out.

On the believe-it-or-not side, the stocky lefthander struck out four batters in the second inning. A passed ball by catcher Dennis Stanley allowed a Tam runner to reach first after a third strike.

The Hornets spread six hits among as many batters. Bill Busher was the big man as he clubbed a double and scored a pair of runs.

Novato, in running its record to 3-0, takes a half game lead over also-undefeated Terra Linda.

PREP SWIMMING

Sharks Eat Up Minnows

It was a case of sharks eating minnows yesterday in the Marin County Athletic League swim race as first place Terra Linda, second place Redwood and third place Novato crushed weaker opponents with ease.

Terra Linda High School coach Bob Pollitt did not use his awesome talent to produce double winners as he might have, but the Trojans crushed San Marin High anyway, 81-14 in Novato. Only sprinter Bruce Fromberg swam his specialties, the 50 and 100-yard freestyles, and these he won, to stand with Rick DeMont as the only Trojan double winners.

Redwood High School had three double winners in a 69-26 win over San Rafael, with Brian Hennesy, Paul Cane, and Freshman star Spencer Eldred accounting for six wins between themselves.

The Novato Hornets also had three double winners, as Roger Rechsteiner, Mike Smith, and Gary Ferris nailed down two wins apiece in a 65-24 rout of Drake.

Bulls' Dick Motta Gets Last Laugh

NEW YORK (UPI) —Dick Motta has had the last laugh on those who said he would not be able to make the transition from a college basketball coach to a professional one.

The 39-year-old Motta Tuesday was named Coach of the Year in the National Basketball Association for guiding the Chicago Bulls to their first winning season.

Motta, who came to the Bulls three years ago from Weber State College where he coached for eight years, received 30 votes in a balloting of three sports writers from each of the 17 NBA member cities.

Larry Costello, who directed the Milwaukee bucks to the Midwest Division title, finished second with 11 votes and Al Attles of the San Francisco Warriors was third with three votes.

Red Holzman of the New York Knicks, winner of the award a year ago, got two votes and Bob Cousy of Cincinnati, Joe Mullaney of Los Angeles, Jack Ramsay of Philadelphia, Rolland Todd of Portland and Lenny Wilkens of Seattle got one each.

The Bulls, although eliminated in seven games by Los Angeles in the first round of the playoffs, finished second to Milwaukee in the tough Midwest Division during the regular season with a 51-31 record. It marked the first time the Bulls had gone over the .500 mark since the team joined the league in 1966.

"Winning this honor is a great thing, but I'd feel better if we had beaten Los Angeles in the playoffs," said Motta. "It's nice to have a team that would allow this honor to happen. I guess I can look back at it 20 years from now and say how wrong these people were who told me I couldn't make the successful transition from college to pro coach."

"Dick has two big things going for him. He knows how to communicate with his players and he knos what to communicate. He had made himself a part of the involvement or togetherness any team must create," said the coach.

Vida Blue New 'Boy Wonder'

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Vida Blue is baseball's new "boy wonder" —a pitcher with so much natural talent that he appears to have no limitations.

The 21-year old smoke thrower from Mansfield, La., who pitched a no-hitter and a one-hitter last September, turned in another spectacular performance Tuesday when he hurled a two-hitter in the Oakland Athletics' 2-0 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Blue was kayoed in less than two innings by the Washington Senators on April 5 but on April 9 he pitched a three-hitter and struck out 13 batters in a six-inning victory over Kansas City.

Baseball history is filled with spectacular performances by rookies and other young pitchers such as Bobo Holloman who pitched a no-hitter in his first start, Karl Spooner striking out 15 batters in his debut and Tommy Phoebus pitching two consecutive shutouts at the start of his career. But Blue's rash of low-hit, high-strikeout performances probably can't be surpassed until the baseball fan goes back in history to Johnny Vander Meer's two consecutive no-hitters as a rookie in 1938.

A six-foot, 185-pound left-hander, who had a brilliant baseball and football career at Temple High School in Mansfield, Blue has been marked for stardom since he was signed by the Athletics in 1967. He was brought up prematurely in 1969 and had a 6.21 earned run average in 42 innings but in 1970 had a 12-3 record for Iowa and was the American Association's pitcher of the year. Hall of Famer Joe DiMaggio has been one of his biggest boosters and has been credited for at least part of his development.

"There is no telling how good he can become," said Manager Dick Williams of the Athletics after Tuesday's performance. "His fast ball moves so much and Tuesday it wasn't moving as well as at other times. He's a big key to our ball club."

Kansas City beat the Minnesota Twins, 5-3, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Washington Senators, 5-3, the California Angels edged the Chicago White Sox 3-1, and New York beat Detroit 5-2 in other American League games. Baltimore at Cleveland was rained out.

Paul Schaal's run-scoring double off reliever Stan Williams triggered a three-run fifth inning rally which led the Royals to their victory over the Twins. Lou Piniella padded the lead with a two-run single off Ron Perranoski in the seventh.

Boston's Sonny Sierbert picked up his first victory of the season, with ninth-inning relief help from Sparky Lyle. Denny McLain, in his second so-so performance of the season, was tagged for four earned runs and seven hits in five innings.

Ken McMullen doubled and pinch-runner Chico Ruiz scored the tie-breaking run on a single by Billy Cowan in the 10th inning for the Angels, who scored a second run in the frame on a fielder's choice. Reliver Dave LaRoche picked up the victory while Vicente Romo, who pitched to only two batters in the 10th, was the loser.

Stan Bahnsen scattered 11 hits, including a homer by Norm Cash, and tripled in a fifth-inning run for the Yankees, who dealt Joe Niekro his second straight loss for the Tigers. Roy White homered for one Yankee run and scored another on a single by Danny Cater. The crowd of 34,745 was the Yankees' largest home opening day turnout since 1966.

Esposito, Nanne Score Key Goals

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Ever since Phil Esposito and Lou Nanne packed up their bags and left Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, signalling an end to their childhoods, they have had little in common.

Esposito has gone on to break all kinds of National Hockey League scoring records, including 76 goals and 152points this season, while Nanne took a four-year detour to study at the University of Minnesota before beginning his professional career.

But the boyhood chums shared a common bond of joy Tuesday night when each scored a key goal to lead their teams to victories in Stanley Cup competition. Esposito put Boston in front for good with a first-period goal as the Bruins beat the Montreal Canadiens 7-3 and Nanne scored the winning goal with only 3:35 left to play to give the Minnesota North Stars a 4-3 triumph over the St. Louis Blues.

The victories gave Boston and Minnesota 3-2 leads in their respective series, leaving them just one victory short of gaining the semifinals.

The New York Rangers also took a 3-2 advantage in the quarter-finals by defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 behind the near-perfect goaltending of Ed Giacomin. The Chicago Black Hawks already are through to the semis, having eliminated Philadelphia in four games.

All action will resume Thursday night with games at Montreal, Minnesota and Toronto.

"I was just lucky," Nanne said of his goal, his first ever in Stanley Cup play. "When Glenn Hall stopped me on a shot in the second period on a rebound by Danny Grant, I told myself 'I'll never score in this series.'

"Then in the third period I was yelling for (Murray) Oliver to pass the puck to me, but the crowd was yelling so loud that he couldn't hear me and he took the shot. Hall made the save and I was lucky to get the rebound with Hall out of position."

Jude Droin scored two goals for the North Stars and Craig Cameron had a pair for St. Louis. The game was tied at 3-3 from the 9:43 mark of the second period, when Wayne Connelly scored for the Blues, until Nanne sent home his winner.

After Wayne Cashman of Boston and Yvan Cournoyer of Montreal exchanged early goals, Esposito tucked away his third of the series at 9:32 of the opening period to put the Bruins in front 2-1. Mike Walton scored before the end of the session and John McKenzie and Ed Westfall scored in the second period to boost the Boston margin to 5-1.

The Canadiens struck back in the final period on goals by Frank Mahovlich and John Ferguson, but Johnny Bucyk and Ken Hodge, both with their first goals of the series, retaliated for Boston.

Ted Irvine started the Rangers off with a goal just 34 seconds after the game started and Vic Hadfield and Bobby Nevin stretched the margin to 3-0 before Jim McKenny got Toronto's goal at 13:42 of the final period, ending Ed Giacomin's shutout bid.

Alessios In Federal Prison

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Millionaire John Alessio, the executive director of Caliente race track, and his brother Angelo were in federal prison today, serving terms for evading nearly $1 million in income taxes.

John, who began as a shoeshine boy and became Mr. San Diego in 1964, was sentenced to three years and Angelo, an auto dealer, was sentenced to one year Tuesday by U.S. District Judge Bruce Thompson.

He also fined each of them $20,000 on the charges to which they unexpectedly pleaded guilty during their trial on a 31-count indictment brought by a federal grand jury.

"It would be a perversion of justice" to grant probation, said Thompson.

The brothers were driven directly from court to Terminal Island Federal Detention Center in San Pedro, where they spent the night.

"I have been a good citizen for 60 years and I have served Mexico for 40 years. I'm sure whatever decision you make, judge, I will abide by it," said John, former sponsor of the annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children of Tijuana, Mexico.

"I did wrong," choked brother Angelo, 53.

The two, along with brothers Russell, 64, and Tony, 50, and John's son Dominic, 28, were accused in the federal grand jury indictment of evading $929,395 in income taxes.

John and Angelo stunned observers during their trial by abruptly changing pleas of innocent to pleas of guilty. John admitted evading $10,798.08 in income taxes and failing to report $15,413.26 in income. Angelo admitted evading $9,155.28 in taxes and failing to report $16,759.81, both in 1966. The remaining charges against them as well as those against the other three were dismissed.

Specific charges against the Alessios were that they drew money from the Caliente race track account in Tijuana and used it to pay for personal goods and services plus their other enterprises.

No Knee Surgery For Cubs' Hundley

CHICAGO (UPI)—A preliminary examination indicated today that Chicago Cubs' catcher Randy Hundley will not have to undergo surgery on his injured right knee.

Dr. Jacob Suker, Cubs' team physician, said the cartilage appears to be intact. "At the moment, no surgery is contemplated," he said.

Suker said more x-rays would be taken before a final decision is made. He said he could not predict when Hundley would be ready to rejoin the lineup.

It's Fun To Win, Say The Pirates

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Pittsburgh Pirates are employing the same philosophy this season that the Cincinnati Reds did last season when they won the National League pennant —namely, stay loose and have fun.

The implications of this attitude are that if you're relaxed and enjoying yourself it should lead to a positive result on the field. So far, it appears to be working for the Pirates.

Not renown as a long ball hitting team, the Pirates Tuesday night unloaded five home runs in Philadelphia's new Veteran Stadium and crushed the Phillies 9-3 for their fifth victory in seven games.

Jackie Hernandez and Manny Sanguillen blasted three-run homers and Willie Stargell, Bob Robertson and winning pitcher Nelson Briles added solo blasts as the Pirates boosted their home run output for the season to 10. Last year the Pirates hit only 10 homers during the entire month of April.

"It's all just a part of having fun," said Stargell, who has hit five homers so far. "We're loose. We try to have some fun, win or lose, and as a result we win. Everybody is picking the other guy up. There is no pressure here.

"The big thing tonight is the fact nobody was trying to hit one out. Manny had two on and two out ... Jackie had two on and two out... both were trying to meet the ball for a base hit. I think they were more surprised than anybody when they went out."

In other National League games, Cincinnati edged Atlanta 5-4, Houston defeated St. Louis 8-4, Montreal beat New York 4-1, Chicago downed Los Angeles 3-2 and San Diego at San Francisco was postponed because of rain.

Hernandez' homer was the big blow for the Pirates. It snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning and was followed by Briles' second major league homer. Hernandez, filling in for the injured Gene Alley at shortstop, has collected 12 hits in 27 at bats and is the only Pirate to hit in all seven games.

"It's a big difference coming from a second division club to a contender," said Hernandez, who was with Kansas City in the AL last season. "It's a lot more fun when you win. This is a real easy team to play with."

Reliever Joe Gibbon bailed Cincinnati out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth inning by getting Hal King to hit into a double play as the Reds won their second in a row after four losses. Johnny Bench hit his third homer in two nights to pace Cincinnati's attack and Hank Aaron hit his 595th career homer for the Braves.

Norm Miller's three-run homer and Joe Morgan's two-run single ignited a five-run ninth inning as Houston rallied to defeat St. Louis Bob Watson also homered for the Astros.

Steve Renko went the distance to beat the Mets for the second straight time and once again got batting support from batterymate John Bateman. Bateman, who drove in three runs when Renko beat the Mets last week, hit a homer in the second inning as the Expos made a successful home debut.

Jose Ortiz scored the tie-breaking run on Don Kessinger's eighth-inning single as the Cubs rallied to beat the Dodgers. Oritz walked and was sacrificed to second before Kessinger's key hit, which saddled Dodger ace Bill Singer with his third consecutive loss without a victory.

"Then in the third period I was yelling for (Murray) Oliver to pass the puck to me, but the crowd was yelling so loud that he couldn't hear me and he took the shot. Hall made the save and I was lucky to get the rebound with Hall out of position."

Jude Droin scored two goals for the North Stars and Craig Cameron had a pair for St. Louis. The game was tied at 3-3 from the 9:43 mark of the second period, when Wayne Connelly scored for the Blues, until Nanne sent home his winner.

After Wayne Cashman of Boston and Yvan Cournoyer of Montreal exchanged early goals, Esposito tucked away his third of the series at 9:32 of the opening period to put the Bruins in front 2-1. Mike Walton scored before the end of the session and John McKenzie and Ed Westfall scored in the second period to boost the Boston margin to 5-1.

The Canadiens struck back in the final period on goals by Frank Mahovlich and John Ferguson, but Johnny Bucyk and Ken Hodge, both with their first goals of the series, retaliated for Boston.

Ted Irvine started the Rangers off with a goal just 34 seconds after the game started and Vic Hadfield and Bobby Nevin stretched the margin to 3-0 before Jim McKenny got Toronto's goal at 13:42 of the final period, ending Ed Giacomin's shutout bid.

Alessios In Federal Prison

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Millionaire John Alessio, the executive director of Caliente race track, and his brother Angelo were in federal prison today, serving terms for evading nearly $1 million in income taxes.

John, who began as a shoeshine boy and became Mr. San Diego in 1964, was sentenced to three years and Angelo, an auto dealer, was sentenced to one year Tuesday by U.S. District Judge Bruce Thompson.

He also fined each of them $20,000 on the charges to which they unexpectedly pleaded guilty during their trial on a 31-count indictment brought by a federal grand jury.

"It would be a perversion of justice" to grant probation, said Thompson.

The brothers were driven directly from court to Terminal Island Federal Detention Center in San Pedro, where they spent the night.

"I have been a good citizen for 60 years and I have served Mexico for 40 years. I'm sure whatever decision you make, judge, I will abide by it," said John, former sponsor of the annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children of Tijuana, Mexico.

"I did wrong," choked brother Angelo, 53.

The two, along with brothers Russell, 64, and Tony, 50, and John's son Dominic, 28, were accused in the federal grand jury indictment of evading $929,395 in income taxes.

John and Angelo stunned observers during their trial by abruptly changing pleas of innocent to pleas of guilty. John admitted evading $10,798.08 in income taxes and failing to report $15,413.26 in income. Angelo admitted evading $9,155.28 in taxes and failing to report $16,759.81, both in 1966. The remaining charges against them as well as those against the other three were dismissed.

Specific charges against the Alessios were that they drew money from the Caliente race track account in Tijuana and used it to pay for personal goods and services plus their other enterprises.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

It's Fun To Win, Say The Pirates

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Pittsburgh Pirates are employing the same philosophy this season that the Cincinnati Reds did last season when they won the National League pennant —namely, stay loose and have fun.

The implications of this attitude are that if you're relaxed and enjoying yourself it should lead to a positive result on the field. So far, it appears to be working for the Pirates.

Not renown as a long ball hitting team, the Pirates Tuesday night unloaded five home runs in Philadelphia's new Veteran Stadium and crushed the Phillies 9-3 for their fifth victory in seven games.

Jackie Hernandez and Manny Sanguillen blasted three-run homers and Willie Stargell, Bob Robertson and winning pitcher Nelson Briles added solo blasts as the Pirates boosted their home run output for the season to 10. Last year the Pirates hit only 10 homers during the entire month of April.

"It's all just a part of having fun," said Stargell, who has hit five homers so far. "We're loose. We try to have some fun, win or lose, and as a result we win. Everybody is picking the other guy up. There is no pressure here.

"The big thing tonight is the fact nobody was trying to hit one out. Manny had two on and two out ... Jackie had two on and two out... both were trying to meet the ball for a base hit. I think they were more surprised than anybody when they went out."

In other National League games, Cincinnati edged Atlanta 5-4, Houston defeated St. Louis 8-4, Montreal beat New York 4-1, Chicago downed Los Angeles 3-2 and San Diego at San Francisco was postponed because of rain.

Hernandez' homer was the big blow for the Pirates. It snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning and was followed by Briles' second major league homer. Hernandez, filling in for the injured Gene Alley at shortstop, has collected 12 hits in 27 at bats and is the only Pirate to hit in all seven games.

"It's a big difference coming from a second division club to a contender," said Hernandez, who was with Kansas City in the AL last season. "It's a lot more fun when you win. This is a real easy team to play with."

Reliever Joe Gibbon bailed Cincinnati out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth inning by getting Hal King to hit into a double play as the Reds won their second in a row after four losses. Johnny Bench hit his third homer in two nights to pace Cincinnati's attack and Hank Aaron hit his 595th career homer for the Braves.

Norm Miller's three-run homer and Joe Morgan's two-run single ignited a five-run ninth inning as Houston rallied to defeat St. Louis Bob Watson also homered for the Astros.

Steve Renko went the distance to beat the Mets for the second straight time and once again got batting support from batterymate John Bateman. Bateman, who drove in three runs when Renko beat the Mets last week, hit a homer in the second inning as the Expos made a successful home debut.

Jose Ortiz scored the tie-breaking run on Don Kessinger's eighth-inning single as the Cubs rallied to beat the Dodgers. Oritz walked and was sacrificed to second before Kessinger's key hit, which saddled Dodger ace Bill Singer with his third consecutive loss without a victory.

A Different Team, Says Bob Heise

Bob Heise, a quiet but most observant young man, was asked if he saw any difference in attitude between the Giants of 1971 and the Giants of last season when he joined the ball club as a rookie.

"A world of difference," said Heise. "There's a closeness between the players this year. There was considerable griping last spring and it carried over into the season. We were a happy ball club coming out of spring training this year."

HEISE DIDN'T go into the whys and wherefores of the change in attitude but most Giant fans already know the reason — elimination of a personality clash between Clyde King and Willie Mays. When the manager of a ball club and its team captain can't get along it is inevitable that all players ultimately feel the tension.

The Giants of 1970 began to relax last May when King was fired and Charlie Fox took over as manager. But by that time they were so far off the pace of the runaway Cincinnati Reds that they already were out of the 1970 race.

IT WAS understandable why Heise made no mention of the basic reason for the change in attitude between this year's and last year's Giants. Smart young men, such as Heise, don't go around popping off about delicate situations.

But what about himself? Was he really happy as a utility hand? After all, the Giants got him from the Mets in a winter trade in 1969 to play shortstop if he could take the job away from Hal Lanier. In fact, he did have the job temporarily in the opening weeks of the 1970 campaign.

"I'M CALLED A utility," said Heise, "but I consider myself a member of the ball club. Yes, I am happy."

Heise didn't cite a lot of corny stuff about riding the bench with dignity and keeping himself ready for emergency duty. And he didn't say he was like any other ball player who preferred being in a daily lineup.

In one year Heise has changed considerably. He was sort of wide-eyed with wonderment when the Giants obtained him from the Mets. "It's sort of like a dream come true," he said then. "Believe it or not, I've always wanted to play with the Giants ever since I was a little kid."

HEISE WAS an ecstatic rookie. Now, at 23, he is a second-year man with a mature kind of happiness in the role he plays for the Giants.

Heise didn't get much mention this spring but he demonstrated in Cactus League exhibition games that he will be a most useful fellow to have around when a utility glove is needed at second, short or third.

Great Way Found To Up Attendance

SEATTLE (UPI) — The University of Washington has found a way of improving attendance at its baseball games — six pretty batgirls wearing shorts.

Attendance has jumped from past years, when there often were fewer fans in the stands than players in the dugouts.

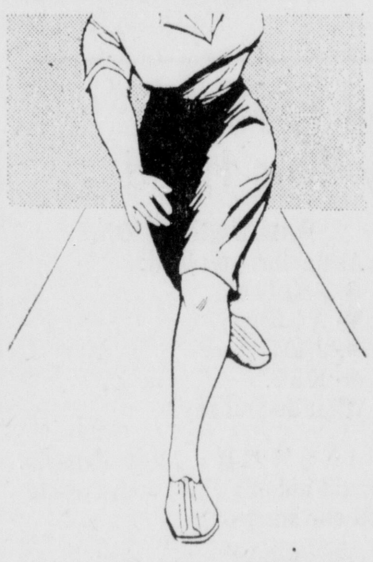
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Occasionally for no apparent reason a bowler will lose her hook. A way to get the hook back is to deliberately throw a wide curve in practice, then work back to the moderate hook you want. Today's bowler will probably get a big hook because her hand was well to the right of the ball at release. Later she can move her hand toward a position more behind the ball until the proper hook returns.

Cold Ending On Raiders' Schedule

OAKLAND (UPI)—It's Oakland at Kansas City Dec. 12 and at Denver Dec. 19 in a chilly windup to the 1971 season.

Raider boss Al Davis said that the official 1971 NFL schedule which shows Oakland ending at the two cold cities reminded him of "the Battle of Stalingrad."

The schedule obviously reflected the A's sharing of the Coliseum with the Oakland A's. Thus they will open with three games on the road.

Business Magazine Bobbles The Ball

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Spring is officially here.

Baseball is reported to be on its deathbed...that's right, again... only this time the awful news comes like it never has before, amply documented with impressive figures and with expert opinions from some of the heavyweight thinkers of our time.

Bearer of the sad tidings this time around is Forbes Magazine.

Forbes undisputably is one of the more influential financial magazines and its accuracy generally leaves little room for question but it bobbled the ball any number of times this trip.

On the cover of its April issue Forbes shows a picture of the kind of baseball you'd be ashamed to let kid play with. The cover of the ball is ripped, the stitching has long since come apart and some of the yarn already is hanging out.

Only six words are on the magazine cover and those six words say: Baseball —The Beat Up National Sport.

Then when you turn to the feature article inside the heading reads: "Who Says Baseball Is Like Ballet? Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, that's who. Which may be why baseball is losing out as the great national sport.

A little further along there's a table listing all the major league clubs and such other information as the key owner of each club, what other business he's in besides baseball, how much of a profit or loss his club showed last year, and any change in the value of his franchise since he acquired it.

There also are opinions pertaining to how long baseball has yet to go from such experts as Thomas Dockerty, a gentleman from Scotland whose real bag is soccer, and Dr. Joyce Brothers, the eminent psychologist who can also tell you what's causing your daughter's pimples.

The only expert really missing is Howard Cosell and I'm a little surprised Forbes didn't check with him because I never feel I have the definitive opinion on anything, especially pertaining to baseball, until I've heard from Howard Cosell.

Thomas Dockerty says flatly, "Baseball will be dead in 20 years," and if the name Thomas Dockerty escapes you maybe it's only because you don't follow soccer that closely. Dockerty came over here from Scotland a few years ago trying to make big-time soccer go in the U.S. You saw how far it went. Before returning to Scotland, Dockerty took time out to make his prediction about baseball. Suddenly he's an expert, too.

But let's look at some of the other things Forbes has to say

Comment: It sure came apart, all right. Major League baseball drew 28.6-million last year —more than the National Football Conference, the American Football Conference, the National Basketball Association, the American Basketball Association, and the National Hockey League combined.

Quote: "Ewing M. Kauffman, owner of the Kansas City Royals, says 'anyone would be idiotic to go into baseball as an investment.'"

Comment: So how come New Orleans, Dallas, Toronto and Buffalo keep clamoring for a major league baseball francise? I've met those people and they don't look like idiots to me. Besides, I never heard Ewing Kauffman say he's interested in selling.

Quote: "Where are the heroes? The fans loved Babe Ruth, Bob Feller and Joe DiMaggio. Now team ball dominates."

Comment: I dunno. It seems to me a lot of kids still go gaga about such ballplayers as Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, Johnny Bench, Brooks Robinson, Carl Yastrzemski, Tom Seaver, Bob Gibson, Frank Robinson and Al Kaline to name only a few. Cesar Cedeno and Nate Colbert keep picking up followers every day, too.

Forbes muffed some others, too, like "promoting" Frank Lucchesi from field manager of the Phillies to general manager and reporting Houston Astros turned only a $100,000 profit last year when they'll tell you themselves they made $1.5 million, but I will admit the magazine was correct in saying baseball does resist rule changes that would speed up the game.

I look at it this way —even religion has made some changes, which should tell baseball something. My faith in the game is such though I have every confidence it won't.

Record Attendance In A.L. Openers

BOSTON (UPI) — The 12 American League baseball teams drew a record of more than 426,000 fans to their respective home openers and included four opening day attendance records by individual clubs.

League officials said Tuesday the 426,311 was the highest in the three years since the circuit was expanded to 12 teams. The 1970 turnout was 349,262 while 314,009 saw AL openers in 1969.

The Detroit Tigers set the pace with a club record for a home opener of 54,089. The crowd was the Tigers' biggest since the 1961 season.

Other club records for opening day attendance were set in Chicago, 43,253; Milwaukee for an AL team of 40,566; and Kansas City, 32,728.

Other home opener attendances in the various cities included a near-record 45,061 in Washington, another near-mark of 34,517 in Boston, 18,823 in Minnesota, 24,434 in California, 34,811 at Baltimore, 22,822 in Oakland, 40,462 in Cleveland and, on Tuesday, 34,7745 at Yankee Stadium.

JACK HANLEY

A Different Team, Says Bob Heise

Bob Heise, a quiet but most observant young man, was asked if he saw any difference in attitude between the Giants of 1971 and the Giants of last season when he joined the ball club as a rookie.

"A world of difference," said Heise. "There's a closeness between the players this year. There was considerable griping last spring and it carried over into the season. We were a happy ball club coming out of spring training this year."

HEISE DIDN'T go into the whys and wherefores of the change in attitude but most Giant fans already know the reason — elimination of a personality clash between Clyde King and Willie Mays. When the manager of a ball club and its team captain can't get along it is inevitable that all players ultimately feel the tension.

The Giants of 1970 began to relax last May when King was fired and Charlie Fox took over as manager. But by that time they were so far off the pace of the runaway Cincinnati Reds that they already were out of the 1970 race.

IT WAS understandable why Heise made no mention of the basic reason for the change in attitude between this year's and last year's Giants. Smart young men, such as Heise, don't go around popping off about delicate situations.

But what about himself? Was he really happy as a utility hand? After all, the Giants got him from the Mets in a winter trade in 1969 to play shortstop if he could take the job away from Hal Lanier. In fact, he did have the job temporarily in the opening weeks of the 1970 campaign.

"I'M CALLED A utility," said Heise, "but I consider myself a member of the ball club. Yes, I am happy."

Heise didn't cite a lot of corny stuff about riding the bench with dignity and keeping himself ready for emergency duty. And he didn't say he was like any other ball player who preferred being in a daily lineup.

In one year Heise has changed considerably. He was sort of wide-eyed with wonderment when the Giants obtained him from the Mets. "It's sort of like a dream come true," he said then. "Believe it or not, I've always wanted to play with the Giants ever since I was a little kid."

HEISE WAS an ecstatic rookie. Now, at 23, he is a second-year man with a mature kind of happiness in the role he plays for the Giants.

Heise didn't get much mention this spring but he demonstrated in Cactus League exhibition games that he will be a most useful fellow to have around when a utility glove is needed at second, short or third.

Great Way Found To Up Attendance

SEATTLE (UPI) — The University of Washington has found a way of improving attendance at its baseball games — six pretty batgirls wearing shorts.

Attendance has jumped from past years, when there often were fewer fans in the stands than players in the dugouts.

Cold Ending On Raiders' Schedule

OAKLAND (UPI)—It's Oakland at Kansas City Dec. 12 and at Denver Dec. 19 in a chilly windup to the 1971 season.

Raider boss Al Davis said that the official 1971 NFL schedule which shows Oakland ending at the two cold cities reminded him of "the Battle of Stalingrad."

The schedule obviously reflected the A's sharing of the Coliseum with the Oakland A's. Thus they will open with three games on the road.

The schedule: Sept. 19—at New England. Sept. 26—at San Diego Oct. 4—at Cleveland. Oct. 10—Denver Oct. 17—Philadelphia Oct. 24—Cincinnati Oct. 31—Kansas City Nov. 7—at New Orleans Nov. 14—Houston Nov. 21—San Diego Nov. 28—Baltimore Dec. 5—at Atlanta Dec. 12—at Kansas City Dec. 19—at Denver

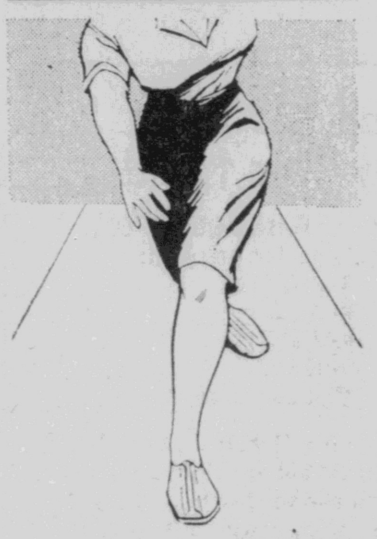
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Occasionally for no apparent reason a bowler will lose her hook. A way to get the hook back is to deliberately throw a wide curve in practice, then work back to the moderate hook you want. Today's bowler will probably get a big hook because her hand was well to the right of the ball at release. Later she can move her hand toward a position more behind the ball until the proper hook returns.

Business Magazine Bobbles The Ball

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Spring is officially here.

Baseball is reported to be on its deathbed...that's right, again... only this time the awful news comes like it never has before, amply documented with impressive figures and with expert opinions from some of the heavyweight thinkers of our time.

Bearer of the sad tidings this time around is Forbes Magazine.

Forbes undisputably is one of the more influential financial magazines and its accuracy generally leaves little room for question but it bobbled the ball any number of times this trip.

On the cover of its April issue Forbes shows a picture of the kind of baseball you'd be ashamed to let kid play with. The cover of the ball is ripped, the stitching has long since come apart and some of the yarn already is hanging out.

Only six words are on the magazine cover and those six words say: Baseball —The Beat Up National Sport.

Then when you turn to the feature article inside the heading reads: "Who Says Baseball Is Like Ballet? Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, that's who. Which may be why baseball is losing out as the great national sport.

A little further along there's a table listing all the major league clubs and such other information as the key owner of each club, what other business he's in besides baseball, how much of a profit or loss his club showed last year, and any change in the value of his franchise since he acquired it.

There also are opinions pertaining to how long baseball has yet to go from such experts as Thomas Dockerty, a gentleman from Scotland whose real bag is soccer, and Dr. Joyce Brothers, the eminent psychologist who can also tell you what's causing your daughter's pimples.

The only expert really missing is Howard Cosell and I'm a little surprised Forbes didn't check with him because I never feel I have the definitive opinion on anything, especially pertaining to baseball, until I've heard from Howard Cosell.

Thomas Dockerty says flatly, "Baseball will be dead in 20 years," and if the name Thomas Dockerty escapes you maybe it's only because you don't follow soccer that closely. Dockerty came over here from Scotland a few years ago trying to make big-time soccer go in the U.S. You saw how far it went. Before returning to Scotland, Dockerty took time out to make his prediction about baseball. Suddenly he's an expert, too.

But let's look at some of the other things Forbes has to say

Comment: It sure came apart, all right. Major League baseball drew 28.6-million last year —more than the National Football Conference, the American Football Conference, the National Basketball Association, the American Basketball Association, and the National Hockey League combined.

Quote: "Ewing M. Kauffman, owner of the Kansas City Royals, says 'anyone would be idiotic to go into baseball as an investment.'"

Comment: So how come New Orleans, Dallas, Toronto and Buffalo keep clamoring for a major league baseball francise? I've met those people and they don't look like idiots to me. Besides, I never heard Ewing Kauffman say he's interested in selling.

Comment: I dunno. It seems to me a lot of kids still go gaga about such ballplayers as Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, Johnny Bench, Brooks Robinson, Carl Yastrzemski, Tom Seaver, Bob Gibson, Frank Robinson and Al Kaline to name only a few. Cesar Cedeno and Nate Colbert keep picking up followers every day, too.

Forbes muffed some others, too, like "promoting" Frank Lucchesi from field manager of the Phillies to general manager and reporting Houston Astros turned only a $100,000 profit last year when they'll tell you themselves they made $1.5 million, but I will admit the magazine was correct in saying baseball does resist rule changes that would speed up the game.

I look at it this way —even religion has made some changes, which should tell baseball something. My faith in the game is such though I have every confidence it won't.

Record Attendance In A.L. Openers

BOSTON (UPI) — The 12 American League baseball teams drew a record of more than 426,000 fans to their respective home openers and included four opening day attendance records by individual clubs.

League officials said Tuesday the 426,311 was the highest in the three years since the circuit was expanded to 12 teams. The 1970 turnout was 349,262 while 314,009 saw AL openers in 1969.

The Detroit Tigers set the pace with a club record for a home opener of 54,089. The crowd was the Tigers' biggest since the 1961 season.

Other club records for opening day attendance were set in Chicago, 43,253; Milwaukee for an AL team of 40,566; and Kansas City, 32,728.

Other home opener attendances in the various cities included a near-record 45,061 in Washington, another near-mark of 34,517 in Boston, 18,823 in Minnesota, 24,434 in California, 34,811 at Baltimore, 22,822 in Oakland, 40,462 in Cleveland and, on Tuesday, 34,7745 at Yankee Stadium.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, April 14, the 104th day of 1971.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Aries.

British antarctic explorer Sir James Clark Ross was born April 14, 1800.

On this day in history:

In 1861 the flag of the Confederacy was raised over Fort Sumter, S.C., as Union troops inside surrendered.

In 1865 John Wilkes Booth crept into the box of President Abraham Lincoln at Ford Theater in Washington D.C., and fatally shot him. Lincoln died the next morning.

In 1910 President William Howard Taft set a precedent by throwing out the first ball to open the major league baseball season.

In 1965 Frank Mitchell, 15, became the first Negro page boy in the U.S. House of Representatives.

A thought for today: British novelist Dinah Craik said, "Oh, my son's my son till he gets him a wife, but my daughter's my daughter all her life."

Nomination Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon plans to nominate Nathaniel P. Reed, Hobe Sound, Fla., one-time science and environmental adviser to former Florida Gov. Claude Kirk Jr., to be assistant interior secretary.

The Standard Lead Is Not The Best — Study This Hand

"Some of your readers have remarked on the fact that your South player is dealt more than his share of the high cards," a correspondent points out. "They have overlooked something about the West hand. He always has a simple opening lead, such as the top of a sequence or a powerful long suit. Doesn't West ever have problems, like the rest of us mortals?"

Opening lead — ♣ Q

STANDARD LEAD?

West thought he had no problem in the hand shown today. Who could ask for a more "standard" opening lead than the queen of clubs? All who agree, kindly say "Aye."

West's standard opening lead allowed South to make his contract. South won with the ace of clubs, led the low diamond to dummy's king and returned dummy's singleton spade.

East stepped up with the ace of spades, cashed the ace of hearts and led a second round of hearts to South's nine. South ruffed a spade in dummy, returned to his hand with the ace of diamonds and ruffed another spade with dummy's last trump. Then he ruffed a diamond, drew the last outstanding trump, cashed the king of spades and took his 10th trick with the jack of spades.

READ BIDDING

West should read the bidding before he chooses his opening lead. Dummy has shown no enthusiasm for spades but can afford to invite game when hearts are mentioned. It is quite likely that dummy is short in spades and that a trump opening lead is needed to stop the game.

LEADS TRUMP

If West leads a trump, East can take the ace of hearts and lead a second heart. East gets in with the ace of spades and leads a third heart. Now South can ruff only one spade in the dummy and must therefore lose a second spade trick. This is enough to defeat the contract.

ANSWER: Most experts would bid one club; some would bid one spade.

The trouble with the "normal" opening bid of one spade is that you must bid two notrump if partner's response is two of a new suit; and this is a slight overbid. If you open with one club, you can bid either one spade or one no-trump at your second turn, thus describing your hand somewhat more accurately.

The Standard Lead Is Not The Best — Study This Hand

"Some of your readers have remarked on the fact that your South player is dealt more than his share of the high cards," a correspondent points out. "They have overlooked something about the West hand. He always has a simple opening lead, such as the top of a sequence or a powerful long suit. Doesn't West ever have problems, like the rest of us mortals?"

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, April 14, the 104th day of 1971.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Aries.

British antarctic explorer Sir James Clark Ross was born April 14, 1800.

On this day in history:

In 1861 the flag of the Confederacy was raised over Fort Sumter, S.C., as Union troops inside surrendered.

In 1865 John Wilkes Booth crept into the box of President Abraham Lincoln at Ford Theater in Washington D.C., and fatally shot him. Lincoln died the next morning.

In 1910 President William Howard Taft set a precedent by throwing out the first ball to open the major league baseball season.

In 1965 Frank Mitchell, 15, became the first Negro page boy in the U.S. House of Representatives.

A thought for today: British novelist Dinah Craik said, "Oh, my son's my son till he gets him a wife, but my daughter's my daughter all her life."

Nomination Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon plans to nominate Nathaniel P. Reed, Hobe Sound, Fla., one-time science and environmental adviser to former Florida Gov. Claude Kirk Jr., to be assistant interior secretary.

Dow Can Indicate Political Cycles

by ROGER E. SPEAR

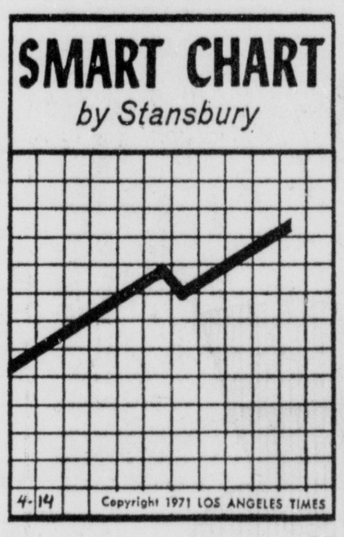
Q. It seems to me I read somewhere that the stock market usually rises in pre-presidential election years. Is this accurate? It is certainly true this year. — C.W.

A. Earlier this year, my staff made a detailed study which confirmed the close correlation between market action and election cycles. The study covered the years from 1937 through ehe present, a period encompassing eight full presidential terms.

In only one term, 1937-1940, did the pre-election or third year fail to show a gain. In that year — 1939 — mounting threats of war were reflected in the market and the DOW Industrial Average declined 2.9%. The next seven political cycles showed the Dow gaining in each third year. For these eight years the Dow gained an average of 16.3%. By comparison, the average decline for the first years of the four year terms (including 1969) was 1.2%. Second and fourth years showed gains of 2.8% and 2.2%, respectively.

For purposes of comparison a similar study was compiled of Gross National Product (in constant dollars) and money supply. GNP scored the greatest gains in the third and fourth years, while money supply was the most plentiful in the second and third years. Both the money supply and stock market rose from the first year to a peak in the third. GNP took a full year longer to gather the steam necessary to reach a third year peak and this momentum carried it over into a fourth strong year.

The logic of these results is evident. It takes at least one year for a more liberalized monetary policy to be translated into higher production, thus the lag. And in reverse, reduced liquidity similarly fails to effectively curb business activity for about twelve months. The stock market, however, is more closely reflective of changes in monetary policies and is considered a leading indicator.



"No, Ace . . . not we, OR the IRS will pay for your new golf clubs."

Stocks Turn Up After Mixed Start

NEW YORK (UPI) —The stock market, mixed during the first hour Wednesday, turned higher near noon in fairly active trading.

Advances and declines were running about even, but major market indicators generally pointed slightly higher, with steels, airlines and motors in good demand.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was ahead 0.04 at 103.02.

Strength in the automotive group followed a report by General Motors Corp. of sharply higher sales of cars and commercial vehicles for the first 10 days of April. GM said they were a record for any April 1-10 selling period.

Prices were steady in brisk lrading on the American Stock Exchange.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

New Tax Form 1040X To Be Used If Original Return Is In Error

If, after you have filed your tax return, you find you made a mistake, you should immediately file an amended return. Claim the refund due because of the mistake, or pay the additional tax you owe.

We have a new form — 1040X to be used for filing amended returns.

You can still use Claim form 843 or the old form 1040 to amend an individual income tax return. However, Uncle Sam prefers that you use the new form 1040X.

1040X is designed to expedite data processing so its use could result in your getting any additional refund sooner.

1040X is used to amend individual income tax returns only and is not to be used for any other purpose.

It there is any additional tax due for 1970 and the amended return is filed and additional tax paid by April 15, 1971, there will be no penalty or interest.

If you find that you would have done better to itemize your deductions instead of using the standard deduction, you can still amend your return. If you used the standard deduction for 1967, 1968 or 1969, you can still file an amended return and itemize your deductions.

If there is a refund due, an amended return will get it for you.

You can file an amended return at any time and pay an additional tax.

You can file an amended return and claim any additional refunds any time within three years of the due date of the return you wish to amend, or within two years from the time you paid the tax — whichever is the longer period.

There is no reason for you to pay more taxes than the law requires or be timid in taking every deduction permitted by the rules.

Your tax return should contain a full and clear explanation of every item and you should keep available all papers, bills, checks, receipts, etc., in connection with your return.

Uncle Sam has many sources of information concerning your income besides your tax return. In addition, returns are now being processed by computers and compared with certain standards established by the IRS.

More than ever before, it is important that your income tax return be completely and accurately prepared. Your careful attention to the details of your tax return can save both you and the government needless time and expense answering questions the computers will generate if your return is inaccurate or incomplete.

A few extra minutes spent checking your tax return before you send it in could save you hours of explaining later in the year.

Marin Dealership Named For Wankel-Engined Mazda Autos

A new San Rafael dealership for Mazda automobiles has been appointed, with vehicles to be made available about the middle of May.

To be known as Marin Mazda, it is headed by Roland A. Bacci as president, who is also president of Mercedes-Benz of Marin. Marin Mazda, a separate corporation, will be located at 575 Francisco Boulevard, near the Mercedes-Benz showrooms. It will occupy the building once used by Rossi Motors for the display of International cars and trucks.

Mazda cars are manufactured by Toyo Kogyo, Ltd. of Japan. Models to be on sale include the RX-2 coupe, RX-2 four-door sedan and the R-100 sport coupe —all powered by the new rotary engine. The Mazda 616 coupe and four-door sedan and 1200 sport coupe, economy cars built with conventional piston engines, will also be available.

The rotary engine, developed in Germany by Wankel and now licensed for production by Toyo Kogyo, has fewer than half the parts of a conventional engine and is said to offer smooth, vibration-free performance.

Bacci and his service manager will complete a special training course for dealers to be held by Mazda Motors of America, Inc. at Compton.

Dow Can Indicate Political Cycles

by ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. It seems to me I read somewhere that the stock market usually rises in pre-presidential election years. Is this accurate? It is certainly true this year. — C.W.

A. Earlier this year, my staff made a detailed study which confirmed the close correlation between market action and election cycles. The study covered the years from 1937 through ehe present, a period encompassing eight full presidential terms.

In only one term, 1937-1940, did the pre-election or third year fail to show a gain. In that year — 1939 — mounting threats of war were reflected in the market and the DOW Industrial Average declined 2.9%. The next seven political cycles showed the Dow gaining in each third year. For these eight years the Dow gained an average of 16.3%. By comparison, the average decline for the first years of the four year terms (including 1969) was 1.2%. Second and fourth years showed gains of 2.8% and 2.2%, respectively.

For purposes of comparison a similar study was compiled of Gross National Product (in constant dollars) and money supply. GNP scored the greatest gains in the third and fourth years, while money supply was the most plentiful in the second and third years. Both the money supply and stock market rose from the first year to a peak in the third. GNP took a full year longer to gather the steam necessary to reach a third year peak and this momentum carried it over into a fourth strong year.

The logic of these results is evident. It takes at least one year for a more liberalized monetary policy to be translated into higher production, thus the lag. And in reverse, reduced liquidity similarly fails to effectively curb business activity for about twelve months. The stock market, however, is more closely reflective of changes in monetary policies and is considered a leading indicator.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

New Tax Form 1040X To Be Used If Original Return Is In Error

If, after you have filed your tax return, you find you made a mistake, you should immediately file an amended return. Claim the refund due because of the mistake, or pay the additional tax you owe.

We have a new form — 1040X to be used for filing amended returns.

You can still use Claim form 843 or the old form 1040 to amend an individual income tax return. However, Uncle Sam prefers that you use the new form 1040X.

1040X is designed to expedite data processing so its use could result in your getting any additional refund sooner.

1040X is used to amend individual income tax returns only and is not to be used for any other purpose.

It there is any additional tax due for 1970 and the amended return is filed and additional tax paid by April 15, 1971, there will be no penalty or interest.

If you find that you would have done better to itemize your deductions instead of using the standard deduction, you can still amend your return. If you used the standard deduction for 1967, 1968 or 1969, you can still file an amended return and itemize your deductions.

If there is a refund due, an amended return will get it for you.

You can file an amended return at any time and pay an additional tax.

You can file an amended return and claim any additional refunds any time within three years of the due date of the return you wish to amend, or within two years from the time you paid the tax — whichever is the longer period.

There is no reason for you to pay more taxes than the law requires or be timid in taking every deduction permitted by the rules.

Your tax return should contain a full and clear explanation of every item and you should keep available all papers, bills, checks, receipts, etc., in connection with your return.

Uncle Sam has many sources of information concerning your income besides your tax return. In addition, returns are now being processed by computers and compared with certain standards established by the IRS.

More than ever before, it is important that your income tax return be completely and accurately prepared. Your careful attention to the details of your tax return can save both you and the government needless time and expense answering questions the computers will generate if your return is inaccurate or incomplete.

A few extra minutes spent checking your tax return before you send it in could save you hours of explaining later in the year.

Stocks Turn Up After Mixed Start

NEW YORK (UPI) —The stock market, mixed during the first hour Wednesday, turned higher near noon in fairly active trading.

Advances and declines were running about even, but major market indicators generally pointed slightly higher, with steels, airlines and motors in good demand.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was ahead 0.04 at 103.02.

Strength in the automotive group followed a report by General Motors Corp. of sharply higher sales of cars and commercial vehicles for the first 10 days of April. GM said they were a record for any April 1-10 selling period.

Prices were steady in brisk trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Marin Dealership Named For Wankel-Engined Mazda Autos

A new San Rafael dealership for Mazda automobiles has been appointed, with vehicles to be made available about the middle of May.

To be known as Marin Mazda, it is headed by Roland A. Bacci as president, who is also president of Mercedes-Benz of Marin. Marin Mazda, a separate corporation, will be located at 575 Francisco Boulevard, near the Mercedes-Benz showrooms. It will occupy the building once used by Rossi Motors for the display of International cars and trucks.

Mazda cars are manufactured by Toyo Kogyo, Ltd. of Japan. Models to be on sale include the RX-2 coupe, RX-2 four-door sedan and the R-100 sport coupe —all powered by the new rotary engine. The Mazda 616 coupe and four-door sedan and 1200 sport coupe, economy cars built with conventional piston engines, will also be available.

The rotary engine, developed in Germany by Wankel and now licensed for production by Toyo Kogyo, has fewer than half the parts of a conventional engine and is said to offer smooth, vibration-free performance.

Bacci and his service manager will complete a special training course for dealers to be held by Mazda Motors of America, Inc. at Compton.

Teachers Ask Raise In Salaries, Costs

A 10-page list of requests, including a 6 per cent pay raise, a cost-of-living raise, the return of principals to the classroom and more district personnel, has been presented to the Mill Valley School District board by teachers.

Carroll D. Killingsworth, director of business services, said the teachers asked the board at its meeting Monday night to disucss the requests during contract negotiations for the 1971-72 school year.

Killingsworth said representatives of the board and teachers will meet to clarify the teachers' requests and then begin negotiations.

In addition to the pay and cost-of-living raises, teachers also asked a $300-per-year raise for teachers with Masters degrees; addition of a 12th step on the salary scale and a $500 per year raise for teachers with more than 11 years of experience, and termination pay for unused sick leave when a teacher leaves the district.

Teachers also asked that principals be returned to the classroom for a few hours per week; a 45-minute preparation period for elementary teachers, who now have no free time; a limit of 29 pupils per class in the lower grades, with a reduction of one pupil per class each year until classes average 25 pupils, and conducting all kindergarten classes in the morning.

Killingsworth said the teacher requested seven new reading specialists, a vocal music teacher and one half-time paraprofessional, or aide, for each full-time teacher.

In addition, Killingsworth said, teachers asked that the cost of drugs, eye care and life insurance be paid by the district and that present health and dental plans be continued.

Several minor requests, such as increasing the amount of money the district spends on supplies, also were made.

In other business, the board was upset, Killingsworth said, to learn that a 650-unit housing development was being planned for the Alto Hills east of Highway 101 without the board's knowledge.

Killingsworth said trustees directed letters to be sent to the county planning department, developer Warner Odenthal and to the City of Corte Madera telling of the board's "strong displeasure" at not having been notified of the project.

The district is interested in the development because it lies within the school district, even though the developer intends to deannex the property from the district and enter either the Reed or Larkspur-Corte Madera school district.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

HOLIDAY — Agreed to study a request to make Jan. 15, the anniversary of civil rights leader Martin Luther King's birthday, a school holiday.

SCHOOL — Heard that the Middle School is 24 per cent complete and that seven candidates for its principal are being screened by a selection committee.

GIFT — Accepted a $620 carpet for the Park School Library from a committee of three women who raised the money by showing films at the school.

GRANTS — Approved applications for federal grants to buy books, audiovisual equipment, maps and globes.

Cash Taken

An undetermined amount of cash was taken between 6 p.m. Sunday and 7 a.m. Monday from the safe at Hank's Gulf Station, 700 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo police said yesterday.

Large Swings To Be Removed From Tot Lot

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission has agreed to remove large swings from the tiny tot lot near Miller Creek School following complaints from neighbors that older students were taking the park over.

William A. Gordon, recreation director, said the seats would be removed from the swings in an attempt to discourage older elementary students from the park.

He said the swings, since being placed at the park three weeks ago, have stirred protests from disenchanted neighbors.

The commission Monday night also began preparations for this year's Fourth of July celebration and indicated it supported a program similar to last year's, Gordon said.

However, the commission agreed to make an all out effort to encourage the entire community to participate.

Business Appointee

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has appointed William D. Lee executive director of the new National Business Council for Consumer Affairs —a group which will try to settle consumer complaints through voluntary action by the business community.

Easter Weekend Parking Plan Reported A Failure

The City of Sausalito's test of a northern parking facility and shuttle bus service during the Easter weekend has been termed "a failure" by City Mgr. Albert St. Cyr who said no tourist used the lot during the two-day trial.

The city had contracted with the Golden Gate Bridge District to provide parking in the district's ferry parking lot near Harbor Drive and buses to the downtown every 20 minutes.

St. Cyr said he thought the test had failed for two reasons. He said the crowds expected to visit Sausalito during the Easter weekend failed to materialize. And, more importantly, he said, it failed because the city is enjoined from changing signs on Highway 101 to direct visitors into Sausalito from the north because of a lawsuits now in the courts.

Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla Inn in south Sausalito, sought an injunction against the sign change when she brought the suit because she felt the resigning would harm her business. The case went to trial in Marin Superior Court in January, but Judge Thomas F. Keating has not yet rendered a verdict.

"Unless we can encourage visitors to enter Sausalito from the north, a northern parking facility will not work," the city manager said. He was undismayed by the lack of visitor response to the northern lot and bus service, saying "Unless you try something, you'll never know if it will work."

No further test is planned, according to St. Cyr, at least until the freeway signs can be changes.

Credit Card Case Due Trial

John Stephen Heckenberg, 19, of San Francisco has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of credit card forgery.

A jury trial was set Monday for the week of June 21.

Heckenberg was arrested Sept. 20 when he reportedly tried to make a purchase at a Sausalito clothing store with a credit card which had been reported stolen or lost.

Innocent Plea In Dope Case

Randolph Tichenor Guerin, 24, of Larkspur, pleaded innocent Monday in Marin Superior Court to charges of possessing heroin and marijuana and a misdemeanor count of having a hypodermic needle.

A jury trial was set for the week of July 6. Guerin was arrested in a Larkspur lumber yard in January.

Five Councils Favor ABAG

A survey of Sonoma County cities has shown that five city councils favor continued membership in the Association of Bay Area Governments while two urge withdrawal.

William R. Lucius, chairman of the Sonoma County Mayors and Councilmens Association, reported that Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Sonoma, Healdsburg and Sebastopol have voted in favor of ABAG membership while Rohnert Park and Cloverdale favor withdrawal. The Cotati City Council has not taken action.

Lucius, Healdsburg mayor, polled the councils in regard to the April 20 vote to remove Sonoma County from ABAG membership and form a new alliance with North Bay counties.

Teachers Ask Raise In Salaries, Costs

A 10-page list of requests, including a 6 per cent pay raise, a cost-of-living raise, the return of principals to the classroom and more district personnel, has been presented to the Mill Valley School District board by teachers.

Carroll D. Killingsworth, director of business services, said the teachers asked the board at its meeting Monday night to disucss the requests during contract negotiations for the 1971-72 school year.

Killingsworth said representatives of the board and teachers will meet to clarify the teachers' requests and then begin negotiations.

In addition to the pay and cost-of-living raises, teachers also asked a $300-per-year raise for teachers with Masters degrees; addition of a 12th step on the salary scale and a $500 per year raise for teachers with more than 11 years of experience, and termination pay for unused sick leave when a teacher leaves the district.

Teachers also asked that principals be returned to the classroom for a few hours per week; a 45-minute preparation period for elementary teachers, who now have no free time; a limit of 29 pupils per class in the lower grades, with a reduction of one pupil per class each year until classes average 25 pupils, and conducting all kindergarten classes in the morning.

Killingsworth said the teacher requested seven new reading specialists, a vocal music teacher and one half-time paraprofessional, or aide, for each full-time teacher.

In addition, Killingsworth said, teachers asked that the cost of drugs, eye care and life insurance be paid by the district and that present health and dental plans be continued.

Several minor requests, such as increasing the amount of money the district spends on supplies, also were made.

In other business, the board was upset, Killingsworth said, to learn that a 650-unit housing development was being planned for the Alto Hills east of Highway 101 without the board's knowledge.

Killingsworth said trustees directed letters to be sent to the county planning department, developer Warner Odenthal and to the City of Corte Madera telling of the board's "strong displeasure" at not having been notified of the project.

The district is interested in the development because it lies within the school district, even though the developer intends to deannex the property from the district and enter either the Reed or Larkspur-Corte Madera school district.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

HOLIDAY — Agreed to study a request to make Jan. 15, the anniversary of civil rights leader Martin Luther King's birthday, a school holiday.

SCHOOL — Heard that the Middle School is 24 per cent complete and that seven candidates for its principal are being screened by a selection committee.

GIFT — Accepted a $620 carpet for the Park School Library from a committee of three women who raised the money by showing films at the school.

GRANTS — Approved applications for federal grants to buy books, audiovisual equipment, maps and globes.

Cash Taken

An undetermined amount of cash was taken between 6 p.m. Sunday and 7 a.m. Monday from the safe at Hank's Gulf Station, 700 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo police said yesterday.

Large Swings To Be Removed From Tot Lot

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission has agreed to remove large swings from the tiny tot lot near Miller Creek School following complaints from neighbors that older students were taking the park over.

William A. Gordon, recreation director, said the seats would be removed from the swings in an attempt to discourage older elementary students from the park.

He said the swings, since being placed at the park three weeks ago, have stirred protests from disenchanted neighbors.

The commission Monday night also began preparations for this year's Fourth of July celebration and indicated it supported a program similar to last year's, Gordon said.

However, the commission agreed to make an all out effort to encourage the entire community to participate.

Business Appointee

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has appointed William D. Lee executive director of the new National Business Council for Consumer Affairs —a group which will try to settle consumer complaints through voluntary action by the business community.

Easter Weekend Parking Plan Reported A Failure

The City of Sausalito's test of a northern parking facility and shuttle bus service during the Easter weekend has been termed "a failure" by City Mgr. Albert St. Cyr who said no tourist used the lot during the two-day trial.

The city had contracted with the Golden Gate Bridge District to provide parking in the district's ferry parking lot near Harbor Drive and buses to the downtown every 20 minutes.

St. Cyr said he thought the test had failed for two reasons. He said the crowds expected to visit Sausalito during the Easter weekend failed to materialize. And, more importantly, he said, it failed because the city is enjoined from changing signs on Highway 101 to direct visitors into Sausalito from the north because of a lawsuits now in the courts.

Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla Inn in south Sausalito, sought an injunction against the sign change when she brought the suit because she felt the re-signing would harm her business. The case went to trial in Marin Superior Court in January, but Judge Thomas F. Keating has not yet rendered a verdict.

"Unless we can encourage visitors to enter Sausalito from the north, a northern parking facility will not work," the city manager said. He was undismayed by the lack of visitor response to the northern lot and bus service, saying "Unless you try something, you'll never know if it will work."

No further test is planned, according to St. Cyr, at least until the freeway signs can be changes.

Credit Card Case Due Trial

John Stephen Heckenberg, 19, of San Francisco has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of credit card forgery.

A jury trial was set Monday for the week of June 21.

Heckenberg was arrested Sept. 20 when he reportedly tried to make a purchase at a Sausalito clothing store with a credit card which had been reported stolen or lost.

Innocent Plea In Dope Case

Randolph Tichenor Guerin, 24, of Larkspur, pleaded innocent Monday in Marin Superior Court to charges of possessing heroin and marijuana and a misdemeanor count of having a hypodermic needle.

A jury trial was set for the week of July 6. Guerin was arrested in a Larkspur lumber yard in January.

Five Councils Favor ABAG

A survey of Sonoma County cities has shown that five city councils favor continued membership in the Association of Bay Area Governments while two urge withdrawal.

William R. Lucius, chairman of the Sonoma County Mayors and Councilmens Association, reported that Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Sonoma, Healdsburg and Sebastopol have voted in favor of ABAG membership while Rohnert Park and Cloverdale favor withdrawal. The Cotati City Council has not take action.

Lucius, Healdsburg mayo polled the councils in regard the April 20 vote to remov Sonoma County from ABA membership and form a ne alliance with North Bay cou ties.

COMMUNIST CAPTIVE — A former U.S. soldier pretending to be a Viet Cong is carried away by his hands and legs by a group of Vietnam veterans opposed to the Indochina War who staged a mock search and destroy mission in the city hall plaza in Boston today. Dressed in battle fatigues and carrying toy machine guns, the longhaired, bearded soldiers startled a small crowd of early morning commuters. (UPI Telephoto)

Living Through War En Route To Work

BOSTON (UPI)—A group of Vietnam veterans, dressed in old combat fatigues, firing toy guns and hurling make-believe handgrenades, staged a mock search and destroy mission today in City Hall Plaza to protest the war in Indochina.

The nearly 30 bearded, long-haired ex-soldiers divided into platoons and fanned out through the plaza to converge on a subway station exit where they handed out antiwar literature to an early-morning rush-hour crowd of commuters.

Other antiwar veterans captured some of their non-uniformed colleagues who pretended to be Viet Cong.

"We wanted to give people some idea of what it's like when a U.S. infantry platoon sweeps through a village in Southeast Asia," said Beston Cram, a former Marine lieutenant. "Had this been a town in Vietnam, the dogs would be shot, the women raped, the men hauled off and interrogated and maybe shot, the crops destroyed, the town burned down and the community displaced."

Cram, a coordinator of Vietnam Veterans Against the War, said the search and destroy mission was held as "one of the first reconnaissance patrols" of the nationwide spring offensive against the Indochina war.

A brief April shower threatened to disrupt the demonstration, but to guard against the rain the veterans ran through the planning stage of the mission protected by umbrellas.

Police estimated the crowd that gathered to watch the demonstration at less than 100.

"What are they doing, playing soldier?" asked one onlooker.

Later in the day the veterans planned to conduct a mock war crimes trial and surrender their armed services medals at the John F. Kennedy federal building.

San Anselmo Council Picks Mayor

Kenneth L. Anderson, a member of the San Anselmo city council since 1968, was elected mayor last night by a unanimous vote of his fellow council members. (Another San Anselmo City Council Story, page 21)

Anderson, 47, succeeds James F. Reed, his running mate in the council election three years ago.

The new mayor and his wife, Irene have been San Anselmo residents for over 13 years. They have two sons, David, 12, and Donald, 9.

Previous to his election to the city council, Anderson spent two years as a member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission and was one of the original organizers of the San Anselmo Congress for Community Progress in 1966.

During World War 11 Anderson served in the Coast Guard.

Bagley Rejects Plea By Water District On Funds

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin Municipal Water District's plea for legislation to bypass the voters in raising money was rejected yesterday by Assemblyvan William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

His refusal to carry the legislation, however, left the district with the option of approaching another legislator. The district board was expected to consider this at its meeting this afternoon.

Bagley scored the water board's plea as "a case history in how not to propose and have passed legislation."

He especially criticized the board for proposing the legislation only one week before the deadline to draft legislation for this season, and said they should have discussed it informally with him first.

The assemblyman was irked by complaints last week from the district board that he had been the victim of "rigged questions" from the Independent-Journal about the board's plea. The board complained that because of the "rigged questions," Bagley was not prepared to answer them. Bagley said he did not appreciate the board "hoisting me on a petard in the press."

He said he had "to question their judgement" also for abandoning their previous pledge last November that an $11.5 million bond issue approved then was one of a series of fund-raising issues to be presented to the voters.

Bagley noted that "considerable opposition" to the proposed legislation had hit his office. Asked if he had received support for the legislation, he said, "I haven't heard of any."

He stressed that he was not "blaming this" on the district's

Gargiulo To Mayor Post In Novato

Joseph D. Gargiulo, principal of the Novato Adult Evening High School, was elected mayor of Novato last night succeeding resigning Mayor Douglas M. Merrill. (Another Novato City Council story, page 5.)

Gargiulo, a three-year council member and mayor pro tem for the past year, was elected by fellow councilmen moments after Merrill stepped down.

Councilmen bypassed naming a new council member from a field of seven applicants to complete Merrill's term, which ends next April.

When the matter of appointing a councilman came up on the agenda, Councilman J. Wayne Womack moved that it be continued two weeks, and fellow councilmen agreed.

Womack said later the appointment was delayed because the council hadn't been able to reach agreement.

Councilmen will interview each person interested in being appointed to the council, keeping the names of applicants secret, Gargiulo said.

The names of four candidates are known, but three are undisclosed, leading to rumor and speculation about their identity.

Merrill, who served on the council for seven years, left with commendation from fellow council members, the San Marin Improvement Association and the Marin County Board of Supervisors for his service.

As a gift from the council, he was presented with a plaque and his nameplate.

Councilman Wayne Sartain was named mayor pro tem.

Peking Welcomes U.S. Team

PEKING (UPI) — Premier Chou En-lai told a visiting American table tennis team today their trip to Communist China means "a new page" in relations with the Unized States.

Chou said that "more Americans will come in the future," including correspondents "in batches." U.S. journalists were allowed to accompany the 15-member team into China.

Today's meeting with Chou was the first such audience granted Americans since the Peoples' Republic was established 22 years ago.

The Chinese premier asked the American players "to return home with regards of the Chinese people to the American people" during his nearly two hour meeting with table tennis players from the United States, Canada, Colombia, Nigeria and Britain.

Nearly half of his talk was with the Americans.

China's top No. 2 leader, looking fit and much younger than his 73 years, made remarks on a wide field of subjects ranging from his opinion of hippies to the subject of U.S. correspondents in China.

To the Americans, the largest organized group of U.S. citizens ever to meet with Chou since he and Communist party chairman Mao Tse-tung established the Peoples' Republic of China in 1949, the premier said:

"In the past, there were lots of American friends in China, and you have made a new start. Americans will come in the future, including correspondents in batches.

"In the past there were many Sino-American exchanges. These have been cut off for a long time but with the accepting by you of China's invitation to visit our country, a new page has been opened in relations between our two peoples."

While Chinese and American television crews clustered around him with cameras and lights, Chou said "this renewal of friendship will meet with approval and support of our peoples. Do you agree?"

His reply was a burst of applause from the American players with the Canadians, Colombians, Nigerians and British joining in.

By way of emphasing China's position on American correspondents, the Chinese premier turned to one of the U.S. journalists present and observed that he had been in China before 1949 and that another American journalist also present during that period would arrive in Peking shortly.

Chou said, "Many American reporters want to come here but they cannot do so at the same time. However, they will come in batches."

Pointing up China's new look in seeking relations with foreign countries, the premier said to the Nigerian table tennis team, "China is interested in friendly relations with countries that do not recognize us. There is an old Chinese saying, 'When people travel to foreign coun-

Mansfield For Total Pullout

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today the United States ought to pull out of Indochina completely and revert to "the island chain concept of defense" in the Far Pacific.

Reporters asked Mansfield about Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's news conference statement Tuesday that U.S. naval and air power would have to remain in Southeast Asia after the Vietnam war ends.

"I'm against it," said Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a former university professor of Far Eastern affairs.

"We ought to pull out entirely from Indochina and Thailand as well," Mansfield said.

He was asked about Laird's assertion that U.S. naval and air strength would be required as a "realistic deterrent" to Communist aggression.

"The sooner we get back to the island chain concept of defense, the better for all concerned," Mansfield replied.

He was asked which islands he referred to.

"Japan, the Philippines and maybe Okinawa," he said.

Mansfield said this defense did not include Taiwan (Nationalist China) or the Chinese offshore islands —Quemoy, Matsu and the Pescadores. He said the islands are "in the province of the President under the Formosa Resolution."

The resolution gave the President congressional approval to protect the Chinese offshore islands with U.S. armed forces. Sens. Charles Mathias, R-Md., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, have introduced a bill to repeal the resolution.

Mansfield would not comment on a differing interpretation of what President Nixon meant in his speech last week when he said his aim was to end U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war but declined to fix a date.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott and Senate Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd said they got the impression at a private briefing that Nixon had a definite date in mind.

Mansfield was given a separate private briefing by Nixon, but he declined to comment on it because it was "confidential."

Five-Step Travel And Trade Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon announced today a five-step program easing travel and trade restrictions with Communist China.

Nixon said that after a review he had decided on the following steps —none of which would require new legislation or diplomatic negotiations with the Red Chinese government.

—The United States is prepared to expedite visas for visitors or groups from the Chinese mainland.

—U.S. currency controls are to be relaxed to permit the use of dollars by the Chinese communists. Previously, a Treasury license had to be ontained in order to send dollars into China.

—Restrictions are to be ended on American oil companies providing fuel to ships or aircraft proceeding to and from China except on Chinese-owned or Chinese-chartered carriers bound to or from North Vietnam, North Korea, or Cuba.

—U.S. ships or aircraft may now carry Chinese cargoes between non-Communist ports. U.S. owned foreign flag carriers may call at Chinese ports.

—Nixon has asked that a list be prepared of non-strategic items which can be generally licensed for direct export to China. Following review and his approval of specific items on this list, direct imports of designated items from China also will be allowed.

The President said in a statement he will consider additional steps that might be taken to improve relations with Red China.

His announcement came less than a week after a U.S. table tennis team was invited to visit Red China along with a group of American newsmen.

Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai had a friendly meeting with the American group earlier today.

However Nixon's actions went far beyond the symbolic gesture involved in the ping pong breakthrough.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon's actions were taken without any contacts with the Red regime but he added "we would hope there would be a positive response in practical terms."

Ziegler said the President made his decision before the U.S. team was invited to China.

He said that the question of loosening up on the trade and travel barriers had been under discussion in the administration as far back as December.

But White House officials acknowledged that the fact the American table tennis team was invited made this an appropriate time to announce the actions.

Asked whether the moves today would lead to diplomatic recognition of Red China, Ziegler said: "This does not relate to the United Nations —

Viet Counterattack Breaks Reds' Seige

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese troops fought their way onto Fire Base 6 today, lifting a 15-day Communist siege in a 16-hour battle that killed 96 Communists. Two American advisers with the attack group were officially listed as missing and the fate of a third was not known.

Within hours a fleet of Allied helicopters carried tons of fresh supplies to the blackened hill near the borders of Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam and a fresh force of 1,200 reinforcements landed on the fire base where another unit was still fighting.

Unconfirmed reports said four of the five U.S. advisers who had remained on the hill throughout the battle were evacuated today by helicopter but official sources said they had no such reports. They said one adviser came out under normal rotation plans.

The South Vietnamese counter offensive began Tuesday when helicopters dropped a total of 6,000 South Vietnamese north and south of the fire base. The northern pincer fought its way to the base by Tuesday night and fought through a Communist force early today in a 16-hour fight. South Vietnamese losses in the fight were put at four dead, 37 wounded and six missing.

The Communists overran the base on March 31 but the South Vietnamese took it back the next day and held it against a siege during which the Communists shelled it incessantly with rockets and mortars and zeroed in on helicopters trying to supply it.

The huge resupply effort today met little opposition but U.S. and South Vietnamese commanders expressed doubt the Communists had ended their Central Highlands offensive 300 miles north of Saigon.

Baar Declares Albrecht, Bruce Clash 'Is Over'

The clash between County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht and County Administrator Alan Bruce "is over," Marin County Board of Supervisors Chairman Louis H. Baar declared yesterday.

The board emerged from an hour-long closed-door huddle with Bruce and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to announce that "we discussed with Bruce our thoughts" about the way the administrator made public his demands Dr. Albrecht and two of her aides be fired.

"No conclusions were resolved," Baar said. "It's over."

Bruce may have lost the battle and won the war; the board of supervisors will consider on May 18 his proposal to reorganize all county health and medical delivery services under the direction of Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, presently coroner, public guardian, county medical director and chief of mental health services.

The closed session with Bruce followed yesterday's two-hour public session at which a full-house audience heard the board unanimously reject Bruce's demand that Dr. Albrecht be fired as inept.

Supervisor John F. McInnis, at the public hearing, declared, "I'm very disturbed at the ad-

Mideast Warning On Imminent War

By United Press International

Israel's counterproposal for reopening the Suez Canal ran into a snag today and there were warnings in Israel and Egypt that the Middle East war might break out again unless Israel comes up with a plan acceptable to Egypt.

The latest warning came from Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev, commanding general of the Israeli army, who said Israel should not underestimate the strength of the Egyptian and Syrian armies in a new round of combat. He added his men were confident of victory with the help of new U.S. arms shipments.

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and Maj. Gen. Aharon Yariv, chief of Israeli intelligence, speaking on an American television interview (CBS-TV's "60 minutes)", also held out the possibility of war should the impasse not be solved.

In Egypt, Dia Eddin Dawood, a ranking member of Egypt's political leadership, said Tuesday night the Middle East was "approaching the moment of an inevitable military confrontation" and that peace efforts had reached a dead end.

The apparent urgency of the situation was underscored by Bar-Lev's statement in the army magazine Monthly Review in which he said, "The Egyptians will have to open fire unless a political solution which will seem reasonable to them is reached."

"It is quite possible that the coming year will be a year of war," Bar-Lev said.

"For seven months they have held their fire, but they cannot carry on without a time limit.

Congress Not Bugged, Says Agnew

DETROIT (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, declaring he thinks J. Edgar Hoover should remain on the job as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said Tuesday he was "convinced" that no congressmen had their telephones tapped by the FBI.

"I am very convinced by conversations with the attorney general and with the director of the FBI and other people who have been close to this in prior administrations that it just hasn't happened," Agnew said.

The vice president was in Detroit to address a national pollution conference today and made the comments on Hoover and the FBI at an airport news conference following his arrival Tuesday.

The eavesdropping controversy developed last week when House Democratic leader Hale Boggs charged that FBI agents had kept congressmen under survillance and bugged their telephones. Hoover, Attorney General John Mitchell and the White House have denied the charge.

Asked if he thought Hoover should retire, Agnew said, "as long as he is sound physically and mentally I think he should continue."

The vice president said he thought Hoover had "done an excellent job" in his years with the FBI and had given the agency "its reputation for integrity and professionalism."

Agnew's appearance was regarded as non-political and none of Michigan's Republican leaders was on hand to meet him at the airport or was scheduled to attend the pollution conference today.

Garfunkel Begins Teaching Duties

LITCHFIELD, Conn. (UPI)—Art Garfunkel of the folk-rock singing team of Simon and Garfunkel began teaching geometry Tuesday at the Litchfield Preparatory School.

Headmaster William Stevenson said Garfunkel, who has a cottage at nearby Bantam Lake, applied for the teaching position and will remain at least through next semester. The coeducational prep school has an enrollment of about 100.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Muskie On Spying

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Edmund S. Muskie said today the FBI spied on last year's Earth Day rallies, including one he was involved in. He said this kind of thing threatens to smother freedom with fear, and suggested the FBI's activities be made subject to review by an independent board.

The Maine Democrat, in a speech prepared for the Senate, released a document on official FBI stationery which detailed Earth Day activities in Washington April 22. He said there were 40 to 60 similar intelligence reports filed on other Earth Day observances across the nation.

"If antipollution rallies are a subject of intelligence concern, is anything immune?" Muskie asked. "Is there any citizen involved in politics who is not a potential subject for an FBI dossier?"

Muskie did not say where he obtained the FBI document, but said it was not among those stolen recently from the FBI office in Media, Pa.

Meat Date Code

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Most processed meats produced by major packers soon will carry a simplified new date code. It will tell consumers when the meats were packaged or when they should be taken off sale, a meat industry spokesman reports.

The new coding system was recommended several weeks ago by the American Meat Institute, trade association for much of the meat packing industry.

The new uniform dating code uses four digits. The first two indicate the month; the second two indicate the day of the month. The code 0101, for example, stands for January 1; 0414 means April 14; 1225 translates as December 25.

Dacca Fighting

NEW DELHI (UPI)—East Pakistani rebel forces today were reported engaged in heavy fighting with government troops just outside the East Pakistan capital of Dacca. The premier of the self-proclaimed rebel government called on his people to fight "until the enemy is routed from the sacred soil of our country."

Indian press reports said the East Pakistani forces "are locked in battle 12 miles from Dacca." At the same time, Pakistani federal forces were advancing in Kushtia district where the rebel capital of Chadanga is.

Both sides claimed victories. The rebels said they had recaptured the northeastern town of Sylhet which federal troops controled last weekend. Radio Pakistan said government troops had cleared the town of Dinajpur of "all miscreants, antistate elements and armed infiltrators from across the (Indian) border. Dinajpur is in the northwest corner of East Pakistan, 170 miles northeast of Dacca.

Under 21 Voters

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI)—Marylanders under 21 voted for the first time Tuesday in a special congressional primary, and their effect was hardly revolutionary. Both favorites won easily.

A Democratic state senator and a former congressional aide of Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton won the right to oppose each other for Morton's old seat in the House of Representatives. State Sen. Elroy G. Boyer, 50, beat five Democratic rivals, and William O. Mills, 46, defeated two other Republicans. Both had the backing of their party organizations.

Only 17 per cent of the district electorate went to the polls, and as far as could be determined, a smaller percentage of under 21 voters turned out.

The 1970 voting rights act made an estimated 47,000 persons under 21 and over 18 eligible to vote in the district. But only 2,915 registered for the primary. Full figures on how many voted would not be available for a week.

Seven Fire Deaths

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Seven persons died and eight were injured when fire raced through a downtown hotel Tuesday night.

The dead included the wives and infant daughters of two performers in the road company of the rock musical "Hair."

Damage to the 52-year-old Pick Carter Hotel, which underwent a $1 million remodeling two years ago, was estimated at well over $100,000 by fire officials.

Russell F. Carlson is stage manager of the show and Jonathon Johnson is a member of the cast. A performance of the musical was being given when the fire broke out.

Group Indicted In Bomb Plot

NEW YORK (UPI)—Six persons, including three brothers, have been indicted on charges of plotting to bomb an Armed Forces recruiting station in The Bronx last June.

Bronx District Attorney Burton B. Roberts said three of the suspects, Beth Katz, 28, Jefferson Barnard, 29, and Timothy Doyle, 28, are already in custody, while police continue to search for Doyle's brothers, Terence, 24, and Kenneth, 21, and Wayne Talbert, 31.

Polite Trio Stages $250,000 Bank Job; 14 Hostages Held

NEW YORK (UPI)—Charles Disogra, manager of a bank on Brooklyn's Ft. Hamilton military reservation, had just started helping a family friend with her income tax Monday night when the doorbell rang.

The ring launched a night of crime in which Disogra and 13 friends and relatives were held hostage. The ordeal ended with the robbery of an estimated $250,000 from the Ft. Hamilton bank Tuesday morning.

Police today searched for the three gunmen who held up the bank. A 13-state bulletin was issued for their arrest. Police said it would be some time until the exact amount stolen would be determined but it was believed it would be close to the $250,000 figure.

The gunmen held the hostages Monday night and Tuesday morning, then tied them up in the basement and took Disogra to the bank where they forced him to give them the payroll for a nearby Veterans Administration hospital. It was a short, well organized robbery.

Disogra answered the doorbell at his Staten Island home about 8:30 p.m. Monday and found three men outside. They identified themselves with badges as plainclothes detectives and said their car had broken down.

After being admitted, the men told Disogra to send the woman with the income tax problem home. They asked Disogra where his family was and he told them they had gone to spend the night at the home of Mrs. Disogra's sister, Mrs. Margaret Baratta.

The men then pulled guns and put on ski masks and gloves. They forced Disogra to drive to the Baratta home where they took 14 persons hostage, including the Disogra family, the Barattas and relatives of the Barattas. The hostages included five children.

"In the morning we'll be happy and you'll be happy," said one of the gunmen.

The hostages were allowed limited freedom, some of them watching television, the others sleeping. Mrs. Baratta's sister, Mrs. Michael Castellano, said the intruders were "very polite men who soon put the whole family at ease."

Shortly after dawn, the hostages were tied to pipes in the basement. Disogra was taken by two men in his car and the third man stayed at the house.

An Army sticker on Disogra's car got them by the gate at Ft. Hamilton. At the bank Disogra and the assistant manager were forced to open the vault. Police said the gunmen tied up Disogra and four women employes in a women's restroom and were so thorough that they even sprayed black paint on the lens of the bank's closed circuit television camera.

After the 15-minute robbery, the men called the Baratta home and told the third man, "We're leaving now." The hostages were released a short time later by police.

Police said they did not know how the gunmen escaped but Disogra's car was found in Brooklyn about two hours later.

Orders Probe

Soviet Union Gears For A Space Feat

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW (UPI)—A spectacular series of manned space vehicles will be launched within the next few days to inaugurate the second decade of Soviet cosmic exploration, scientific sources said today.

At least two space ships and two or more cosmonauts will be involved in an attempt to establish an orbital space station in accordance with the long-range program for permanent orbital platforms and unmanned robot explorers on the moon and other planets, the sources said.

April is considered a good month for the launching and landing of space vehicles from the Soviet Union, the sources said.

There have been reports in the past few weeks that specially equipped Soviet ships have been sighted in Pacific Ocean waters, presumably ready to track and communicate with the forthcoming manned space vehicles.

Soviet newsmen have already left for Baikonur, the main cosmodrome in Central Asia, to report what Prof. Boris N. Petrov, one of the leading Soviet space scientists, called the launching "of an epoch of orbital stations and planned research work of men in conditions of space laboratories."

Writing in Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper on the 10th anniversary of Yuri Gagarin's and man's first flight into space, Petrov said orbital stations and robot vehicles were the major goals of Soviet space science in the 1970s.

Since the Soviets, for the time being, have yielded to the Americans in human exploration of the moon, they have concentrated on landing unmanned instruments on the moon and Venus. They are trying to set up manned intermediate orbital stations.

The first effort was made Jan. 14-15, 1969, when Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5 were linked. They were followed by the group experiments of Soyuz 6-7-8, April 11-13, 1969, which practiced space welding but did not link up.

With the successful Soyuz 9 flight of Maj. Gen. Andrian Nikolayev and Col. Vitaly Sevastianov, who starting June 1, 1970, established a space endurance record of almost 18 days, the Soviets now appear ready to assemble a durable space platform.

"Space exploration would go along the way of gradually setting up simple —in the beginning —orbital stations which would be followed by more complicated and bigger platforms for exploration, scientific and technical experiments," Petrov said.

general manager, William R. Seeger. "Bill's a first-class administrator," Bagley said. "I simply don't want to be put in the middle of a hornet's nest. There are many more social problems in the world I have to worry about."

Bagley added, however, that he rejected as "extremist" arguments by some persons writing him that population growth should be controlled by limiting water supplies.

He acknowledged that he probably would have introduced the legislation for the district as a courtesy if it had handled the matter better, but he still would have reserved judgement on whether to help pass the legislation.

The legislation would raise money to finance the district's $21.6 million share of the roughly $47.7 million Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct. It would have allowed the district to borrow $18 million from the Sonoma County Water Agency, or to create a master two-county agency to handle the project.

District consultants said the project may be delayed a year or more if the legislation failed.

District director Ray W. Foreaker told the I-J that he did not know what the district would do now. "Maybe we won't do it (the project)."

Father Kills Son Over Long Hair, Sheriff Reports

CASTRO VALLEY (UPI) —A security guard shot his son to death in a dispute over the youth's long hair and "negative attitude toward society," the Alameda County sheriff's office said Tuesday.

Deputies arrested Warren Freitas, 53, for a homicide investigation in the death of his son, Roger, 20.

The long-standing dispute resulted in the gunfire Monday while Mrs. Freitas was shopping and five younger children were in school, deputies added.

The slain son had been arrested for drinking and disturbing the peace but both times was reprimanded and released in custody of his parents.

Rainfall figures for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today in other areas are: Bolinas, .64; Mill Valley, .70; Novato, .42; Petaluma, .52; Sausalito, .70; Terra Linda, .86, and Woodacre, .60 of an inch.

They said the Communists apparently pulled back to regroup and that new attacks could be expected on Fire Base 6 or nearby allied bases.

South Vietnamese military sources said that before the major ground campaign began sweeping from the north and south about 2,700 Communists were killed at a government loss of 172 dead and 292 wounded. Most of the Communist dead were attributed to some of the heaviest B52 strikes of the war and the use of 7.5 ton "Daisy Cutter" bombs.

tries they find friends everywhere'."

Chou asked the 15 American players to convey on their return home "the regards of the Chinese people to the American people."

The sports teams from the five nations, upon arriving for the meeting were ushered into a meeting room on the first floor of the Great Hall of the People.

The premier talked with the head of each delegation in alphabetical order, reaching the U.S. delegation last but spending more time with them than with others.

After his chats, through an interpreter, Chou said there was still time to answer some questions.

Long-haired Glenn Cowen, 19, a table tennis player from Santa Monica, Calif., who was wearing a jacket and purple trousers, said he was curious about what the premier thought about the hippie movement in the United States today.

Without changing expression, Chou said, "I am not very clear about it. Second, I can only give you a superficial opinion.

"The youth of the world are dissatisfied with the present situation and are looking for the truth. In the course of changes in the ideology of your people, various things occur before the changes take form," the premier said.

"In seeking the truth you always go through various experiences and this should be allowed.

"When we were young, we wanted to try various things. Therefore we understand the thinking of the youth. And we have seen this from all the young people who have visited China."

Chou, ending what may be the longest public conversation on the subject of hippies ever held in Peking, said "we agree, young people should try new things. But there is one thing, we should always find one thing in common with the majority of people. This is how that great majority of people can make progress and achieve happiness."

"If through one's own doing things, one discovers it is not correct, then one should change. This is our opinion and only a suggestion," the premier added.

"We must get the agreement of the majority of the people. There is even philosophy in table tennis. I see you are not playing badly. I wish you progress," Chou said.

The Americans played their only scheduled series of "friendly" matches against the Chinese at an indoor gymnasium Tuesday with a crowd of 18,000 enthusiastic spectators cheering both sides. The Chinese defeated the U.S. team 10 matches to 7, with the Americans losing the men's competition 3-5 and the women's matches 4-5.

3 Marinites Arrested In LSD Case

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Two Mill Valley residents were arrested today in a San Francisco motel, after police said the pair arranged for sale of 36,000 tablets of what appeared to be LSD to undercover agents. A Sausalitan later was arrested in connection with the case.

Charged with suspicion of sale of dangerous drugs were Roger G. Leibowitz, who gave his address as 40 Hillside Lane, Mill Valley, and said he was self-employed, and Charles A. Wismer, 21. Wismer said he was a musician and lived at 342 Live Oak Drive, police reported.

Officers said they raided the pair's Lombard Street motel room at 12:05 a.m. today after watching Wismer remove the suspected contraband from beneath the rear seat of a car. Undercover agents had made arrangements to buy the 9 grams of suspected LSD for $8,000, police reported. They estimated its value on the street as $40,000.

The narcotics agents said they also arrested John R. Goodwin, 25, of 113 Second Street, Sausalito, at 3:30 a.m. at California and Presidio Street. He was charged with suspicion of furnishing LSD and marijuana samples to agents as a preliminary to the Lombard Street purchase.

No bail had been set for the three suspects; all were to appear in San Francisco Municipal Court tomorrow.

San Francisco Police Inspector Charles Wettstein said Leibowitz had been arrested by federal narcotics agents in Marin County last month and accused of selling 80,000 LSD tablets.

that is a long way down the road."

Nixon recalled that in his State of the World report Feb. 25, he said "in the coming year, I will carefully examine what further steps we might take to create broader opportunities for contacts between the Chinese and American peoples, and how we might remove needless obstacles to the realization of these opportunities."

The President said that a subcommittee of the National Security Council would make recommendations to bring about even better relations in the future.

Ziegler said that an interagency committee already is working on a list of nonstrategic items such as pharmaceutical products and consumer goods which might be approved for export to China. He said Nixon would make a decision in the fairly near future.

Regulations to carry out the new policy will be announced by the State Department and other interested agencies, he added.

CLASH

ministrative handling of the matter . . .

"Over the years," McInnis continued, "I've often supported Bruce" and valued highly his work in evaluating budget needs and priorities, but, "I've often said I've thought he had the most impossible personality to cope with his job."

McInnis declared that in the Albrecht matter "the board had a right to expect conduct less detrimental to the persons involved." He said that he would rather have been criticized for handling the quarrel in closed session — like "the trouble in mental health land" than see it in the limelight it received.

The board's adoption of McInnis's motion rejecting Bruce's demand mentioned only Dr. Albrecht, not Philippa G. Denning-Kemp nor Natalie K. Posner, whose firings Bruce also recommended.

However, Baar declared, the entire case was closed so far as the board was concerned.

During the sometimes stormy hearing, Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. revealed that Bruce had made new charges against Dr. Albrecht in a confidential memo dated April 9. It alleged that health department caseload figures were "padded" to support 1971-72 budget requests, that supplies for the health department's recent countywide anti-rubella campaign were purchased in violation of county ordinances, and that donations collected during the rubella campaign went not to reimburse campaign costs but rather to pay Mrs. Posner's daughter for publicity, and other charges.

Bruce's memo also criticized "the mishandling of Hank the cat," excluded from a Fairfax market. The audience giggled. Bruce charged Dr. Albrecht with "delays and vagueness" in handling the Bolinas Lagoon and hepatitis scare, and with "mishandling" a case involving contaminated milk's distribution.

Arrigoni and Supervisor Arnold Baptiste joined in voting to uphold Dr. Albrecht, but refused to accept an amendment to the motion specifically naming the two aides.

Dr. Albrecht's counsel, former Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., accused Bruce of "reign of terror" tactics against the health department, comparing Bruce to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

"If he (Bruce) were a man, he'd stand up and say he's wrong," chimed in attorney Leonard A. Bjorklund Jr., counsel for Mrs. Posner. Miss Denning-Kemp was represented by attorney William O. Weissich, who said he and a group in the audience were "here to assist Dr. Albrecht as witnesses."

A parade of witnesses, all officials of medical organizations in the county, region or state, spoke up for Dr. Albrecht. The lone exception was Dr. Patricia Hallinan, who said she had supplied Bruce with data on caseload "padding" and other charges.

Throughout the hearing, the supervisors were leafing through stacks of reports on the charges and defenses. Each stack weighed more than three pounds.

Novato Council Blasts Prison Security Policy

Novato City Council, stung by the kidnapping of four residents by a San Quentin Prison escapee in February, called last night for beefed up security at the prison to prevent further escapes. (Another Novato City Council story, page 1)

In recent months nine inmates have escaped from the minimum security area "due to the lack of adequate security and the fact that prison policy is not to require (minimum security) inmates to wear distinguishable clothing," the council said.

Inmates escaping or attempting to escape are "desperate and highly dangerous, as evidenced by the murder of a judge, the shooting of a district attorney and the kidnapping of two women and two children, all within the past few months," the council stated.

Councilmen also demanded that prison officials review their policy on clothing worn by prisoners in minimum security area and consider requiring "special garb which will identify prisoners as prisoners."

Marin County pays a disproportionate share of the court, crowd control and security costs involved in handling prison cases, the council said. It urged legislation to share the financial burden with the state.

The Novato City Council also:

CABLE TV — Received a request from G'Tec Cable TV of Novato, cable television franchise holder, to boost the monthly rate from $4.50 to $5.50, and the FM service from no charge to $1.50 a month, and postponed action until April 27.

VEHICLE REMOVAL — Introduced an ordinance providing for the removal of wrecked, abandoned, inoperative or dismantled cars from private property as public nuisances.

CREEK PARK — Appropriated $2,135 toward development of a play area for small children at Novato Creek Park fronting on San Miguel Way, after notice that the San Marin Improvement Association agreed to contribute $2,000 to the project.

ZONING REVISION — Authorized negotiation with Sedway and Cooke, San Francisco planning consultants, on a contract to revise the city's zoning ordinance, a job estimated to cost from $10,000 to $12,000.

LEGISLATION — Supported Assembly Bill 813, which would streamline annexation procedures, and opposed Senate Bill 489 and Assembly Bill 52, which would prohibit cities from attaching conditions on use permits involving land dedication, without paying compensation for such property.

LANDSCAPING — Approved an agreement with Marin County for landscaping along Novato Boulevard between San Marin Drive and San Miguel Way, at a cost of up to $10,000 to be borne by the county.

STREET WORK — Awarded Valley Slurry Seal Co. of Sacramento, the lone bidder a contract for street sealing at a cost of $28,800.

CYCLE TRAILS — Referred to the parks and recreation commission for study the problem of providing trails for mini-bikes and motorcycles in the Novato area.

BAHIA PARKS — Accepted three mini-parks developed at Bahia Unit 1-B by the developer, the Hofmann Co. of Concord, with the city to take over maintenance.

RETAIL SALES — Received a report from City Mgr. Charles A. Brown that taxable retail sales last year were 5.4 per cent higher than 1969, bolstered by the sale of mobile homes, but the rate of increase was down from previous years.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of F. James Picchi from the plan review committee and downtown implementation committee.

CLAIM DENIED — Denied a claim filed on behalf of Floyd Brian III, a minor, for $75,000 for injuries suffered when he fell from his bicycle at Pioneer Memorial Park on March 26.

MEETINGS — Tentatively scheduled a meeting next Monday with the parks and recreation commission. The next regular council session was set for April 27.

Burglary Case To Higher Court

Albert Burton Fierstine, 27, of Greenbrae, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of burglarizing a Mill Valley residence March 27.

Charges From Motel Drug Raid Booted

Charges against four men arrested in connection with a drug raid at the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael have been dismissed in Marin Superior Court because narcotics agents failed to carry out a legal nicety.

Also freed were Charles C. Garcia, 33, of Kentfield; Roe A. Newbill, 43, of Novato, and Peter Simon Kaufman, 29, of San Anselmo.

The four had been charged with a variety of counts ranging from being under the influence of narcotics and possessing drugs including marijuana, mescaline, cocaine and heroin.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson ruled Monday that narcotics agents failed to knock at the door of a motel room and identify themselves properly before the arrests were made on June 30.

The district attorney's office plans to appeal Judge Wilson's decision to the District Court of Appeals.

Garcia, Samuels and Newbill were arrested at the motel after drug agents followed Garcia's car there and saw him sharing a suspected marijuana cigarette.

The agents said they found large quantities of drugs and $15,000 in cash in a motel room. Kaufman was arrested later at his home.

Charges against two other operators of Pepperland also arrested in the raid, Benjamin I. Blatt, and Nathan Shind both 25-year-old Sebastopol residents, were dismissed earlier. A municipal court judge ruled that a search of Shind's briefcase was illegal and Blatt was freed at the request of the district attorney's occe.

The owner of the hall in which Pepperland was operated Irving (Whitey) Litchfield, has said that the operators moved out on April 1, leaving behind about $50,000 in bills.

A Challenge For Healthy California

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Conservationists "are no longer content to spend their lives only fighting well-publicized but desperate, disconnected, losing little battles," the president of California Tomorrow asserts.

"The question is whether we will manage and direct change or be engulfed by it," the organization's conference chairman said.

Both president Alfred Heller and chairman William Roth were speaking Tuesday at a planning conference attended by 600 persons.

Heller said California could face a future of urban sprawl, environmental ravage, crime, corrupt politics and too many residents.

Or it could have economic plenty, responsive political institutions, open space, a proper-sized population and adequate housing, he added.

The more rosy future, Heller declared, can result only from "comprehensive planning," on a larger scale than this country has ever seen.

California Tomorrow has prepared a preliminary recommendation for forming an 11-member state planning council to be made up of the governor, three of his cabinet members and seven public members.

The council would be charged with preparing an annual state plan concerning land, structures and people.

Heller noted that in 1959 the Legislature authorized the state government to spend $4 million to "prepare and maintain a comprehensive plan for the future development of the state."

The money was spent but no plan resulted, he continued.

Assemblyman Willie Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, said he would introduce legislation which would make a start on the organization's proposals. But he noted, "People in government, especially elected official types, live for yesterday."

Among the California Tomorrow recommendations are public subsidies for political campaigns, shorter campaigns and "other measures to prevent elections from being taken over completely by special, powerful, economic interests."

Senior At Drake Wins Scholarship

Duncan B. Missimer, a 17-year-old senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, San Anselmo, has been awarded a four-year National Merit scholarship, it was announced today.

Missimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale J. Missimer of 27 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow, was awarded one of the scholarships granted by Gulf and Western Industries to children of its employees.

Missimer's father is employed by Koch Luggage in Corte Madera, a Gulf and Western subsidiary.

Of the 24 semifinalists from Marin and two from Southern Sonoma, young Missimer was the lone winner.

Missimer, who hopes to attend the University of California at Irvine and major in mathematics, ranks first in his class scholastically.

He was a semifinalist in the Bank of America mathematics and science competition and a semifinalist in the California State Scholarship competition, and last year won an American Chemical Society High School award.

Missimer is a life member of the California Scholarship Federation. He has earned letters in varsity water polo and swimming and junior varsity cross country, and is a sailing enthusiast.

This year, Missimer is editor of the Drake High yearbook. He has been a resident of Marin for almost two years, after living in Glendale, Los Angeles County.

National Merit scholarships range from $400 to $6,000 for four years, with the amount based on needs of the individual.

Hub Candidates Due At Meeting

Three candidates for two San Anselmo School District board seats up for election April 20 will speak today at 8 p.m. during a candidates night at Isabel Cook School.

The debate, to be held in the school's multi-purpose room, will be cosponsored by the district's parent-teacher associations, parents groups and the San Anselmo Elementary Teachers Association.

Credit Due Berman In 'The Tenth Man'

In the review of Paddy Chayefsky's play, "The Tenth Man," published April 5 in the Independent-Journal, the strong supporting performance of Mel Berman as the atheist, Schlissel, was incorrectly attributed to another actor.

The comedy-drama will be repeated at the Mill Valley Center for the Performing arts at 8:30 p.m. next Friday and Saturday and April 23 and 24.

Verbal Dueling Between Reed Pair

Verbal dueling between the two candidates involved in the Reed School District recall election sparked an otherwise placid evening of candidates' remarks last night.

Several of the more than 600 persons in the audience hissed loudly when the recall target, trustee chairman Gordon C. Wright, declared that his opponent, Dr. John J. Osborn, was "not an independent, but part of a recall faction" that used "highly irregular tactics in gaining signatures" on the recall election petitions.

The audience also heard five candidates seeking the other two seats up for election on the April 20 ballot: incumbent Leo Souza, Margaret Jones, Marie L. McLeod, Mark Noble and Clayton D. Calender.

Osborn, who hopes to replace Wright via the recall, borrowed a statement from Calendar that the school board trustee must serve as a bridge between the community and educators.

"In the last two years the bridge has broken down in deep hostility," Osborn declared. He said Wright has called parents' expressions of concern "fun and games" and relegated the public's opportunity to speak up at board meetings to the tail end of the board's agenda.

"At the other end of the bridge, the teachers voted 99 to 1 for sanctions against the district," Osborn charged.

He argued that during Wright's term, nearly all special programs had been cut back, that teachers were seeking jobs elsewhere despite a highly competitive job market and cited music instructor Leland Lincoln's letter of resignation that decried "polarization" in the district.

"You have 100 unhappy teachers," Osborn said.

Osborn said he wanted Reed pupils "to enjoy their schooling as one important phase of a satisfying and creative life."

Wright argued that recall elections normally are used against incompetent or corrupt officials, but "neither incompetency nor corruption have been charged in my recall."

Pointing out that his votes have agreed with the board majority on 99 per cent of all motions, Wright challenged, "if you recall me you should recall all the board."

He charged that a minority faction of Reed district residents who lost control of the board in 1969 aligned themselves with "a small group of militant teachers ... and ... created a climate of hostility." To regain a majority on the board, the group not only must win the two seats regularly up for election, but had to attempt his own recall, Wright charged.

The recall group "has not contributed one constructive suggestion in two years," Wright claimed.

He urged the audience to call the district offices to check his voting record and his assertion that the teacher turnover rate had dropped below 6 per cent. Osborn said he had a list indicating 16 of the 100 teachers in the district "last year were not here this year . . . that's more than 6 per cent."

During their carefully timed speeches earlier in the candidates' night at Del Mar School, the five regular candidates said, in brief:

Calender — The trustees are a bridge between community and educators, responsible for deciding economic feasibility of educational goals sought by parents or recommended by the professional faculty and administrators. He called for trustees to "listen to teachers, not ignore their talent.'' Pupils should play only an indirect role in policy making, he said.

Mrs. McLeod — The school district is like a family, with the trustees in the role of a decision-making father, the superintendent as an administering mother. "If the father is completely authoritarian, you have an unhappy family." She called for accountability in terms of educating children, care with taxpayers' money. She stressed she would be available every day to the community, rather than a trustee away on business all day.

Souza — Pupils should not have a direct role in district policy; teachers should help formulate policy but not control it; principals are like "branch managers" helping interpret policy, and a superintendent is the "educational leader," initiating programs, setting priorities and acting as liasion between faculty and trustees. The board's "biggest job is to keep the community aware at all times" of district actions. Trustees' key responsibility is selection of a good administrator he said.

Noble — Basically geeing with the earlier speakers on policy roles, he stressed "10 years of inflation ahead," but warned against cutting any programs. "I want an education for the children to enable them to hold their heads high going on to the next step, socially as well as educationally."

Mrs. Jones — Stressed the board's need for long-range decisions rather than day-to-day administrative worries. She said the district had suffered from "a hole" in administration, and called for the superintendent to set up a year-round schedule for policy matters needing board review. Noting that "teachers are paid over $1 million, we should get $1 million worth of advice" from them. She also urged "putting dollars into evaluation" of the district's program, "perhaps up to $5 per child."

2 Forged Names Reported Found On Reed Petition

Opponents of the recall of a Reed School District trustee said yesterday they have sworn evidence that two of the 1,629 signatures on the recall petition were forged.

Jean F. Wellinger, member of the Committee for Quality Education, which is backing board chairman Gordon C. Wright in the recall, said a handwriting expert, Sister Jeanette Berube of Marin Catholic High School, discovered the forgeries.

Wellinger said the evidence "will be turned over to the authorities for whatever action they deem proper."

Opposing Wright in Tuesday's recall election is Dr. John J. Osborn of Belvedere.

How to make Crepe Seville in bed.

30 minutes later, you'll wake up to a delicious brunch planned by a Master Chef at Grand Tour. Scrambled eggs with bacon bits and a thin French crepe stuffed with orange marmalade and Canadian style bacon.

Whenever your chef has better things to do, stop by your grocer's frozen food section for Grand Tour entrees. Crepes Cannelloni; Chicken Chasseur; Macaroni, Cheese and Ham Casserole; Veal Cordon Bleu; Beef Burgundy; Breast of Chicken Kiev or Breast of Chicken with Wild and White Rice.

Ladies; Gents; Collectors of American Artifacts and Memorabilia:

Here is positively your first and last chance to win a genuine pewter ice cream mold [never before available to the public] from Foremost, makers of fine ice creams and other fresh dairy products.

REMEMBER coming down to our creamery and ordering molded ice cream desserts? They were considered works of art, being hand-made and decorated, and you could request a certain mold for almost any occasion.

For some three decades they were the highlight of innumerable formal dinner parties (remember our beautiful fruit basket?), a favorite at birthday parties, and a family tradition during the Holidays.

But progress caught up with these attractive and delicious desserts. We could no longer offer them for sale, and the molds have now rested in storage for several years.

Recently, antique dealers tendered offers for the purchase of the molds. But, after considerable discussion at high levels, it was decided that the molds belonged to those who would treasure them the most...our customers.

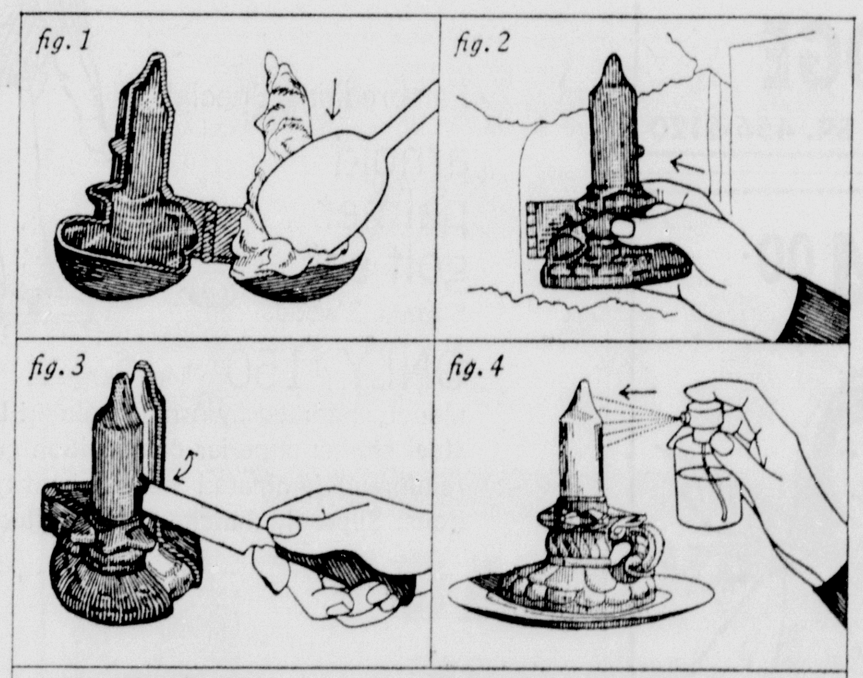

fig. 1 After the mold is thoroughly chilled, it is filled with softened ice cream of the desired flavor and color. fig. 2 When the mold is closed, it is placed directly into an ice-and-salt mixture (if speed is desired), or it may be hardened in a freezer set about 0°F. fig. 3 Once the ice cream is frozen again, the mold is dipped into cold water, and the two halves are pried apart. fig. 4 To produce the desired finished appearance, the molded ice cream is colored by brushing on liquid food colors which have been previously chilled. Spraying the dye on with a small atomizer is another satisfactory method.

These molds were cast in pewter and sold to creameries expressly for commercial usage. Therefore, they are of the finest quality, in terms of material and casting, and produce the greatest detail in the finished product.

Unfortunately the variety of molds we will qive away is too long to list in this advertisement, but they include, among many others: banana molds; Uncle Sam molds; chicken-in-egg molds; Zeppelin molds; Santa Claus molds; corn-on-the-cob molds; fire engine molds; strawberry molds; lily molds. One thousand, one hundred and eleven in all!

By entering our Contest you may win one of these genuine pewter ice cream molds... truly a collector's item. Please be advised that each is in working condition and may actually be used to mold ice cream. (Instructions will be included with every Prize!!)

How to enter our contest

Stop by your favorite store that sells Foremost ice cream, or other fresh Foremost dairy foods. There you will find an official entry blank, complete with detailed contest rules. Simply fill out the entry blank, or a facsimile, and mail it to us. You will be required to use your skill and (1) match several Foremost Ice Cream Flavor Names with their major ingredients; (2) conjure up a new ice cream name containing as many letters of the alphabet as possible. (A clever tie-breaker.) All entries become the property of Foremost Foods Company. No purchase is necessary to enter, although we will, of course, gratefully accept your indulgence.

An independent judging organization will select winners for each of our distribution areas on the basis of "correctness" and "originality."

We hope you win, and we thank you for your patronage through the years.

Green Light Given Middle School Plan

The San Rafael Board of Education last night authorized Supt. John F. Plank to go ahead on plans with an architect for additions and alterations at Santa Venetia Middle School, estimated to cost $165,372.

Eliminated from preliminary plans at the suggestion of the district staff were a girls' locker room for the gymnasium and an administration building, which cut $40,900 from estimates.

Included in the additions and improvements authorized were conversion of classrooms to make possible team teaching at a cost of $92,580 as well as gymnasium additions and a music multi-use room.

In other action last night, the board heard a report from teachers and administrators involved in a pilot project for "more able learners," children with high intelligence levels.

Alyce Quiros, president of the Marin Chapter of Parents of Gifted Children, expressed concern that proposed half-day programs for such children had not materialized.

She also asked that programs be instituted for under-achieving junior and senior high school students.

Board Chairman Herman L. Childress asked if possibly "we are cheating the rest of the children," with such programs aimed at providing enrichment and stimulus for highly intelligent youngsters.

Lee Heise, director of the program, said that within the next six weeks, she will present to the board plans for next year's program.

The board also authorized spending $1,100 for fencing a parking lot for bicycles at San Rafael High School to cut down the rate of bike stealing at the school.

It was laughingly suggested that the area be named the "Carl J. Brown Memorial Bicycle Park" in honor of trustee Brown, who attended his last meeting last night.

He and the other retiring board member, John C. Pfeiffer, opened the meeting by reminiscing about their terms on the board. Neither is seeking reelection in the election next Tuesday.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

LUNCHES — Learned that a pilot school lunch program will start next week at Oliver Hartzell and Laurel Dell Schools.

LOTS — Authorized asking for bids for the sale of five lots owned by the school district across the street from Glenwood School, setting a minimum price of $10,000 for each lot.

CUSTODIAN — Hired John O'Shaughnessy as a high school custodian for the rest of the school year at a salary of $6,468 a year.

BUS DRIVER — Hired Erich Voester as a substitute bus driver at $3.04 an hour.

LEAVES — Granted leaves to Kathryn Coleman, Francis Lum and Arlene Morris, all high school teachers.

GIFTS — Accepted gifts of a hand-hooked rug from Charles Condrotte to Laurel Dell Primary School and three amplifiers to the district from Stan Yates.

Waston Plea Is Postponed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Entering of a plea for Charles (Tex) Watson in the Tate slayings was put off again yesterday to allow for more psychiatric tests of the former high school football player.

Watson's attorney, Sam Bubrick, said doctors at the UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute had examined Watson for 25 hours and had requested more information about Watson's background from his family in Copeville, Texas, before offering an opinion.

Superior Court Judge Malcolm Lucas ordered Watson back to court on May 10.

Circus In Petaluma

Children wishing to attend the James Brothers Circus at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Sonoma-Marin County Fairgrounds in Petaluma, may sign up at the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department. Pickup points for transportation to the circus are at San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools, the department has announced.

Austerity Seen In New Budget At Stanford

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An austerity budget which will reduce operating deficits by 23 per cent was adopted Tuesday by the Stanford University board of trustees.

Operating expenditures were set at $63,052,000.

The directors said austerity spending will continue in the coming years with hopes of having a completely balanced budget by 1974-75.

Until then deficits will be met from reserve funds, which have been drawn down from $5,665,000 at the end of 1969-70 to about $2,013,000 at the end of 1973-74.

Despite the cutback, faculty and other instructional salaries will be raised an average of five per cent next year.

The principal source of income in 1971-72 will be higher tuition and fee rates, directors said.

British Royal Yacht Visits Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The British royal yacht Britannia steamed through the Golden Gate Tuesday for an informal visit which will end Saturday.

The 413-foot luxury ship with a crew of 259 will sail Saturday for British Columbia to pick up Queen Elizabeth II, who is attending the province's centennial celebration.

Candidates Quizzed On Plans To Correct Teaching Failings

The four candidates for two Kentfield School District board seats, in the April 20 election were quizzed last night on how they would handle alleged failures of the district to teach mathematics and report to the parents.

Mabel Heinen of 170 Via La Paz, Greenbrae, asked the candidates what they would do about Kentfield students who enter Redwood High School with only a fifth grade capability in mathematics.

Dr. Royce J. Truex, 41, a pediatrician, said that if that were true, it should be the first concern of the district, but he had not heard of it.

Dr. Tom R. Walker, 45, an anesthetist, said he had heard that the Kentfield district was below the state average in mathematics. He said the district should do something to correct it.

Michael P. Hansen, 34, a teacher at the College of Marin, said, "Half of the high school valedictorians that enter University of California fail in their first year." He said some average learners go on to better achievements than the high grade students in school.

Stanley T. Smith, 33, research analyst, said that the citizens should set goals for the school. "If these goals were properly set, I'm sure that correction of the low mathematics standard would be high on the list," he said.

Milton Bromberg of 130 South Ridgewood Drive, Kentfield, asked the candidates what they would do about report cards. When they did not answer immediately, Bromberg said that 95 per cent of districts still issued report cards so parents could know how their students were doing in school.

Mrs. Heinen then said that the district did not push the students to study.

The candidates all said that they felt that the district was doing a good job and the results among students going on to high school proved it.

One woman in the audience asked what the board would do if the state levied a statewide tax under which the Kentfield district would lose money and the voters refused to vote in additional taxes.

Truex said he felt that the voters would stand behind the district with additional taxes to maintain the program as it is now.

Smith said that was more of a reason to have a set of goals, so the board could determine what would have to go.

Hansen said that the district did not have busing and food programs which it could cut. So it would have to cut enrichment programs such as the ecology or outdoor program, and fine arts.

Another parent asked how far a parent should go in 'bugging the board" about complaints against teachers.

Walker said it was essential to the board to get the information so it could evaluate the programs in the school.

The meeting, which was sponsored by the Greenbrae Property Owners Association, drew 22 persons to the Adaline E. Kent school.

Coffees Slated For Wellington

Guilty Plea To Auto Theft

Richard Martin Dalhover, 20, of Mill Valley, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a reduced misdemeanor count of stealing an auto.

Judge Peter Allen Smith placed Dalhover on probation for six months and fined him $75. He also ordered Dalhover to make restitution.

The charge stemmed from 1969 when Dalhover purchased a car by trading in another for which he hadn't paid.

Marin To Enter Chicken Ranch Beach Public Property Fight

Marin County will jump into the legal fight to get Chicken Ranch Beach north of Inverness declared public property.

This was the 3-to-2 decision of the Marin County Board of Supervisors late yesterday.

On a motion by Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and support from Michael Wornum and Arnold M. Baptiste, the supervisors asked the county counsel to join the Inverness Waterfront Committee in the legal fight for public access on the property of Larry Marks Jr.

Chairman Louis H. Baar and John F. McInnis dissented all the way. Baar contended that Marks was offering an acre and a half for public dedication if he can develop the remaining 9.2 acres, and the county could lose everything if it gambled for more through a lawsuit.

McInnis based his objection on the fact that Marks and prior owners of the beach had paid taxes to the county for 85 years.

"I cannot understand how we as supervisors can bring suit against one of our county property owners when this county has accepted taxes from that owner for 85 years,'' said McInnis.

But the three-man majority stood by the statement of Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino that past tax payment has no bearing on the public's right of access to beach property that has been historically used by the public.

From the famous Thomas Gion case in Santa Cruz and the Lester J. Dietz vs. Robert B. King case in Mendocino County, Godino said it is his opinion that the county would win about seven acres of the 10.7-acre Marks property, just north of Golden Hinde Boatel.

A group of citizens in Inverness filed suit against Marks, and in 1967, the county of Marin joined as plaintiff in the suit. However, the county remained a "nominal party," not an active participant, said Godino.

Robert M. Brown, Castro Valley attorney representing the Inverness Waterfront Committee, said his group will not settle for one and one-half acres because it is convinced that the public has acquired a permanent easement over the entire beach.

Brown said the case is ready to come to trial in Marin Superior Court, and the county should take an active interest and not remain a passive bystander.

Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

PARKS MEETING — Cancelled a joint meeting with the county parks and recreation commission, which was scheduled for 11 a.m. yesterday. The agenda was too tight to permit an hour of informal discussion.

TRAFFIC ADVISORY — Created a traffic advisory committee composed of the public works director, local commander of the California Highway Patrol, district engineer from the state Division of Highways, and a representative of an automobile club in Marin. The committee will advise the supervisors on all problems dealing with traffic safety.

SETTLEMENT — Approved a $6,395 settlement as payment to Dr. and Mrs. Sam E. Hanzel of 100 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, for a portion of their back yard taken to culvert Tamalpais Creek in Kent Woodlands. Marin County Flood Control District will pay that amount.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS — Set April 27 as the date for public hearing on the County Administrator's recommendation for the county's capital improvement program for the next five years.

AGING — Nominated Vera Schultz, Edward T. Ryken and Lucille Hodgen to be named as delegates to the White House Conference on Aging to be held in November. The Governor will pick the delegates.

COURT REPORTING — Withheld action on state legislation that would allow use of electronic equipment to record court proceedings instead of stenographic reporters. Marin County judges asked for time to study the legislation before the county takes an official stand.

TO WASHINGTON — Announced that a proposed trip to Washington, D.C., to discuss the joint use of Hamilton Air Force Base, is not likely until the middle of May.

ABATEMENT — Ordered abatement of John Marcley's barge moored at D. J. Arques' Gate 6 in Richardson Bay. It has a badly damaged fourplex on top. Supervisors gave the owner two weeks to submit plans for conversion into a one-family structure, or the barge will be abated.

SEPTIC FAILURE — Gave Frank Novak 30 days to repair his failing septic tank at 508 Wilson Avenue, Novato.

TOMALES BAY — Gave Tony Morris the right to build a home 200 feet away from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on a long parcel of property that juts 390 feet into Tomales Bay between Inverness and Inverness Park. Morris wanted to build at the tip of the property, but the county planning commission had ordered him to build within 170 feet of Drake Boulevard.

BONDS — Sold $650,000 worth of Novato Unified School District bonds to Wells Fargo Bank at 3.4987 per cent interest, said by County Auditor Michael Mitchell to be the lowest rate in more than five years.

MOTORCYCLES — Appointed a committee to study needs of motorcycle riders in Marin and what regulation of such riding is needed. Appointed were Birdie Schneider and Jerry Greenblatt and Gerald Diaz of the Marin Motorcycle Club and citizens Randy Roan of Corte Madera, Roger Panek of Mill Valley, James Harding of Marinwood, Dorothy Everett of Woodacre and Joseph Kearns of San Marin. Two appointments remain to be made.

NOVATO LIBRARY — Approved 3-to-2 adding at a cost of $1,251 horizontal cedar boards to conceal mechanical equipment on the roof of the new county library in Novato. Supervisors Baar and Baptiste favored a $3,520 slanted tile structure.

GNOSS FIELD — Served notice on Marin Aviation Inc. that it has failed to comply with insurance coverage promised in its agreement with county as fixed base operators at Gnoss Field.

Priest With Son, Wife Suspended

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken has suspended a 49-year-old priest after it was revealed he had been married for seven years and had a 5-year-old son named after Pope Paul.

The Rev. Robert Duryea, a priest for a quarter of a century, was removed from St. Peter's Church at nearby Pacifica and his assistant, Father Larry Purcell, 26, was named "temporary administrator."

His marriage was known only to a few close friends until another priest reported it recently to Archbishop McGucken, who formally suspended Father Duryea as a priest Monday.

Drive On To Solve Land Issue

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, yesterday launched his annual legislative attempt to end the long dispute over property lines in San Rafael Canal.

Property owners along the canal and the State Lands Commission have been at odds for years over unsuccessful attempts to solve the dispute over property lines. The issue arose because the original alignment of the canal was changed.

Bagley last year won passage of a bill authorizing the lands commission to settle the dispute, but the commission's staff subsequently decided that the bill was not broad enough.

Yesterday's measure, drafted by the attorney general's office, broadened the authorization specifically to abandon the public trust for navigation, commerce and fisheries of San Rafael, which was not done in last year's bill.

The assemblyman also introduced a bill updating the use tax fees imposed on private party sales of used vehicles. Schedules would increase by 20 per cent for private cars and 80 per cent for commercial vehicles.

Town Meeting Slated For Hub

The San Anselmo Town Meeting, scheduled for May 8, will offer 14 "action groups" for discussion of problems ranging from traffic to animal control, chairman Martin G. Binder has announced.

The meeting will open at 1 p.m. at the Sir Francis Drake High School little theater with a brief film titled 'Is It Always Right To Be Right?"

The audience will then break down into 14 discussion sections after which it will reassemble to hear brief progress reports from each group, he said.

The groups will then be asked to set separate meeting dates and places for further discussion.

Bridge Transit Plan Hit On Federal Funding Idea

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — The Golden Gate Bridge District assumed too much when it based its transit plan on heavy federal funding, an Assembly subcommittee said yesterday.

Members and staff of the special transportation subcommittee reviewing the plan also questioned whether the district's ferry and bus systems would be justified.

Assemblyman Leo T. McCarthy, D-San Francisco, said that the maximum share of federal transit grants in the next five years for all of California would be only $279 million, while the district expected to get $220 million in the same period. He suggested that other transit agencies would compete successfully for the grants, and that the district would not get nearly as much as it expected.

McCarthy also questioned how the district would raise some $100 million — needed even if it got the $220 million grant.

The bridge district's atorney, Thomas M. Jenkins, conceded the district "doesn't know where the other money is going to come from. We assume that this Legislature will have to look at this question as it applies statewide."

The plan calls for spending $331 million in the next decade on an interim bus and ferry system, with a start on a bus rapid transit system using its own right-of-way via tunnels and a second deck on the bridge.

But questions about the interim system were raised in a staff report to the committee.

Noting that without weekend service the ferry system would be "financially unfeasible," the report asked if spending $20 million for ferries, and subsidizing them at $1.3 million a year, would be justified "when the service primarily serves a recreational function?"

The report also questioned the efficiency of an interim bus system operating on existing streets and highways. The district has advertised for bids on the $10 million fleets of 152 buses, but the report asked "how long could the bus system operate with any degree of efficiency" without a second deck or tunnels in San Francisco.

The staff report also said the best route in San Francisco for the busway would be as part of the proposed freeway linking the bridge with downtown. San Francisco's planning department favors routing the system along the Geary Boulevard corridor, but the subcommittee staff said a system serving both the corridor and Marin would not work.

Yesterday's hearing was taken up largely by a presentation of the plan, but a second hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday in the Capitol.

Petaluma Board Eyes A Reduced Budget As Teachers Ask Hikes

Reduced operating budgets totaling nearly $7.5 million for the 1971-72 school year were reviewed last night by the Petaluma Board of Education as teachers made a request for an 11 per cent salary increase.

Asst. Supt. George W. Castleberry presented a preliminary budget of $5,064,628 for the high school district reflecting a decrease of $48,753 from this year's expenditures of $5,113,371.

Castleberry said tax rates will probably remain the same, although the elementary district tax rate may drop by 10 cents because state school building payments will be decreased.

After Castleberry and the board completed discussion of staff and operating reductions that may be necessary to conform to the restricted budget, they heard Paul Lyon, chairman of the negotiation council of the Association of Petaluma Area Teachers, submit his group's request for the salary increase effective July 1.

Lyon said the requested salary schedule is based on achieving the 90th percentile of the average salary of teachers in the Novato and Santa Rosa School districts as well as a 6 per cent cost of living increase.

The average pay for Novato teachers was set at $11,696 and $11,927 for Santa Rosa teachers while those in the Petaluma district receive an average of $10,430.

The association request also included pay increases for substitute teachers, driver education teachers and extra pay for supervisory work at school dances, athletic events and other programs held outside school hours.

Schools Supt. Lesly H. Meyer asked Lyon to make a formal presentation to the board next month as a preliminary to the negotiations.

In the preliminary budgets, only normal advancement on the salary schedule was included rather than salary increases.

In the reduced budgets, administration salaries would be reduced with the elimination of an administrative assistant in each district. Supplies in both districts would be cut by one-third.

Plant operations also suffered cutbacks with three custodians cut in the elementary district and five in the high school. Other custodial positions may be reduced to 10-month jobs to save money.

In the high school district, bus transportation would be eliminated for nearly all students living within the city limits of Petaluma, Rohnert Park and Cotati with rural routes shortened to follow only main roads. Transportation for field trips would be eliminated in both districts.

Complete lunches would be eliminated in the high schools with a la carte and snacks sold at increased prices to put the program on a self-supporting basis. The board asked Castleberry to find a way to maintain free lunches for needy students.

Castleberry said the state average spending per high school student is $942 while Petaluma now spends $831 and will drop to $797 under next year's proposed budget. The statewide average is $705 per child and $683 in Petaluma, which would drop to $659 next year.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

CONTRACT — Awarded the contract for grading work at the future Casa Grande High School to Blasi Construction Co. of Healdsburg at a low bid of $55,400. The project had been estimated to cost $100,000.

TWO ROCK — Passed a resolution approving the intention of the Coast Guard to acquire the Two Rock Ranch Army station for a training school.

VOTE — Urged a yes vote on the April 20 ballot proposition to continue Sonoma County's moratorium on mobile home parks until tax inequities have been solved.

BONDS — Heard a report that Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco was the apparent low bidder with an interest rate of 4.86 per cent on $400,000 in elementary district bonds approved by voters in 1968.

MEETING — Set a meeting with the Rohnert Park City Council for April 22 at 6:30 p.m. at Chesney's Carriage House, Rohnert Park.

ADVISER — Welcomed Richard King of Rancho Cotate High School as the new student adviser to the board.

Urge March

NEW YORK (UPI)—An advertisement signed by 49 members of the Army's First Air Cavalry Division was printed in today's edition of the New York Times urging people to join antiwar marches in Washington and San Francisco April 24.

Cosmetic Accord Struck By FDA

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Cosmetics manufacturers have agreed to register with the Food and Drug Administration and tell the FDA what ingredients go into their products, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by Virginia H. Knauer, President Nixon's consumer affairs adviser. She praised the industry for both steps but called also for elimination of possibly hazardous cosmetics ingredients and said all ingredients should be listed on the label of cosmetics products.

Both Mrs. Knauer and FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards had urged the cosmetics industry voluntarily to help the FDA police possibly hazardous cosmetics ingredients. Under the law, the FDA cannot demand ingredient information on cosmetics although it can seize products judged hazardous or contaminated.

A $1 Hike In Dog License

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Board of Supervisors voted Monday to increase the cost of dog licenses in San Francisco by $1 on July 1. The new price will be $5.

Board members also voted to add $1.4 million to funds needed for construction of a new $33 million medical center to replace San Francisco General Hospital.

Happy Mother's Day!

If you're a mom and you'd like to make your day a little richer this year, tell the kids about some of the mother's things they can get with Blue Chip Stamps.

Pretty sheets and towels. And hair dryers. And electric kitchen things that make the work a little easier, all come a lot easier with Blue Chips instead of money.

And if you're not quite a mom, but you're working on it, make sure you do your grocery shopping where you get stamps. Because if you start saving early, you'll have a crib waiting when it comes time to fill it.

It pays to shop where you get them.

THE TANGY flavor of apple is the key to this new idea for a pork chop dinner — created easily with pancakes from a mix and a mouth-watering apple beet relish mold.

A Tasty Loaf From The Oven

Memories of baking are warm, nostalgic memories. The fragrant kitchen, the homemade bread, the companionship are all heartwarming. A wonderful lift for even the simplest meal, Apricot Nut Bread continues the fine tradition of quick breads.

Simple and speedy, quick breads are a treat for dinner, dessert, breakfast, tea time or anytime. Apricot Nut Bread has a special attraction — it's made with pancake mix. Versatile pancake mix becomes a convenient base for this quick bread while apricots, prized for their tart-sweet taste, combine with pecans, cinnamon and a hint of orange for especially pleasing flavor.

As your family tastes this mouthwatering Apricot Nut Bread, they'll want it to be a regular part of the baking repertory.

APRICOT NUT BREAD
(Makes 1 loaf)

2 cups pancake mix
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup chopped dried apricots
½ cup chopped pecans
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1¼ cups milk
2 eggs, beaten
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat oven to moderate (350°F.). Grease a 8½x4½ - ½x2 - ½-inch loaf pan. Line bottom with waxed paper; grease again. Combine pancake mix, brown sugar, apricots, pecans, orange peel and cinnamon in large bowl. Add milk, eggs, butter and vanilla; stir lightly until moistened.

Pour into prepared pan. Bake in preheated oven (350°F.) 55 to 60 minutes. Cool about 10 minutes. Remove from pan; cool thoroughly on wire rack.

Wrap and store 1 day before slicing.

Potato Pancakes Go Well With Pork And Applesauce

Pork chops and apple sauce are good all year around and they move right into spring when they're served with fluffy potato pancakes and a refreshing jellied beet relish.

To turn the tables a bit, serve the apple sauce over the pancakes. But also have a large bowl of hot apple sauce nearby so everyone can have more to spoon onto the meat, too.

It's hard to think of a more versatile food than apple sauce. It can be served plain for breakfast, lunch, dinner or snacks. It's a perfect appetizer, salad, dessert. Heat it, chill it. Or even stir in cinnamon or nuts.

The potato pancakes are made from a packaged mix — easy and flavorful. Another convenience food, lemon flavored gelatin, is used for the relish. Apple juice substituted for part of the water gives richness to the gelatin; then vinegar, horseradish and drained canned beets are stirred in. It's quick to make and a tart accompaniment for the meal.

POTATO PANCAKES

1 package (6 oz.) potato pancake mix
Egg
Cold water
Butter
2 cups canned apple sauce

Prepare potato pancake mix with egg and water as directed on package. Drop batter by tablespoons onto hot buttered skillet. Brown on both sides. Meanwhile, heat apple sauce. For each person, serve 3 pancakes topped with a large spoonful of hot apple sauce. Serve with baked boneless pork chops. Makes 8 servings.

APPLE BEET RELISH MOLDS

1 package (3 oz.) lemon flavored gelatin
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup boiling water
1 cup cold apple juice
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons horseradish
1 can (8 oz.) julienne beets, drained

Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Stir in apple juice, vinegar and horseradish. Chill until slightly thickened. Mix in beets. Spoon into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold onto crisp greens. Makes 2⅔ cups or 8 relish servings.

A Shrimp Dish With Accents Of Quebec

Almost everyone is aware of the traditional French cooking of Louisiana, particularly with seafood such as shrimp; but not many of us realize that there's another place on our continent where shrimp also gets a Gallic touch — the province of Quebec in Canada.

This is what the editors of "French Cooking in the New World" tell us in their new cookbook, which traces the gastronomic traditions of the French in North America. Here's an intriguing recipe from the book which gives shrimp a French-Canadian accent.

SHRIMP MONTREALAISE

2 tablespoons minced heart of celery
1 teaspoon anchovy paste
1 clove garlic, minced fine
1 tablespoon paprika
1 tablespoon minced scallions
1 tablespoon minced parsley
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
7 tablespoons olive oil
¼ tablespoon salt
¼ tablespoon pepper
1 tablespoon horseradish
½ teaspoon Dijon mustard
2 dozen chilled, cooked, shelled and deveined shrimp
4 large or 8 small lettuce leaves

In a bowl, combine celery, anchovy paste, garlic, paprika, scallions, parsley, vinegar, olive oil, salt and pepper. Combine horseradish and mustard. Add to mixture. Whip well with a wire whisk or fork until well blended. Pour mixture over shrimp and chill until ready to serve. Serve on lettuce leaves. Four servings.

More Fat

Dairy cream contains far more fat than milk, as well as vitamin A. It is a good energy food and, because it is easily digested, it is very nutritious for invalids.

Lettuce

Trim sparingly all varieties of lettuce. Discard as little of the outer leaves of lettuce as possible to get the most vitamin A, vitamin C and minerals for your money.

Some Tips For Those Who Eat Out Most Of The Time

The bachelor who won't cook and the traveling salesman who eats most of his meals on the road may be headed for heart trouble, says the Marin County Heart Association.

A diet emphasizing foods rich in saturated fats and cholesterol — the bacon-and-eggs, hamburger-and-French fries, meat-with-gravy and coffee-with-cream route followed by so many who constantly eat out, can speed the development of hardening of the arteries.

Usually, says the Heart Association, the items mentioned are loaded with animal (saturated) fats and/or cholesterol which influence coronary artery disease. Clearly, the person who eats out is on a spot. However, moderate changes in eating habits may get him or her off it.

The Marin County Heart Association offers this advice, which applies to anyone who eats out often:

1. Go easy on the roll and biscuit basket. Commercial types usually are made with butter, eggs, whole milk, cream or other saturated fats.

2. Ask for margarine instead of butter. Margarine and most vegetable oils contain poly-unsaturated fats, which help lower cholesterol blood levels.

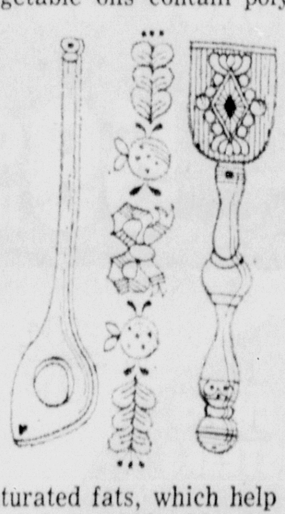
3. Ask your waitress to load up the appetizer tray. You'll relish nibbling all you want on celery, carrots, radishes, scallions and pickles.

4. You also can have your fill of salads, providing you use oil and vinegar dressing. It's tasty and your salad will have neither saturated fat nor cholesterol.

5. For the main course, concentrate on lean meats, fish and poultry, baked, broiled or roasted. If a sauce is served on your meat, scrape it off. Remove the skin from the turkey and chicken, to avoid most of the fat.

6. If you like milk, try skim milk, or buttermilk and yogurt made from skim milk. You can have cocoa made with low-fat milk.

7. Naturally, you should avoid or eat sparingly of rich desserts. What's left? Fresh fruit, or canned fruit without added sugar, gelatin fruit whip, puddings if made with low-fat milk, ice milk and sherbet in moderation.

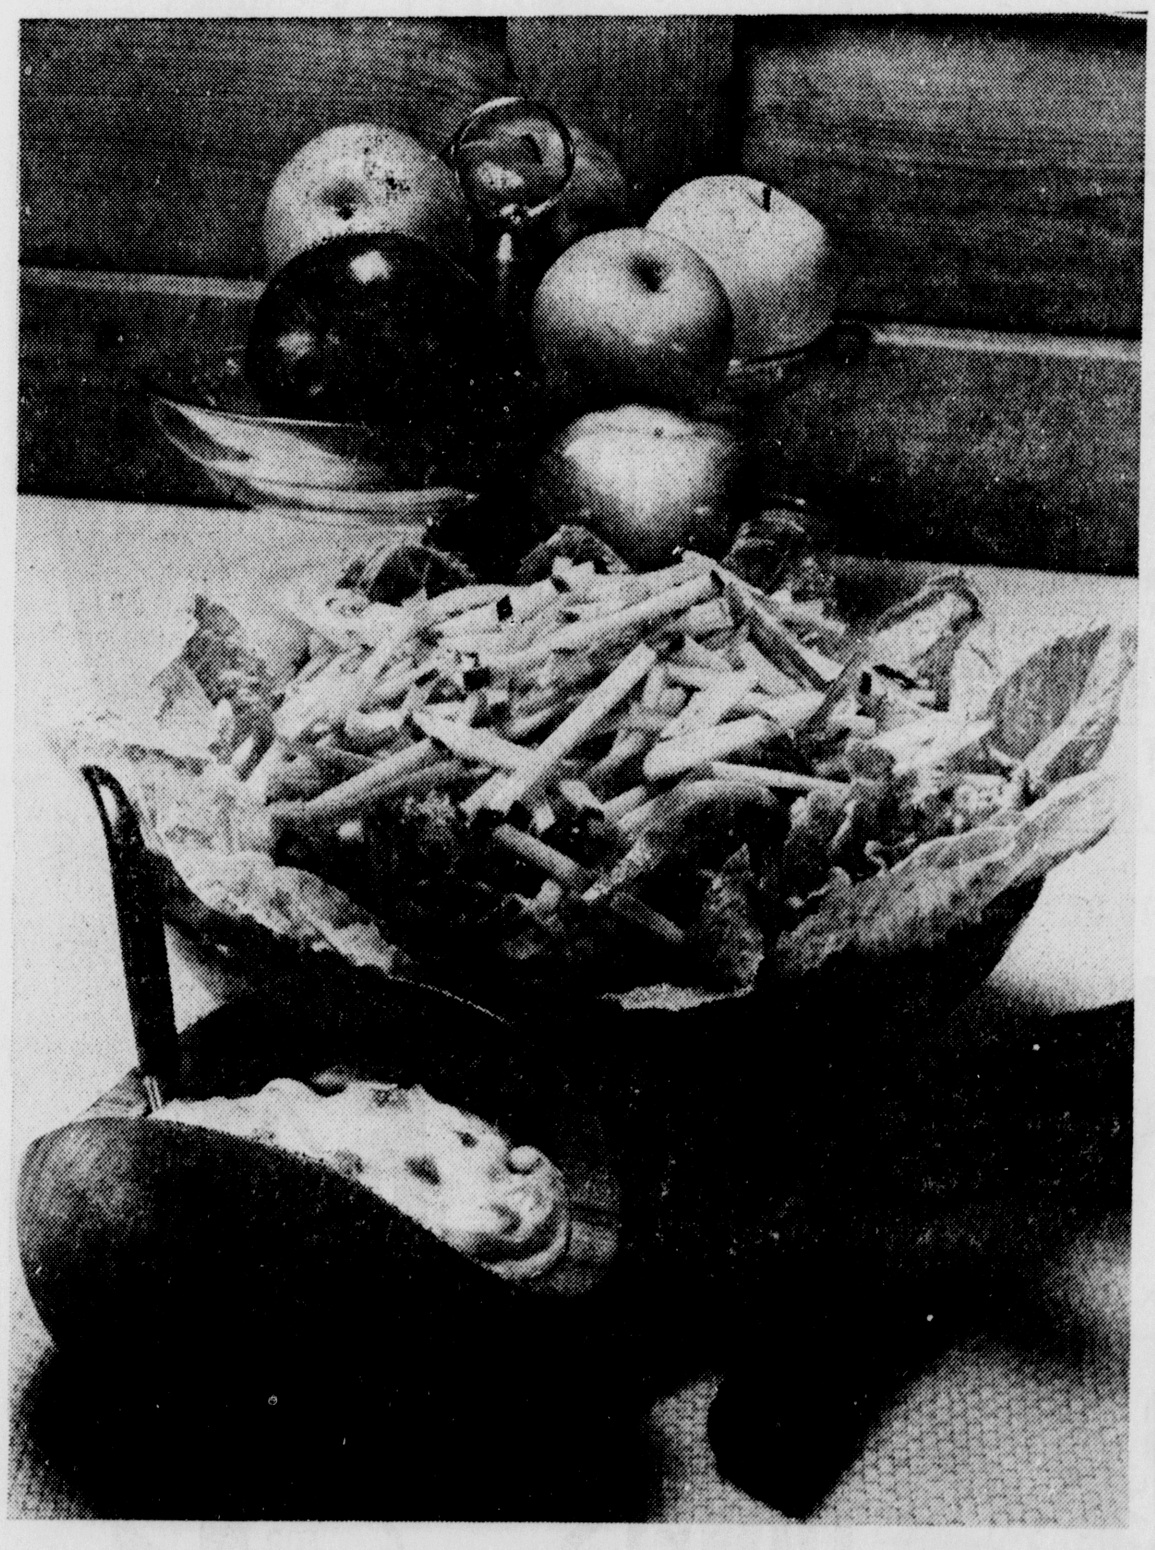


Tender Dough

To keep cookie dough tender, roll out on a light dusting of powdered sugar instead of flour and cut to reduce rerolling of scraps. One way is to cut the rolled dough into strips of desired width, then into diamonds.

Sweet Pie

Sprinkling 3 tablespoons of sugar on the bottom of an unbaked pastry shell before filling it with cut fresh fruit does more than sweeten the underside of the fruit. By absorbing the fruit juice, the sugar helps prevent the crust from becoming soggy.



Play A Game Of Jackstraws With Apples, Green Peppers, Celery

Remember the game of jackstraws that once was so popular with children? It was such a memory that inspired the idea for this interesting new salad, with all the main ingredients cut into thin sticks.

Red-tipped apple sticks, bright green sticks of sweet peppers, ribbed white sticks of celery and a scattering of slivered blanched almonds heaped on crisp salad greens make a handsome display and a delightful combination of flavors — especially when served with creamy Chutney Dressing.

JACKSTRAW SALAD

3 red apples
2 medium green peppers
2 cups celery sticks
½ cup slivered blanched almonds
Salad greens

Do not peel apples. Cut into very thin sticks with red peel at either end. Drop at once into water to which lemon juice or ascorbic-citric acid powder has been added. Cut green peppers and celery into very thin sticks. Drain apples thoroughly; combine with green pepper sticks, celery sticks and almonds; toss to mix. Place in a salad bowl lined with crisp salad greens.

Serve with Chutney Dressing. Makes 8 servings.

CHUTNEY DRESSING

Combine 1 cup mayonnaise, ½ cup dairy sour cream and ½ cup drained, chopped chutney. Mix well.

'DELICIOUS, SPANISH STYLE....
that's what I like about LAMB'

LAMB LOIN CHOPS with Spanish Olive Relish (makes 6 servings)

3 tablespoons olive or salad oil
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 medium red pepper, chopped
2 medium ripe tomatoes, peeled, seeded and cubed
3/4 teaspoon paprika
Salt and pepper
3/4 cup small pimiento-stuffed Spanish green olives
6 lamb loin chops, 1 to 1-1/4 inches thick

Heat 2 tablespoons of the oil in large skillet over medium heat; add garlic, vegetables, paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper and olives. Cook uncovered, stirring frequently until vegetables are tender. Spoon olive relish in center of heated platter and keep warm. Pour drippings from skillet. Season chops with salt and pepper. Heat remaining oil in skillet; add chops and sauté 5 to 6 minutes per side, or until lamb is as done as you like it. Arrange chops around olive relish.

Vivid Memories Of 50 Wedded Years

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Makinson of Rohnert Park, formerly Marin County residents for 40 years, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday.

On Saturday the Makinsons will be feted at a champagne reception at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

Both natives of San Francisco, Irma and Paul Makinson were married in 1921 at the Congregational Church in San Rafael, then situated on E Street. After the ceremony the immediate family enjoyed a breadfast reception at the church. "To this day I still don't have our marriage certificate," grins Mrs. Makinson.

MRS. MAKINSON, the former Irma Von Oesen vividly recalled the 1906 earthquake in San Francisco and remembers being evacuated from her Mission District home. Her family spent the following three days camping at the foot of Twin Peaks. Paul Makinson's immediate concern was to report to relief headquarters at Golden Gate Park where he was assigned to drive supplies for several days.

Prior to this Mr. Makinson had spent many years at sea mostly on whaling ships and three masted schooners traveling between San Francisco and Alaska. This love of the sea has greatly influenced Paul Makinson's life, and his employers include Pacific Steamship American Smelters and Mare Island Naval shipyard from which he retired in 1954 after 17 years of service.

ONE OF his proudest possessions is a framed license awarded by the United States Coast Guard for 50 years service as a registered chief engineer. This certificate indicates Mr. Makinson is able to handle motor vessels of any horsepower. Another favorite display in the Makinson home is a handsome replica of a three-masted schooner which one of their sons created especially for his father.

The Makinsons have lived in the Las Casitas Mobile Home Park in Rohnert Park the past six years. Their two living sons are Harold Makinson of San Rafael and Stanley Makinson of Novato. There are five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Saturday's reception is being planned by their children and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Doyle, close family friends. A member of their wedding party who is expected to attend is Mrs. Irene Kohler of Oakland. Two older brothers of Mrs. Makinson's, George A. Makinson of Sacramento and William J. Makinson of San Francisco, will also be present.

Ira Makinson noted that the guest list also includes a group of former high school classmates, who with Mrs. Makinson have met regularly for the past 58 years.

A special talent of Paul Makinson's that is proudly appreciated by his wife is a beautiful bass voice. For 14 years he studied at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and sang solo and with the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal Church for seven years. Several of Makinson's favorite ballads and hymns have been recorded and constitute a record collection which is a family treasure.

Presently both Mr. and Mrs. Makinson are deeply involved in community activities. Irma Makinson is chairman of the Thursday morning koffee klatches for the "park" while her husband enjoys the position of unofficial photographer at most functions they attend. Another pleasure of the pair is their rose garden.

BOTH IRMA and Paul Makinson have a sense of humor and warmth that easily captures those nearby. They admit to difficult times and struggles in the past yet offer no regrets. Today both are deeply concerned and aware of society's needs and conflicts and youth but do not condemn them.

Mr. Makinson strongly emphasized an ability on the part of both husband and wife to admit "I'm sorry" as a secret of their successful marriage.

"I never started the day without saying I'm sorry if it was necessary" he said with a nod to his smiling wife.

AT THEIR mailbox receiving congratulatory cards and notes on their 50th wedding anniversary are Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Makinson of Rohnert Park. Marin County residents for many years, they are now residents of Las Casitas Mobile Home Park and participate in most of the park's activities. . . including bicycling.

NOT SO ELUSIVE

One of the butterflies adorning a wide-brimmed sailor hat from the spring and summer collection of milliner Simone Mirman got free and landed on the shorts worn by model Penny Carter. None made it to the see-through blouse, a "little something extra" from the chapeau designer.

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL

Wave after wave of applause greeted the gray knit jodhpurs and weskits, the man-tailored black pantsuits and the widecut gray polo coats and broad brimmed felt hats of caumont.

THE ERA between the world wars was recalled by pleated skirts with long belted jackets and girls' silk shorts and masculine ties. Shoes had ankle straps.

Black caumont evening suits with skirts or pants had bolero jackets and blouses of white crepe or glitter beading. The look ranged from the pampas of Argentina to the deserts of North Africa.

Tendresse did baggy paratrooper pants and knit tops in dull red. Skirts, always to the knee bottom, had inverted box pleats.

A STRONG oriental influence showed in a pair of collections by Americans, both just back from junkets in that part of the world.

La Mendola liked acid green, pinks and deep blue-purples in peacock print silk gowns that swirled about the knee or fell to the ankle for evening in a slinky gown laced up the front of the bodice and unlaced down one leg. Shoes were thick Chinese clogs.

Ken Scott of Milan and Indiana loved kimonos in all colors all at once, and in all lengths for all hours. His Chinese clog shoes were so high the models barely could move. One fell down the runway steps into an usher's arms.

Gray flannel suits, blazer jackets, cardigan sweaters and polo coats marked the classic look of men's clothes shown Monday night, the first of three days of shows by 81 houses.

The opening women's shows of high fashion ready-to-wear stressed tailored suits, shirtwaist blouses and a return to the suit for cocktail and evening wear. Every house showed hemlines at the bottom of the kneecap, even when a few microskirts were tucked into collections, or when a rare pair of shorts peeped out from a slit skirt.

THE BIGGEST men's applause-getter was Ugo Coccoli's line of classic gray flannel suits with one or two buttons. He also drew praise with pale gray trousers and medium gray blazers, worn with regimental striped ties and shirts of so pale a blue they seemed nearly white.

Baratta was big on polo coats, plain or with thick beaver collars. There was a cape look to his flared dracula coat in dark green. It had a very high collar into which the wearer could sink his chin.

Miguel Cruz for Litrico liked all gray knits in cardigans and matching slacks. Some sweater tops were sashed or had geometric insets in rust color. Shoes were in matching shades of gray suede.

PALE BEIGES and muted, pale plaids were popular, as at Sir Bonser, the shirt maker, where many shirt jackets had patches sewn on the elbows.

Women's evening gowns were romantic again. A long red coat with knife pleats falling from an empire waist topped a white empire gown of pleats with a narrow embroidered band for a top, from the Fontana Sisters. It was strictly for the flat of chest.

Blazers came into their own for evening. Ognibene-Zendman did them in horizontal striped satin with long satin skirts. Barocco's blazers were of black sequins and Renato Balestra's of black and gold glitter threads.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Family To Live In India Village

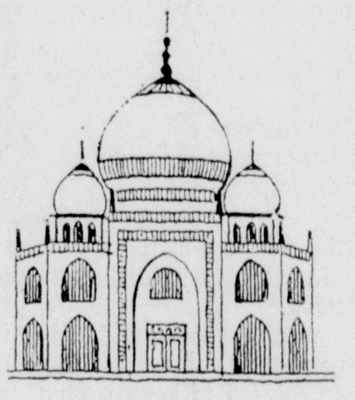
By MOLLY MARIN

A Tiburon family will live among the Indian people in the small Southern India village of Vellore for the next three to six months. Dr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Woodward and their five children, ages 8 to 13, depart tomorrow.

Traveling extensively from their house in Vellore, Dr. Woodward will visit hospitals in Southern India in connection with his fellowship at Mt. Zion Hospital's Claire Zellerbach Tumor Institute.

"We have been having study sessions every night for the children on India," says Betty Woodward, who decided to accompany her husband to India because of the educational opportunity for their children.

Each Woodward plans to keep a private journal about India and only compare them upon homecoming, probably late August.



THE JACK Youngers of Mill Valley have received word of the plans of their son, John G. Younger, and his wife Karen.

Both in their fourth year of graduate study at the University of Cincinnati, they are working respectively on master's degrees in classic and English literature. They will be leaving this summer for a two-year stay in Greece, where they spent some time during 1969-70.

Mr. Younger is a Bronze Age archaeologist associated with the American School of Classical Study in Athens and the British School of Archaeology and will be excavating in Crete and the Cyclades. Mrs. Younger will be doing research on the contemporary French and English novel.

Both plan several months of study at Oxford, England, next year and expect to receive their Ph.D. degrees from the University of Cincinnati in 1973.

FORMER NOVATO Mayor and Mrs. Babe Silva have returned home following an eight-day trip to the Northwest. It was the first visit there for Marian since she and Babe went on their wedding trip there in 1934, and Babe's first visit since 1940.

In Portland they visited Benjamin Gilmore, who was best man at their wedding. They also visited friends in Bellevue, Wash., and toured the former world's fair site in Seattle.

A RECEPTION will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Clark in San Rafael following the concert of the Marin Symphony on Sunday evening at the College of Marin.

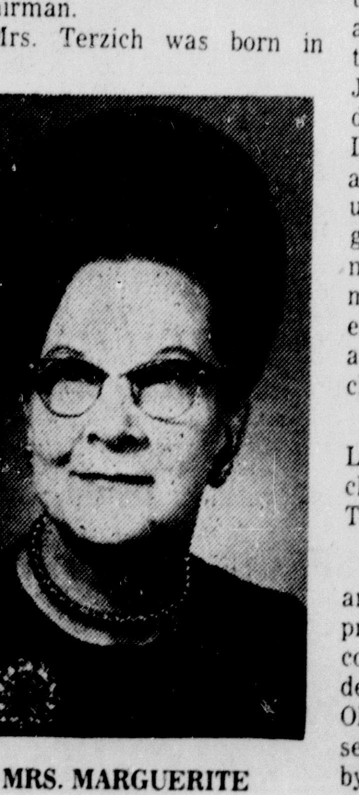
Guests will include Conductor Sandor Salgo and his wife, guest soloist Marni Nixon, Youth Orchestra conductor Hugo Rinaldi and his wife. Also Symphony Guild board members and officers of the guild auxiliary, guild patrons and Workshop for Strings director Robert L. Jacobson and his wife.

Honored guests will be orchestra members.

Mrs. Marguerite Terzich To Lead Business Women

Mrs. Marguerite R. Terzich of Mill Valley is the new president of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County. She has served as both second and first vice president and chairman of the club's cotton candy booth at the Marin Art and Garden Fair on three occasions, and as legislation and finance committee chairman.

Mrs. Terzich was born in Merced and has lived in Marin County 32 years. She has been employed by an insurance company in San Francisco for 24 years. She is a graduate of Merced High School and attended San Jose State College and Armstrong Business College in Berkeley.



MRS. MARGUERITE TERZICH

Mrs. Terzich is interested in the early history of California and is descended from one of the pioneer families of the San Joaquin Valley. She serves as a director of the Smith Mine and Ditch Company of Jamestown, a family enterprise that produced considerable quantity of gold ore in the early days of mining in the Mother Lode. The mine is no longer active. She enjoys light opera, photography and collecting historical articles of early California.

She is the mother of Mrs. Lawrence J. Adams, Mrs. Richard L. Wills and Loren E. Terzich.

Other officers to be installed are Mmes. Dale Hostrup, vice president; Douglas Melton second vice president; G. N. Gunderson, recording secretary; Olan W. McNutt, corresponding secretary, Miss Glenna C. Shelby, treasurer; and Mrs. R. E. Feuerborn, financial secretary.

Products Festival

The more than 1,000 members of Sunny Hills Guilds have been invited to attend a products festival Friday from 10 a.m. to noon on the grounds of the Sunny Hills Home in San Anselmo.

According to Mrs. Gibson Crawford of San Rafael, president of the Sunny Hills Guilds' Governing Council, the festival's purpose is to demonstrate with craft materials new ideas for products to sell at the Grape Festival which will be held in October.

"We want to upgrade the products and stay within our usual low price range" she explains.

Demonstrating craft methods will be Mrs. John Novak of Novato, Mrs. James D. Fletcher of San Rafael and Kay Crawford, and Leslie Clark will demonstrate free form non-loom weaving.

Mrs. Anthony Cameron, chairman of the products festival as well as this year's Grape Festival, wants to keep the tradition of the Grape Festival while giving it a new look. Some changes for 1971 will be an outdoor cafe selling beer and wine, which will be operated by the guilds that previously sold antiques and milk shakes.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Admitting Failure Is A First Step Toward A New, Better Life

DEAR HELEN:

My husband and I have separated 14 times in the past two years. Before that, it wasn't quite so bad, though 10 years of marriage hasn't been exactly heaven.

Two of our biggest problems are: his drinking, and his father. The booze problem got so bad that my husband lost his job, but his 97-year-old father (who lives with us and hasn't taken a bath in 12 years) gives him $200 a week, and he lushes up most of it.

We have a 10-room house, but "Papa" insists on sleeping till noon every day on the living room sofa. His aversion to water makes things very bad. Between a drunk husband and an overripe father-in-law, my life is not smooth.

I moved out against last week. I don't think I am even missed. If I went back, do you think I have any chance of changing things? — CAN'T STAND FAILURE

DEAR C.S.F.:

If you haven't "changed things" in 14 tries. . . well, let's put it this way: admitting failure is sometimes the first step toward a new and better life. (I'd rate your last one pretty "rank.") — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A State Legislator has said that VD is the biggest epidemic to hit the suburbs since crabgrass.

Isn't it time we had mass examinations at school — or, at the least, insist that every student present a certificate from a doctor before he or she gets report cards each semester?

If small pox and polio can be all but eliminated, why not VD? — TERRIBLY WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

Venereal disease won't be eradicated until someone discovers a fool proof immunization, and it becomes as routine as smallpox vaccinations.

It's sad that in these enlightened times so many teenagers must write to columnists for information they should be receiving at home or at school. A typical example:

DEAR HELEN:

It happened just once, and he's my ex-boyfriend now. I found out too late I was just another notch on his belt. Helen, I'm scared to death I might have VD, and I can't tell my folks. They'd never get over the shame. I don't have money for treatments and, besides, our doctor would contact Mom, as I'm under age. — HELP!

DEAR HELP:

There's a County Venereal Disease Clinic in your town. Examination and treatment are free, and your parents are not contacted. VD is completely curable if caught early. — H.

SMART SHOPPER

Makers Hear Complaints

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — Should a manufacturer be obligated to supply free parts to a stove or replace a stove after the one-year warranty period has expired if the problems originated during the warranty period?

Should he also be obligated for defects noticed after the warranty period has expired for a stove that was plagued by other problems during the warranty period?

These are two of the thorny questions discussed at the latest monthly meeting of the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel, a panel of eight consumer experts set up a year ago to resolve customer problems with appliances when satisfaction cannot be obtained elsewhere.

MACAP INVITED representatives of the press, Federal Trade Commission and Ralph Nader's study groups to observe and comment on the way it tackles the job of settling disputes between consumers and producers, retailers and repairmen in the appliance field.

MACAP's industry sponsors are the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers, Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association and the American Retail Federation. It deals with almost all appliances except electrical ones.

The case involving the stove was typical of ones referred to MACAP panelists by its Chicago clearinghouse. Approximately 60 per cent of cases are settled within a month and never reach the MACAP panel. MACAP's address is 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill., 60606.

The stove case involved a number of complaints by a Texas housewife. The most important problem was a tendency of the stove to heat up even when the gas dials were turned off. After this defect was finally corrected following numerous repair calls, the oven doors fell off.

BY THE time the over-heating problem was corrected, it was three months beyond the warranty period, and the small manufacturer refused to pay the costs, which were $50.82. MACAP convinced him to pay them.

When problems with the stove persisted, and the manufacturer refused to keep paying, the case bounced back to MACAP. Obviously, the stove was a defective one, but also quite clearly, terms of the warranty did not require replacement of the stove or parts after one year.

Until recent years, that would be the end of it; the buyer would simply have no recourse but to pay through the nose for the "lemon" he got. But the outlook has changed because of new industry attitudes, exemplified by the creation of MACAP, and a series of court decisions and legislative efforts.

MACAP has adopted a policy that says a warranty is still in effect for problems that originate during the warranty period but extend afterward. Its members are also inclined to extend the warranty to cover new problems that arise after the period is over for an appliance that showed earlier defects.

RECENT COURT decisions have supported this concept with the phrase "implied warranty." They have ruled that the simple act of placing a product on public sale carries with it an implied warranty that the product is fit for the purpose intended and safe for use regardless of time limits and other restrictions specified in a written warranty or guarantee.

But MACAP has no power to enforce its decisions; it must rely on the goodwill and business sense of member organizations and others in the industry. Judging from results of the first year's operations, it is making progress. In fact, it has stirred the interest of other industries in adopting similar procedures in order to stem the rising tide of consumer complaints.

According to its own figures, it has satisfactorily settled a total of 1,855 cases out of 2,889 referred to it. These figures include several hundred received and processed by sponsoring industry associations before MACAP was formally organized in March of 1970.

Most of the complaints involved refrigerators and ranges. The proportions were 41 per cent for refrigerators, 24 per cent for ranges, 14 per cent for washers, 8 per cent for dishwashers, 5 per cent for air conditioners and 8 per cent for all other appliances under MACAP jurisdiction.

The most frequent cause for complaint was dissatisfaction with service or charges, which accounted for 22 per cent of all cases. Next most frequent complaint involved defects or poor performance, 19 per cent, followed by problems of getting parts or defective parts, 18 per cent.

EXCESSIVE REPAIRS were the subject of 7 per cent of complaints, while warranty and temperature problems each accounted for 7 per cent more. Other less frequent causes of trouble were non-responsiveness of dealers or manufacturers, excessive noise, food spoilage, safety problems, sales misrepresentation, improper installation and inadequate buying information.

Although MACAP expenses are paid by the industry associations sponsoring it, its members are not paid and are anxious to demonstrate their independence in handling individual cases and setting policies.

Chairman is Virginia Cutler, a professor of home economics at Brigham Young University. Members represent other universities, the YWCA, the Michigan Consumers Council and Credit Counselling Centers, Inc.

They have already demonstrated some courage in supporting Congressional efforts to strengthen product warranties through legislation opposed by MACAP sponsoring associations.

In a number of cases, MACAP recommendations have gone against dealers and manufacturers. In one case, it suggested a settlement that turned out to be twice what the customer agreed to accept later.

Tricia To Be Married On June 12—Probably

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Tricia Nixon and Edward Finch Cox will be married at 4 p.m. EST Saturday, June 12—and if the weather is right, the ceremony may be staged in an unprecedented setting, perhaps the White House Rose Garden.

The President's 25-year-old daughter unveiled the particulars Monday at the White House Easter egg roll. The wedding previously was scheduled for June 5.

TRICIA ALSO revealed she has selected her wedding gown, as expected, from Priscilla of Boston (Priscilla Kidder). Mrs. Kidder, a friend of the Nixons, designed the wedding gowns of Tricia's sister, Julie, and also of Luci Nugent, daughter of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"Tricia's a beautiful girl, and she'll be a beautiful bride," Mrs. Kidder was quoted as recently saying. "She's small and dainty and knows how to dress."

Tricia, in a pink and white dress, a pink ribbon in her hair, made it clear the style of her wedding gown is secret. She already has disclosed she wants a romantic style and Mrs. Kidder says the President's daughter likes the empire line because it is "right for her."

TRICIA AND her mother have been mulling over a guest list expected to number in the hundreds with family and friends, although it will be a family affair rather than a state occasion.

"I think we've got it contained," Tricia said.

The First Lady and Tricia, aware of the historical significance of a White House wedding, would like to have it stand out for its own character and not necessarily follow tradition. All previous weddings in the White House have been in either the East Room or Blue Room.

AN OUTDOOR wedding in June could be a perfect setting with the gardens in full flower, but it has a weather pitfall. "We'd be out of luck if it rained," Tricia said.

Her fiance spent the weekend with the Nixon family at Camp David and returned to Harvard Law School to begin working for his final exams in May.

Heidi Phillips Is Bride Of Silas William Ellis

Planning to live in Florida following their nuptials are Mr. and Mrs. Silas William Ellis, who exchanged vows April 5 at Alameda County Court House in Oakland.

The bride is the former Heidi Carol Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Phillips of San Rafael.

A reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adams of Oakland.

Heidi attended San Rafael High School and is a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School in Washington, D.C. She attended Chico State College for two years.

She is the sister of Mrs. Donn Johnson of Louisiana, Mrs. Denis Kelley of Norden, Lt. Eric Phillips of Barbers Point Naval Air Station in Hawaii, and Mark Phillips of San Rafael.

The bridegroom was graduated from McClymonds High School in Oakland and attended Chico State College. He is serving with the Air Force at McCoy Air Force Base in Florida, where the couple will reside.

He is the brother of Mrs. Robert Bridges, Mrs. Elisha Ellis and Mrs. Joe Rhoch all of Oakland.

If the family goes on vacation, set the thermostat back about 10 degrees with a forced air or hot water heating system. If it's set lower, the cost of heating a chilly house when you return will eat up the savings during your absence.

Last Music For Minors Concert Due

Music For Minors, sponsored by the Marin Symphony Guild, will present its third and final program of the 1970-71 school year Friday in 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. performances at the Mary Silviera School in Terra Linda.

Children of the Sausalito, Ross, Dixie and Novato school districts will hear the program, which is under the direction of San Rafael School music department head Hugo Rinaldi and provided through the cooperation of the American Federation of Musicians Local 6, AFL-CIO.

The program will consist of an exploration of the essentials of jazz inprovisation by a five-piece San Rafael High School jazz band, with audience participation; excerpts, with narration by piano teacher Wanda Baer, from William Walton's "Facade" to be performed Sunday by the Marin Symphony Orchestra; an aria from the third act of Von Weber's "Der Freischutz" sung by Soprano Lou-Ann Fischer, accompanied by 15 members of the Marin Symphony Orchestra; and Tchaikovsky's variations on a Roccoco theme performed by cellist Jed Barahal of the Marin Youth Orchestra.

Ensemble Concert Planned

Musica De Camera Ensemble (formerly Erotic Bach) will perform at a free concert at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Musical Barber Shop, Fair-Anselm Shopping Center in Fairfax.

Members of the Musica De Camera are Richie Crabtree, piano; Mel Graves, string bass; and Clive Hawthorne, flute. They will play works of Brahms, Beethoven and Bach among other selections.

Poster Contest Deadline Set

Tomorrow is the deadline for Sausalito School District children to submit posters in a contest honoring the planned rededication of Sausalito's remodeled main fire station.

Youngsters 14 and under may compete for cash prizes. The rules are available from the fire stations or the library, according to Mrs. Raymond Gargus, contest chairman. Theme for the posters is "our brave firemen."

The posters, a parade and other events will be the highlights of "a day of civic pride" and rededication of the firehouse May 8, according to Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, general chairman for the celebration.

Top Britten Opera Slated At Sonoma

Benjamin Britten's Gothic-Victorian opera, "The Turn of the Screw," will be presented by the Sonoma State College Opera Workshop on April 22, 23 and 24 at the Fred Warren Memorial Auditorium on campus.

There will be 8:30 p.m. performances on all dates with a special 2:30 p.m. matinee on April 23.

Dr. Peggy Donovan-Jeffrey, workshop director, says that the opera has the power of an Ibsen play and is one of the best chamber operas in the 20th century repertoire as well as one of Britten's best works. Based on the story by Henry James, the opera is set in the 1850's and has only six characters.

David Sloss, a member of the Sonoma State College of Music faculty, will conduct the chamber orchestra composed of 18 members of the college's philharmonic orchestra. Gerd Mairamdres, a member of the faculty of the department of theater arts at the college, is the guest stage director, and Floyd Ross is the designer of sets and costumes.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the Office of Educational Services and Summer Sessions at the college.

Sculpture On Display

The exhibit will continue until May 1. Scher, a native of Odessa on the Black Sea, has lived in Turkey, Brazil, and Mexico, and since 1930 in the United States.

Warning On Stolen Plants

A San Anselmo woman has warned the person who took 16 digitalis plants from the side of her home Saturday night that the plants could be poisonous if eaten by humans.

Mrs. Ralph Boyer of 35 Lansdale Avenue said she feared the plants, also known as foxglove, may be sold and wind up within a child's reach.

Mrs. Boyer said the plants, about two inches high, were taken from planter bands on a shelf alongside her home. When mature, the oval-shaped plants sprout bell-shaped flowers.

William Blackwell, county agricultural inspector, quoted a book on poisonous plants as saying digitalis was known to have poisoned animals but no case of human poisoning was reported.

Concert To Be Given At Stinson

The second free chamber music concert sponsored by the Stinson Beach Allied Arts will be presented by the San Francisco Wind Quintet Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the Stinson Beach Community Center.

They will play Quintetto Concertante in F Major, Hans George Lickl; Partita for Wind Quintet, Irving Fine; Eight Studies for Wind Quintet, Hugh Aitken; Variations on a Folk Song, Jan Sweelinck; and Duex Pieces Pour Flute, Hautbois, Clarinette, Bassoon Et Cor, J. Guy Ropartz.

Refreshments will be served.

The concert is made possible through the cooperation of the American Federation of Musicians Local 6, ALF-CIO.

The third concert in the series will be presented on Aug. 15 by a group of performers of Renaissance and baroque music under the directions of Donald Pippin.

MARIN OPEN HOUSE

An Addict Stands Alone

By SANDRA YOUNG
(Second of two articles)

Whose fault is it when a person becomes a drug addict?

At Marin Open House, the addict learns that he alone is responsible. Not his parents. Not society. Not any of the scapegoats usually sought by the addict: his friends, his affluence or poverty, his draft status. None of these. Nothing but himself.

That lesson the addict must learn if he is ever to kick the habit, according to Tom Pinkson, Open House treatment director.

"We don't deny there are external influences," Pinkson said, "but his parents aren't putting that needle in his arm and neither is the draft board."

Parents, however, do have a role to play in the addict's rehabilitation, and it calls for strength and determination.

At Open House, part of the treatment consists of involving parents in the therapy and in training them for their tough role.

Parents, according to Pinkson, must be shown that they do not help their child when they post bail, cover bad checks, provide money and a roof overhead.

With all that going for him, Pinkson said, there's no incentive for the addict to quit.

"But if you take all that away, if you force the kid to hit the bottom of the cycle, then he is in a position to make a decision about which direction he will go," Pinkson said.

Yet parents, arriving at the discreet, home-like building at 1327 Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael, are apt to blame themselves for their child's addiction and balk at forcing him to "hit the bottom of the cycle."

When an addict decides to quit drugs, an Open House staff member meets with him and his parents to draw up a contract. Basically, the parents agree to continue giving Johnny room and board if he stays "clean."

The penalty if he doesn't is the loss of Johnny's security blanket: his easy home.

This is when parents need all the strength they can muster. Johnny now will try to make his parents feel guilty for their action by insisting, "You don't love me. How can you throw me out in the cold if you love me?"

In order to help parents remain strong, Open House offers them support through a weekly parents discussion group similar to the "rap" sessions in which addicts participate.

Couples listen to each other's problems and offer encouragement and sympathy when needed. Often, parents blame each other for Johnny's addiction and soon marital troubles may present another kind of crisis.

Besides the helping hand Open House extends to the addict and his family, it also reaches out into the community.

Dyan Howell, education director at Open House, is trying to eliminate the problem of drug abuse before it exists.

"We want to help a person 'turn on' to himself and 'get high' on life. We want to show him that he doesn't need drugs to do that," she said.

Miss Howell has initiated a six-weeks series for teachers, parents and sixth grade students at Glenwood Elementary School in San Rafael, scheduled to begin this week.

Open House staff members, teaching the three groups separately, will deal with communication problems between the child and parent and teacher and child, Miss Howell said.

"We want to help people learn how to listen — to hear beyond the words," she said.

Miss Howell believes that by establishing direct and open lines of communication between a child and his parents early, the problem of drug abuse will dwindle in the future.

When Open House started in November, it consisted of a paid staff of four and about 50 volunteers. Now, more than 100 volunteers and 10 paid staff members keep the house open virtually around the clock.

Cynthia Elliot, volunteer coordinator, said the force of volunteers includes three physicians, 25 nurses and 20 case aids who have completed 12 weeks of training in group therapy techniques.

"Volunteering answers another need. For many, they are receiving as much as they are giving," she said.

Is Marin Open House a success? The answer depends on how success is measured. It is impossible to determine how many addicts have "successfully" quit drugs because of their experience at Open House.

Many have been "clean" since the doors opened, but five months off drugs does not tell the tale.

Perhaps the number of addicts and parents who look to Open House for help could be used as a measure of success. After a relatively slow start in November, the caseloads have doubled and tripled each month as word of the center spread.

Then, too, neighborhood fears of an influx of menacing addicts appear to have subsided as the quiet comings and going at the ordinary looking house on Lincoln Avenue take their place in the ordinary neighborhood scene.

CANDIDATES' FORUM IS ON TONIGHT

Candidates for mayor and city council will be presented in a forum at 8 p.m. today in the council chamber of the San Rafael City Hall.

The event, to give residents a chance to hear and pose questions to the two candidates for mayor and six aspirants for two openings on the city council, is being sponsored jointly by the Central Marin League of Women Voters and San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

The Independent-Journal reported incorrectly in an editorial last Saturday that the program would be at San Rafael High School. It will be in the city hall.

Misdemeanor Driving Count

Only a misdemeanor drunken driving charge has been filed in Marin Municipal Court against Frank Javier Lopez, 23-year-old soldier arrested on suspicion of felony drunken driving Sunday.

Lopez was involved in a head-on crash in San Rafael in which he and two other persons were injured.

He is to return to court next Monday to enter a plea.

Critical Stage In Marin City Future

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency must convince the federal government within two weeks that it is capable of completing development of Marin City land, or the governemnt may dissolve the agency and take over the land.

"We are in trouble," agency executive director Wallace K. Shepherd told the board. "If the agency is shut down, the government will take the land away from Marin City, leaving the community and the county with no local control over what kind of development takes place."

Shepherd said the ultimatum and deadline came from an auditor from the Department of Housing and Urban Development checking the agency's books and records at the request of the redevelopment board.

The agency, he said, must prepare applications seeking a five-year extension on a $1,556,297 loan which the government granted to it in 1958 to pay for streets, sidewalks and sewers needed to ready Marin City for development. The agency must also apply for an additional $900,000 to operate and pay interest on the existing loan for that period.

Shepherd, who became head of the redevelopment agency in December, said the problems have arisen because his predecessor, Donald O. Stutsman, did not seek an extension from the federal government when development in the community was not completed by a 1969 deadline.

Also, he said, the agency has not submitted a budget to HUD since 1969 and consequently that $105,000 the agency has spent to operate for the last two years has been money not authorized by the government.

The board called a meeting for today at 8 p.m. in the redevelopment office, 429 Drake Avenue, Marin City, to begin formulating a development plan to convince HUD the agency is heading in the right direction.

Behr Plan On Traffic In Sausalito

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to close traffic-choked Sausalito streets to all but residents has been introduced by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

The bill, asked by the Sausalito City Council, would empower the council to close certain streets if it were found that traffic on them was too congested. Only residents of that street would be allowed access, as well as emergency vehicles.

The senator's staff said that there was ample precedent in tha law to allow such closings at least temporarily — as on a weekend, for example. Closing streets for parades was one precedent they cited.

The measure, however, would not permit permanent closing of streets to general public use. It would give the power to close streets to all local governmental agencies with jurisdiction over streets.

Hub Cuts Flood Project Funds, Protesting 'We've Been Had'

San Anselmo city councilmen voted last night to withdraw from a 1965 agreement which they claim unfairly saddles them with maintenance bills for the multimillion-dollar Corte Madera Creek Project. (Another San Anselmo City Council story, page 1)

The city council had been scheduled to vote on an amendment to the joint Powers agreement which would establish a reserve fund for accumulation of maintenance monies, but went in the opposite direction when it decided against any further contributions to the project.

San Anselmo never joined the Corte Madera Flood Control District which is financing the project, but contributes heavily toward its maintenance. The project, controversial from the start, is slated to be completed by this fall as far as the Ross Post Office. It begins at the mouth of the Corte Madera Creek in Larkspur and will ultimately stretch to Fairfax, relieving flooding in the Ross Valley.

The Marin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District supervises the project and Councilman James F. Reed indicated he is not happy with the way it is run.

"They don't maintain our portion of the creek and they don't give us a say on the downstream portion," Reed said. "I think we've been had all the way."

The San Anselmo City Council also:

RECREATION — Scheduled a special meeting for 8 o'clock tonight with the parks and recreation department to discuss filing for federal Housing and Urban Development funds for recreation programs for the coming fiscal year.

SPRAYING — Postponed for two weeks the awarding of a contract for spraying of adult Elm leaf Beetle and larvae to investigate the claim of Benjamin Blades of the Marin Ecology Center and San Anselmo Ecology Commission that Sevin, the proposed spray, is harmful to plants and other insects.

SIGNALS — Passed a resolution requesting allocation of $37,443 from the State Highway Commission for traffic signal improvement along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The project will cost the city $33,157.

PROMOTION — Approved the promotion of Richard Schmidt to the position of Police Sergeant. Schmidt scored the highest of three candidates on a written examination.

APPOINTMENTS — Appointed three new members to the city ecology commission; Claudia Goldthwaite, Michelle Thunes, and John Dodge.

Belveron Plan Told For Landscaping

Belveron Homeowners Association members have made plans for additional landscaping of the subdivision entrances, and voted to support efforts for extension of bicycle trails along the Tiburon Peninsula.

Homeowners president Donald Batten said the association was told Monday night that the property where the Northwestern Pacific Railroad trestle formerly stood has been designated as a neighborhood mini-park. Neighborhood volunteers already have installed a sprinkler system and have begun landscaping there, Batten said.

Syphilis Count

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — The American Social Health Association reported today more than 500,000 persons in the United States were suffering from undetected syphilis.

Agreement To Need Of Consultant

The Larkspur City Council and the city planning commission agreed in joint session last night that a consultant should be hired to revise the city's six-year-old master plan.

However, the groups failed to agree on how much the city should pay for outside services and how long the master plan should take, deferring those questions until next fiscal year's spending needs are spelled out.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst recommended to the panels at the outset that $15,000 be budgeted over the next two years for a consultant, but at least two commissioners thought more money was necessary and another said the issue was moot in view of the fact the city didn't know how much it could spend in 1971-72.

Bathurst felt costs would be minimized by city staff help and fresh data gathered from the 1970 census and housing studies.

Under the agreement reached, the commission will interview several prospective consultants and make a recommendation for appointment at another joint meeting. Planning priorities for a consultant to consider also will be weighed by the commission.

School Offers Free Concert

Five young pianists and a violinist and the combined choirs of the San Domenico School will be featured in a free public concert to be presented Sunday by the Orchestra Da Camera. It will take place at 3 p.m. in Alumnae Hall on the campus of the school in Sleepy Hollow.

Organized by the San Domenico Music Department headed by Faith France and guest conducted by Hugo Rinaldi, the orchestra this year is composed of faculty members, the Orchestra Piccola, a select group of the Marin Youth Orchestra, and professional Musicians Local 6 AFL-CIO.

Opening the concert will be the Ernest Bloch Concerto Grosso for string orchestra with piano obbligato featuring pianist Eliane Lust, Carol Grigau, Barbara Theiss and Deborah Lohse. All are pupils of Faith France.

Carma Romano will be the soloist in the adagio of the J.S. Bach Concerto in E Major for Violin, and Carol Ann Miller will be the soloist in the Allegro Con Brio of the Beethoven Concerto No. 1 in C Major for Piano.

Performing "Folk Songs of the Four Seasons," a cantata for women's voices and orchestra by Vaughan Williams will be members of the school's San Domenico Singers, Schola Cantorum and Freshman Chorus under the direction of Gary Walker, who was assisted with preparation by Joseph Liebling, director of the Oakland Symphony Chorus.

Age Limit For Firemen Is Set

Age limits and requirements for volunteer firemen have been set for the first time by the Marinwood Fire Commission.

No one may join who is more than 45 years old. All volunteers must retire at 50, except the assistant chief who can stay on until 55, said Fire Chief Gaylord E. Bonfield.

Bonfield was directed Monday night to prepare a statement to be signed by a doctor that a man is physically able to fight fires before he can join.

The Marinwood Community Services District Board must approve fire commission action before it is official, Bonfield said.

San Rafael Proposition Invites Treasury Raids

Propositions B and C on the San Rafael ballot for next Tuesday deal with residence qualifications for city officials. Proposition D deals with spending tax money for promotion.

Let's look first at Proposition D.

THE SAN RAFAEL city charter contains a section limiting city expenditure for advertising and promotion to $1,000 per year. Proposition D would repeal this section.

The $1,000 limit is regarded by the city council — and especially by the chamber of commerce, which would like more city funds — as unrealistic. We agree that it is.

Recognizing this, the council last June proposed to amend the charter to raise the limit to $10,000 per year. But that was soundly trounced at the polls, 7,962 "no" to 2,797 "yes."

THE CURRENT PROPOSAL would remove the limit entirely. The City of San Rafael's promotional expenditures would then be "controlled under the procedures applicable to general law cities," says Mayor C. Paul Bettini in the ballot argument.

What are these restrictions? They don't even deserve to be called restrictions.

Government Code section 40101 provides that a city may spend up to 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation of its tax rate for promotion and advertising. In San Rafael, this would be about $65,000.

But Government Code section 37110 provides that a city may spend up to 5 per cent of its general fund for such purposes. In San Rafael, this would be about $200,000.

And besides those, Government Code section 43200 provides that a city may levy a special tax not to exceed 15 cents per $100 valuation for advertising purposes. That would be about another $200,000.

THE CONCLUSION is obvious: Although the $1,000 limit is unrealistic, the alternative offered is to open the city's coffers to raiding by special interest promoters, with no limit worthy of the name.

Vote "No" on Proposition D.

PROPOSITION B would amend the charter to reduce the residence requirement for holding city office from three years to one year.

We don't think much of this idea. There is no requirement for holding city office (aside from city attorney) except that of residence. Three years seems short enough time to get well enough acquainted with a city to want to govern it.

However, recent court decisions have held three-year and five-year residency requirements unconstitutional. So the change would merely bring the charter in line with what the courts are enforcing anyhow.

We might as well vote "yes" on Proposition B.

PROPOSITION C is another residency matter, but different. It would add to the charter a provision that residence in an area which is annexed to the city would count as city residence.

We now have a form of discrimination against residents of newly annexed territories. Although they may have lived there all their lives, they are barred from city office until three years after annexation. Proposition C would correct that.

We heartily recommend a "YES" vote on Proposition C.

Wild Onion Flowers

Unexpectedly, this year in a boggy part of our garden, several bunches of long, narrow-leafed plants sprang forth with lovely, delicate, white bell-like blossoms. About half an inch long and with deeply serated bells, the flowers made us think of the wild onion plants we had seen other years in other places, except these were drooping single blossoms rather than the usual rounded clusters.

There are about nine species of wild onion in the Bay Area, according to our books, and this was evidently one of them.

We cut one off close to the ground, just to be sure. The reassuring garlicky-onion aroma told us what we needed to know.

National Forests Need To Be Protected From Mine Blasters

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

To dramatize his program for an expansion of the national park system and general enhancement of recreational land resources, President Nixon is considering a personal tour of the parks, similar to one made by President Kennedy. We'd like to see him do it, and we'd also like to see him undertake a powerful campaign to save what recreational resources the country already has. Surely that is an indispensable first step to any expansion of the park system.

What, for example, is to be done about the federal mining law of 1872, which in effect grants a license to any mining company to despoil the lands of the U.S. Forest Service?

UNDER THIS INCREDIBLE law, mining claims supersede all others in the public forests, even the rights of the government itself. Under this law, the government may wish to preserve a national forest for recreational, grazing and controlled timber uses, but if a mining corporation wishes to destroy its value in these respects all it has to do is stake a mineral claim, and it is then free to slash the woods with highways, cut timber, sink shafts, open up yawning pits, and scar the very face of mountains.

Don't think it can't be done. In the Santa Rita mountains south of Tucson, Ariz., a limestone quarry has already inflicted a permanent wound on the mountainside, and the operator is about to open a second quarry on U.S. Forest Service land.

"That whole mountain will come down if we can sell enough limestone," an official of the quarry company told the Green Valley News.

ANACONDA AND OTHER copper companies have been exploring and staking claims in the same range, and especially if Chilean copper is cut off, are widely expected to launch intensive open-pit operations in coming years. In short the Santa Ritas, most of which comprise the Coronado National Forest, a priceless asset for campers, hikers, bird watchers and plain mountain-viewers, stand to be reduced to slag heaps over the next quarter of a century unless something can be done to protect the public interest.

Any program to expand the national parks must begin with a program to save the parks and national forests the public already owns. If what is left of the West's scenic heritage is to survive, plainly something will have to be done about the mining law of 1872.

Some Footnotes For Calley Review

When President Nixon finally reviews the My Lai verdict, which he has not only the constitutional right but the constitutional duty to do, I suggest a footnote or two from "A Short History of the U.S." by Bassett, sometime professor of history at Smith College, to wit:

"General Custer with a detachment surrounded a sleeping Cheyenne village and killed and captured 300 men, women and children.

"On Jan. 23, 1870, Colonel Baker, under Sheridan's orders, surprised a Piegan encampment not charged with wrongdoing and killed 33 men, 90 women and 50 children."

Highway Signs 'Visual Pollution'

Eternal vigilance is still the price of freedom. This time it is freedom from visual pollution. Marin County has been very fortunate down the years in having far-sighted supervisors and town councils who fought and won the battle against bill boards alongside our main traffic artery, U.S. 101.

For a while we have enjoyed the view of the countryside from the freeway. The view has been impaired somewhat by the newly installed massive directional signs that hang like a series of curtains over the traffic lanes. We are now being treated to the ultimate in visual pollution by the installation before each turn off of large blue signs advertising food, lodging and gas.

It is only natural for a tourist to assume that these commodities are available in a densly inhabited county replete with highly visible shopping areas. Thus these gas tax funded commercially oriented signs are completely needless. The Division of Highways is not one to lightly retract an accomplished action. If we do not want our raods cluttered with unnecessary signs, we should not hesitate to tell our Supervisors that governmental agencies are no exception.

Candidates Called The 'Vomit Squad'

It appears that the voters of Marin have been invited to engage in a mass vomit on April 20. The Vomit Squad, Beban, Campbell, and Sloan, all of Marin Alternative, are seeking election to local school boards. (Richard W.) Beban and (James Kimo) Campbell, veterans of Tamalpais Creek, People's Park and other devilry, are members of the committee to elect (Richard C.) Sloan to the Lagunitas School District board, and Sloan is on the committee to elect the team of Beban and Campbell to the College of Marin board. Vouching for one another is familiar tactics of the leftist cult.

It would be well to remember that it was Beban who . . . turned state evidence . . . in a lurid sex and drugs case involving a young female ward of the court and her Juvenile Hall counselor. Now that Beban has been selected as a candidate for the Marin County Grand Jury it makes me wonder — has Beban changed or have the courts?

This should not be construed as dirty tactics. It is only a brief summary of matters of public record . . . There would be time for an answer from the parties concerned.

Youth Already Has It Both Ways

Thank you for your excellent editorial, March 31, "Legislators Want Youth To 'Have It Both Ways' ". You discuss the projected new bills which will further protect persons under 18 from responsibility for their own criminal acts. It should be pointed out that youth in the 18 to 21 year old category also "has it both ways".

The U.S. Supreme Court has awarded the 18-year-old the right to vote in federal elections. At the same time, the 18-year-old is still shielded from the responsibilities which, in the past, came with this privilege. It is still the duty of his parents to provide him with financial support, to sign his contracts, to assume responsibility for his criminal acts. Any person, under 21, has the legal right to sue his parents if they are not providing him with these protections. At the same time, his parents now must share with him the voting privilege.

Now, our legislators are pushing a bill which, when passed, will allow the 18-year-old to vote for a local bond issue even though he will not be required to pay for it. In pointing out this strange situation to our legislators, we are told that it is best to rush through the voting privilege now and that the rest of the majority package can come "later". "Later" will be a long time in coming. Why displease the new 18-year-old constituents by burdening them with adult responsibilities?

So youth "has it both ways" and parental authority is weakened while, at the same time, there is a demand for increased parental responsibility. This inconsistency is yet another contributing factor to the breakdown of the American family.

Some Comments On Calley Case

Your editorial "Calley Must Bear His Share of Responsibility," while generally sound, calls for additional comment. You say: "Those who would free him feel —at least most of them —that the punishment should go to those higher up who gave the orders." It would be a more accurate assumption that most who protested on this basis were those opposing our participation in the war (having switched from their previous charges of whitewash). However, news coverage gives the impression that the most vigorous and possibly the most numerous protests were probably for different reasons, since they came from individuals and organizations which have favored our winning the war or at least not withdrawing prematurely.

There is conflicting evidence, moreover, as to the orders Calley received. Testimony that he had previously committed similar acts and his failure to question his purported orders — as other soldiers have done and have subsequently been upheld — raise doubts as to whether leniency is appropriate. On the other hand, there are doubts as to whether many of the inhabitants of "Pinksville" qualified as "persons taking no action in hostilities." One might also observe that justice is never served if any law or rule is not equally applied and universally enforced. In short, you cannot command respect for Article 3 of the Geneva Convention if an American lieutenant violates it at My Lai and gets punished while a North Vietnamese lieutenant violates it at Hue and gets commended.

Finally, there have always been American soldiers — in Vietnam, just as in Korea, World War II, the Indian wars, and all other previous conflicts — who have proven to be remarkably adaptable in accommodating their fighting methods to those practiced by the enemy.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon Speech Shows He Is Determined to End Involvement

WASHINGTON — In measuring the impact of President Nixon's Vietnam speech, these are the questions which must be answered and will be answered by the American people in the next few weeks:

Can Mr. Nixon change the shape of the Vietnam debate — change it from national doubt over whether he really means to totally withdraw to an honest argument over whether withdrawal of a slower pace, which could enable South Vietnam to defend itself, is in the national interest?

Will the war-weary public give the President sufficient support to end the American involvement at the pace he believes prudent? Is Mr. Nixon right in contending a quicker pullout at a publicly fixed date, which could mean putting South Vietnam into Hanoi's hands, would plunge the United States "from the anguish of war into a nightmare of recrimination"?

IT SEEMS TO ME the President's speech goes a long way toward demonstrating that his commitment is "to end our involvement," that his goal is "total withdrawal" and that, having made this pledge in the 1968 campaign, he expects to be held accountable in next year's election for keeping it.

Obviously, he will not persuade his extreme dove critics into abandoning their tactic of disbelieving that we are moving steadily to end involvement. They need this tactic because events make it so visible that we are ending our involvement that the only way to get around the record is to claim it doesn't mean anything.

Take the argument of the extreme critics that the United States, far from winding down our role in Vietnam, is turning to the mounting use of airpower to make up for the declining use of ground combat troops.

That would be a powerful argument exposing the disingenuousness of Nixon policy — if it were true. The facts disprove it. The facts are that in comparing the first months of 1970 with the same period this year, U.S. tactical air sorties in all Indochina dropped 50 per cent and B-52 bombing raids decreased 42 per cent.

Even with the recent Laotian campaign, U.S. air operations there are 14 per cent under a year ago. The central fact is that in the first month of 1970 there were 53,000 U.S. air sorties and over the same period this year only 26,000.

Thus while U.S. ground combat is dropping to near zero, U.S. air operations are being cut in half.

IT IS EVIDENT beyond doubt that the President is steadily ending our involvement in Vietnam and is committed to total withdrawal — at least 365,000 men out before the end of this year.

This does not guarantee that public pressure may not again mount to a level which could compel Mr. Nixon to move faster than he really believes wise.

But if the majority accepts that the President is unquestionably acting to end our involvement, then there is some prospect that there can be a useful, clarifying, rational argument for and against the two alternatives of Vietnam withdrawal which are open to us.

One is graduated but steady withdrawal in order to give the South Vietnamese enough time to be ready to take over the whole defense of their country and to keep in our hands some bargaining cards so that Hanoi may have an incentive to reach an earlier political settlement.

The alternative is a faster total withdrawal at a fixed date publicly proclaimed. One of the main arguments for this course is that it is the only way to restore tranquility at home so as to get on with urgent domestic matters.

But would ending our involvement in a way which would consciously turn South Vietnam over to Hanoi's rule unite the American people? The first reaction might be one of relief, but the President holds — and I think rightly — that before long there would be debilitating recriminations far more harmful than anything we are now experiencing.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

It's Same In Tom Biggs As In Watts Or Harlem

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

McROBERTS, Ky. — To get to Tom Biggs, you take a left at Neon Junction, go through Neon and right at the Rexall, then through Fleming and McRoberts. You pass an abandoned school and when you see a burnt-gut house on the left, the next one is Mrs. Katherine Ellis'.

Tom Biggs is a black section of McRoberts — the other side of the tracks. And when you are below even McRoberts on the scale of things, you are across the tracks indeed.

Racial difficulties have come to Tom Biggs and McRoberts and Jenkins, the relative metropolis at Highway 119, as belatedly as paved roads did, and consolidated schools and electricity. Unlike most of the counties in the South and the border states, Letcher County has a tiny black minority, one that until lately never felt numerous enough to stand up and argue.

In this poor, coal-mining county on the Virginia border, last year's census showed only 619 blacks among a population of 23,165. That is less than 3 per cent, which is low even for these inbred hollows along the Appalachian ridge.

MRS. ELLIS is only one black among a few, but she is disproportionately big in both body and spirit. She is a major reason why nobody was sure this Easter week end whether the Jenkins School would reopen after the holidays or not. Her children and most of the 30-odd other black pupils boycotted classes the week before the holidays after repeated suspensions which their parents considered harassment by white school officials.

After rumors of bombs, fights, riots, "outside agitators" and other horrors, the officials decided to close the school until after Easter recess, "so we can get things straightened out." But Mrs. Ellis and the parents of five black students expelled for the rest of the school year say the boycott will end only when their children are readmitted. To that condition, the outspoken Mrs. Ellis adds, "and when they get back, we want them treated like human beings."

She sat overflowing a chair in her living room with its torn linoleum carpet, smoldering coal fire in the grate, and tiny bust of John Kennedy among the knickknacks decorating the shelf.

She is 36, born over the mountains, in Coeburn, Va., and had three fathers for her four children. She is separated from them all, and lives on welfare.

LAST FALL, one of her 13-year-old twin daughters was sent away from school becuase, her teacher alleged, she had mental problems — although she had passed regularly until reaching the seventh grade. Mrs. Ellis tried to have her enrolled in one school, then another. The girl had psychiatric examinations. She seems normal to the nonspecialists. But she remains at home, against her mother's will.

Despite these circumstances, authorities threatened to cut off Mrs. Ellis' food stamps because not all her children were attending school. She complained then and has continued complaining, insisting that she wants her expelled daughter back in class — partly because she might so easily "get herself in trouble" if left alone at home during the day.

An outsider wonders why any black child would be eager to go to a school where children of her race are more severely disciplined than their classmates, where they are suspended for minor infractions, where most school dances and the annual trip to Washington have been discontinued to avoid "race mixing."

But they do want to, and so Mrs. Ellis eventually found support for her objections. When the school bus came to Tom Biggs last week, most of the students did not enter it. Then came the rumors, none of them true. Then came the closing.

WHAT COMES NEXT depends not only on Mrs. Ellis and her friends, but also on the teachers, school officials, and indirectly but importantly on image-conscious Bethlehem Steel, the most dominant fact of community life here.

The outcome may never be reported in the big papers back East, unless one of the rumors fans into flame or one of the police summoned in the minor panic surrounding the boycott uses his shotgun. There are not that many people involved, and so far it has all been bad-tempered but nonviolent.

What sinks in about it is that this kind of trouble clearly awaits this kind of black mother, whether she lives in the black ghettos called Bedford-Stuyvesant or Watts in the nation's biggest cities or in the black hollow named Tom Biggs in Letcher County, Ky. And the trouble we learn about as part of our daily dose of bad news is just the most violent, our most metropolitan. There are millions of Mrs. Ellises who never cry out, of whom we will never hear.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

High School Violence: Causes And Panaceas

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

There was tension in the 14 schools of Grant School District in a Sacramento Suburb when they reopened after Easter vacation. All had been closed for that vacation one day early, because of a series of racial battles at one of them, 1,600-student Highlands High School.

Last month, a high school in Vallejo was closed briefly because of rioting. In January, student uproar and arson closed schools in Pomona.

High schools in Oakland, Berkeley, San Francisco, Fresno and other cities have been disrupted and temporarily closed within the past few years by student rioting. Nor is the trouble confined to California. In New York City, school security patrols were beefed up recently to attempt to halt violence reportedly running ahead of last year, when 287 assaults on school personnel were reported. Every section of the nation has had its student outbreaks.

SCHOOLYARD FIGHTS are nothing new. And it is not new for them to escalate occasionally into gang fights. What are new in recent years are the large numbers of students involved, the extremity of the violence — including attacks with deadly weapons, and the penchant of the rioters for wrecking and burning buildings.

Much of the violence has been laid to racial strife, aggravated by integration of blacks and whites in schools that formerly were all-black, all-white or nearly so. Sometimes, however, there has been no element of racism involved. And in other cases, an alleged racial insult that might havebeen settled between two students has been seized upon as an excuse for a mass uprising.

When Neil Sullivan resigned as Berkeley superintendent of schools in 1968, he gave his idea of the cause of much student violence — of which the Berkeley schools had a large share. He blamed it on the curriculum.

"What we've done is homogenize the curriculum for white America," said Sullivan. It must be made relevant for the blacks, he asserted.

Many high schools rushed to introduce "black studies" programs. And many of those that did so have had outbreaks of violence since.

Other school systems facing student militance turned to involvement of the students themselves in determining curriculum, in the belief this would make it more relevant for all of them. And many of these subsequently had student riots, arson, and increased vandalism.

WHEN PARENTS speak out about violence in the schools, they usually blame it on lack of discipline. School administrators customarily shrug this off, telling the parents that today's young people cannot be subjected to the same kind of regimentation as those of earlier generations.

Some educators, however, are coming around to agreement with this contention of parents. William Howard, associate superintendent of schools in Topeka, Kan., reported last month that a survey had shown increased violence and deterioration of discipline in Kansas schools followed passage of a more lenient suspension and expulsion law by the 1970 Kansas Legislature.

The Associated Press quoted Dorothy L. Burress, a black gym teacher at riot-wracked Washington High School in Milwarkee, Wis., in an interesting observation. Racial violence, said Mrs. Burress, breaks out because white teachers are afraid to apply the same standards to black and white alike — "so the blacks get away with it,"

Some white parents have said the same thing as this black teacher.

While neither "black studies" nor student involvement has curbed violence in the schools, the smallest incidence of outbreaks has been reported from schools where discipline has been even-handed — even though sometimes also heavy-handed.

Angela Davis Angel To Kremlin Rulers

MOSCOW (UPI)—In the eyes of the Kremlin, Angela Davis is an angel of communism who can do no wrong.

The Soviet Union is rooting for dismissal of the kidnaping, murder and conspiracy charges against her.

Seldom has the Kremlin had a better vehicle for anti-American comment. The Soviet propaganda mill has found in the case rich grist for criticism of the United States.

"It is no accident that the baiting and persecution of Angela Davis coincided with a period when... the country is entering a period of political repression," the official Tass News Agency said.

"The Davis case is being staged after the worst models of McCarthyism which flourished in the United States in the fifties."

Miss Davis, a 26-year-old Negro, is an avowed Communist and a former lecturer at UCLA. She is being held in connection with California's Marin County courthouse gun battle last August in which a judge and three of his kidnapers were shot to death.

She is charged with buying all the guns used by the kidnapers and with conspiring with the the slain alleged ringleader of the plot.

Her attorneys have argued the charges should be dismissed because there is no evidence in the grand jury transcript showing she did anything illegal.

Tass leads the "Free Angela Davis" movement in the Soviet Union.

It said the "frameup charge" was made to stage a political trial "directed against the Communist Party of the United States, Negro organizations which fight for civil rights and against the entire progressive and antiwar movement in the country."

The U.S. "ruling circles are combatting public opposition at home all down the line," Tass said.

"The San Rafael trial is part of this onslaught by American reaction. More and more people in the United States and beyond it are coming out in defense of Angela Davis and demanding and end to arbitrary rule and persecution and the release of all political prisoners in the United States."

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, describes Miss Davis as "a well-known Communist and fighter against the oppression of Negroes."

Pravda said America was guilty of "the vicious hounding of Angela Davis." Police "fabricated" her case, it said.

"The case of Angela Davis and the Vietnam War are links of a single chain of crimes in the United States," Tass said in attacking what it called "The prepared trial of the courageous Communist."

Tass said some of the Soviet Union's leading artists wrote President Nixon asking him to "use his enfluence" to release Miss Davis.

The signers included composers Dmitri Shostakovich and Aram Kharchaturian and Bolshoi prima ballerina Maya Plisetskaya, Tass said.

"There is no doubt that they (U.S. authorities) put Angela Davis on trial to silence all those who naively believe that McCarthyism is long gone, Tass quoted the letter to Nixon as saying.

Man Arraigned After Stabbing In Petaluma

Robert J. Rector, 36, of San Francisco, was arraigned yesterday in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

He was arrested Sunday at 1:30 a.m. after Icalee Fears, 34, of 217 Petaluma Boulevard South, Petaluma; was found stabbed in the abdomen. She was reported in good condition after surgery at Community Hospital of Sonoma County.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon set bail at $6,125 and scheduled Rector to enter a plea tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Police said Rector had gone to the home and found a small party in progress. Mrs. Fears said Rector started an argument with her and cut the telephone cord when she tried to call police. She said she was stabbed during a scuffle.

Reagan Proposes A Job Registry

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan says it is "high time" America begins to solve its unemployment problems without going to war—and one way to start might be through a "central job registry."

Such a government-sponsored registry, he says, could maintain a nationwide checklist of employment vacancies and match job openings to job seekers.

He was mildly critical of the federal government Tuesday for not already trying the idea.

"The only thing that we have ever done in this country—certainly in my adult lifetime—to cure unemployment is to get us into a war," the 60-year-old governor told his weekly news conference.

He noted there was high unemployment before World War II, the Korean War and Vietnam. Then the nation went into full employment cycles as defense industries mobilized to fight the wars.

Now, the governor added, the nation again is suffering unemployment as it winds down the Vietnam War and moves toward a peacetime economy.

"We have turned loose about a million military and defense industry personnel onto the labor market, which even without the anti-inflation fight would give us an unemployment problem," Reagan said.

"I think it is high time that this country, with all the ability it has, gets down to solving the unemployment problem without a war. And I think the solving of it is going to include education, it is going to include job training and it is going to include job mobility."

Reagan also touched on these subjects at his news conference:

Berkeley—He said the victory by radical candidates in the Berkeley City Council election should "serve as a kind of warning" to citizens of other communities to "take a greater interest in local elections."

Politics—He disclosed he has pledged to President Nixon that California's delegation to the 1972 Republican National Convention will represent a cross-section of party philosophies.

Welfare—He said his administration will prepare a plan by May 1 to bring California's welfare regulations into conformity with the federal government's, thus eliminating the threat of a $700 million loss in aid from Washington. The plan will involve raising some welfare payments for families with no outside income.

CRLA—He explained he is opposed to public hearing procedures adopted by a special commission investigating California Rural Legal Assistance because they could turn hearings into "a kind of traveling circus" featuring "demonstrators." A three-judge commission is probing CRLA as the result of Reagan's veto of the organization's $1.8 million federal financing grant.

Bound Over On Morals Charge

Michael Lino Paredes, 31, of San Francisco, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of sex perversion stemming from an incident near Kent Lake last summer.

He is to be arraigned Monday.

Discussion With Wright Is Slated

A round table discussion with Gordon C. Wright, who faces a recall effort in Tuesday's election, will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Reed School auditorium.

The discussion is sponsored by the Committee for Quality Education, which is backing Wright in the recall attempt.

Stanley Smith To Appear At Coffees

The schedule: 8 o'clock today at the home of Kaki Jacobs, 284 North Almenar Drive, Greenbrae; 10 a.m. tomorrow, home of Mrs. James Moore, 20 Bridge Road, Kentfield, and 1 p.m. tomorrow, home of Mrs. Paul Cane, 5 Corte Alegre, Greenbrae.

Fort Point Dedicated A Park Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Fort Point, which never fired a shot in anger but still packs in history buffs by the hundreds, was dedicated as a National Historic site today.

The massive fort underneath the southern end of the Golden Gate Bridge is a "classic example of a coastal fortification of the mid-19th Century," according to a National Survey of Historic Sites and Buildings.

The survey said the fort, built between 1854 and 1861 to protect the Gate, was the "greatest" example of such military engineering on the West Coast.

The dedication was the result of 13 years of determined effort by the Fort Point Museum Association. The National Park Service now takes over the lease of the fort from the Army and 29 surrounding acres held by the association.

But, as it is on the weekends when an average of 3,000 persons have visited the fort to peer through gun ports that overseered the bay, most interest centered on men like Phillip Tabby, 26, of San Mateo. One weekend 16,000 persons toured the site.

Tabby, a member of the association,spends a great deal of his time walking around the fort in a Civil War style uniform.

Tabby said his light blue sergeant's uniform was "the kind worn by the first outfit regularly garrisoned at Fort Point." That would be B Company, Third Artillery Regiment.

Tabby's hat, its side turned up Australian fashion, was complete with the unit's insignia and an ostrich plume.

Tabby was reminded that English author Rudyard Kipling said in 1889 on a visit to San Francisco that the fort "could be silenced by two gunboats from Hong Kong with safety, comfort and dispatch."

The structure, long obsolete, is modeled somewhat after the plan used at Fort Sumter, S. C.

The closest Fort Point saw to being in action was during the Civil War. Confederate Captain James L. Waddell of the privateer Shenandoah wanted to enter San Francisco Bay but the war came to an end before he could execute the plan.

Petaluma Businessman Named To College Board

Gene M. Benedetti, manager of the Petaluma Cooperative Creamery, was named yesterday to the state College Board of Trustees.

Gov. Ronald Reagan announced that Benedetti, 51, of Cotati, will succeed Philip V. Sanchez of Fresno, who resigned to accept a federal appointment.

Benedetti is president of Friends of Sonoma State College, an organization of area business and professional leaders formed to advise college administrators on community relations.

As head of the organization, he has expressed concern that the college is not meeting the needs of the local service area and said he hoped to see nursing and paramedical courses offered.

Benedetti served in the Army in World War II and after a brief stint as head football coach at Santa Rosa Junior College joined the creamery staff as a milk buyer 25 years ago. He has served as creamery manager for 10 years.

He and his wife, Evelyn, have six children.

Indictment Being Sought In Cocaine Raid Case

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A federal grand jury was to be asked today to indict Marcia Freet, 27, of Sausalito, for failing to appear in federal district court for trial in two cases involving a $250,000 cocaine ring raid on May 22, 1970.

John Milano, assistant U.S. attorney, said Miss Freet failed to appear fortrial on Feb. 1. She and four other Marin County residents were arrested at San Francisco International Airport when a federal undercover agent purchased two pounds of cocaine for $22,000.

Milano said she also was accused of participation in another sale in Sausalito, for which two more Marinites were arrested.

The Sausalito sale resulted in five years' straight probation for Mitchell J. Howard, 22, of Marin City and Steve Howard, 24, of Sausalito. They were sentenced Feb. 26, Milano reported.

Warrant Out In Drug Sales

Bench Warrant with bail set at $15,000 has been issued by Judge Henry J. Broderick of Marin Superior Court for Gerald John Lipinsky, 23, formerly of Inverness.

Lipinsky is charged with possesing marijuana for sale stemming from a raid on an Inverness house in May 1969.

He was reported in court Monday to be in jail in another county.

A Bus Tragedy

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (UPI)—Eight persons were killed early today and ten others critically injured when a speeding bus smashed into a group of passengers who had just left a bus disabled in a previous accident.

Jail Time For Child Molesting

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court has sentenced Ronald Paul Rowell, 23, of Novato, to jail for one year for child molesting.

He also placed Rowell on three years' probation, ordered him to have counseling and not to associate with children under the age of 14 years.

Rowell had earlier pleaded guilty to molesting several small girls in Novato in the period between December 1969 and March 1970.

Bus Contract Is Extended

The Cotati School District board last night extended its bus contract with North Bay Charter Inc., but grumbled at the 17 per cent cost increase.

Board secretary Marion Horne said the contract extension was passed by a 3-2 vote with Andrew J. Camozzi and Maurice W. Fredericks dissenting. Both said they felt the district should seek bids from other bus companies in hopes of getting a less costly contract.

Mrs. Horne said the three-year contract includes an escape clause which will permit the district to withdraw from it if it cannot financially continue the service.

The board also decided not to continue the lease on its district office at 265 College View Avenue. Mrs. Horne said the office may be moved to a portable classroom unit at Waldo Rohnert School.

Inmate Leaves Security Farm

A San Quentin Prison convict walked away from the minimum security farm area yesterday and was still missing today, according to prison authorities.

The escaper was identified as Freddie G. Cooks, 36. He was sent to the prison in March 1969 for a term of five years to life for robbery. He was discovered to be missing at bedcheck time.

Fund Requests From Marin On ABAG'S Agenda

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Applications for federal grants totaling $415,749 by four Marin governmental agencies will be reviewed by the Association of Bay Area Governments executive committee at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Hotel Claremont.

The largest is a $310,365 grant sought by the San Rafael Sanitation District toward its total of $940,500 in the $2.3 million project with the City of San Rafael to upgrade sewage facilities.

The City of San Rafael also is seeking a $75,067 grant toward its $160,000 project to improve traffic controls at 39 intersections downtown and in the Terra Linda business district.

The County of Marin has applied for a $15,342 grant toward a total cost of $28,560 to repave the runway at Gnoss Field, and the Town of Corte Madera has applied for a $14,975 grant for its $25,200 project to improve the traffic signals at Tamalpais Drive and Madera Boulevard.

The federal government requires ABAG to review applications for grants to assure they conform to regional plans.

FINANCES IN A MESS?
Don't feel like the Lone Ranger, most people need some help. This ad is unusual, we don't loan money and are not selling business opportunities. It is just that we feel there are times when sitting down with a successful person who is not emotionally involved in your problems, but can study them objectively, can be the answer or at least the start to solving your situation. I have a formula for climbing out of debt and starting to build financial security that might be the answer you have been looking for. If you and I think we can help you there's a small fee based on how much I have to do. No obligation on either person's part. You may not think I can help you or I may not think you're willing to be helped. One interview will tell us and it will take 15 to 30 minutes. Call my executive secretary, Mrs. Marty Conley, for an appointment. 454-8232.

THE WONDER OF BEGINNING LIFE

Lisa Langford and Kathy Flinn are entranced by the newborn kittens in the sixth grade classroom of Thomas Heffron at Lucas Valley School. The black cat wandered into the classroom yesterday and gave birth to three kittens on some pillows in the corner of the classroom. The children who had finished a course on sex education had an unexpected demonstration of how animals give birth. The mother cat cooperated and was undisturbed as the children set up a flood light and took pictures of the birth and first nursing of the kittens, said Principal Patricia Barnes. The class will keep the mother and her babies to continue their study of animal growth, she said.

Judicial Council Gets Angela Judge Case

The California Judicial Council has been handed the job of picking an outside judge to determine whether Judge Alan A. Lindsay is prejudiced against Angela Y. Davis.

Marin County Clerk George Gnoss today reported that he wrote yesterday to the council to say that attorneys in the case could not agree on a judge to hold the hearing.

Attorneys for the 27-year-old former college instructor moved on April 1 to disqualify Lindsay, an Alameda County Superior Court judge, terming him a white racist.

Lindsay, however, refused to step down, and the next step is for another judge to hold a hearing to determine if he is, indeed, prejudiced.

Gnoss said today that he does not know how long it will take the council to name a judge.

It is being rumored, however, that Miss Davis's codefendant, San Quentin inmate Ruchell Magee, will challenge any new judge.

Miss Davis and Magee are charged with conspiracy, murder and kidnapping stemming from the August shoot-out at the Civic Center in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three others were killed.

Judge Lindsay had been slated to hear motions made by Miss Davis's attorneys asking that the case against her be dismissed and that she be released on bail.

No Action On Sewage Plant Work

The Mill Valley City Council and School District board held a 90-minute meeting last night on a plan to build aeration beds at the city's sewage treatment plant but reached no conclusion.

City Mgr. William H. Cunningham said school trustees expressed concern about odors from the beds, which may be built to satisfy new sewage discharge requirements imposed by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control board.

The school district's new middle school is adjacent to the treatment plant. Cunningham said trustees were assured the city would do all it could to prevent odors, including chemicals to deodorize the beds.

Supt. of Public Works Ross J. Benson said the most odors could be expected during the summer months, when school is not in session.

Construction of the aeration beds, estimated to cost $300,000, has been suggested as an interim disposal method to satisfy the regional board, but a permanent solution still must be found.

The beds would be used to trap excess flow from the treatment plant during wet weather, when overloading causes raw sewage to be dumped into Richardson Bay. After aeration and chlorination, the effluent from the beds would be discharged into the bay.

The two groups also discussed building a swimming pool at the middle school site, and Cunningham said trustees generally favored the idea. A $338,000 bond issue to finance the pool will go to the voters June 29.

Budget Of $407,000 Due Study

The Novato Flood Control Zone Advisory board will consider a proposed $407,000 budget for 1971-72, including major improvement to lower Novato Creek, at 8 p.m. Monday at Lu Sutton School, 1800 Center Road, Novato.

Charles E. Murphy, Marin County flood control engineer, said a major expenditure, $325,000, is proposed for improving Novato Creek from Highway 37 to San Pablo Bay.

The planned Army Corps of Engineers project calls for improving the creek channel from Highway 101 to Highway 37, but just dredging beyond there.

The sector between Highway 37 and the bay is subject to flooding and major improvements are needed there, Murphy said.

The proposed budget is $103,800 higher than the current budget and Murphy estimated it would require a tax rate of 23 cents per $100 assessed valuation, up 3.5 cents from the current rate.

There will be carryover funds of $234,100, leaving $172,900 to be raised by taxes, he said.

Age Is 47

Donald R. Wellington, candidate for the San Rafael Board of Education is 47 years old, not 57, and he attended Stanford University and not University of California as reported in the Independent-Journal last Saturday.

Behr Makes Push For Fourth Municipal Judge

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation giving Marin a fourth municipal court judge was among a blizzard of bills introduced this week by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

The senator, joining the rush to beat Friday's deadline to introduce bills this session, had 25 bills either introduced or about to go in the legislative hopper. They ranged from the Bay Conservation and Development Commission to tax relief for home improvements.

Behr's office said the fourth judge had been asked by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, but no such bill appeared on the legislative shopping list adopted by the supervisors.

Municipal court judges are paid $29,270 a year, and their salary cost is shared by the state and county taxpayers.

Behr also introduced a bill increasing the salaries of court clerks, and adding eight clerks to the court.

Other measures in the last-minute blizzard by Behr included:

BCDC — Replaces the representative of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare with one from the Environmental Protection Agency.

RACING — Enables local government to impose a 5 per cent tax on any racing receipts taken within its jurisdiction. The current tax is limited to $100 per racing day.

HOUNDS — Requires sheriffs to maintain dogs for rescue operations.

VEHICLES — Expands the definition of "commercial" vehicle to include those used primarily for trade, business, commerce or industry and which carry a sign, and those vehicles owned or maintained by an employer primarily for the use of his employees. These vehicles would be required to pay an additional $12 minimum fee for their licenses, with the revenue put in the state Environmental Protection Fund.

VD — Appropriates $69,625 to the Department of Public Health for a venereal disease information program aimed at youths.

IMPROVEMENTS — Exempts from taxation for three years the value of improvements to an existing dwelling. Passage by the Legislature and voters of a constitutional amendment would be needed to enact the exemption.

TOMALES BAY — Bans harvesting of herring eggs from Tomales Bay. Behr dropped a previously announced provision to ban all commercial fishing from the West Marin bay because it was found this was not a threat to fish there. He ntoed 2,160 tons of herring were taken from the bay in 1917, but only one ton in 1967 — because of the harvest of herring eggs, a delicacy exported to Japan.

DAMAGE — Provides up to 25 per cent property tax relief for repair of residential improvements which have been damaged.

STRAYS — Postpones to next January enforcement of a 1970 law that would cost Marin $90,000 a year to care for stray cats and dogs, and provides an unspecified state fund to reimburse local government for such costs.

FLOOD CONTROL — Permits preservation and improvement of lands adjacent to flood control district properties for recreation and scenic use, and provides for an election to approve an increase in the maintenance tax of a flood control zone if 10 per cent of the electors protest.

MENTAL HEALTH — Provides that county supervisors may designate an individual not a member of their body to represent them on mental health advisory boards.

CLAIMS — Entitles public entities to 6 per cent per annum interest on claims against the state, the interest to begin on the 31st day after a claim is filed. Similar measures have failed previously, but their introduction has spurred the state to faster payment of claims, according to county officials.

BIRTH CONTROL — Deletes felony provisions for anyone who "willfully writes, composes or publishes any notice or advertisement of any medicine or means for the prevention of conception." The law was written in 1938.

Nod To Apartments Into Condominiums

A plan to convert a once-controversial 40-unit apartment development in Picnic Valley to condominiums was approved last night by the San Rafael Planning Commission.

The change, proposed by Picnic Hill Properties, owner of the development, will not physically alter the apartments, although units will be sold to individuals and the project maintained by a homeowners' group.

The project, at 237 Picnic Avenue, was fought by neighboring residents two years ago. They said the apartments would destroy the arya's character.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

SIGNS — Established criteria for evaluation of readerboard signs.

READING — Approved a use permit to establish a Sullivan Reading Center at 35 Mitchell Boulevard in Northgate Industrial Park.

SCHOOL — Approved a use permit for a self-improvement and modeling school at 926 Irwin Street.

ORDINANCE — Recommended to the city council adoption of an ordinance similar to one adopted by the county board of supervisors that governs tidelands and waterway use.

LOTS — Denied plans by Western Title Guaranty Corp. to re-subdivide two lots into three at 265-271 Clorinda Avenue.

Promised $1.14 Million Has Sonoma Worried

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County may have to come up with more than $1 million to cover funds that were promised by the state, but have not been received.

Auditor William E. Fulwinder told the board of supervisors yesterday that state-pledged funds totaling $1,140,000 may have to be made up by the county before July 1.

He said the state has not supplied its promised $1,066,000 for the Medi-Cal program, $70,000 for non-medical care for the aged, and $7,000 for the public defender's office.

County Administrator David L. Nichols said the failure of the state to meet its pledged share of programs will put the county in a very difficult financial position. He said none of the costs which the state was to have paid had been included in the 1970-71 county budget because it was assumed the state would keep its promises. There was no explanation of the state's dishonoring its commitment nor did the supervisors comment on the report.

The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors also:

PETALUMA HALL — Approved plans for the addition of county offices to the Petaluma City Hall and called for construction bids to be opened May 11 at 2:30 p.m.

APPOINTMENT — Named Harold R. Griffith to the board of directors of the Cotati Fire Protection District.

CLAIM — Routinely rejected the $50,000 claim of Russell Henry Strubeck of Petaluma for medical complications suffered after surgery at Community Hospital of Sonoma County.

Water Project On 'Sounding Board'

Questions may be phoned in during the live broadcast tomorrow. The program moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be repeated by tape recording, Sunday at 10:05 a.m.

All District Teachers Rehired

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District have voted to offer contracts for 1971-72 to all of the district's nine teachers, Supt. Lester M. Horning reported.

He said the board agreed on Monday to reemploy the following teachers: Marguerite Harris, Marsha Hensill, Robert Moyer, William Niman, Linda O'Neil, Margaret Plato, Nancy Sullivan, Erika Zettl and Curtis Spurlin.

The superintendent said the teachers were hired on the current salary schedule since — at this time — there is no proposal to change the schedule.

Hiring Architect Before Trustees

Shoreline Unified School District trustees are scheduled to hire an architect to plan a new Tomales Elementary School at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the district administration office in Tomales.

There are three permanent classrooms and seven portables at the school and trustees hope to build a complete school, possibly using the existing classrooms.

San Marin Park Space Plan Hit

The Novato Planning Commission Monday night rejected a city council recommendation that would have allocated potential park space in San Marin for residential development.

The council had offered land owner T. V. McGuire of San Rafael $50,000 for the 4.6-acre site on the south side of San Marin Drive, east of San Mateo Way.

When the offer was rejected, councilmen recommended that the commission designate three lots on the parcel along San Marin Drive for apartments or townhouses.

Then, councilmen felt, they could negotiate for purchase of the remainder of the site for park land.

The site is designated on the San Marin master plan for park, and the commission refused to change that designation.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

WESTERN HOSTS — Recommended rezoning from limited agricultural to planned residential 13 acres west of Highway 101 at the south end of Redwood Boulevard as requested by Western Hosts Inc., which is building townhouses on adjacent land.

BOAT SALES — Granted Ladner Cameron a use permit for a boat sales, service and storage facility on a 1.1 acre-site on the east side of Highway 101, north of Novato Creek, and recommended general commercial zoning for the site.

HORSES — Granted Finbar O'Driscoll a use permit to keep six horses on a 12.5-acre site at 1904 Benton Lane.

A Warmer Climate Pictured

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The tons of particles that industrial man is throwing into the atmosphere may be making the world's climate both warmer and dryer, a climatologist said today.

This suggestion is the reverse of some previously widely held views about the effect of man-made air pollution on climate.

It was offered at the American Geophysical Union's annual meeting by Dr. J. Murray Mitchell Jr. of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA).

It has been assumed that aerosols (particulate matter) have a cooling effect on the earth because they scatter and reflect back to space incoming radiation from the sun.

A global cooling trend following major volcanic eruptions in the past quarter of a century has been attributed to increasing levels of atmospheric contamination by both nature and man.

But there have been recent indications, according to an NOAA report of Mitchell's findings, that industrial aerosols containing carbon, iron oxides, and certain other materials absorb about as much solar radiation as they scatter back.

Public Works Deputy Picked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Howard C. Ullrich, city manager of Redwood City, was named chief deputy director of the state Public Works Department today by department Director James A. Moe.

Ullrich, 55, will assume his new duties May 10. He will fill the vacancy created earlier this year when Robert C. Carleson was appointed director of the state Social Welfare Department by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Moe said Ullrich was selected from a large group of candidates for the $28,332-a-year post "because of his superior abilities in the fields of governmental planning and administration."

Castro Visit To Chile Rumored

SANTIAGO (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, who has not visited a Latin American nation in 12 years, may be coming to Chile in two weeks as the personal guest of Marxist President Salvador Allende.

The opposition tabloid newspaper La Tarde said Monday it learned from "palace sources" that the government has invited Castro here April 27 for a five-day stay. The government still is awaiting formal acceptance from Havana, La Tarde said.

Army Sees Censure In Training

A preliminary investigation into alleged mistreatment of Army Reservists at Two Rock Ranch Army Station may result in administrative censure action, an Army spokesman said yesterday.

Col. Lawrence Doyle, information officer for the 351st Civil Affairs Command, said the investigation so far has shown that realistic training was being conducted, but that the interrogation phase may have been more vigorous than was required.

Reservist complained that they had been mentally and physically mistreated during escape and evasion training at the installation west of Petaluma. Doyle said that all statements have not been received, but that corrective action has already been taken to avoid a recurrence.

He said that no court martial could result from the action, but that those involved could be transferred to a non-pay reserve unit or given a reprimand that would hurt their chances for future advancement.

Two Hurt In Two-Car Wreck

Bike Lane For Drive Is Shunned

The Corte Madera Planning Commission has shunned a suggestion that widening of Tamalpais Drive include a bicycle lane.

According to David I. Freed, a director of the Marina Village Homeowners Association, the commission Monday told bike enthusiasts they would do nothing to encourage two-wheelers on the town's main street.

Freed said he and others contended bikes are now using the drive and will continue to do so in the future. Thus the town should make safe provision for them during reconstruction.

Several proposals were offered, he said, including extra wide sidewalks to accomodate both bike and pedestrian traffic and restricted parking during daylight hours so bikes could travel along parking lanes.

However, he said, the commission — "with some justification" — balked at any implication that the town sanction bike lanes since to do so would possibly open the town to litigation in case of an accident.

Monday's discussion grew out of commission consideration of landscaping criteria to be used by architects in beautifying the strip.

Town Mgr. Ronald E. Bartels said the commission deferred any action until after landscaping plans have been submitted. The plans are due for town council consideration May 3.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission also:

REZONING — Denied, then recsinded and continued to its next meeting a rezoning request from Earle and Solvason Realty for property at 626 Tamalpais Drive. The site is zoned for residential use but the real estate firm would like it zoned for professional offices.

SIGNS — Approved two free-standing sign applications submitted by Standard Oil Company for stations located at 90 Corte Madera Center and 706 Tamalpais Drive. The signs, originally requested to be 80 and 47 square feet in size, were approved for 47 and 36 square feet.

TOWNHOUSE — Approved an application for design review submitted by San Rafael contractor Horst Hanf for a proposed eight unit townhouse complex at 39 Pixley Avenue.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT — Received a 1971-72 capital improvement plan — as requested by town departments — totaling about $300,000 most of which is gas tax funds. About $125,000 will be used for reconstruction of Tamalpais Drive and $113,000 for paving of Meadowsweet Drive.

Federal Funds Eyed For Park Purchases

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission has urged the city council to apply for federal funding to buy and maintain parks in the city under a new program being considered by Congress.

Parks and Recreation Director Don L. Dimitratos said commissioners voted Monday to make the application before the April 30 deadline.

If approved by Congress, the program would cover half the cost of acquiring and developing open space in established neighborhoods where the most intense use can be expected.

The commission also accepted in principle the design of a park along Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio, which will be developed by Peter C. Heywood in conjunction with 68 condominiums planned for land near La Goma Street and Sycamore Avenue.

Dimitratos said Heywood plans to landscape the creek area, build two small ponds and then deed the park to the city.

Park Opening Hoped In Fall

A park at La Tercera School may be ready for use in the fall, the Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association heard Monday night.

Petaluma City Councilman Fred V. Mattei, also a member of the city's recreation, music and parks commission, said high priority has been given to developing the park.

The homeowners association has offered to donate labor to build the park and told Mattei that one of its members is a landscape architect who would be willing to assist in planning it. Mattei said he hoped a city service club would donate money to buy play equipment.

Apprentice Chief Picked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — James E. Stratten, former president of the San Francisco Board of Education and a campaign chairman last year for Dr. Max Rafferty, was appointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan today as state chief of apprenticeship standards.

The job pays $24,312. He replaces Charles Hanna, whom Reagan's press office said has resigned from the chief's position he has held since 1955 but will continue to serve in the Division of Apprenticeship Standards.

Stratten, a Republican, has been a member of the California Youth Authority Board for the past two years.

NEW START AT MARSHALL U.

Prospective members of the Marshall University football team were led onto the field by their new coach, Jack Lengyel (right) for start of spring practice yesterday. Thirty-six Marshall football players and head coach Rick Tolley were among 75 persons killed Nov. 14 when the team's chartered airplane crashed while returning from a game against East Carolina at Greenville, N.C.

Willie McCovey Sidelined Two Days, Maybe More

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Hard luck continues to ride the back of one of baseball's greatest hitters.

Willie McCovey, last year's National League leader in slugging percentage, is hoping his injured left knee requires no more than a couple of days of rest and whirlpool treatment.

Dr. E. C. Sailer, team physician of the San Francisco Giants, instructed McCovey Tuesday night to miss games today and Thursday against Houston at Candlestick Park.

Sailer said McCovey is suffering from damage to the medial collateral ligament of the left knee. He added that there could be torn cartilage in the knee, in which case McCovey would be lost to the Giants for several weeks.

"It doesn't look like the cartilage is injured, but it's hard to determine at this time," Sailer said. "We will know more in a few days."

Sailer's announcement came after the Giants' game Tuesday night against the San Diego Padres was rained out. The game has yet to be rescheduled.

McCovey, who has only three hits in 21 at-bats this season, hurt his knee last Sunday while swinging against Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals.

A major factor in the Giants' 1971 pennant hopes, McCovey blasted 39 home runs and added 126 runs batted in last year.

Now in his 13th season with San Francisco, McCovey trails only Willie Mays an Mel Ott on the all-time Giants' home run list. He has smashed 352 career homers and has belted at least 31 roundtrippers in seven of the last eight years.

McCovey led the National League with a .612 slugging percentage last season and gained such respect among opposing pitchers that he also led the league with 137 walks.

During McCovey'slsence, Frank Johnson will start at first base for the Giants. Johnson has compiled a .228 career batting average while seeing spot duty for five years with San Francisco.

The Astros, in town only for a couple of games, moved to within percentage points of the first place Giants Tuesday night by whipping St. Louis 8-4.

The Chicago Cubs will come into Candlestick Park for a four-game weekend series and the Cardinals will wind up San Francisco's current homestand with a three-game set next week.

Another Streak Comes To An End

I don't know if other journals mentioned it, but an almost unbelieveable baseball streak came to an end last week in San Diego.

When Willie Mays of the Giants hit his grand slam home run against the Padres Thursday, semi-retired radio-TV sports announcer Russell Patrick Hodges of Mill Valley did not see it.

This is big news because Mr. Hodges had seen every one of the 630 previous homers hit by Mays during his fabulous career in the major leagues. And Russell Patrick is the only man who can make that statement.

Hold on a minute, you say? Didn't Mr. Mays see all of his own home runs? Nope, Willie admits that on occasions he was running with his head down and did not actually see the ball sailing over the outfield fences.

During a recent gabfest I asked Hodges if at times he wasn't away from the broadcast booth on an emergency run to the biffy when Mays homered and he replied: "Nope! Luckily I was on the job. I missed only seven games out of the 3,350 games played during the Mays era, but Willie didn't hit a homer in any of them."

To make up for the home run he did not see, Hodges will receive a film of the grand slam from the Giants' Boosters Club at its monthly dinner in Fairfax on April 21.

And on the following night, the busy Hodges will be guest speaker at the Radio KTIM Sportsmen's Club Banquet at Sabella's in Mill Valley, honoring the outstanding athletes in Marin high schools.

ONE OF the happiest men at Candlestick Park Tuesday for the Giants' opener was San Rafael's John Taddeucci, the promotions director for the San Francisco Club.

Looking natty in his Giants' orange blazer, Taddeucci was rubbing his hands with glee as Candlestick Park is undergoing a major renovation that will make it a fine major league park and the Giants are off to a great start, Mays is hitting and some fine looking rookies are giving the City probably its best all-around club in more than a decade.

All these things will make Taddeucci's job of promoting the sale of tickets a lot easier.

His next big promotion is "Bat Day" Saturday in which all youngsters aged 14 and under will receive a free, autographed bat. Wiltshire Towers, for one, is carting a load of kids to the game and there are still tickets left, according to Shaun Wiltshire of the San Rafael motel.

HIS LEGION of Marin fans will like to know that former Terra Linda High School hurdles champion Lowell Harris will be in the Bay Area this weekend with Oregon State's track and field team to vie with Stanford at Palo Alto Saturday, 1:15 p.m. Harris won the high boards race against Washington State last weekend.

I KNOW WHY the Giants won their home opener so easily (5-0) over San Diego. The umpires, whose luggage was lost by an airlines, had to borrow togs from the Giants, including caps with big, orange "S.F." emblazoned on them. Imagine how the Padres felt with that staring them in the faces.

Bullets, Knicks Vie In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (UPI) —Tonight's the night the Baltimore Bullets find out which are the real Bullets.

Will they be the same Bullets who ran out of gas in the last period of the first two Eastern Confernce losses to New York or will they be the Bullets who ran the Knicks out of the Baltimore Civic Center Sunday afternoon?

The injury-riddled Bullets faltered in the end and lost both games in New York but looked like a different team Sunday in humilialing the Knicks 114-88 in the third game of their best-of seven series.

Costly Hockey Fight

NEW YORK (UPI) —Emile Francis, coach and general manager of the New York Rangers, was still seething today upon learning that his club and the Toronto Maple Leafs had been fined a record total of $16,550 by National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell.

"A guy gave me an envelope about five minutes before the game started," Francis said Tuesday night after the Rangers had whipped the Leafs 3-1 to take a 3-2 edge in their Stanley Cup quarter-final series.

"I knew what was in it and there's no way I was going to open it up then. Not until I get home, relax and take my shoes off. Heck, I have a lot of friends in Long Beach (where he lives) and maybe I'll start a tag day (community collection). I've been to all the synagogues and churches there, the people all know me."

Each team was fined $5,000 for a pair of brawls near the end of last Thursday's game here and in addition individual Ranger players were fined a total of $3,300 and the Leafs $3,250. Although no one was hurt in the brawling, Campbell termed it one of the most "derogatory spectacles which the league has produced in recent years."

Brad Park of New York and Darryl Sittler of Toronto received the highest individual fines of $450 each, including $200 for leaving the penalty box. Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin was assessed $400 for twice leaving the net to join the free-for-alls and Mike Pelyk of Toronto also was fined $400 for being the first member of his team to leave the bench.

"I can't understand why we were fined the same amount as Toronto," Francis said. "This was only the second time all season we ever left our bench while Toronto has done it four times. The penalties are supposed to build up for this kind of thing.

"There's only one way to stop the players from clearing the bench. Let them suspend the first, or second or even the first three players who do it. Then we'll see how many guys are in a hurry to leave the bench."

Oddly, Vic Hadfield was not fined for picking up Toronto goalie Bernie Parent's face mask and tossing it into the seats. The mask, valued at $150, never was recovered. Hadfield was fined $250, $50 for continuing to fight after being pulled away and $200 for being ejected from the game.

Giacomin also was shocked at the severity of the fines but managed a smile when he said, "I told you Campbell was my friend. I'm going to ask him for an income tax receipt. When I donate to charity I always get a receipt, and I expect one from him.

"All I did was skate down the ice a couple of times. Of course, the second time I managed to get in a little punch. But I thought the fine for something like this was $100, and I can't remember having done it before this season."

Powerful Bucks To Go Against Limping Lakers

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—The Big Green Machine from Wisconsin—otherwise known as the Milwaukee Bucks—can put one more nail in the coffin of the injury-depleted Los Angeles Lakers tonight.

The Lakers will be without Keith Erickson in addition to Jerry West and Elgin Baylor in the third game of the teams' best-of-seven semifinal playoff series.

The Bucks won by 21 and 18 points in the first two contests at Milwaukee with Erickson, the Lakers' standout forward-guard, missing Sunday's game with what he thought was stomach cramps. He underwent surgery for removal of his appendix Sunday night.

There doesn't appear much the Lakers can do against the team that lost only 16 NBA regular season games and then took four out of five from San Francisco in its initial playoff series.

A'S FUTURE SUPER STAR

Great Job By Vida Blue

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Young Vida Blue could be about ready for superstar status.

Blue was 14-3 combined in the minors and at Oakland last year. His 2-0 record at Oakland included a no-hitter and onehitter in six games.

Now a ripe old 21 years of age, Blue tossed his second straight shutout Tuesday when he stopped Milwaukee on two hits. It was also the A's second straight blank job over the Brewers, who fell to Rollie Fingers Monday by a 5-0 count.

What punch the A's managed in the 2-0 win was supplied by Joe Rudi and Don Mincher. Rudi scored both runs and Minchar knocked him in both times.

Blue's performance was almost matched by rookie Brewer pitcher Bill Parsons, who tossed a six-hitter in his major league debut.

Blue was knocked out in the opener at Washington and fanned 13 Kansas City Royals in a game last Friday that was halted by rain after six innings.

Blue warmed up in the gusty 38-degree weather Tuesday wearing two sweatshirts, but he said later he managed to get "really loose. I was really perspiring. I threw 99 per cent fast balls."

He fanned five and walked two in fashioning his masterpiece. Bernie Smith and Phil Roof got the Brewer hits.

The A's now move in against the Minnesota Twins, whom they are expected to battle for the American League West title this time around.

Novato Hurler Blanks Tam; Other Games Washed Out

Rain washed out three of four Marin County Athletic League baseball games yesterday and abbreviated the other one, but not before Mike Lamb had hurled a one-hitter through four and one-half innings to give the Novato High School Hornets a 4-0 victory over Tamalpais at Novato.

Games between Redwood and San Marin at Novato, and Marin Catholic and San Rafael at Albert Park were called before their appointed starting times, but Terra Linda and Drake got in two-plus innings at San Anselmo before being halted with Terra Linda ahead, 2-0. All three games will be made up today at 4 p.m.

Lamb, in picking up his second straight MCAL win without a loss, put on a dazzling strikeout show by fanning 12 of the 16 batters he faced, including 10 of the first 11. The only hit off him came in the fourth inning, when Tim Nowell hit a squibber to second base and beat it out.

On the believe-it-or-not side, the stocky lefthander struck out four batters in the second inning. A passed ball by catcher Dennis Stanley allowed a Tam runner to reach first after a third strike.

The Hornets spread six hits among as many batters. Bill Busher was the big man as he clubbed a double and scored a pair of runs.

Novato, in running its record to 3-0, takes a half game lead over also-undefeated Terra Linda.

PREP SWIMMING

Sharks Eat Up Minnows

It was a case of sharks eating minnows yesterday in the Marin County Athletic League swim race as first place Terra Linda, second place Redwood and third place Novato crushed weaker opponents with ease.

Terra Linda High School coach Bob Pollitt did not use his awesome talent to produce double winners as he might have, but the Trojans crushed San Marin High anyway, 81-14 in Novato. Only sprinter Bruce Fromberg swam his specialties, the 50 and 100-yard freestyles, and these he won, to stand with Rick DeMont as the only Trojan double winners.

Redwood High School had three double winners in a 69-26 win over San Rafael, with Brian Hennesy, Paul Cane, and Freshman star Spencer Eldred accounting for six wins between themselves.

The Novato Hornets also had three double winners, as Roger Rechsteiner, Mike Smith, and Gary Ferris nailed down two wins apiece in a 65-24 rout of Drake.

Bulls' Dick Motta Gets Last Laugh

NEW YORK (UPI) —Dick Motta has had the last laugh on those who said he would not be able to make the transition from a college basketball coach to a professional one.

The 39-year-old Motta Tuesday was named Coach of the Year in the National Basketball Association for guiding the Chicago Bulls to their first winning season.

Motta, who came to the Bulls three years ago from Weber State College where he coached for eight years, received 30 votes in a balloting of three sports writers from each of the 17 NBA member cities.

Larry Costello, who directed the Milwaukee bucks to the Midwest Division title, finished second with 11 votes and Al Attles of the San Francisco Warriors was third with three votes.

Red Holzman of the New York Knicks, winner of the award a year ago, got two votes and Bob Cousy of Cincinnati, Joe Mullaney of Los Angeles, Jack Ramsay of Philadelphia, Rolland Todd of Portland and Lenny Wilkens of Seattle got one each.

The Bulls, although eliminated in seven games by Los Angeles in the first round of the playoffs, finished second to Milwaukee in the tough Midwest Division during the regular season with a 51-31 record. It marked the first time the Bulls had gone over the .500 mark since the team joined the league in 1966.

"Winning this honor is a great thing, but I'd feel better if we had beaten Los Angeles in the playoffs," said Motta. "It's nice to have a team that would allow this honor to happen. I guess I can look back at it 20 years from now and say how wrong these people were who told me I couldn't make the successful transition from college to pro coach."

"Dick has two big things going for him. He knows how to communicate with his players and he knos what to communicate. He had made himself a part of the involvement or togetherness any team must create," said the coach.

Vida Blue New 'Boy Wonder'

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Vida Blue is baseball's new "boy wonder" —a pitcher with so much natural talent that he appears to have no limitations.

The 21-year old smoke thrower from Mansfield, La., who pitched a no-hitter and a one-hitter last September, turned in another spectacular performance Tuesday when he hurled a two-hitter in the Oakland Athletics' 2-0 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers.

Blue was kayoed in less than two innings by the Washington Senators on April 5 but on April 9 he pitched a three-hitter and struck out 13 batters in a six-inning victory over Kansas City.

Baseball history is filled with spectacular performances by rookies and other young pitchers such as Bobo Holloman who pitched a no-hitter in his first start, Karl Spooner striking out 15 batters in his debut and Tommy Phoebus pitching two consecutive shutouts at the start of his career. But Blue's rash of low-hit, high-strikeout performances probably can't be surpassed until the baseball fan goes back in history to Johnny Vander Meer's two consecutive no-hitters as a rookie in 1938.

A six-foot, 185-pound left-hander, who had a brilliant baseball and football career at Temple High School in Mansfield, Blue has been marked for stardom since he was signed by the Athletics in 1967. He was brought up prematurely in 1969 and had a 6.21 earned run average in 42 innings but in 1970 had a 12-3 record for Iowa and was the American Association's pitcher of the year. Hall of Famer Joe DiMaggio has been one of his biggest boosters and has been credited for at least part of his development.

"There is no telling how good he can become," said Manager Dick Williams of the Athletics after Tuesday's performance. "His fast ball moves so much and Tuesday it wasn't moving as well as at other times. He's a big key to our ball club."

Kansas City beat the Minnesota Twins, 5-3, the Boston Red Sox defeated the Washington Senators, 5-3, the California Angels edged the Chicago White Sox 3-1, and New York beat Detroit 5-2 in other American League games. Baltimore at Cleveland was rained out.

Paul Schaal's run-scoring double off reliever Stan Williams triggered a three-run fifth inning rally which led the Royals to their victory over the Twins. Lou Piniella padded the lead with a two-run single off Ron Perranoski in the seventh.

Boston's Sonny Sierbert picked up his first victory of the season, with ninth-inning relief help from Sparky Lyle. Denny McLain, in his second so-so performance of the season, was tagged for four earned runs and seven hits in five innings.

Ken McMullen doubled and pinch-runner Chico Ruiz scored the tie-breaking run on a single by Billy Cowan in the 10th inning for the Angels, who scored a second run in the frame on a fielder's choice. Reliver Dave LaRoche picked up the victory while Vicente Romo, who pitched to only two batters in the 10th, was the loser.

Stan Bahnsen scattered 11 hits, including a homer by Norm Cash, and tripled in a fifth-inning run for the Yankees, who dealt Joe Niekro his second straight loss for the Tigers. Roy White homered for one Yankee run and scored another on a single by Danny Cater. The crowd of 34,745 was the Yankees' largest home opening day turnout since 1966.

HOCKEY PLAYOFFS

Esposito, Nanne Score Key Goals

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Ever since Phil Esposito and Lou Nanne packed up their bags and left Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, signalling an end to their childhoods, they have had little in common.

Esposito has gone on to break all kinds of National Hockey League scoring records, including 76 goals and 152points this season, while Nanne took a four-year detour to study at the University of Minnesota before beginning his professional career.

But the boyhood chums shared a common bond of joy Tuesday night when each scored a key goal to lead their teams to victories in Stanley Cup competition. Esposito put Boston in front for good with a first-period goal as the Bruins beat the Montreal Canadiens 7-3 and Nanne scored the winning goal with only 3:35 left to play to give the Minnesota North Stars a 4-3 triumph over the St. Louis Blues.

The victories gave Boston and Minnesota 3-2 leads in their respective series, leaving them just one victory short of gaining the semifinals.

The New York Rangers also took a 3-2 advantage in the quarter-finals by defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 behind the near-perfect goaltending of Ed Giacomin. The Chicago Black Hawks already are through to the semis, having eliminated Philadelphia in four games.

All action will resume Thursday night with games at Montreal, Minnesota and Toronto.

"I was just lucky," Nanne said of his goal, his first ever in Stanley Cup play. "When Glenn Hall stopped me on a shot in the second period on a rebound by Danny Grant, I told myself 'I'll never score in this series.'

"Then in the third period I was yelling for (Murray) Oliver to pass the puck to me, but the crowd was yelling so loud that he couldn't hear me and he took the shot. Hall made the save and I was lucky to get the rebound with Hall out of position."

Jude Droin scored two goals for the North Stars and Craig Cameron had a pair for St. Louis. The game was tied at 3-3 from the 9:43 mark of the second period, when Wayne Connelly scored for the Blues, until Nanne sent home his winner.

After Wayne Cashman of Boston and Yvan Cournoyer of Montreal exchanged early goals, Esposito tucked away his third of the series at 9:32 of the opening period to put the Bruins in front 2-1. Mike Walton scored before the end of the session and John McKenzie and Ed Westfall scored in the second period to boost the Boston margin to 5-1.

The Canadiens struck back in the final period on goals by Frank Mahovlich and John Ferguson, but Johnny Bucyk and Ken Hodge, both with their first goals of the series, retaliated for Boston.

Ted Irvine started the Rangers off with a goal just 34 seconds after the game started and Vic Hadfield and Bobby Nevin stretched the margin to 3-0 before Jim McKenny got Toronto's goal at 13:42 of the final period, ending Ed Giacomin's shutout bid.

Alessios In Federal Prison

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Millionaire John Alessio, the executive director of Caliente race track, and his brother Angelo were in federal prison today, serving terms for evading nearly $1 million in income taxes.

John, who began as a shoeshine boy and became Mr. San Diego in 1964, was sentenced to three years and Angelo, an auto dealer, was sentenced to one year Tuesday by U.S. District Judge Bruce Thompson.

He also fined each of them $20,000 on the charges to which they unexpectedly pleaded guilty during their trial on a 31-count indictment brought by a federal grand jury.

"It would be a perversion of justice" to grant probation, said Thompson.

The brothers were driven directly from court to Terminal Island Federal Detention Center in San Pedro, where they spent the night.

"I have been a good citizen for 60 years and I have served Mexico for 40 years. I'm sure whatever decision you make, judge, I will abide by it," said John, former sponsor of the annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children of Tijuana, Mexico.

"I did wrong," choked brother Angelo, 53.

The two, along with brothers Russell, 64, and Tony, 50, and John's son Dominic, 28, were accused in the federal grand jury indictment of evading $929,395 in income taxes.

John and Angelo stunned observers during their trial by abruptly changing pleas of innocent to pleas of guilty. John admitted evading $10,798.08 in income taxes and failing to report $15,413.26 in income. Angelo admitted evading $9,155.28 in taxes and failing to report $16,759.81, both in 1966. The remaining charges against them as well as those against the other three were dismissed.

Specific charges against the Alessios were that they drew money from the Caliente race track account in Tijuana and used it to pay for personal goods and services plus their other enterprises.

It's Fun To Win, Say The Pirates

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Pittsburgh Pirates are employing the same philosophy this season that the Cincinnati Reds did last season when they won the National League pennant —namely, stay loose and have fun.

The implications of this attitude are that if you're relaxed and enjoying yourself it should lead to a positive result on the field. So far, it appears to be working for the Pirates.

Not renown as a long ball hitting team, the Pirates Tuesday night unloaded five home runs in Philadelphia's new Veteran Stadium and crushed the Phillies 9-3 for their fifth victory in seven games.

Jackie Hernandez and Manny Sanguillen blasted three-run homers and Willie Stargell, Bob Robertson and winning pitcher Nelson Briles added solo blasts as the Pirates boosted their home run output for the season to 10. Last year the Pirates hit only 10 homers during the entire month of April.

"It's all just a part of having fun," said Stargell, who has hit five homers so far. "We're loose. We try to have some fun, win or lose, and as a result we win. Everybody is picking the other guy up. There is no pressure here.

"The big thing tonight is the fact nobody was trying to hit one out. Manny had two on and two out ... Jackie had two on and two out... both were trying to meet the ball for a base hit. I think they were more surprised than anybody when they went out."

In other National League games, Cincinnati edged Atlanta 5-4, Houston defeated St. Louis 8-4, Montreal beat New York 4-1, Chicago downed Los Angeles 3-2 and San Diego at San Francisco was postponed because of rain.

Hernandez' homer was the big blow for the Pirates. It snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning and was followed by Briles' second major league homer. Hernandez, filling in for the injured Gene Alley at shortstop, has collected 12 hits in 27 at bats and is the only Pirate to hit in all seven games.

"It's a big difference coming from a second division club to a contender," said Hernandez, who was with Kansas City in the AL last season. "It's a lot more fun when you win. This is a real easy team to play with."

Reliever Joe Gibbon bailed Cincinnati out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth inning by getting Hal King to hit into a double play as the Reds won their second in a row after four losses. Johnny Bench hit his third homer in two nights to pace Cincinnati's attack and Hank Aaron hit his 595th career homer for the Braves.

Norm Miller's three-run homer and Joe Morgan's two-run single ignited a five-run ninth inning as Houston rallied to defeat St. Louis Bob Watson also homered for the Astros.

Steve Renko went the distance to beat the Mets for the second straight time and once again got batting support from batterymate John Bateman. Bateman, who drove in three runs when Renko beat the Mets last week, hit a homer in the second inning as the Expos made a successful home debut.

Jose Ortiz scored the tie-breaking run on Don Kessinger's eighth-inning single as the Cubs rallied to beat the Dodgers. Oritz walked and was sacrificed to second before Kessinger's key hit, which saddled Dodger ace Bill Singer with his third consecutive loss without a victory.

A Different Team, Says Bob Heise

Bob Heise, a quiet but most observant young man, was asked if he saw any difference in attitude between the Giants of 1971 and the Giants of last season when he joined the ball club as a rookie.

"A world of difference," said Heise. "There's a closeness between the players this year. There was considerable griping last spring and it carried over into the season. We were a happy ball club coming out of spring training this year."

HEISE DIDN'T go into the whys and wherefores of the change in attitude but most Giant fans already know the reason — elimination of a personality clash between Clyde King and Willie Mays. When the manager of a ball club and its team captain can't get along it is inevitable that all players ultimately feel the tension.

The Giants of 1970 began to relax last May when King was fired and Charlie Fox took over as manager. But by that time they were so far off the pace of the runaway Cincinnati Reds that they already were out of the 1970 race.

IT WAS understandable why Heise made no mention of the basic reason for the change in attitude between this year's and last year's Giants. Smart young men, such as Heise, don't go around popping off about delicate situations.

But what about himself? Was he really happy as a utility hand? After all, the Giants got him from the Mets in a winter trade in 1969 to play shortstop if he could take the job away from Hal Lanier. In fact, he did have the job temporarily in the opening weeks of the 1970 campaign.

"I'M CALLED A utility," said Heise, "but I consider myself a member of the ball club. Yes, I am happy."

Heise didn't cite a lot of corny stuff about riding the bench with dignity and keeping himself ready for emergency duty. And he didn't say he was like any other ball player who preferred being in a daily lineup.

In one year Heise has changed considerably. He was sort of wide-eyed with wonderment when the Giants obtained him from the Mets. "It's sort of like a dream come true," he said then. "Believe it or not, I've always wanted to play with the Giants ever since I was a little kid."

HEISE WAS an ecstatic rookie. Now, at 23, he is a second-year man with a mature kind of happiness in the role he plays for the Giants.

Heise didn't get much mention this spring but he demonstrated in Cactus League exhibition games that he will be a most useful fellow to have around when a utility glove is needed at second, short or third.

Great Way Found To Up Attendance

SEATTLE (UPI) — The University of Washington has found a way of improving attendance at its baseball games — six pretty batgirls wearing shorts.

Attendance has jumped from past years, when there often were fewer fans in the stands than players in the dugouts.

Cold Ending On Raiders' Schedule

OAKLAND (UPI)—It's Oakland at Kansas City Dec. 12 and at Denver Dec. 19 in a chilly windup to the 1971 season.

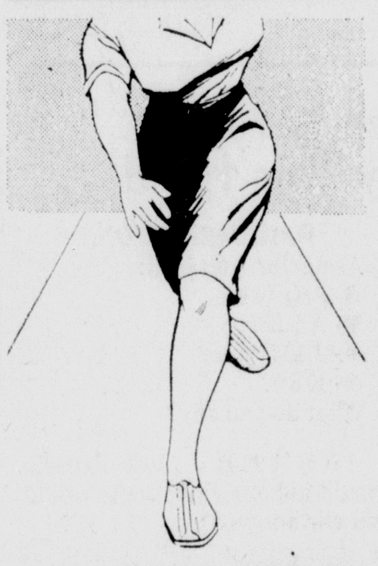
Raider boss Al Davis said that the official 1971 NFL schedule which shows Oakland ending at the two cold cities reminded him of "the Battle of Stalingrad."

The schedule obviously reflected the A's sharing of the Coliseum with the Oakland A's. Thus they will open with three games on the road.

The schedule: Sept. 19—at New England. Sept. 26—at San Diego Oct. 4—at Cleveland. Oct. 10—Denver Oct. 17—Philadelphia Oct. 24—Cincinnati Oct. 31—Kansas City Nov. 7—at New Orleans Nov. 14—Houston Nov. 21—San Diego Nov. 28—Baltimore Dec. 5—at Atlanta Dec. 12—at Kansas City Dec. 19—at Denver

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Occasionally for no apparent reason a bowler will lose her hook. A way to get the hook back is to deliberately throw a wide curve in practice, then work back to the moderate hook you want. Today's bowler will probably get a big hook because her hand was well to the right of the ball at release. Later she can move her hand toward a position more behind the ball until the proper hook returns.

Business Magazine Bobbles The Ball

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Spring is officially here.

Baseball is reported to be on its deathbed...that's right, again... only this time the awful news comes like it never has before, amply documented with impressive figures and with expert opinions from some of the heavyweight thinkers of our time.

Bearer of the sad tidings this time around is Forbes Magazine.

Forbes undisputably is one of the more influential financial magazines and its accuracy generally leaves little room for question but it bobbled the ball any number of times this trip.

On the cover of its April issue Forbes shows a picture of the kind of baseball you'd be ashamed to let kid play with. The cover of the ball is ripped, the stitching has long since come apart and some of the yarn already is hanging out.

Only six words are on the magazine cover and those six words say: Baseball —The Beat Up National Sport.

Then when you turn to the feature article inside the heading reads: "Who Says Baseball Is Like Ballet? Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, that's who. Which may be why baseball is losing out as the great national sport.

A little further along there's a table listing all the major league clubs and such other information as the key owner of each club, what other business he's in besides baseball, how much of a profit or loss his club showed last year, and any change in the value of his franchise since he acquired it.

There also are opinions pertaining to how long baseball has yet to go from such experts as Thomas Dockerty, a gentleman from Scotland whose real bag is soccer, and Dr. Joyce Brothers, the eminent psychologist who can also tell you what's causing your daughter's pimples.

The only expert really missing is Howard Cosell and I'm a little surprised Forbes didn't check with him because I never feel I have the definitive opinion on anything, especially pertaining to baseball, until I've heard from Howard Cosell.

Thomas Dockerty says flatly, "Baseball will be dead in 20 years," and if the name Thomas Dockerty escapes you maybe it's only because you don't follow soccer that closely. Dockerty came over here from Scotland a few years ago trying to make big-time soccer go in the U.S. You saw how far it went. Before returning to Scotland, Dockerty took time out to make his prediction about baseball. Suddenly he's an expert, too.

But let's look at some of the other things Forbes has to say

Quote: "The grand old game has been groaning, but it really seemed to come apart at the seams last year."

Comment: It sure came apart, all right. Major League baseball drew 28.6-million last year —more than the National Football Conference, the American Football Conference, the National Basketball Association, the American Basketball Association, and the National Hockey League combined.

Quote: "Ewing M. Kauffman, owner of the Kansas City Royals, says 'anyone would be idiotic to go into baseball as an investment.'"

Comment: So how come New Orleans, Dallas, Toronto and Buffalo keep clamoring for a major league baseball francise? I've met those people and they don't look like idiots to me. Besides, I never heard Ewing Kauffman say he's interested in selling.

Quote: "Where are the heroes? The fans loved Babe Ruth, Bob Feller and Joe DiMaggio. Now team ball dominates."

Comment: I dunno. It seems to me a lot of kids still go gaga about such ballplayers as Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, Johnny Bench, Brooks Robinson, Carl Yastrzemski, Tom Seaver, Bob Gibson, Frank Robinson and Al Kaline to name only a few. Cesar Cedeno and Nate Colbert keep picking up followers every day, too.

Forbes muffed some others, too, like "promoting" Frank Lucchesi from field manager of the Phillies to general manager and reporting Houston Astros turned only a $100,000 profit last year when they'll tell you themselves they made $1.5 million, but I will admit the magazine was correct in saying baseball does resist rule changes that would speed up the game.

I look at it this way —even religion has made some changes, which should tell baseball something. My faith in the game is such though I have every confidence it won't.

Record Attendance In A.L. Openers

BOSTON (UPI) — The 12 American League baseball teams drew a record of more than 426,000 fans to their respective home openers and included four opening day attendance records by individual clubs.

League officials said Tuesday the 426,311 was the highest in the three years since the circuit was expanded to 12 teams. The 1970 turnout was 349,262 while 314,009 saw AL openers in 1969.

The Detroit Tigers set the pace with a club record for a home opener of 54,089. The crowd was the Tigers' biggest since the 1961 season.

Other club records for opening day attendance were set in Chicago, 43,253; Milwaukee for an AL team of 40,566; and Kansas City, 32,728.

Other home opener attendances in the various cities included a near-record 45,061 in Washington, another near-mark of 34,517 in Boston, 18,823 in Minnesota, 24,434 in California, 34,811 at Baltimore, 22,822 in Oakland, 40,462 in Cleveland and, on Tuesday, 34,7745 at Yankee Stadium.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Standard Lead Is Not The Best — Study This Hand

"Some of your readers have remarked on the fact that your South player is dealt more than his share of the high cards," a correspondent points out. "They have overlooked something about the West hand. He always has a simple opening lead, such as the top of a sequence or a powerful long suit. Doesn't West ever have problems, like the rest of us mortals?"

Opening lead — ♣ Q

STANDARD LEAD?

West thought he had no problem in the hand shown today. Who could ask for a more "standard" opening lead than the queen of clubs? All who agree, kindly say "Aye."

West's standard opening lead allowed South to make his contract. South won with the ace of clubs, led the low diamond to dummy's king and returned dummy's singleton spade.

East stepped up with the ace of spades, cashed the ace of hearts and led a second round of hearts to South's nine. South ruffed a spade in dummy, returned to his hand with the ace of diamonds and ruffed another spade with dummy's last trump. Then he ruffed a diamond, drew the last outstanding trump, cashed the king of spades and took his 10th trick with the jack of spades.

READ BIDDING

West should read the bidding before he chooses his opening lead. Dummy has shown no enthusiasm for spades but can afford to invite game when hearts are mentioned. It is quite likely that dummy is short in spades and that a trump opening lead is needed to stop the game.

LEADS TRUMP

If West leads a trump, East can take the ace of hearts and lead a second heart. East gets in with the ace of spades and leads a third heart. Now South can ruff only one spade in the dummy and must therefore lose a second spade trick. This is enough to defeat the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠- A Q 10 6
♥- A 5 2
♦- J 10 9
♣- K 6 3.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Most experts would bid one club; some would bid one spade.

The trouble with the "normal" opening bid of one spade is that you must bid two no-trump if partner's response is two of a new suit; and this is a slight overbid. If you open with one club, you can bid either one spade or one no-trump at your second turn, thus describing your hand somewhat more accurately.

Incorrect Address

The address of John L. Semorile Jr., candidate for the San Rafael Board of Education was incorrectly given as 200 Shaver Street in the Independent-Journal Saturday. Semorile lives at 11 Constance Drive and works for Pacific Telephone Co. at 200 Shaver-Street.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, April 14, the 104th day of 1971.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Aries.

British antarctic explorer Sir James Clark Ross was born April 14, 1800.

On this day in history:

In 1861 the flag of the Confederacy was raised over Fort Sumter, S.C., as Union troops inside surrendered.

In 1865 John Wilkes Booth crept into the box of President Abraham Lincoln at Ford Theater in Washington D.C., and fatally shot him. Lincoln died the next morning.

In 1910 President William Howard Taft set a precedent by throwing out the first ball to open the major league baseball season.

In 1965 Frank Mitchell, 15, became the first Negro page boy in the U.S. House of Representatives.

A thought for today: British novelist Dinah Craik said, "Oh, my son's my son till he gets him a wife, but my daughter's my daughter all her life."

Nomination Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon plans to nominate Nathaniel P. Reed, Hobe Sound, Fla., one-time science and environmental adviser to former Florida Gov. Claude Kirk Jr., to be assistant interior secretary.

Dow Can Indicate Political Cycles

by ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. It seems to me I read somewhere that the stock market usually rises in pre-presidential election years. Is this accurate? It is certainly true this year. — C.W.

A. Earlier this year, my staff made a detailed study which confirmed the close correlation between market action and election cycles. The study covered the years from 1937 through ehe present, a period encompassing eight full presidential terms.

In only one term, 1937-1940, did the pre-election or third year fail to show a gain. In that year — 1939 — mounting threats of war were reflected in the market and the DOW Industrial Average declined 2.9%. The next seven political cycles showed the Dow gaining in each third year. For these eight years the Dow gained an average of 16.3%. By comparison, the average decline for the first years of the four year terms (including 1969) was 1.2%. Second and fourth years showed gains of 2.8% and 2.2%, respectively.

For purposes of comparison a similar study was compiled of Gross National Product (in constant dollars) and money supply. GNP scored the greatest gains in the third and fourth years, while money supply was the most plentiful in the second and third years. Both the money supply and stock market rose from the first year to a peak in the third. GNP took a full year longer to gather the steam necessary to reach a third year peak and this momentum carried it over into a fourth strong year.

The logic of these results is evident. It takes at least one year for a more liberalized monetary policy to be translated into higher production, thus the lag. And in reverse, reduced liquidity similarly fails to effectively curb business activity for about twelve months. The stock market, however, is more closely reflective of changes in monetary policies and is considered a leading indicator.

Stocks Turn Up After Mixed Start

NEW YORK (UPI) —The stock market, mixed during the first hour Wednesday, turned higher near noon in fairly active trading.

Advances and declines were running about even, but major market indicators generally pointed slightly higher, with steels, airlines and motors in good demand.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index was ahead 0.04 at 103.02.

Strength in the automotive group followed a report by General Motors Corp. of sharply higher sales of cars and commercial vehicles for the first 10 days of April. GM said they were a record for any April 1-10 selling period.

Prices were steady in brisk lrading on the American Stock Exchange.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

New Tax Form 1040X To Be Used If Original Return Is In Error

If, after you have filed your tax return, you find you made a mistake, you should immediately file an amended return. Claim the refund due because of the mistake, or pay the additional tax you owe.

We have a new form — 1040X to be used for filing amended returns.

You can still use Claim form 843 or the old form 1040 to amend an individual income tax return. However, Uncle Sam prefers that you use the new form 1040X.

1040X is designed to expedite data processing so its use could result in your getting any additional refund sooner.

1040X is used to amend individual income tax returns only and is not to be used for any other purpose.

It there is any additional tax due for 1970 and the amended return is filed and additional tax paid by April 15, 1971, there will be no penalty or interest.

If you find that you would have done better to itemize your deductions instead of using the standard deduction, you can still amend your return. If you used the standard deduction for 1967, 1968 or 1969, you can still file an amended return and itemize your deductions.

If there is a refund due, an amended return will get it for you.

You can file an amended return at any time and pay an additional tax.

You can file an amended return and claim any additional refunds any time within three years of the due date of the return you wish to amend, or within two years from the time you paid the tax — whichever is the longer period.

There is no reason for you to pay more taxes than the law requires or be timid in taking every deduction permitted by the rules.

Your tax return should contain a full and clear explanation of every item and you should keep available all papers, bills, checks, receipts, etc., in connection with your return.

Uncle Sam has many sources of information concerning your income besides your tax return. In addition, returns are now being processed by computers and compared with certain standards established by the IRS.

More than ever before, it is important that your income tax return be completely and accurately prepared. Your careful attention to the details of your tax return can save both you and the government needless time and expense answering questions the computers will generate if your return is inaccurate or incomplete.

A few extra minutes spent checking your tax return before you send it in could save you hours of explaining later in the year.

Marin Dealership Named For Wankel-Engined Mazda Autos

A new San Rafael dealership for Mazda automobiles has been appointed, with vehicles to be made available about the middle of May.

To be known as Marin Mazda, it is headed by Roland A. Bacci as president, who is also president of Mercedes-Benz of Marin. Marin Mazda, a separate corporation, will be located at 575 Francisco Boulevard, near the Mercedes-Benz showrooms. It will occupy the building once used by Rossi Motors for the display of International cars and trucks.

Mazda cars are manufactured by Toyo Kogyo, Ltd. of Japan. Models to be on sale include the RX-2 coupe, RX-2 four-door sedan and the R-100 sport coupe —all powered by the new rotary engine. The Mazda 616 coupe and four-door sedan and 1200 sport coupe, economy cars built with conventional piston engines, will also be available.

The rotary engine, developed in Germany by Wankel and now licensed for production by Toyo Kogyo, has fewer than half the parts of a conventional engine and is said to offer smooth, vibration-free performance.

Bacci and his service manager will complete a special training course for dealers to be held by Mazda Motors of America, Inc. at Compton.

Teachers Ask Raise In Salaries, Costs

A 10-page list of requests, including a 6 per cent pay raise, a cost-of-living raise, the return of principals to the classroom and more district personnel, has been presented to the Mill Valley School District board by teachers.

Carroll D. Killingsworth, director of business services, said the teachers asked the board at its meeting Monday night to disucss the requests during contract negotiations for the 1971-72 school year.

Killingsworth said representatives of the board and teachers will meet to clarify the teachers' requests and then begin negotiations.

In addition to the pay and cost-of-living raises, teachers also asked a $300-per-year raise for teachers with Masters degrees; addition of a 12th step on the salary scale and a $500 per year raise for teachers with more than 11 years of experience, and termination pay for unused sick leave when a teacher leaves the district.

Teachers also asked that principals be returned to the classroom for a few hours per week; a 45-minute preparation period for elementary teachers, who now have no free time; a limit of 29 pupils per class in the lower grades, with a reduction of one pupil per class each year until classes average 25 pupils, and conducting all kindergarten classes in the morning.

Killingsworth said the teacher requested seven new reading specialists, a vocal music teacher and one half-time paraprofessional, or aide, for each full-time teacher.

In addition, Killingsworth said, teachers asked that the cost of drugs, eye care and life insurance be paid by the district and that present health and dental plans be continued.

Several minor requests, such as increasing the amount of money the district spends on supplies, also were made.

In other business, the board was upset, Killingsworth said, to learn that a 650-unit housing development was being planned for the Alto Hills east of Highway 101 without the board's knowledge.

Killingsworth said trustees directed letters to be sent to the county planning department, developer Warner Odenthal and to the City of Corte Madera telling of the board's "strong displeasure" at not having been notified of the project.

The district is interested in the development because it lies within the school district, even though the developer intends to deannex the property from the district and enter either the Reed or Larkspur-Corte Madera school district.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

HOLIDAY — Agreed to study a request to make Jan. 15, the anniversary of civil rights leader Martin Luther King's birthday, a school holiday.

SCHOOL — Heard that the Middle School is 24 per cent complete and that seven candidates for its principal are being screened by a selection committee.

GIFT — Accepted a $620 carpet for the Park School Library from a committee of three women who raised the money by showing films at the school.

GRANTS — Approved applications for federal grants to buy books, audiovisual equipment, maps and globes.

Cash Taken

An undetermined amount of cash was taken between 6 p.m. Sunday and 7 a.m. Monday from the safe at Hank's Gulf Station, 700 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo police said yesterday.

Large Swings To Be Removed From Tot Lot

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission has agreed to remove large swings from the tiny tot lot near Miller Creek School following complaints from neighbors that older students were taking the park over.

William A. Gordon, recreation director, said the seats would be removed from the swings in an attempt to discourage older elementary students from the park.

He said the swings, since being placed at the park three weeks ago, have stirred protests from disenchanted neighbors.

The commission Monday night also began preparations for this year's Fourth of July celebration and indicated it supported a program similar to last year's, Gordon said.

However, the commission agreed to make an all out effort to encourage the entire community to participate.

Business Appointee

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has appointed William D. Lee executive director of the new National Business Council for Consumer Affairs —a group which will try to settle consumer complaints through voluntary action by the business community.

Easter Weekend Parking Plan Reported A Failure

The City of Sausalito's test of a northern parking facility and shuttle bus service during the Easter weekend has been termed "a failure" by City Mgr. Albert St. Cyr who said no tourist used the lot during the two-day trial.

The city had contracted with the Golden Gate Bridge District to provide parking in the district's ferry parking lot near Harbor Drive and buses to the downtown every 20 minutes.

St. Cyr said he thought the test had failed for two reasons. He said the crowds expected to visit Sausalito during the Easter weekend failed to materialize. And, more importantly, he said, it failed because the city is enjoined from changing signs on Highway 101 to direct visitors into Sausalito from the north because of a lawsuits now in the courts.

Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla Inn in south Sausalito, sought an injunction against the sign change when she brought the suit because she felt the re-signing would harm her business. The case went to trial in Marin Superior Court in January, but Judge Thomas F. Keating has not yet rendered a verdict.

"Unless we can encourage visitors to enter Sausalito from the north, a northern parking facility will not work," the city manager said. He was undismayed by the lack of visitor response to the northern lot and bus service, saying "Unless you try something, you'll never know if it will work."

No further test is planned, according to St. Cyr, at least until the freeway signs can be changes.

Credit Card Case Due Trial

John Stephen Heckenberg, 19, of San Francisco has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a charge of credit card forgery.

A jury trial was set Monday for the week of June 21.

Heckenberg was arrested Sept. 20 when he reportedly tried to make a purchase at a Sausalito clothing store with a credit card which had been reported stolen or lost.

Innocent Plea In Dope Case

Randolph Tichenor Guerin, 24, of Larkspur, pleaded innocent Monday in Marin Superior Court to charges of possessing heroin and marijuana and a misdemeanor count of having a hypodermic needle.

A jury trial was set for the week of July 6. Guerin was arrested in a Larkspur lumber yard in January.

Five Councils Favor ABAG

A survey of Sonoma County cities has shown that five city councils favor continued membership in the Association of Bay Area Governments while two urge withdrawal.

William R. Lucius, chairman of the Sonoma County Mayors and Councilmens Association, reported that Santa Rosa, Petaluma, Sonoma, Healdsburg and Sebastopol have voted in favor of ABAG membership while Rohnert Park and Cloverdale favor withdrawal. The Cotati City Council has not taken action.

Lucius, Healdsburg mayor, polled the councils in regard to the April 20 vote to remove Sonoma County from ABAG membership and form a new alliance with North Bay counties.
